Waste Management offers helpful hints to Green Your Halloween

This season, Waste Management of San Diego reminds its customers to save money and Think Green® by avoiding traditional Halloween routines - that usually result in waste - in favor of recyclable, eco-friendly habits. Use the whole pumpkin:

Most everyone buys a pumpkin to celebrate the holiday and ends up tossing it in the trash on Nov. 1. However, avoiding that waste is easy by using the pumpkin for both food and decoration. It's easy to bake the seeds with a little bit of salt for a tasty and healthy snack; or, puree the freshly cutout pieces for recipes that call for fresh pumpkin - avoiding canned pumpkin. All other parts of the pumpkin can be added to your compost pile.

Skip the expensive plastic costumes: Put less stress on your wallet by opting for costumes made of reusable or recycled materials. Incite your family's creativity by constructing a unique, exciting costume from scratch.

Use recyclable bags for your Trick-or-Treaters: A fun family activity is to create a unique Trick-or-Treat basket, or simply put a reusable bag to good use. Avoiding the plastic Jack-O-Lantern type containers will avoid clutter, save money, and add a dash of originality to your Trick-or-Treaters' costume.

Candy Options Are Out

There: When stocking up for the Oct. 31, look for candy brands that donate part of their profits to environmental causes; Fair Trade-sourced chocolates; or sweets made with pure cane sugar, fruit juice, and natural colors. If you're skipping candy

Emergency Preparedness Is a Top Priority

Working to keep you safe. Every day.

California's high-fire danger months are in the fall, when hot, dry Santa Ana winds arrive. Because the damage from wildfires can be catastrophic, it's important we all work together to be prepared.

Community Events

Speak with our representatives and fire-rescue groups for tips on how to create a defensible space around your home, make an emergency supply kit and a personal emergency plan.

Power outages

can be caused by fires, storms and high winds. So know what to do when an outage occurs and how to be safe around downed power lines.

Create a defensible space around your home by designing or modifying it to resist wildfires. Building materials, roof and landscaping all influence your home's likelihood of surviving a wildfire.

We're working to help prevent fires by replacing more wood power poles with fire-resistant steel poles and expanding tree trimming and brush clearing.

Firefighting aircraft from the City and County of San Diego, CAL FIRE, US Forest Service and SDG&E* are standing by to help suppress brush fires and give fire-fighters the support they need.

When an emergency happens, Alert San Diego, the region's reverse 9-1-1 notification system, sends important information to your registered mobile phone and e-mail address. Register online at readysandiego.org.

RESULTS ... NOT PROMISES

It's that simple, And that important!

It is truly an honor to serve as Mayor for the City of El Cajon. Thank you for the opportunity to share with you recent accomplishments and what we look forward to here in our City. Starting with the safety of our City in the area of emergency services...

The El Cajon Fire Department management staff is now Heartland Fire and Rescue. As of January 1, 2010, the Cities of El Cajon, La Mesa and Lemon Grove entered into a joint exercise of powers agreement (JPA) for management and delivery of fire protection and emergency medical services-this will save a combined $560,000 annually.

The San Diego County Taxpayers Association (SDCTA) gave top honors to the Heartland Fire & Rescue JPA with the "Grand Golden Watchdog" award- this award highlights smart, sensible practices in taxpayer-funded programs.

F.B.I. Statistics show that the City of El Cajon is among the top cities in crime rate reductions in the County of San Diego for 2009.

Overall Crime is DOWN 21 PERCENT.

Violent Crime is DOWN 13 PERCENT.

Property Crime is DOWN 23 PERCENT.

Domestic Crime is DOWN 24 PERCENT.

The downtown area has gone through a major face-lift- a distinctive City of El Cajon sign, new sidewalks, seating, streetlights and "way finding" signs. New businesses have arrived and more are coming!

We just completed a major renovation of the downtown Prescott Promenade. The refurbished park features a covered amphitheater area, plenty of informal seating, and walkways designed for pedestrians as well as classic cars, vendor booths or a host of other activities. We'll be able to host larger events in the downtown area.

El Cajon is one of the most successful cities in San Diego County regarding recycling and resource recovery. It is recognized as the only "Zero Waste City" in San Diego County and only one of a few in the State of California. Our Solid Waste Vehicles are operated by clean natural gas from a landfill.

The City of El Cajon is recognized by the Federal Government as a "Tree City USA" because of our efforts in promoting the value and benefits of tree planting. This "Urban Forest" maintains a natural environment for all our residents, now and in the future.

The City is looking forward to the new animal shelter being built next year with "Prop J" money for our four legged residents. The shelter has a "no kill policy"- every pet that can be saved will be saved. Each animal is checked, treated if necessary and micro chipped by a veterinarian before being placed for adoption.

Despite these challenging times, the City of El Cajon has a lot to be proud of, with some exciting projects ahead...

Remembering El Cajon Fire's Search & Rescue Canines "Billy & Icon"

At Tuesday's City Council meeting, Mayor Mark Lewis and the City Council gave posthumous recognition to two canines, both former members of the El Cajon Fire Department's Search & Rescue Canine Team, "Billy & Icon." In remembrance of "Billy": In November of 1998, Billy was paired with then El Cajon Fire Captain now Fire Chief Mike Scott, an 18-year veteran with the El Cajon Fire Department. The real test of their skills and abilities came when they were dispatched to the scene of the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center on September 11, 2001. Mike and Billy served together as a FEMA Certified Canine Disaster Search Team for six years. Even in retirement, Billy's eyes would still light up at the sight of his training toy! Billy passed away a couple months ago on August 16. In remembering "Icon": In February of 2008, after months of training, El Cajon Fire Captain Steve Swaney and Icon achieved FEMA Certification to become a Canine Search and Rescue Team for San Diego County. In September 2008, they were deployed to Hurricanes Ike and Gustav where they searched abandoned residential and commercial buildings to ensure no survivors were left behind after the devastating storms. But Icon's spectacular life came to an end unexpectedly when he passed away suddenly during the night of July 3, 2010. The veterinarian determined Icon's death was the result of several cancerous tumors on his lungs and heart, though Icon never showed any signs of distress and his yearly medical check-ups never revealed any signs of the disease. At just five years old, Icon's life ended too soon, but not before he made his mark on the Urban Search and Rescue program.

Bowling for Students at Parkway Bowl

On Saturday, Oct. 23, the Cajon Valley Education Foundation will hold a Bowl-A-Thon at Parkway Bowl benefitting the Foundation. Parkway Bowl is located at 1280 Fletcher Parkway. The event is from 3 to 5:30 p.m. and only 35 lanes can be reserved. Sign up now! There will be a best team costume contest and prizes. Proceeds will benefit local school programs. 16th Annual Alpine Leadership & Public Service Awards

“Spotlighting Alpine’s Outstanding Citizens” was the theme as the people, organizations and businesses who make Alpine a great place to play and work were recognized at the premiere event, hosted annually by the Alpine Mountain Empire Chamber of Commerce.

The partnering sponsor for the friendly upbeat evening was the Viejas Band of Kumeyaay Indians. The San Diego Gas & Electric Co. was the supporting sponsor.

A committee of people from Alpine’s businesses and organizations considered dozens of nominations from the community before choosing the honorees of the seven general awards:

Alpine Tree Town USA, Beautification Award

Albertsons, Large Business of the Year Award

Kiwanis Club of Alpine, Organization of the Year Award.

Kelly Weiss, (Chamber vice-president of operations/events) Citizen of the Year Award

Associated Pageants of Alpine, Youth Organization of the Year Award.

Dan Foster of the Kiwanis Club, Special Recognition Award

Other awards included:

Humanitarian Award - Chuck Taylor, president of Park Land for Alpine Youth

San Diego County Board of Supervisors proclaimed it “Carlette Anderson Day” in honor of Alpine Honorary Mayor Carlette Anderson of Save-A-Heart, The CPR Pros.

Newsmaker of the Year Award - the Veterans’ Wall of Honor by the Kiwanis Club of Alpine

Chairman’s Circle Membership Recognition - Viejas Band of Kumeyaay Indians

Chairman’s Award - VFW Bert Fuller Post 9578

President’s Awards - San Diego Gas & Electric, Par Electric Contractors, Greg Wakeman of Pro Tool & Equipment Inc. and Kamp’s Propane.

Fire safety tips for home and business

The City of El Cajon is concerned about the safety of our residents and visitors as they live, work, and play in our city. In order to help promote a fire safe environment we would like you to be aware of the information presented below and understand how it relates to the safety of your employees, your family, and yourself.

Fire Extinguishers – Fire extinguishers should be inspected by the building owner or agent on a monthly basis. Check for damaged hoses, obstructions, pressure gauge reading in the green, etc. Extinguishers should also be serviced once annually with a new service tag showing the date of service. Non-serviceable extinguishers must be replaced per manufacturers recommendations or at least once every 12 years. Fire extinguishers should be placed in an open and visible location adjacent to exits. If the extinguisher is not in an open and visible location, and sign must be placed on the wall above the extinguisher to indicate the location. At least one 2A:10BC extinguisher should be located within a 75 foot travel distance from all portions of the space.

Fire Sprinkler Systems – Fire sprinkler systems must be serviced at least once every five years. The sprinkler riser must have a service tag with the last service date indicated on the tag. Be sure that you keep storage items located at least 18 inches below the level of the sprinkler heads. A spare head box should be located adjacent to the riser with extra heads of each type and a sprinkler wrench for replacing heads.

Fire Alarm Systems – Fire alarm systems must be serviced and tested at least once annually. A label indicating the last service date must be placed on the alarm panel. Batteries should be labeled with their last replacement date. The system should be functional with no trouble signals.

Exiting – All exits from the building or space should be clear and free of obstruction. Corridors and hallways may not be used for storage, even on a temporary basis. Illuminated exit signs should be functional with a battery back up light that can be tested by depressing the test button.

Emergency Exit Lighting – Some buildings will be provided with emergency exit lighting. These are selected lights throughout the facility that will remain lit even when the power is turned off to the light (battery backup). These lighting systems should be operational and can be tested by turning off the light switch to the rooms or building.

Extension Cord Wiring – Extension cord wiring is meant for temporary use and should not be used in place of permanent wiring methods. Extension cords should be unplugged after use and stored for the future. Power strips with integral protection can be left in place for computers and similar equipment.

Flammable Liquids – In general, flammable liquids are not allowed for general business uses. A small amount of flammable liquids (10 gallons) can be stored for maintenance purposes inside of approved 5 gallon safety containers.

Clearance Around Water Heaters and Similar Equipment – Water heaters and similar equipment should maintain a 3 foot clearance free of any combustible materials. Dedicated equipment rooms should not be used for storage.

Labeling of Electrical and Gas Meters – Your electric and gas meters should be clearly labeled with the building or suite address. This is to allow quick access by the Fire Department to disconnect power in an emergency.

Fire Lanes – Fire lanes must be maintained with painted red curbing and stenciled with the words "Fire Lane" every 30 feet. In areas where no curbing is present fire lane signs may be posted at 30 foot intervals.

Address Numbers – Address numbers must be maintained on the building in contrasting colors, visible from the street. Address numbers must be 8 inch high for commercial buildings and 5 inches high for residential buildings. Individual suite or unit numbers may be 3 inches high.

Health... Just Common Horse Sense

by Dr. Donald Adema

Yes, physicians do succumb to the multiple exposures of disease and pestilence now and then. The flu aches and temperature changes hit me last Monday at 10 a.m. and by 3:30 p.m. I was ready to be life flighted to my pillow at home. Okay, that may be a little dramatic and there is a reason why men do not have the babies. We are wimps.

As fate would have it, when I arrived home I was alone and was left with animals to feed as all had abandoned the home front for meetings and appointments. The horses received variable portions of the wrong hay and the cats were not happy with the senior horse grain. The goats were forgotten but took care of many lower branches of oak trees all night long. However, the delirious ranch hand that sort of reminded them of their owner was not to be reckoned with and all were quiet as I stumbled around corrals and the barn. Is this pitiful enough for you yet?

Now, when febrile, one should dress lightly and consider a tepid shower and a little antipyretic support. This, of course, would have been the case if I had nursing staff in attendance at home. But no, I had been abandoned to my delirium and still remember the steamy shower that enveloped me for about 20 seconds. Wow, that hurt and the bottoms of my feet were tender for days. Yes, we are definitely in pitiful territory.

Just as I was sinking into my death pyre, my wife/nurse/RN returned home and took matters into hand. After a severe tongue lashing, I was forced to drink water until I appeared 8 months pregnant. Tylenol, Vit C, Vit D and Immunity were then forced down and I was certain they would lead to a bowel obstruction. Chicken soup magically appeared and her beautifully polished Beretta insured that all was ingested. After threatening to call the Adult Protective Services, I was allowed to collapse into bed.

At about 3 a.m. I awoke in a sweat. I dutifully took a tepid shower and repeated the impaction formula, oops, curative formula. With much ceremony and drama, I collapsed back into the bed and was aroused at 6 AM. All vital signs were stable and I could manage a razor and my morning shake. "Well young man, you may attempt catching up in the office but if that temp returns, it is back home with you." It did not and I completed the day. Thank the Lord for Vit C, Vit D, and natural immune boosters. Oh yes, and a personal nurse Ratchett. (Yes, man living on the edge here.) Remember the formula, the flu season is a bit early.

Out and about in the County

Through Oct. 28: Grossmont College art faculty hosts their own exhibit. Artwork created by faculty members of the Grossmont College Art Department will be on display at the college's Hyde Art Gallery, located on campus. The public is invited to view the exhibition of approximately 55 pieces from 29 different art department instructors. According to Ben Aubert, Hyde Art Gallery curator, the exhibition represents the various disciplines that exist within the Grossmont College Art Department, including photography, jewelry, painting and drawing and ceramics and sculpture. Admission is free. The Hyde Art Gallery is open from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays, and 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Grossmont College is located at 8800 Grossmont College Dr., in El Cajon. For information, call (619) 644-7299, or visit www.grossmont.edu/artgallery. For driving directions and a campus map, visit www.grossmont.edu.

Oct. 16: El Cajon Moose Lodge "Christmas in October" Traditional Thanksgiving dinner-$8 per person. Raffle prizes. Located at 13794 Old Hwy 8, El Cajon. Oct. 16: The Grossmont College Foundation, a fund-raising organization that supports Grossmont College students and educational programs, will host its 2010 Dinner Gala and Auction fund-raiser starting at 6 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 16, at the Barona Valley Ranch Resort & Casino. The public is invited to attend. Festivities for this year's ninth annual Gala will begin at 6 p.m. with a reception and silent auction, followed by dinner starting at 7:30 p.m., live auction and live entertainment. The 2010 theme is "Griffin Gold Rush: 49 Years of Excellence." The theme anticipates the upcoming celebration of the college's 50-year anniversary to be held during the 2011-2012 school year, according to Ernest Ewin, Grossmont College Foundation executive director. Last year's Gala raised a net of $93,000, including $24,000 towards new scholarships, Ewin said. The Grossmont College Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that directly supports Grossmont College students, faculty and staff through scholarships, educational equipment and supplies, facilities and education programs.

Oct. 16: City on a Hill Church Hosting Free Health Fair

City on a Hill Church is hosting a Community Health Fair at Wells Park in El Cajon. The event will run from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. with free health screenings and fun activities for kids. City on a Hill Church is partnering with Callsign Compassion, a non-profit organization that brings health care providers together to help those in need. The health fair will offer a variety of services including dental screening exams, eyeglasses, blood sugar screening for diabetes and blood pressure screening; all at no charge.

In addition, there will be Astro Jumps, face painting and crafts for children. Wells Park is located at 1153 E. Madison Ave. in El Cajon. For further information please visit: www.cityonahillsd.com and www.callsigncompassion.com or call (619) 995-0333.

Oct. 21: 8 p.m., Taj Mahal & Vieux Farka Toure - Composer, multi-instrumentalist and vocalist, Taj Mahal is one of the most prominent and influential figures in late 20th century blues and roots music. Though his career began more than four decades ago with American blues, he has broadened his artistic scope over the years to include music representing virtually every corner of the world - west Africa, the Caribbean, Latin America, Europe, the Hawaiian islands and so much more. What ties it all together is his insatiable interest in musical discovery. Over the years, his passion and curiosity have led him around the world, and the resulting global perspective is reflected in his music.

October 22: 8 p.m., Brett Michaels: Custom Built Tour - As front man for the legendary rock band Poison, Michaels has sold 25 million records and scored an amazing 15 chartbusting Top 40 singles including "Talk Dirty to Me," "Something to Believe In," "Nothing But a Good Time" and the timeless #1 smash "Every Rose Has Its Thorn." And in the new millennium Poison's music has been featured in such big screen flicks as "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," "Grandma's Boy" and "Deuce Bigelow-European Gigolo." They continue to be one of the industry's top grossing concert attractions and their 2006 "20 Years of Rock" CD was a bona fide Top 20 gold smash. Poison's most recent CD is 2007's "Poison'D" an album of cover songs that have influenced the band members over the years. Bret Michaels is, if nothing else, a true survivor. He has survived a lifelong battle as an insulin dependent diabetic, a well publicized near fatal car crash in 1994 and the countless musical trends and fads of the last two decades.

Oct. 23: Fall Festival, 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Fun, Games, Music, Lutheran Church, 9735 Halberns Santee.

Dec. 5: Do you go enjoy decorating for the holidays?

The Alpine Woman's Club will be having their Sixth Annual Christmas Home Tour from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. They are looking for three distinguished homes where the homeowners love to decorate for the holidays and would enjoy show casing their home and share their decorating talents with the residents of Alpine.

This fundraiser helps to pay for the scholarships they give away each year. Since 1950 the Alpine Woman's Club has given away more than $80,000 to exceptional Alpine seniors who are college bound. The proceeds also goes towards the preservation and maintenance of the Historic Town Hall, which was built in 1899. In 2006 the Town Hall was designated a historic site by the San Diego County Historic Site Board. Nostalgic movies now on Blu-Ray

by Diana Saenger

What female adult doesn't still get excited when watching the romantic tale of a beautiful young girl who makes the best of adversity and is remarkably rewarded for it in Disney's animated Beauty & the Beast. The characters, music, animation and heart-warming theme is beguiling and deserves this special Blu-Ray treatment that makes the experience of watching even more exciting than the very first time. Mention Jack Nicholson and real fans immediately recall One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest. The movie about a bunch of eclectic patients in a mental home and how one (Nicholson) gets into turf wars with head nurse Rached (Louise Fletcher) is hilarious.

History, adventure, danger and romance are all part of the engaging The Last of the Mohicans. The Blu-Ray edition is incredible in bringing the aspects of danger to life, and Daniel Day-Lewis, Madeleine Stowe and Wes Studi create great drama in the movie. Sci-fi fans through the ages still uphold King Kong as one of the best horror and romance-based films of all time. This new Blu-Ray, expertly done, is another example of how very special it is.

Beauty & the Beast

Disney's most requested film, Beauty and the Beast, is now available for the first time on Blu-ray Hi-Def as the second installment to the company's new Diamond Collection. The Blu-ray transformation reveals the magic, music and majesty of the film as never before experienced with state-of-the-art picture restoration, pristine 7.1 Digital Surround Sound and hours of additional viewing experiences that include behind the scenes features, deleted scenes, enhanced music tracks, immersive games and more.

The first of only two animated films ever to be nominated for an Academy Award for Best Picture (the second is 2009's Up), Beauty and the Beast earned six Academy Award-nominations and won two Oscars in 1992 for Best Original Song ("Beauty and the Beast") and Best Original Score.

Unavailable in any form since 2003, Beauty and the Beast will be released from the Disney vault for a limited time only, arrived on a Blu-ray + DVD Combo Pack (2 Blu-ray Discs + DVD) October 5, followed seven weeks later with the release of a 2-Disc standard definition DVD on November 23.

Set in and around a quaint French village during the late 18th century, Beauty and the Beast follows the fantastic adventures of Belle, a bright and beautiful young woman who finds escape from her ordinary life, and the advances of a boorish suitor, Gaston, by reading books. Meanwhile, off in a castle in the distance, a cruel young prince is cast under the spell of an enchantress who turns him into a tormented beast, while transforming his servants into animated household objects.

In order to remove the curse, the Beast must discover a true love who will return his affection before the last petal falls from an enchanted rose. When Belle's inventor father stumbles upon the Beast's castle and is taken prisoner, Belle comes to the rescue and agrees to take her father's place. With the help of the castle's enchanted staff, she sees beneath the Beast's exterior and discovers the heart and soul of a human prince.

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest new Blu-Ray edition. Photo Credit: Warner Home Video

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest

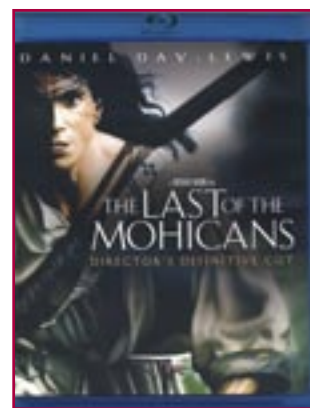

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest – is based on the American literary classic by Ken Kesey, and the powerfully dramatic film that took the 1975 Academy Awards by storm with its compelling tale about the triumph of the human spirit and the fight for freedom. Presented by Warner Home Video, the critically acclaimed, award-winning film is now available in an all new Ultimate Collector's Edition, commemorating the film's 35th anniversary (Blu-ray Disc™: $49.99 SRP / DVD $39.92 SRP). Available on DVD and Blu-ray Disc and packed with over four hours of bonus content, the One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest Ultimate Collector's Edition will feature "Completely Cuckoo," the captivating documentary touting rare, frank interviews with the author and an up-close and personal discussion with director Miloš Forman (Amadeus, Valmont, People vs. Larry Flynt), Saul Zaentz and more.

The collection also includes a full-length commentary with Miloš Forman and producers Michael Douglas and Saul Zaentz, an all new interview with Michael Douglas, deleted scenes and the original trailer for the film. In addition to the impressive bonus content, the 35th anniversary Ultimate Collector's Edition will contain unique collectibles honoring the film and its legacy, such as playing cards, posters, character cards, pre-production correspondence and fascinating movie trivia.

Undoubtedly one of the greatest films in the history of American cinema, Miloš Forman's One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest presents a biting and ultimately tragic satire about mental institutions and the human condition. A disturbing, witty and electrifying drama, the film went on to win a total of five Academy Awards®, including Best Picture, Best Actor for Jack Nicholson, Best Actress for Louise Fletcher, Best Direction for Miloš Forman and Best Adapted Screenplay for Laurence Hauben and Bo Goldman.

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest is available on Video on Demand from cable and satellite providers for the first time. The film is also available for permanent download and digital rental through iTunes, Amazon Video On Demand, PlayStation Store and Xbox LIVE Zune Video Marketplace.

'Secretariat' — finally, a long overdue feel good movie

Review by Diana Saenger

Movies about super athletes often contain elements of excitement, surprise and lots of heart, especially when the athlete must put extraordinary effort into making a mark. On ESPN's list of the 100 top athletes of the 20th century is one surprise — Secretariat. Ranked 35th, the horse is the only non-human on that list. Detailing the horse's history is Randall Wallace's biopic Secretariat, an engaging and heartwarming story about family, faith, a remarkable animal and an equally momentous woman who fought family and logic to do what she felt in her heart was the right thing to do.

Secretariat, the first horse to win the Triple Crown in 25 years, had a perfect journey for the big screen. But turning history into a compelling two-hour story would take a screenwriter who understood how to make the journey with an already known ending compelling enough to make people in theatre seats clap and cheer as if they didn't know the end results — exactly what happened in the two screenings I attended.

Wallace, the Academy Award-nominated screenwriter of Braveheart and director of We Were Soldiers saw something special in this story. "I have worked on many historical subjects as a filmmaker...in making a movie, you are making an impressionistic painting," Wallace said. "You are choosing which facts to highlight and which facts to omit. So in this story, what people are going to feel is the deeper truth of what Secretariat and Penny accomplished."

As the story opens, the Chenery farm in Virginia is experiencing solemn times. Mrs. Chenery has passed, and Penny Chenery Tweedy (Diane Lane) and her family have returned to console her ailing father (Scott Glenn). She's also faced with figuring out with her brother Hollis Chenery (Dylan Baker) what to do with the financially stressed farm operation.

While Hollis sees the farm in terms of dollar signs and wants to sell all the assets including the horses; Penny has her father's heart when it comes to horses.

With only one horse that might have a chance at being a real champion, Penny remains behind when her family returns home. She sets a course that will change their lives forever.

After a historic and good-old-boy tradition agreed upon in the past by her father; Penny attends a coin toss with horse breeder Ogden Phillips (James Cromwell), to see which of two foals produced by Phipps' stallion Bold Ruler and Chenery's mares Hasty Matilda and Somethingroyal he wants. Penny puts on a good case of wanting Hasty Matilda, so when Phillips wins the toss, that's the foal he chooses.

Left with the unborn foal that gets the name of Big Red when it's born, Penny has insurmountable hurdles ahead of her. She sets out to find the right trainer, but when she approaches acclaimed horse trainer and now retired Lucien Laurin (John Malkovich), Penny finds he wants nothing to do with "stubborn horse owners" ever again. Slowly he's lured to the job where his unusual style is another bit of allure to this story.

Penny faces many challenges. She's running the farm, overseeing her ailing father, missing her own family during key times of her children's lives and battling a men's world to get her horse ready for major competition. Lane is remarkable in endowing Penny with a core of steel and a heart of passionate good will as she tackles every challenge. When all the odds point to failure, Penny looks right into the eyes of Secretariat and boldly moves on, putting her family at risk of losing everything.

That's part of the charm and inspiration of this film, which opens with a quote from the Bible — a portion of God's speech to Job in reference to the posture of Secretariat. Other inspiration elements in the movie include some of the music. And rather than being preachy, songs like "Oh Happy Day! When Jesus Walked" seems to instigate the movie audience into hand-clapping joy.

That's part of the charm and inspiration of this film, which opens with a quote from the Bible — a portion of God's speech to Job in reference to the posture of Secretariat. Other inspiration elements in the movie include some of the music. And rather than being preachy, songs like "Oh Happy Day! When Jesus Walked" seems to motivate the movie audience to clap with joy.

Secretariat's groom Eddie Sweat (Nelsan Ellis) is a faith-based soul who more than once inspires Penny to overcome hurdles and keep going in her pursuits. Ellis is quite enjoyable in this role. Real-life jockey Otto Thorwarth does an excellent job as Ron Turcotte, Secretariat's jockey. He plays to Penny's weaknesses and strengths exceptionally well.

There is plenty of humor in Secretariat, mostly at the hand of Malkovich. Lucien not only dresses like a vaudevillian actor but has a quirky personality. But he's a pro when it comes to knowing what to do with Big Red, and Penny's decision to bring him on board was a pivotal moment in history. Margo Martindale, as the Chenery's long time secretary, comes across as quite amusing and marvelous as a confidant, advisor and friend to Penny.

Of course, some of the biggest stars in the movie are the horses. Between three and five horses portray Secretariat throughout the film, and each one is absolutely stunning. Another 36 horses were utilized to recreate the races. The incredible work of horse wrangler Rusty Hendrickson meshes perfectly with the sensational camera work of cinematographer Dean Semler (Appaloosa), who doesn't miss a single detail in bringing this story to life. From the beautiful early morning sunlit sky over the farm or the glistening dew on the tall grass offering a respite to the grazing Secretariat, to the heart pounding hoofs of horses on the track, every moment is stimulating.

With an inspirational script by Mike Rich (suggested by the book Secretariat: The Making of a Champion by William Nack), fantastic cast, and a director who went to great lengths to get just the right story on the screen, Secretariat ends up as a wonderful film for families, horse enthusiasts and anyone who enjoys a feel-good movie.

Paige O'Hara — on her voice of Belle in 'Beauty and the Beast'

Interview by Diana Saenger

As Disney's animated heroine, Belle, in the critically acclaimed, Oscar-winning, animated film Beauty and the Beast, Paige O'Hara added a Disney classic to a career that has spanned Broadway, opera and concert stages as well as recordings. This was followed up in 1997 with the multi-million selling videos Beauty and the Beast: The Enchanted Christmas and Belle's Magical World. In fact Paige has been nominated for the prestigious Annie Award for her role in Belle's Magical World. The unprecedented success of Beauty and the Beast, nominated for six Academy Awards including "Best Picture", has earned her a world-wide legion of fans both young and old. In addition to a Platinum Record for selling over 1,000,000 copies of the multi-Grammy nominated original motion picture soundtrack (it has since gone double platinum) Paige had the opportunity to sing before millions of viewers world-wide on the 64th Annual Academy Awards telecast.

O'Hara, a veteran of the New York stage, made her Broadway debut playing Ellie May Chipley in the 1983 Broadway revival of Showboat starring Donald O'Connor and was featured as Ellie in the Houston Grand Opera's 1989 production allowing her to make her international debut when the production opened the Cairo Opera House in Egypt. In 1989 she sang the role of Ellie in Grammy-nominated recording of the musical.

On the International front O'Hara performed in Australia in South Pacific and toured Japan as Special Guest with the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra. In London she performed and recorded in London with an all-star cast including Tommy Tune, Georgia Brown and George Hearn. O'Hara's "Loving You: Paige O'Hara Sings Jerry Herman," her debut solo recording was released a few years ago. Her latest solo recording, a collection of lullabies entitled Dream With Me includes her singing the title song from Beauty and the Beast for the first time, and a duet of "When You Wish Upon A Star" with Jodi Benson best know as Ariel in The Little Mermaid.

On the American stage Ms. O'Hara has also starred in the concert stagings of Sitting Pretty, The Cat and the Fiddle, Oh Boy, and Oh Lady! Lady!, all at Carnegie Hall as well as One Touch of Venus at Town Hall. She is a veteran of regional theater including the title role in Evita, starring in Paint Your Wagon opposite Jose Ferrer and achieved great critical acclaim as murderess Winnie Ruth Judd in the drama Tiger Lady. As a concert soloist, Paige has guest-starred at The Hollywood Bowl, The Boston Pops, and The Turrin Opera House in Turin, Italy, as well as making many appearances with various symphonies across the U.S.

On television, she was featured soloist on PBS' An Evening at the Pops and has been a guest on Larry King Live, Good Morning America, Vicki!, The Joan Rivers Show, CBS This Morning and Channel 5 Morning News in Los Angeles, the number one rated morning show in Southern California.

Paige O'Hara came to San Diego to promote the new Beauty and the Beast Blu-Ray release and sat down with East County Gazette entertainment editor for an interview.

DS: How is it to have a character that's part of your career for 19 years?

PO: It's amazing and I am so blessed because there are only a handful of us who can get older but our characters still remain popular.

DS: How did you get picked for the role?

PO: I had been working for some time in the theatre in New York City and I read about the audition in the Times. My agent got me the audition along with 500 other actors. After the first audition they sent the voice tapes to Disney in L.A. for the filmmakers and music talents to listen to. Then I had three more auditions and got the part. Howard Ashman later admitted to me he favored me after listening to my Showboat recordings.

DS: How much of your career is still centered on Belle?

PO: It's almost like a full time job. I settled in Las Vegas to star in the Rockettes, and now am in my fifth year in Menopause the Musical at the Luxor. But that's what is wonderful about having the channels open to me that doing Belle affords; I wouldn't have the channels for the charity work I do. Disney calls up a lot of different charities and offers them a chance for the voice of Belle to appear.

DS: Was this a career you always wanted to do?

PO: Yes. Since I was little I sang and danced and went to acting school and painted. By I always knew this would be my career. I moved to New York when I was 17, and sold my paintings on the street and cleaned apartments to survive.

DS: Were you alone in the studio when you recorded the voice of Belle?

PO: That's what happened normally, but Robbie Benson (voice of the Beast) and I asked to record together and that made such a difference in the chemistry between us. He is such a great actor, and he brought the best out of me. And they encouraged us to adlib, and we recorded off and on for two years.

DS: So what's it like for Disney to put so much effort and creativity into the Blu-Ray release of Beauty & the Beast?

PO: It's astounding! The clarity and the detail feel like 3-D and it's so beautiful. I've never seen the details of the hand-drawn sketches like those in this Blu-Ray, such as Belle blushing. The details of her fingers, hands and eyes are amazing as is the architectural aspects, like the castle. Being a painter I look at that stuff, and I just want to frame some of these scenes.

DS: What do you tell all of the young girls who rush to see you in person?

PO: To follow their dreams and never give up, but keep it in perspective. If you want to go into the theatre you have to find a way to keep a balance. For me it was painting and my church.

persona that brought the story of King Kong to the screen. A prolific film researcher and historian, Behlmer personally interviewed Cooper and has written numerous books and contributed to a wide variety of documentaries, videos, DVDs and laser discs about Hollywood's Golden Age.

In this very special Blu-ray release, the newly remastered film is presented in its 1933 entirety and includes scenes that were originally considered too shocking for the 1938-1956 re-releases. With equal parts adventure, horror and old-fashioned romance, King Kong is a milestone of movie-making that has endured for more than seven decades. Named as one of the "100 Best Films of All Time" by Time Magazine, King Kong premiered in New York City in 1933. The film was an instant success, breaking box-office records to become one of the top moneymakers of the 1930s.

King Kong's state-of-the-art visual effects, entertaining story and touching conclusion captivated audiences and started a worldwide love affair with the giant ape. The film has also been included in seven of the American Film Institute's Top 100 lists, including the "100 Years...100 Movies" list. A film ahead of its time, King Kong defied the technological limitations of the 1930s. Special effects pioneer Willis O'Brien's revolutionary stop-motion animation was not only technically brilliant but also highly imaginative and continues to impress even in today's era of computer-generated wizardry.

Directed and produced by Merian C. Cooper and Ernest B. Schoedsack, with a rousing score by Max Steiner (who also scored Gone with the Wind), King Kong stars Robert Armstrong, Bruce Cabot and Fay Wray, whose memorable performance as damsel in distress Ann Darrow cemented her place in pop culture and earned her the nickname "The Queen of Scream."

In addition to its Blu-ray debut, King Kong is available On Demand from cable and satellite providers, and for permanent download and digital rental through iTunes, Amazon Video On Demand, PlayStation Store and Xbox LIVE Zune Video Marketplace.

Film Synopsis King Kong (1933)

Robert Armstrong stars as movie producer Carl Denham who travels to a mysterious, uncharted island in search of material for his next film. Also aboard are unemployed actress

Ann Darrow (Fay Wray) and adventurer Jack Driscoll (Bruce Cabot). Once the crew reaches Skull Island they discover it is home to prehistoric beasts including Kong, a giant ape who becomes obsessed with the crew's blonde starlet. King Kong teems with memorable moments, from the audience's first glance at the giant ape to his last stand atop the Empire State Building.

Dear Dr. Luauna

I have been struggling with sickness for a long time, I have lung problems. The doctors have done everything they could and last week, my doctor told me there is nothing more than can do for me. I am afraid to die. Signed, Sick & Scared

Dear Sick & Scared,

I want you to know I have walked in your shoes, I understand the trial of sickness and your fear of dying. Many years ago, I was diagnosed with ovarian cancer. I was a young widow with two small children. The survival rate for ovarian cancer is almost none. The doctor told me I would not live to see my children grow up. The doctors in my case, also, had done everything they knew how, I cannot blame them, they are doing the best they can to try and heal sick people. I felt all alone and was terrified for myself and devastated about the thought of my children's future without me.

That was over 30 years ago, how did I survive? First of all, I went to Jesus, I cried out to Him for salvation because I wanted to have peace with God.

The Bible says in Romans 10:9-10, "that if you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved. For with the heart one believes unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." I committed my whole life to Christ and have served him 100%.

Then I learned that it is never God's plan to kill or bring sickness upon His children, we are all created in the image of God. The Lord sent Jesus to die on the cross for our sins and our healing, Isaiah 53:5, "But He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement for our peace was upon Him, and by His stripes we are healed." I asked Jesus to heal me and I received a powerful miracle, the cancer left my body by the blood of Jesus! Today, my children are grown and I am the proud grandmother of four. The same Jesus who forgave and healed me wants to do the same for you. Please come to church and I will pray for your healing by the laying on of hands, we will help you in any way we can, do not fear, Jesus loves you!

Inspiring children to follow their dreams

For young girls, dance can offer many benefits—from improved endurance and flexibility to enhanced confidence and strength. It can also help young girls learn how to reach for their dreams.

In the “Angelina Ballerina” storybooks by Katharine Holabird and Helen Craig, young dancers are introduced to the joys of dance. Angelina demonstrates a positive work ethic as she pursues her big dream of becoming a prima ballerina. Along the way, she encounters fun, adventure and some obstacles, but in the end, her passion for dance always shines through.

In the new CG animated PBS KIDS series, “Angelina Ballerina The Next Steps,” Angelina follows her dreams with grace and determination, capturing both the joys and frustrations of growing up, and demonstrating that life isn’t a perfect ballet.

To raise awareness of the benefits of dance, the “Angelina Ballerina Stars of Tomorrow” program (AB Stars) was launched by HIT Entertainment with the Kips Bay Boys & Girls Club in the Bronx, N.Y.

In tandem with the new series and the launch of the program, HIT Entertainment and Lionsgate Home Entertainment are releasing a DVD titled “Angelina Ballerina: Love To Dance,” and Mattel has launched a new line of Angelina Ballerina toys. Penguin Young Readers Group will release three all-new Angelina Ballerina picture books based on “Angelina Ballerina The Next Steps,” including “Angelina’s New Dance” and “Angelina’s New School” for 3–5 year-olds, and “The Nutcracker Sweet,” for readers ages 5–8. Angelina will also share her love of dance in a new stage show, “Angelina Ballerina The Musical.”

2010 Mitsubishi Outlander XLS

by Dave Stall

The 2010 Outlander has been freshened up. Adding a fighter jet grill has given the Outlander a stand-out presence compared to past models along with what is on the market today.

I feel the Outlander is a perfect vehicle for on the go families, not only get to the destination, but will save on fuel with 18 MPG in the city and 24 MPG on the open road – not bad. The engine is a well tested 3.0-liter V6 that produces 230 horsepower and 215 pound foot of torque at a very low rpm of 3750. Or opt for the smaller engine if fuel mileage is an issue, it has 2.4-liter four cylinder producing 168 horsepower and 167 pound foot of torque at 4100 RPM. Drivers can expect to get 21 MPG city and 27 freeway with the 2-wheel driver version of the Outlander. The smaller 4-cylinder engine has a CVT transmission, but opt for the V6 and it's an efficient 6-speed automatic transmission with paddle shifters.

Once behind the wheel everything is in reach from the driver seat, which is very comfortable and supportive. All the gauges are well done and the lighting for night time is excellent. The Outlander has lots of cubby holes to stash things making it extra family friendly. I love the sound system.

Something a little unusual about the Outlander is its sporting aluminum roof – usually found only on high end cars and good for reducing weight – and a flap folding tailgate (see the dealer for a cool demonstration). The Outlander keeps owners in touch with its complete information center and a service reminder.

Safety is well represented as front, seat and curtain airbags surround occupants. It has a 5 star safety rating, 4 stars on the roll over test, tire pressure monitoring system, and daytime running lights just to name a few. My V6 tester based out at $26,390 and was well equipped with standard features usually found as an option and includes fog lights, roof rack, floor mats, and chrome tail tips on the exhaust pipes.

This is a great people mover and the second row of seats lay back. Check out the Mitsubishi Outlander at a local dealer and take one out for a spin. Tell them Dave sent you!

3 Dog Walk to raise funds for Susan G. Komen

The Cure has gone to the dogs! On October 17, canines will take action and walk for a cure. Dogs have proven to be continuous support for humans facing adversity. This amazing healing effect is why Dogtown San Diego and Three Dog Bakery decided it was time to let the dogs walk for a cure.

The fundraising "Dog Walk" will begin at 10 a.m. at the Three Dog Bakery in Del Mar. The walk will stroll several blocks through the Del Mar Village and conclude at the LAuberge Resort, 1540 Camino, Del Mar. The walk is designed to be short and fun to accommodate dogs and walkers of all sizes and ages.

On the "dog friendly" patio of the resort, vendor booths, a dog fashion show, raffle prizes, a dog costume contest and more will await walkers. The event will also include a book signing with Maggie Espinosa, author of The Privileged Pooch: Luxury Travel with Your Pet in Southern California. The 206

page, full color guide profiles upscale pet-friendly hotels, restaurants, activities and shops from San Diego to Santa Barbara.

LAuberge Resort has graciously donated their "dog friendly" patio for the walk celebration and is giving away a free night stay to the walker who brings in the most pledge donations. LAuberge is ranked among the best luxury resorts in the country by Condé Nast, making it the perfect venue to host post walk festivities. The resort is dog friendly and is excited to play a vital role in this fund raising effort. Contact Diana Robbins, Marketing Manager, (858) 793.6477 for more information.

A $45 donation is suggested for each each dog walking. The first 60 walkers who register will receive a 3 Dog Walk t-shirt and every participant will have the opportunity to win a free night stay at the LAuberge Resort by bringing in personal pledges. All checks for pledges are made out to: Susan G. Komen for the Cure, San Diego and brought to the registration table at the Three Dog Bakery, the day of the event. Registration begins at 8:30am and the walk begins at 10:00 am. For more information and event details please visit www.dogtownsandiego.com.

Dogtown San Diego and Three Dog Bakery have designated Susan G. Komen for the Cure®, San Diego as the benefactor of the walk. The walk, in the same spirit of Susan G. Komen for the Cure®, is a grass roots effort to increase awareness and raise funds.

The Three Dog Bakery started back in 1989 when three dogs, two guys, and one $0.59 biscuit cutter joined forces to create healthy alternative snacks and food for dogs. The result was, Three Dog Bakery: a place where dogs can enjoy premium, oven baked, all natural dog food and treats! Three Dog Bakery in Del Mar is located at 1555 Camino Del Mar, Del Mar CA 92014.

DogtownSanDiego.com launched its website in November of 2009. The website is a local San Diego dog lover's resources site. The site highlights everything about dogs in San Diego. DogtownSanDiego.com is where local dog lover go to find out what is happening in town. Dog lovers can find local pet events, dog friendly restaurants, dog related businesses and more.

Since its inception in 1995, $8.5 million has been given to local organizations that provide breast cancer education, screening, diagnostics, treatment and patient support for the uninsured or underinsured in San Diego County. Seventy-five percent of every dollar raised through Affiliate-sponsored events stays right here in San Diego County to fund free diagnostic mammograms, treatment and services for uninsured and underinsured women and their families. The remaining 25 percent funds international breast cancer research. In fact, next to the U.S. government, Susan G. Komen for the Cure® is the largest funder of breast cancer research in the world. For more information, please visit www.komensandiego.org.
