Barona celebrates 40th annual Powwow

by Patt Bixby

Four decades have passed since the first Barona Powwow took place in 1970. On Labor Day weekend, Friday through Sunday, Sept. 3-5, the 40th Annual Barona Powwow will showcase traditional tribal dancers, singing and music from across the country. Native American food, handcrafted arts and jewelry will be on display.

The idea for a Powwow began in the late 1950s when a handful of Barona tribal members belonged to a group called Pacific Coast Indian Club. Tribal members who were interested in bringing this event to San Diego presented the idea to the Barona Tribal leadership. The first Powwow was held at the traditional gathering grounds, which is now the site of today's Barona Cultural Center and Museum, located at 1095 Barona Rd. in Lakeside.

The gathering has grown to a three-day event drawing more than 300 dancers and 10,000 in attendance. The word "Powwow" is an anglicized word derived from the Algonquian "Pau-Wau" or "pauau" (meaning, one who dreams) which

San Diego's Highway 94 receives historic designation

by Diana Saenger

There's is nothing more exciting than watching a piece of history get its due. That's what happens on August 28, when County Supervisor Dianne Jacob, California Assemblyman Joel Anderson and representatives from the San Diego Convention & Visitors Bureau celebrate the historical designation of Highway 94. The ribbon cutting takes place at 9 a.m. followed by a news conference, at Simpson's Nursery in Jamul.

"Highway 94 is a wonderful historic route filled with many hidden treasures," said Joe Terzi, President and CEO of the San Diego Convention & Visitors Bureau. "Recognizing the historical significance of Highway 94 will help improve visitor demand to the San Diego region, which in turn, will benefit surrounding businesses in East County."

The resolution to designate Highway 94 as a state historic route was approval on June 2, 2010. It's the third highway – along with Highways 80 and 101 – in San Diego County to receive historic designation as routes that preserve local history and renew interest in the communities surrounding the highways.

To coincide with the celebration businesses along Highway 94 from Jamul to the back-country town of Boulevard will offer discounts and giveaways throughout the weekend to customers who attend the ribbon cutting ceremony. Free sodas and free walking tours are some of the deals that will be offered.

The declaration project was spearheaded by Historic Highway 94 steering committee chair and Larry Johnson – member of the Old Highway 94 Club, the Historic Highway 80 organization and the San Diego Convention & Visitors Bureau. California Assemblyman Joel Anderson authored the resolution, introducing the historic designation to the state legislature.

The declaration's content came from East County resident Shirley Bowman Reider who wrote a book on the history of Highway 94 in 2001. The declaration highlighted several key historical sites and events that happened along Highway 94 such as the establishment of Camp Lockett in 1941, a military facility that was home to the U.S. Army's 10th Cavalry Regiment, made up of mostly African American soldiers and better known as the Buffalo Soldiers; and how Highway 94 served as the main artery road from San Diego to Yuma, Arizona until 1918.

In addition to its historical significance, the highway that winds like a snake hugging open and mountainous areas offers some of East County's most scenic views. The Sweetwater River Bridge stands tall and full of grace; if only it could speak, surely treasured stories would be unveiled.

Two markers noting Highway 94's historic status will be posted at the beginning of the historical route at Steele Canyon Bridge in Rancho San Diego and at the end of the route in Boulevard. The markers are expected to be up by the end of 2010.

DO NOT TURN YOUR BACK ON ELDER ABUSE!

There are legal rights and protections against predators and abusers of the elderly.

Do you have an elderly friend, relative or acquaintance who may be the victim of physical or financial abuse or neglect? If so, they may have rights under California law which should be enforced. At my firm, integrity in the practice of law is sacred.

We have a genuine compassion for those who cannot help themselves, such as our elders in the community.

A monumental dedication to KCBQ

by Chuck Karazsia

A monumental dedication ceremony to a legendary radio station and the 20-year era it produced (1958-1978) will be held at "1170 AM" - 12:10 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 28. in Santee.

The unveiling will take place on the exact location where a building and towers once stood and the history that was made there will be remembered. The station changed the lives of those involved with it, and an endless number of those affected by it as well. Captivating those who were fortunate to hear and share its trend-setting music, original "Top 40" radio personalities, news, and staff – KCBQ provided entertainment and information, and I believe, second to none in the community. Often copied but never duplicated, KCBQ was one of the most listened to radio stations in San Diego, and was known world-wide for its programming excellence.

On the Santee property at 9416 Mission Gorge Road that is now occupied by Lowe's and Kohl's, Santee Mayor Randy Voepel along with original KCBQ surviving "Hit Parader" the night mid-watch show disc-jockey/engineer "Jolly" Jack Vincent will unveil the impressive commemorative monument. It will feature photographs of the building formally housing the KCBQ studios, offices, and powerful transmitters, along with pictures of the station's six 200-foot transmitter towers that once broadcast an impressive 50,000 watt A.M. signal, the first of its kind for many years in San Diego. In 1958 Vincent helped move the facility from downtown at 7th and Ash to the then rural Santee location. Also scribed into the monument are the names of more than 100 talented disc-jockeys and newscasters employed by the radio station in those glory years.

Supported by private contributors, designed and built by Seaman-Poe Monument Company and installed by Charco Construction Co, the monument's unveiling ceremony will commence Saturday at 12:10 p.m. and is open to the public. This finely forged monument in Santee will forever reflect the pioneering attitude of KCBQ as a leader in the radio industry.

Pets and heat

The County's Health and Human Services Cool Zone program offers more than 100 locations for anyone to beat the heat. Call toll free 1-800-510-2020 or 2-1-1 for information. An important reminder – NEVER leave your child or pet unattended in a parked car for any period of time. On a warm day, the temperature in a car can reach 120°F in a matter of minutes – even with the windows partially open. A child, the elderly or your pet can quickly suffer brain damage or die from heatstroke or suffocation when trapped in high temperatures. If you see a child, a senior or pet left unattended in a car – and exhibiting any signs of heat stress – call 9-1-1 immediately!

Reminders: Heat exhaustion is marked by weakness, nausea, vomiting, headache and muscle aches. To treat heat exhaustion, cool the victim off quickly, and provide water or diluted sports drinks like Gatorade. Signs of heat stroke include: Lack of sweating, rapid pulse, headache, nausea, confusion, and even unconsciousness. If someone is suffering from heat stroke, call 9-1-1, loosen or remove the victim's clothing, and spray or pour cool water on his or her skin.

If your pet has become overheated, you must lower his body temperature immediately by taking the following steps: Move your pet into the shade and apply cool (not cold) water all over his body to gradually lower his body temperature. Apply ice packs or cold towels to your pet's head, neck, and chest only. Let your pet drink small amounts of cool water or lick ice cubes. Finally, take your pet directly to a veterinarian – it could save your pet's life.

referred to a Native American council or religious meeting of spiritual leaders. The modern day Powwow is rooted in a Pawnee religious ceremony from the 19th century and was adopted by Omaha and others who added speech-making, gift giving and feasting. By the 60s and expansion of contact between Indian communities inter-tribal Powwow became more common and a tradition for natives who had lost many old traditions. It was seen as a nation-wide symbol of Indian identity.

The Powwow will be located one mile north of Barona Resort & Casino at the baseball field behind the Cultural Center and Museum. Making an appearance is the 2009-10 Princess Alyssa Okuniewicz. The schedule includes: Friday, Sept. 3 Gourd Dancing at 6 p.m.; Grand Entry 7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday; Sept. 4-5 Gourd Dancing at 1 and 6 p.m.; Supper Break 5-6 p.m. and Grand Entry at 7 p.m. The 49 contest is after the Saturday evening session. Admission and parking are free.

Lakeside round-up of events

by Patt Bixby

Project Connect

More than 100 people attended the Lakeside, Santee and El Cajon Project Connect event held at Harvest Christian Fellowship in Lakeside. Forty community-based social service agencies attended the one place, one day outreach, which provided information and services to citizens in crisis. East County Mental Health Services (homeless specialist), Lakeside Collaborative, the University of San Diego School of Law (free legal assistance to low and moderate income entrepreneurs) and Social Security & Veterans Disability provided information on specialized services.

Ed Eulundgren, chairperson for the event, hopes it will become an annual event. Along with 40 volunteers, Pastor Ralph (Harvest Temple), the Sheriff's Department, Crisis House and all the organizations who provided vital information to those in need made sure those attending received a bag of groceries, pet supplies and adult and children's clothing. Dental check-ups, chair massage and free books were available.

For Health's Sake

Visualize yourself to success

y Judy Callihan Warfield

Visualization is the process of creating pictures in your mind of yourself enjoying what you want. When you visualize you generate powerful emotions of having it now.

Now this requires more than once or twice visualizing perhaps the car you desire. This is about noticing every little detail of that vehicle. This is about actually seeing yourself in the car. Imagine looking at your hands and then broaden that vision to see your hands on the steering wheel of that desired car. Notice also when you are visualizing that vehicle all of your emotions. Notice the way it drives; the sound of the stereo; that sense of accomplishment you feel.

Let's say there is a home you are looking to buy. Imagine yourself in that home. Imagine yourself driving up in the driveway after work.

Imagine yourself arranging your furniture in that new home. Write down that address with your name.

Now I know this all sounds too good to be true but it does work. Another way to bring about this skill of visualization is to make yourself a vision board. Draw or take photos out of magazines and put them on a large board. This makes it very clear what your intentions are. Take out an old photo of yourself when you were the weight you wish you were then and put it up. Include all of the goals and things you wish to achieve on this board and take a few times a day to look at this board and allow your skill of visualization to begin. Connect with the feelings as if you had already acquired those items.

Be patient. You are not in control of the time frame to receive. Sometimes our dreams and desires do not arrive as rapidly as we would like. Sometimes this is an indication that we need to take the time to slow down; take the time to grow; or sometimes listen to the knock of opportunity and GO!

Health... Just Common Horse Sense

by Dr. Donald Adema

The ethics in today's traditional medical approaches have again sunk to a new level. Too many seniors have called in confusion and fear as to whether they should have a quick pertussis vaccination to prevent the pandemic. Pandemic? The staff have written down their concerns well and all are ashamed of the "medicine by fear" style observed in news broadcasting and pharmacy signs. "People who scare old people are going to have rough time at the Pearly Gate." That comment was delivered by an 80 year old retired teacher who lives alone and her family has already left us. However, she can still fire her 12 gauge!

The number one side effect of the pertussis (whooping cough) vaccination is death. This must be reported to parents when they consider immunizations for their children. Pertussis responds to the proper erythromycin delivery rapidly and efficiently. It is a disease of the young. Recently a mother and daughter established as new patients and their debilitating fibromyalgia symptoms have been linked to their pertussis vaccination as a young child. It took a helicopter trip to Children's of Los Angeles from Children's of San Diego to confirm the connection. We have charts in our practice of parents who lost a child to the immunization and have children who have seizure disorders secondary to the injection. Many adults have reported their cases of pertussis in their medical history that were not treated at all but were self limiting in their presentation. Consider a senior's weakened immune system with a poly pharmaceutical health approach and then add an unnecessary youth oriented vaccine. Oh yeah, might as well throw in an unproven flu vaccine well before the season, just to be safe. When will it stop.

The risks versus benefits of immunizations do not have the place they should in medical education or ethical reviews. Immunizations are presented as unquestionable protocols and shame is used liberally when they are questioned. Recall, deaths are often reported as negative outcomes which certainly dulls the impact of the negative statistics. Put this all together and you have a system with a protocol that no longer thinks or questions but just responds. Add total government control and you should be pretty well terrified. No time like the present to read and ask questions. Stay tuned.

Laughter is the Best Medicine

Gooney Bird

After many years of marriage, a husband has turned into a couch potato, became completely inattentive to his wife and sat guzzling beer and watching TV all day. The wife was dismayed because no matter what she did to attract the husband's attention, he'd just shrug her off with some bored comment. This went on for many months and the wife was going crazy with boredom. Then one day at a pet store, the wife saw this big, ugly, snorting bird with a hairy chest, powerful hairy forearms, beady eyes and dribble running down the side of its mouth.

The shopkeeper, observing her fascination with the bird, told her it was a special imported "Goony bird" and it had a very peculiar trait. To demonstrate, he exclaimed, "Goony bird! The table!" Immediately, the Goony bird flew off its perch and with single-minded fury attacked the table and smashed it into a hundred little pieces with its powerful forearms and claws! To demonstrate some more, the shopkeeper said, "Goony bird! The shelf!" Again the Goony bird turned to the shelf and demolished it in seconds.

"Wow!" said the wife, "If this doesn't attract my husband's attention, nothing will!" So she bought the bird and took it home. When she entered the house, the husband was, as usual, sprawled on the sofa guzzling beer and watching the game. "Honey!" she exclaimed, "I've got a surprise for you! A Goony bird!"

The husband, in his usual bored tone replied, "Goony Bird, my foot!"

TV full seasons, family movies, and thrillers out on DVD

Reviews by Diana Saenger

Take a break from the heat, turn on the air and pop in a new DVD. There's more and more DVD and Blu-Ray releases making their way into homes every day. The Gazette wants to help in choosing the right one. Maybe it's one unheard of that might become a family favorite.

'$5 A Day – Blu Ray & DVD'

Christopher Walken charms once again; this time he's Nat, a remorseful father nearing his end who wants to make amends to his son Ritchie (Alessandro Nivola). He actually served a jail sentence for his dad, not by his own choice. Now estranged from his dad, having broken up from his girlfriend (Amanda Peet) and losing his job the same day, Ritchie uses the ticket Nat sends to go to New Jersey. Feeling doubtful his dad is really dying Ritchie agrees to accompany his never-pay-for-anything dad to Mexico. This road trip is funny, heartfelt and full of surprises. The film also stars Sharon Stone and Dean Cain. "Rated "PG-13" - Image Entertainment.

'Friday Night Lights: The Fourth Season'

Only a few TV dramas return season after season, and Friday Night Lights is one of them. Now out on DVD is the complete fourth season which drew critical acclaim from reviewers and fans. The story is about a town centered on its high school football team. Married couple Taylor (Kyle Chandler) and Tami (Connie Britton) have to deal with their different jobs – he a coach, she a principal. Emotions rein in town this season as town teens are ready to move on to college and new students must learn to survive the harsh realities of high school and expectations of parents, teachers and coaches. Not Rated - Universal Studios Home Entertainment.

'Brothers and Sisters: The Complete Fourth Season'

If the Walker family has been part of your Sunday night TV viewing, then your family needs wait no more for this Fourth Season DVD set. Actors Sally Field, Calista Flockhart, Rob Lowe, Rachel Griffiths, Patricia Wettig and others have filled this series with one emotional hurdle after another. The Walker family and their ordeals over their winery is the backdrop for each brother and sister's own personal drama. There are some laughs, a little romance but mostly it's the drama that keeps fans returning every week. What sets this show apart from others is the fine acting by the entire cast. Bonus features include never-before-seen features, the cast on the red carpet and their team softball game. Rated TV-PG - ABC Studios Home Entertainment.

'Heroes Season 4'

This 5-disc set of the climactic season 4 finale of Heroes, holds hours of excitement and lots of redemption. Joint forces have to stop the slaughter of thousands and the rescue of Emma. Several main characters get caught in situations that they may not survive from. No matter which of the 18 episodes is your favorite, Heroes fans know they have to have this set. There are some good bonus features including Audio Commentary with Cast & Crew. Not Rated - NBC/Universal Studios Home Entertainment.

'The Owl Man – Blu Ray & DVD'

Families will adore this whimsical tale. When a family moves to a new but run down house a young Michael experiences loneliness and boredom. Announcement that there will soon be a new baby in the family doesn't make him happy either. Especially since his room must become the nursery and he's sent to the attic full of spider webs and bugs. While checking out a shed backyard, he discovers Skellig (Tim Roth) a horribly downtrodden man who eats worms to live and has rotting fingers. What Michael soon discovers about Skellig is almost as exciting as discovering the Beauty and the Beast isn't really a beast. And when Michael's family is in the depths of despair, Michael has no one but Skellig to reach out to. This is a wonderful story about the power of friendship; but may be somewhat frightening for kids under six. Not Rated - Image Entertainment.

'Love To Dance'

Now every little girl will be excited to put on her dancing shoes as she watches Angelina Ballerina become a star on stage. Little girls have big dreams and can draw inspiration from Angelina as she learns new forms of music and dance – jazz, tap, hip-hop. Several episodes allow for individual watching just in case your prima ballerina gets a little too dizzy learning about collaboration and compromise. Not Rated - Lionsgate Home Entertainment.

'Thriller The 14-disc: The Complete Series'

Fans of Boris Karloff can camp out while watching all 67 episodes of this totally thrilling and classic series. Each episode is remastered and uncut for the first time since their original broadcast that aired on NBC from 1960 to 1962. Boris Karloff hosted the series and actually appeared in five of them. Writers such as Edgar Allan Poe, Robert Bloch (Psycho), and Cornell Woolrich (Rear Window) were some who penned these tales. Stars who played the roles include many celebrities such as Marlo Thomas, Donna Douglas, Marion Ross and Robert Vaughn. The bonus features include 27 audio commentaries about the series. This set is perfect for thriller fans old and new. Not Rated - Image Entertainment. Saenger Syndicate

'Vampires Suck' – and so does the movie

Review by Michael Black

Good comedies are hard to come by and Vampires Suck is yet another movie soon to be in the DVD dollar+ bin at a favorite discount store. Since 2001 directors Jason Friedberg and Aaron Seltzer (Scary Movie 1, 2, 3, 4 and soon 5) have churned out one bad comedy after another. Critics berate them, but a certain fan base loves them. We can only hope that one day the directors will make a comedy that will actually get a critic to generally laugh for more than half the movie.

Vampires Suck is a spoof on the current successful Twilight series, with a taste and small spoiler of Breaking Dawn. The plot is generally the same; Becca Crane (Jenn Proske) falls in love with a local vampire and wants to become one in the name of love.

Sadly, the majority of gags fall flat. The only real laugh from the audience in the screening I attended was from a fart scene. Most of the movie's comedy is based on gross sight gags, current events, various reality television shows, and good old fashion toilet humor.

The only good thing I can say about the movie is the actress who plays Becca was very convincing in mimicking the mannerisms of Twilight's main star Kristen Stewart. The Edward character is played by 90210 star Matt Lanter, who is nothing more than a pretty boy for the ladies to gawk at. Christopher Riggi plays the role of Jacob the werewolf and was quite forgettable. Ken Jeong also co-stars in the film as one of the vampire elders, Daro; and even though he helped make The Hangover hilarious, he couldn't do it for this sorry excuse of a movie.

Teens who have little experience with good comedies may like this movie. Or anyone who dislikes the Twilight series might want to see the movie just to make fun of it – otherwise it's not worth losing 90 minutes of your life.

'Nanny McPhee Returns' is fun and magical

Review by Haley Price

Nanny McPhee is back and just as magical as the first movie five years ago. In Nanny McPhee Returns, set in the English countryside and London, statues come alive, elephants sleep in beds, and pigs fly.

Mrs. Isabel Green (Maggie Gyllenhaal), an over stressed mom, juggles three argumentative children, Norman (Asa Butterfield), Megsie (Lil Woods) and Vincent (Oscar Steer). They run a wheat farm, and work for the elder, odd and funny Mrs. Docherty (Maggie Smith) while her husband is away at war. To make matters worse, her persistent, creepy brother-in-law Phil (Rhys Ifans) is trying to get her to sell the farm because he owns half and wants his part of the money.

Arriving from London to stay with the Greens are two spoiled cousins. They are coming to the country to get away from the bombing in London. Cyril (Eros Vlahos) and Celia (Rosie Taylor-Ritson) Gray are rich, spoiled brats that don't want to leave the city. When they arrive a day early and make insulting comments about the Green's farm, the trouble begins. The mayhem turns mean, muddy, hurtful and cruel. All this happens while Mrs. Green is away at work and is magically told by kettles and drawers that "the person she needs is Nanny McPhee."

That night in the middle of a rainstorm the unattractive female stranger Nanny McPhee (Emma Thompson) knocks at the Green's door. Once invited in her magic begins. Nanny McPhee uses bombs, pigs, cows, motorcycles and her magical stick to teach the children lessons which transform the children and also transforms Nanny McPhee.

Seeing pigs fly, pigs climb trees and pigs doing synchronized swimming are just some of the cool special effects. All of the magical special effects look real and are fun to watch.

Emma Thompson and the other actors appeared to have so much more fun making this film. Vlahos and Taylor-Ritson are so funny fighting with themselves and chasing the pigs. Vlahos is exceptional in staying in character all the way through the movie.

Nanny McPhee Returns is a great family movie, and reminds me of the Mary Poppins movie. Little kids will enjoy magical animals, and teens will like the tension and excitement as the story unfolds. Parents will love the cute, clever ways that good family values are presented. This movie has no violence or sexual behavior so it's fine for kids.

Jason Bateman and Thomas Robinson excel in this tired plot

Review by Diana Saenger

Im really on the fence about The Switch. I think there are two movies inside this romantic comedy. There's one plot I dislike for being cliché, boring, ridiculous and helping to spur even more tabloid stories about poor Jennifer Aniston (thank you very much). But there's also a tender story about a man who loves a woman so much he'll wait years for her – and, after falling instantly in love with a little boy – will do anything to make the lad's world complete.

First I'll tackle the plot I didn't like. Kassie (Aniston), tired of waiting to meet Mr. Right, goes on the hunt for a sperm donor so she can have a baby. She confides this to her pessimistic friend Wally (Jason Bateman), who when first hearing this announcement is so self-absorbed with his own lackluster life, barely understands what she's saying. As it slowly sinks in, Wally tries to dissuade Kassie from the ludicrous idea. Spurred on by her empty life and her crazy friend Debbie (Juliette Lewis), Kassie moves on, finding Roland (Patrick Wilson), a charming, suave and good-looking married man as her target.

Things get zany when Debbie throws an extravagant party for the actual filling of the cup by Roland. Were they actually going to plop Kassie on the bed and turkey baste her right there? Before that can happen, a drunken Wally – realizing his best friend is slipping away -- switches the sperm to his own.

Seven years later, Kassie, who had moved away from New York City, returns. She not only renews her friendship with Wally, but strikes up one with Roland who is now divorced, lost all his charm and appears plainly idiotic. This story would have been far more interesting if he was a smart, savvy guy and a "real" contender for Kassie.

What I like about The Switch begins at this point. We know Bateman can be funny and charming as evidenced in Arrested Development and other comedies. And while he again shows his ability to be creatively amusing, there's a depth to his character here I've not seen before. Wally falls for Kassie's son Sebastian (Thomas Robinson) even though he believes Roland is his dad (he didn't remember the switch-a-roo). And the more he sees Kassie warming up to Roland and Sebastian obviously not wanting anything to do with his soon-to-be father, Wally becomes frozen with regret, fear and longing. Bateman brings out these feelings so effortlessly it definitely raises his game as a performer.

And who wouldn't fall in love with the smart-beyond-his-years Sebastian? Although Robinson made a TV appearance in Heroes, this is his debut role on the big screen, and he's set big shoes to fill for himself. He's adorable in every scene while playing each emotional arc to perfection. His agent's phone must be ringing nonstop.

Aniston comes across as one-note in this movie. Her character is lamely blind to the "real" Roland in front of her, a guy who doesn't like her kid. Aniston could have done this role in her sleep. Lewis is her usual zany character but likable. Jeff Goldblum has a small but believable part as Wally's co-worker and buddy. Wilson unfortunately got stuck with the cliché "wrong guy" part -- not much you can do with that.

While The Switch will probably not please many viewers who enjoy romantic comedies, Bateman's fans should not miss his performance in this film.

Ramona Mainstage rocks East County

Review by Josh Turner

The air was filled with excitement early Saturday evening, July 31, as those in line outside of the Ramona Main Stage Theater waited to get inside. More than 200 anxious Hatchet fans – most wearing “Hatchet Gear” – hurried inside when the doors opened hoping to find a seat that wasn’t already reserved. The venue was so jam-packed staff members had to scramble to get extra chairs to accommodate the crowd.

Around 8 p.m. punk rock band Heavy Cessna opened strong setting the mood for everyone to rock. By 10 p.m. Molly Hatchet took the stage and the crowd’s intensity exploded. Her band performed until midnight with not only the songs that made them famous, including “Gater Country,” “Whiskey Man,” “Beating the Odds” and “Flirtin’ with Disaster.” The band also performed its heart-touching song “Fly on Wings of Angels,” which is in memory of Summer Thompson, a Florida girl who was brutally murdered at the age of seven. The biggest surprise of for the crowd was when Hatchet performed a cover of “Freebird,” made famous by fellow southern rock band Lynard Skynard.

The crowd eagerly joined in to sing Happy Birthday when the band announced it was lead singer Phil McCormick’s birthday. For me Molly Hatchet’s show was amazing, and one I will not soon forget.

Ramona Mainstage was once the downtown theatre for Ramona. New owners converted the theatre making it a small and very charming venue. The quaintness of the theatre makes it a great venue to see the entertainment up close and in person Ramona Mainstage is an all ages venue. Persons under 21 must be accompanied by a parent. All patrons must show valid photo ID.

Coming soon to the Ramona Main stage, will be Steven Adler, (of Guns N Roses performing songs from their Appetite for Destruction.) Comedy legend Gallagher, The Little River Band, Epica (a Dutch symphonic metal band.) and much, much more. Head over to www.Ramonamainstage.com to learn more of their upcoming acts.

Car wash for the Goose

El Cajon Plumbing and Heating Supply Co. along with J & W Cleaning and Restoration sponsored a BBQ/Carwash this past Tuesday with all the donations going to The Mother Goose Parade. The Mother Goose Queen and part of her court washed cars for donations while trying to stay cool under three digit temperatures.

Walking in faith

by Diana Saenger

While freedom of religion continues to be challenged, millions of Americans walk in faith everyday. Each person has his own mission and goal – most selfless, wanting only to obey God's word. This column hopes to share some incredible journeys by passionate people that make every day living a little better.

Dr. Douglas Bray is a pastor at Sonrise Community Church in Santee, CA, Director of Global Outreach International, and leader of the Prime Time class at Sonrise that has an average attendance of more than 100 every Sunday. Pastor Bray and his wife Sydney have spent the majority of their life serving God both in America and abroad. There's barely a country they haven't visited to spread God's messages and have faced eminent danger more than once.

Pastor Bray always felt a calling to Christian leadership. He held Christian gatherings in his back yard during high school, became a youth pastor in a large church in Long Beach, and graduated from Long Beach State University, and Talbot Theological Seminary. Pastor Bray believes in divine destiny, particularly in how he met his wife. "We were just friends at first with other romantic interests, but then God wanted us together and eventually in 1960 we were married," he said.

The Brays served with Intervarsity Christian Fellowship for two years – he as president and she as vice president for a year. In 1961 he was called to pastor a church in Pasadena. The Brays made a trip to Europe and Russia, bought a car at the Volkswagen factory in Germany and lived on $10 a day for four months. The trip – a combination of journey and missions – resulted in many incidents one would only see in movies. When they crossed into Poland from Berlin, and stopped at a check point for directions, the guard ripped up their map. They eventually made it to Russia – in the middle of the "Cold-War." In one incident Pastor Bray dropped off Syd in Moscow to run into a store. When she wasn't on the curb to be picked up, he parked and searched for her, only to be told by someone that she had been arrested. At the police station he was informed the Russians believed they were spies. A few harrowing days later they were allowed to leave.

The Brays were then asked to visit Biola University missionaries around the world as ambassadors. Back in the states, Pastor Bray was called to pastor a church in Westminster. After nine years there, and now with children, the couple came to San Diego where he became associate pastor of Scott Memorial Baptist Church. It was there Pastor Bray worked with Dr. Tim LaHaye (Co-author of Left Behind series). Pastor Bray next entered into International Evangelism and Pastor Training.

By this time a big calling was awaiting the Brays. Dr. Paul Gupta, a graduate of Biola, visited America from India, and asked the Brays to get involved in Global Outreach International. Feeling a burden to save souls and God's plan to reach out in the world, once again they answered his call to spread the Gospel. Since 1998 the Brays have made endless trips to India helping set up orphanages, speaking at Christian gatherings and teaching in training centers. They have often worked with renowned Hopegivers International's Dr. M.A. Thomas – who is still being persecuted today for his teaching of Christianity in India.

"Our goal with Global Outreach International was to help, not just financially, but also in ministering and building churches," Syd Bray said. "We began working with graduates over there to plan churches and the ministries we support all have something in common."

While continuing to work with world missions, the Brays were called to Sonrise Community Church in Sonrise, where he serves as one of their pastors, and oversees the Prime Time ministry. This includes teaching the Sunday morning class, giving a devotional every Tuesday to the class who attend the Home Town breakfast in Santee, visiting the ill and both he and Syd nurturing all in the class no matter their needs.

Whether officiating over a beloved one at a funeral to bravely risking jail time for taking Bibles across a forbidden border, Doug and Syd Bray's Walk in Faith has saved thousands of lost souls and been a shining inspiration to all who know them.

Dear Dr. Luauna

I am a new Christian and recently separated from my wife, we have two small children. She has made it difficult for me to see them at all. I am a peaceful person and do not want to fight or be negative, but I love my children and feel like this is wrong, what should I do?

Signed, Conflicted Father

Dear Conflicted Father,

There are several things you should do; first, you should get legal help because you do have rights as a father, whether you are separated or divorced. She should not be allowed to keep you from your children. You are a nice guy by wanting to be peaceful, however, you can still be kind, Christ-like and protect your rights as your children's father.

The most important thing for your children during this time of turmoil is to have stability; they need to have bonding time with both of their parents. No matter what happens between you and your wife; the children need to know you are there, they need the security of your love, and they need to know you are fighting for them. Keeping you away is unfair and selfish.

This is going to be a test of your new faith in God, I would be honored to help you through this, with prayer and counseling. As difficult as this may be, it is very important for you to keep your heart from unforgiveness and bitterness for your sake and your children's. I will keep in touch with you and help you in any way I can.

Matthew 11:28-29, "Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls."

Mr. Williams brings 18 years of experience in the gaming industry, including management responsibilities at U.S. and international resorts, riverboat and Native American gaming operations. His background includes casino operations and marketing experience from Arizona, Nevada, Illinois, Louisiana, and New Zealand. Most recently, Mr. Williams was Vice President of Operations for Harrah's Entertainment.

Mr. Williams holds a Doctorate of Business Administration from the University of Phoenix, an MBA from Vanderbilt University and a Bachelor's from Emory & Henry College. He recently coauthored the Prentice Hall textbook Casino Gaming Methods: Games, Probabilities and Controls, and has authored a number of textbook chapters, peer-reviewed journals and articles for industry journals ranging from Gaming Law Review & Economics to The Casino Journal.

Holly O'Brien has been named Vice President of Marketing at Viejas Casino. Prior to joining Viejas, Ms. O'Brien was a marketing executive at Harrah's St. Louis, where she successfully launched two new food outlets, a nightclub and a hotel expansion, and Harrah's Ak-Chin in Phoenix. She had been Director of Marketing at Joe Boxer, where she rolled out concept shops nationwide, and has also worked at Kraft Foods in consumer promotions.

Laura Brown joins Viejas Casino as Vice President of Human Resources. Ms. Brown comes to Viejas with over 17 years of broad HR experience in the high tech and financial services industries. southern California and a longtime San Diego resident.

Viejas Tribal Chairman Bobby L. Barrett said, "Viejas has been a market leader and is one of the most successful casinos in all of California. These three new executive hires bring a tremendous depth of knowledge and experience that will help build upon Viejas Casino's momentum, position us for significant future growth, and reinforce Viejas as one of California's premier gaming and entertainment destinations."

Sycuan tribal police approved for grant funding

The Sycuan Band of the Kumeyaay Nation's Department of Public Safety will receive $107,000 in funds from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security.

The Sycuan tribe, owners of Sycuan Casino and Resort, applied to the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to be considered an eligible recipient for a piece of the $10,000,000 set aside for the Tribal Homeland Security Grant Program (THSGP). The funding will be used for the purchase of new communication equipment by the Sycuan Tribal Police Department in an effort to better serve and protect its members and the surrounding community.

"Communication is a fundamental aspect of any effective law enforcement program," says Bill Denke, Chief of Police for the Sycuan Tribe. Not having the ability to communicate with other jurisdictions puts the lives of the people we serve in jeopardy."

"Sycuan has experienced a number of disastrous wild fires around the reservation over the last several years. We found with cell service and land lines down we were completely cut off from communicating with all outside agencies."

Chief Denke goes on to say that, "With the grant funding Sycuan will be able to deploy dual-band radios (both handhelds and vehicle), enabling Sycuan's police officers to communicate within San Diego County's Regional Communication System and at the same time continue to communicate with all other departments/agencies on the Sycuan Reservation."

In order to be considered eligible, every tribe must meet the criteria defined by the DHS in conjunction with the THSGP. Determinations are made by a peer review process. For further information please visit (www.fema.gov/government/grant)

Other tribes who have received similar funding in California are Yurok, Agua Caliente and Blue Lake.

Take the Farmer's Market Survey

Have you shopped at a farmers' market? Would you like to shop at one here in El Cajon? We'd like to hear from you on the idea of having a farmers' market in the City of El Cajon.

In past years, El Cajon has been the site of a farmers' market. For a variety of reasons, the markets were not sustainable; but times are different and this idea is again being considered. If a farmers' market is to be established, good planning will be key to its success. You can really help in this effort by completing a short survey to let us know your thoughts on this topic. Would you like to see the finest local fruits and vegetables, delicious bakery items, fresh cut flowers and local handcrafts?

Your input is important to us, so please take a couple of minutes to help us determine if and how we should proceed. Go to www.ci.el-cajon.ca.us and tell us what you think.

Are you a Long-time Resident Homebuyer?
You may be eligible for an income tax refund up to $6,500.

Did you buy a new home after Nov. 6, 2009? Did you live in your prior home for 5 out of the past 8 years? If you can answer yes to both of these questions, call or email for help with filing an amended 2009 tax return.

Padres refuse to lose

by Chuck Karazzia

The San Diego Padres continue to flourish in these dog days of August.

David Eckstein returned to the lineup over the weekend against the Brewers after being shelved by a hamstring injury on July 21. The scrappy veteran second baseman contributed immediately with 2 hits. He also brings invaluable intangibles to the team.

In a season where most thought they would contend for last place in the N.L. West, the Padres in August have expanded their lead and are beginning to run away with division. Granted there is a lot of season left, but there no longer lingers the doubt of whether or not this team is for real.

Amazing is the word. They have the best record in the National League and have had just one three-game losing streak all season. That's simply amazing.

Concluding their longest road tour of the season, 10 games in 10 days, San Diego returned home after an excellent (7-3) trip that began August 11 in San Francisco, then to Chicago, ending in Milwaukee. When the Padres took to the road they held a slim 2 ½ game lead in the N.L. West. Upon their return to Petco Park, they had extended that lead to 6 games.

Taking 2-of-3 from San Francisco was satisfying after hearing the prophetic comments of pitcher Jonathan Sanchez predicting his Giants would sweep the series, take over first place in the division, and never look back. Obviously that didn't happen.

The Friars did sweep the Cubs in four games. The first time ever, a four game sweep for them in the windy city.

San Diego did hit a bump in the road at Milwaukee. Losing the first two of three to the talent laden under achievers, the Brewers looked more like the Padres than the Padres did themselves. San Diego did bounce back in the third game averting a sweep behind excellent pitching from Jon Garland in a 7-3 Padres victory.

Refusing to lose, the San Diego Padres have now won a remarkable... 10 in a row, 15-1 overall on Sunday games this season.

"He's terrific. We love his leadership, his management, his skills around that. We love the consistency he offers," said Padres Vice Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Jeff Moorad.

'Eck' glad to be back said, "It was tough to sit out that month and just watch the guy's play. You want to be helping them. Once I came back I just wanted to go out there and help them win again."

"What makes this club is they can cut down a losing streak quickly. We've been able to do that all year long. It starts with our pitching. Jonnie (Garland) went out there and did another fantastic job for us getting us a chance to score some runs and get the lead. Our pitching staff and our bullpen has been outstanding. I don't know if there's anyone in the league that can compare to that."

The Padres hitters have hit for power in August. This is no more clearly evident than first baseman Adrian Gonzales. After his home run Sunday, Gonzales took over third place on the Padres All-time Home Run record book (surpassing Dave Winfield) with 155. Only Phil Nevin (156) and Nate Colbert (163) are above Adrian.

Look for outfielder Luis Durango (recently called up from Portland) to start more games for the Padres against left handed pitching. The blazing speedster may be the fastest player to ever wear a Padres uniform.

After a well deserved day off Monday, the Padres entertained the Arizona Diamondbacks for three games this week. They take on the world-champion Philadelphia Phillies in a three-game weekend home series beginning Friday at Petco Park.

Saturday and Sunday are day games both starting after 1 p.m.

SEPTIC TANKS

Pumping Service

Call 7 Days 6 am - 9 pm

FAQ's
"How often should I pump my tank?"
"What if some of my family members are children?"
"What if we both work?"
"Who should I call?"
Septic Tank Service Intervals
The amount of time between septic pumping varies with tank size and occupancy of your home. Typically a 1000 gallon tank should be serviced every 10 person years, a 1200 gallon every 12 person years, a 1500 gallon, every 15 person years. For example a 1200 gallon tank with 3 people in the home should be serviced every 4 years and with 6 people every 2 years. If you have children, they count as persons (look at your grocery bill). If you both work, we count that as "normal people". If the formula loses you just pump your tank every 3 years or call us.

"I am very grateful and touched by your contribution to the Sheriff's Department and our deputies..." Sheriff Bill Kolender

BLM conducts rescue mission for stranded burros

Thirteen wild burros stranded in a remote area of San Bernardino County are the focus of an unusual rescue mission coordinated by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM). The burros are the last of a herd of 69 wild burros found stranded without water and outside their normal herd management area.

BLM Needles Field Office Manager Rusty Lee said BLM was notified Thursday afternoon by a local rancher that he had come across a number of burros that apparently had died of dehydration, but there were also others that were still alive at Fenner Spring, in the Piute Mountain Wilderness Area, about 35 miles west of Needles, Calif. The herd was about 40 miles from the Chemehuevi Herd Management Area, the nearest BLM herd management area.

The rancher, who grazes livestock in an allotment covering the area, said the dead animals had clogged the spring in the pursuit of water in the 110-degree heat, preventing other burros from getting to the spring. He attempted to pull out as many as he could with his horse, but wasn't able to reopen access to the spring. The nearest alternative source of water is 12 miles away; Fenner Spring, an abandoned mine adit, is the only reliable source of water in the Piute Mountains.

Lee said BLM immediately mobilized a helicopter, a county water tender, folding water tanks, and other equipment needed to rescue the remaining burros. Although the site is in a federal wilderness area, BLM has authority to use "minimum tool" equipment in the case of emergencies, he said. A BLM fire crew was dispatched to the area and deployed portable water troughs. Corral staff from the BLM Ridgecrest Wild Horse and Burro Facility were also dispatched.

A contract fire helicopter reached the scene later that afternoon and began moving water from large portable troughs by the highway to a smaller water "pumpkin" near the spring. Thirteen live burros watched a helicopter deliver 750 gallons of water. BLM personnel then backed off at sunset to allow the burros to approach the water.

Upon returning in the morning, 13 live burros were seen in the area and the water trough was empty. Corral staff then ordered another 1,000 gallons delivery by helicopter and also set up secondary troughs for more water. The county water tender delivered another 3,000 gallons to the helicopter drop point to be readily available as needed. Corral crews have been on-site to stabilize the surviving burros for further recovery and later transport to the Ridgecrest Corrals.

Lee said the rancher's discovery and rapid reporting of the situation "saved the lives of the remaining burros." He said range specialists were unsure how the animals wandered into this area although burros are adept at finding water sources in the desert. "BLM also took special precautions to minimize impacts to the wilderness and to rehabilitate the area, which was already disturbed due to the previous mining operation."

BLM California Deputy Director Tom Pogacnik said BLM will conduct an inquiry into the incident and credits Lee and all others involved with "a fast response and plan that undoubtedly saved the lives of the remaining animals." The preliminary findings from the veterinarian brought to the site to check both living and dead burros were that the animals died from dehydration. The remaining animals are in fair condition and with an adequate supply of water on hand are expected to survive.

Prada is a black/white 3-year-old female domestic long hair. She is a gorgeous kitty hoping to find a special family and home to cherish. With bright eyes and an eclectic spirit, she enjoys playing with feather toys, sunbathing and watching birds flutter outside her window. While Prada enjoys spending time with her people friends, she is also very comfortable spending time on her own. Prada has an independent nature and adventuresome spirit! While she can be a bit shy at first, she warms up as she gets to know her people friends better. Prada will do well in a variety of homes, but a home without other cats is recommended. Her adoption fee is $75 and includes her spay, current vaccinations, permanent microchip identification, a certificate for a free veterinary exam and a license if residing in Oceanside or Vista! Prada is available for adoption at the North Campus of the San Diego Humane Society: 2905 San Luis Rey Rd., Oceanside, CA 92058. (760) 757-4357 www.sdhumane.org.
