Mother Goose visits Warren-Walker School

Photos by Debbie Norman

Mother Goose hit the road Monday, June 13 in search of children and landed at Warren-Walker School, located in La Mesa.

Mother Goose enjoyed visiting with the children and partook in basketball, playing on the playground equipment, giving hugs and high-fives and even posed with Coach Seau.

Warren-Walker is a prekindergarten through eighth-grade school with a 75-year educational background.

Warren-Walker School's mission is their commitment to providing prekindergarten, lower school, and middle school programs that challenge students of average to superior ability to think, learn, create, communicate and develop to their highest and fullest potentials while preparing them for success in academically demanding high school programs.

Students at Warren-Walker receive challenging academic courses carefully balanced by a curriculum that includes special instruction in art, Spanish, physical education, music, the performing arts and computer and library science.

Mother Goose left Warren-Walker School with cheers from the children and a few "I love you Mother Goose" sentiments from the youngsters. Thank you Warren-Walker for a wonderful Monday morning visit.

City of El Cajon 4th of July picnic and fireworks

Join us as we celebrate the 4th of July in El Cajon! The fun begins Monday at 12 noon with the annual 4th of July Picnic at Kennedy Park, followed by a spectacular fireworks show at 9 p.m. Kennedy Park, a "smoke and alcohol free" park, is located at 1675 East Madison Avenue in El Cajon. Once again Waste Management has generously partnered with the City of El Cajon to provide fireworks for residents in the East County. City Recreation staff and outside vendors will be on hand selling food and beverages. Disabled parking will be available at the event. General parking is limited so plan to arrive early. El Cajon Police will have officers patrolling the park area to ensure a safe celebration! As always, please be careful and patient driving through this and all areas of fireworks, before, during and after the fireworks show. Watch for pedestrians and busy traffic conditions. In addition, all City offices will be closed on Monday, July 4th in observance of Independence Day.

El Cajon Police & Fire make a special presentation at local school

On Tuesday, June 14, officers from the El Cajon Police Department and firefighters from Heartland Fire and Rescue, serving the City of El Cajon, attended a school assembly at Madison Avenue Elementary to make a special presentation to a nine-year-old boy that was hit by a vehicle while riding his bike to school. On the morning of June 3, Keith Norton was struck by an SUV at the intersection of Madison Avenue and East Main Street. He was pinned under the vehicle until firefighters were able to lift the car off the child. Keith's bicycle helmet has been credited in saving his life! The school held two assemblies to discuss bicycle safety and the importance of wearing helmets. Keith attended both talks. At the second assembly El Cajon Police and Firefighters presented Keith with a new bike helmet and bicycle.

Bicycle safety helmet saves child in El Cajon

by Monica Zech

At 7:24 a.m. Friday, June 3, a nine year-old boy was struck by a vehicle at Madison Avenue and East Main Street, while riding his bike to school, leaving the child trapped under the SUV.

Heartland Fire & Rescue, serving the City of El Cajon, responded. Once on scene, using airbags and cribbing, they were able to safely lift the vehicle off the child and transport him to Children's Hospital. His injuries appear to be minor. Firefighter/Paramedics on scene credit his bicycle helmet for saving his life.

The El Cajon Police Department's Traffic Division is now investigating this collision.

The helmets show abrasions on one side of the helmet and tire tread marks on the other side.

June 18-19: Julian Gold Rush Days celebrates the discovery of gold in this mountain community and invites visitors to learn more about its history with a weekend of entertainment culminating in a Father's Day Picnic on Sunday, June 19, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Held at Frank Lane Park, where Main Street meets Farmer Road, the old fashioned picnic will offer vendors, make-a-craft booths, gold panning, hayrides, a bouncy house, face painting, pony rides, food and drink, games and plenty of family fun...including a raffle to win a baby goat named "Buckshot". In addition to the Father's Day picnic, events planned for this weekend include a scavenger hunt for the golden nugget, performances by the Julian Doves & Desperadoes, gold mine tours, gold panning, a special train ride and gold tour at Smith Ranch, photo opportunities, prizes, and fun for the entire family. "Julian Gold Rush Days is a great opportunity to 'turn back the clock' and give visitors an idea of what Julian was like in its early days," according to Tracy Turner, president of Julian's Merchants Association. In the winter of 1869 when former slave Fred Coleman discovered gold in a small creek just outside of Julian, it set off a frenzy that became San Diego's own gold rush. Within a few weeks, over 800 prospectors from all over the country were headed to Julian in search of gold. The first producing gold mine, the Washington Mine, was discovered in February 1870 and within days over 40 other claims were registered. The gold rush lasted off and on for about thirty years, producing almost $2 million in gold (about $150 million in today's market). While other nearby gold mining town such as Banner City, Branson City, Cuyamaca City, and Eastwood disappeared over time, Julian continued to thrive with the production of its newest asset — apples. For more information, call (760) 765-4758 or visit www.juliangoldrushdays.com.

Pledge "A Dollar A Day" to help provide college scholarships

While families around the country are celebrating college graduations, the rate of U.S. students earning a college diploma has been on a steady decline with less than 40 percent of Americans now holding a two-year degree or more. A major reason for the decline is the sky rocketing cost of tuition and the fact that student loan debt - now totaling close to $1 trillion - tops credit card debt.

To stem the tide and to ensure students not only have the financial means to get into college but also to stay there, Scholarship America has launched "A Dollar A Day" program to encourage individuals to donate as little as $1 to help students go to college. Scholarship America, which is celebrating 50 years, helps raise and distribute college scholarships for students.

"With the cost of college tuition on the rise, the number of college graduates on the decline, and more than $700 billion in student loan debt nationally, scholarships are essential to bridge the gap," said Lauren Segal, president and CEO of Scholarship America. "Our goal is not just to help students get into college, but to help them complete college by awarding renewable multi-year scholarships, which will ultimately help minimize the debt they will incur upon graduation."

Consider this:

- Over the next decade, the share of jobs in the U.S. that require a college education will increase to 63 percent compared to 30 percent of jobs in 1973.
- More than one third of college dropouts cited financial pressure as their primary reason for leaving school.

- College costs have risen more than 400 percent in the past 25 years.

Scholarship America was founded in 1961 by Dr. Irving Fradkin, who noticed a discrepancy between students' desire to go to college and their families' abilities to pay for it. To bridge the gap, Fradkin asked each person in his community to donate $1, which resulted in several high school students going to college. Scholarship America has distributed more than $2.5 billion in scholarship assistance to more than 1.7 million students over the last 50 years. "By encouraging every American to give a dollar a day, whether it be for one week, one month, or one year, we continue making Dr. Fradkin's dream of helping every deserving student achieve their dreams a reality, while advancing the economic vitality of our country's future," Segal said. To learn more about Scholarship America and make a pledge, visit www.scholarshipamerica.org.

Fair Housing for ALL? Not so fast....

In times where our lives do require us to rely more and more in use of the internet to communicate what is supposed to be a better and faster fashion, it is not a surprise that we sometimes tend to ignore that the same set of rules and regulations which control our daily activities outside "The digital technology world" can and certainly do apply to the use of the internet. Even though the Fair Housing Act was created and adopted as law by US Congress action over 40 years now, it seems people has to be constantly reminded that each and every action including the posting of information in the internet for either recreational or business purposes falls under such regulations and cannot be contrary to the law of public policy.

In a recent press release (5-31-11) the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) announced that USA4SALE Network, Inc. has agreed to pay $15,000 to settle claims that it violated the Fair Housing Act when it posted ads on its websites that discriminated against families with children. The settlement is a result of a complaint HUD initiated against the Ocala, Florida-based company after it allegedly printed a rental advertisement on its web page, osals4sale.com that stated "No Children, No Kids." The Fair Housing Acts Prohibits housing discrimination based on family status, including publishing print, broadcasts or internet advertisements the indicate a preference or otherwise discriminate against families with children.

"The internet has revolutionized the way people search for housing and how housing providers advertise available housing. It cannot be a place to avoid the Fair Housing Act," said John Trashing, HUD assistant Secretary for Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity "This voluntary agreement will help housing providers easily meet their responsibilities under the Fair Housing Act."

According to the voluntary agreement, USA4SALE Network will develop a screening filter that will flag potentially discriminatory ads for human review and train its employees on how to comply with Fair Housing advertising guidelines. The agreement also calls for the network to donate $7,500 to a HUD-funded State Fair Housing Organization and contribute another $7,500 to a HUD-approved local Fair Housing Group to cover the cost of the group's future Fair Housing advertisements.

I hope this type of actions serve as a reminder to all of us and specifically to those who are now housing providers that our basic civil rights, including the "Right to fair housing and equal opportunity for all" are preserved under the Fair Housing Act (now in its 43rd anniversary) and that enforcement of such regulations is also a priority for this administration.

If you feel you are/were a victim of discriminatory practice, please contact your local Fair Housing Services provider or your local enforcement agency and ask to speak to an expert who can provide you with further advice on the matter.

FAMILY FEATURES

Most news stories about baby boomers and retirement have focused on the first wave of boomers turning 65 and getting ready to retire. But while the younger boomers aren't quite making retirement headlines yet, those in their late 40s are realizing what retirement will look like for them in a few years — and they're worried.

According to the Reclaiming the Future study by Allianz Life Insurance Company of North America (Allianz Life), 54 percent of 44 to 49 year olds are feeling totally unprepared for retirement. They also feel a strong need to take more control of their financial future, attain more financial security and reduce their financial vulnerability.

Their worries are not without cause. A July 2010 Retirement Readiness Ratings report from the Employee Benefit Research Institute (EBRI) shows that as many as 43.7 percent of younger boomers (ages 46-55) are at risk of not having enough retirement income to pay for basic retirement expenses or uninsured health care costs.

"The economic downturn woke up many Americans to the challenges of securing retirement income, but this younger boomer segment seems to have taken the lesson even more seriously," said Katie Libbe, vice president of Consumer Insights for Allianz Life.

"Our study also told us that security and guarantees with retirement-income solutions are now very important to Americans," said Libbe. "But there are so many options to choose from that it can be overwhelming. A financial professional can help you make sense of it all and create a financial strategy that works for you."

Working with a Financial Professional

Finding the right financial professional takes some time and effort on your part. A good financial professional will develop a realistic retirement strategy that helps meet your specific needs, puts that strategy into action, then monitors its progress and guides you on managing it.

A word of caution — the Financial Planning Association (FPA) says to be wary of those who call themselves financial planners but who appear more interested in pushing specific products at the expense of your needs and goals. There are a number of legitimate titles held by financial professionals (see sidebar), but you want to make sure you choose one who not only has the training needed, but who is also obligated to act in your interest.

Financial Professional Designations

Terms such as financial analyst, financial advisor, financial consultant, financial planner, investment consultant or wealth manager are generic terms or simply job titles.

"Unfortunately, anyone can call themselves a financial planner or advisor," said Libbe. "Make sure you understand what kind of financial professional you really need, and be sure that they have the education and experience to serve you well."

- Certified Financial Planner (CFP): Provides financial planning and advice on retirement, investments, tax and estate planning, employee benefits and insurance needs. They must pass college-level courses in those topics, then pass a two-day, 10-hour exam. They must also have a college degree and a minimum of three years of professional experience working with clients.
- Personal Financial Specialist (CPA/PFS): A Certified Public Accountant who can also provide financial planning advisement in the areas of retirement planning, investment planning, goal setting, tax planning, and estate planning. These members of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants must meet recertification requirements every three years.
- Investment Advisor: Anyone who is paid to provide securities advice must register as an investment advisor with the Securities and Exchange Commission or relevant state securities agencies, depending on the amount of money he or she manages. Because financial planners often advise people on securities-based investments, many are registered with The Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) as registered representatives. Investment advisors cannot sell securities products without a securities registration; only registered representatives may sell securities or investment products.

SHAPE YOUR FINANCIAL FUTURE

Get the help you need for a more secure retirement

Where to Start

Begin your search by getting references from friends and relatives. But don't stop there. You need to check their credentials, first.

- Verify a financial planner's Certified Financial Planner (CFP) status and background with the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards — www.cfp.net.
- The FPA recommends checking with the Securities and Exchange Commission (www.sec.gov), state agencies, your local Better Business Bureau and CFP Board at 888.CFP.MARK (237.6275) to find out if there have been any complaints filed against the planner you are considering.

Questions to Ask

- What kind of experience do you have advising on each of these topics — retirement, investment, taxes, estate planning, and insurance? Someone who has spent years setting up trust funds for the wealthy might not have the relevant experience you need.
 - Do you work with an independent custodian? The National Association of Personal Financial Advisors (NAPFA) says that your money should be held by an independent custodian company, not your advisor. Find out the name of the company, how to contact the appropriate people, and your account numbers. Make sure that checks you write will be made out to the custodian, not the advisor.
 - How are you paid? Financial professionals work under a number of compensation methods. For example, fee-only financial professionals do not receive commissions based on investment purchases. They charge a fee, based on services such as an hourly rate, an asset-based fee, or combinations of both. If the financial professional you're interviewing won't disclose how he or she is paid, find another candidate.
 - Do you have any questions for me? A good financial professional will find out more about you than just your income and net worth. Asking about your goals and your family will help them understand the bigger picture, and therefore help you meet your financial objectives. If they only ask about your money, it's time to move on.
- By doing your homework and asking the right questions, you can find the right professional who will help you shape your financial future and help make it more secure.

Preparing for Your Meeting

The Financial Planning Association (FPA) says there are a number of documents you'll need for a meeting with your financial planner. A comprehensive list may be customized by your planner for your specific needs.

■ Bank statements	■ Titles for homes, cars, real estate, etc.	■ Homeowner and automobile declaration pages
■ Pay stubs	■ Retirement account statements	■ Life, disability or long-term care insurance policies
■ Check registers	■ Social Security statements	■ Business liability, director and officer insurance policies
■ Credit card balances	■ Pension benefit statement and booklet	■ Tax return
■ Mortgage or loan payment books	■ Investment statements	■ Tax estimate for next return (e.g., deductions, credits, etc.)
■ List of assets and liabilities	■ Listing of available investment options in investment and retirement accounts	■ List of employee benefits

Inspiration

A father's work is never done either

Rev. James L. Snyder

There is an old saying that to my knowledge nobody has ever taken credit. "A man works from sun up to sun down. A mother's work is never done." If I had said that, I would not want any credit for it either.

Why this anonymous person compares a man with the mother is certainly information that is above my pay scale. It is almost like comparing apples with horses. I like apples and I enjoy riding a horse occasionally, but they sure do not have anything else in common.

Right up front I will say that I honor and revere motherhood. As good old Abe Lincoln said, "All I am or ever hope to be, I owe to my mother." I think that is a rather nice way of saying how much he appreciated his mother. But, if you will permit me, I think good old "honest Abe" exaggerated just a wee bit on this point.

While I believe mothers have a very important role in the bringing up of children, it does not preclude the influence of the father. After all, most mothers will say to their children, "Wait until your father gets home!" Even mothers know that they cannot handle it all by themselves.

And while I will also give way to the point that mothers have a lot of work to do and it never seems to get done, such is the case with fathers as well. There never seems to be enough time to get everything done.

Take for example, the father's job of mowing the grass. That job never gets done. If the father has a wee streak of ambition about him, gets up Saturday morning and goes to the garage and prepares the lawnmower to mow he knows very well that he will never get done mowing the grass.

If perchance he gets the lawn mowed on any given Saturday, he knows, come next Saturday, if not before, the grass will need mowing again... And again... And again. An endless chore that never seems to get finished.

Of course, there is a positive side to this routine. When the mother of the household gets up on a Saturday morning and says to the father, "Honey..." [Every father knows that when he is being addressed as "Honey," there will follow a "to-do-list." When the mother of the house tells the father of the house what needs done that day he can simply smile and say, "Honey"... [Every mother knows that when she is being addressed as "Honey," there will follow a very good reason why he will not be able to do her "to-do-list."]

"Honey, I would love to do all of that for you today, really, but the backyard needs to be mowed." And with a smile that stretches from Saturday to Saturday, he slowly sashays out to the garage and prepares the lawnmower for a day of mowing the grass.

Oh yes, a father's work is never done.

Then there is the matter of the father's paycheck. On payday when the father of the household receives his paycheck, his heart is filled with jubilation, that is, until he gets home. When he gets home the mother of the household and all of the children standing behind her have their hands out for their share of his paycheck.

He looks at his family with a great deal of pride as he counts out, dollar-by-dollar, his hard earned paycheck. He had been harboring some hope that he would go bowling with his buddies this week, but by the time he doles out the weekly allowances he finds himself completely doled out. His only consolation is that next payday he will get another paycheck.

Oh yes, a father's work is never done.

Let us not forget vacation time. All year long, the father of the household works very hard at his job anticipating that weeklong vacation. He dreams about setting on the beach with his only agenda being nothing, an entire week of relaxation and exploiting the vigor of nothingness. It is the dream that energizes him all year long.

Finally, the week comes that nobody is more excited than the father of the household.

"All right, family," the father says, "let's all head for the beach."

"Aw, dad" the tribe of his household says, "we want to go to Disney World."

"Whose world?" the father sighs.

After the family votes on where they will go for their week's vacation the father of the household, although he will be funding the entire week, is outvoted 99 to 1. "Oh well," he groans as he packs the car for Disney World, "there's always next year."

Oh yes, a father's work is never done.

Only one exception exists for this rule. That is our heavenly father. His work is finished in Jesus Christ. "Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it. For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it. For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world" (Hebrews 4:1-3 KJV).

Dear Dr. Luauna

Dear Readers,

I am a Christian. I work really hard, try to go to church and read my Bible every now and then. So, why can't I get ahead, and why hasn't God blessed me? Signed, Can't Get Ahead

Dear Can't Get Ahead,

I have heard this same question many times. There are a few things you can ask yourself. One is very important. When we say we love the Lord, we have to obey His Word. Ask yourself; are you obeying His Word?

I John 3:22-23, "And whatever we ask we receive from Him, because we keep His commandments and do those things that are pleasing in His sight. And this is His commandment: that we should believe on the name of His Son Jesus Christ and love one another, as He gave us commandment."

Are you paying your tithe? God gave us a financial plan in which we turn our trust over to Him as our financial provider through giving our tithes and offerings. Tithe is ten percent of your income, when we are faithful to give to the Lord, He promises, Malachi 3:10, "Bring all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be food in My house, and try Me now in this," says the LORD of hosts, "if I will not open for you the windows of heaven and pour out for you such blessing that there will not be room enough to receive it." Jesus loves you and will take care of you during good times and bad.

Finally, it's important for you to honor the Lord on Sundays. Isaiah 58:13-14, "If you turn away your foot from the Sabbath, from doing your pleasure on My holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy day of the LORD honorable, and shall honor Him, not doing your own ways, nor finding your own pleasure, nor speaking your own words, then you shall delight yourself in the LORD; and I will cause you to ride on the high hills of the earth, and feed you with the heritage of Jacob your father. The mouth of the LORD has spoken."

Many times Christians are not doing one of these things out of a sincere heart. If you obey God's Word, pay your tithe, and go to church every Sunday, you will get ahead. Under God's umbrella there is safety and blessing. God will do His part, He is faithful. We must do our part and be faithful as well.

For Health's Sake

Things to ask at your annual physical exam

Regular exams are an important part of your healthcare.

It's something far too many of us put off — finding a primary care doctor and getting annual check-ups.

But finding a doctor and scheduling an appointment is only part of the battle. You need to know what questions to ask and what tests are important for you.

The most important thing to do is to be honest when communicating with your doctor. You should prepare your personal and family medical history, listing any problems you are experiencing and being honest about your personal behavior. You also should prepare a list of medications you take.

Depending on your age and personal history there are different tests which may be recommended. If you are a heavy drinker or smoker, for example, different lung, heart and circulatory tests may be administered. Fortunately, medical testing and screening has advanced in recent years to give you accurate results with less waiting.

Here are some preventive medical screenings you should be aware of and ask your doctor about:

- Cholesterol: This simple blood test can tell you if you are at risk for heart disease or stroke.

- Electrocardiogram: Men typically are advised to have this test at age 40, while women usually start at age 50. Sensors are placed on your chest to yield data about your heart rhythm.

- Colonoscopy and Stool Tests: These check for signs of colon cancer and other disorders. This test usually is advised for people over 50 or earlier if there is a family history of disease.

- Urine Analysis: This screens your urine for diabetes and kidney problems.

- Hepatitis and HIV Tests: Many patients avoid these tests because they used to take many anxious days, requiring two visits to the doctor for the test and results. Rapid, point-of-care tests using new Dual Path Platform technology now have been developed, which yield results in less than 20 minutes, allowing testing and counseling to be accomplished in one visit. For more on rapid testing, visit www.chembio.com.

Other annual tests may be necessary, depending on your gender:

- Pap Smear: All women are advised to have this annual test to check for cervical cancer.

- Prostate Test: Men older than 50 should receive annual exams for prostate cancer, including a blood test.

"Patients are constantly asking critical questions about the speed and accuracy of tests," says Lawrence Siebert, CEO of ChemBio Diagnostics, a developer and manufacturer of rapid diagnostic tests for the growing point-of-care testing market. "This is why we've developed new types of tests that can test for conditions like HIV and Hepatitis in a mere 15 minutes, with just one blood or fluid sample."

You should also screen for any diseases known to occur in your family. After all, your annual physical is an opportunity for an honest assessment of your health and personalized care.

Health... Just Common Horse Sense

by Dr. Donald Adema

Mrs. A and I watch the Memorial Day celebration that is held on the grounds of the capital in DC every year. There was a little more variety and crowd participation this year and even a few more tears of sadness and pride. The same two fine Hollywood and TV actors hosted the event with their usual style.

The following day was actually Memorial Day and we were home and busy on the house and yard. I came in for a break and turned on the same channel with my lunch to again seen one of the Hollywood actors further support the troops. I dropped my dish when he shared with America the astounding incidence of autism in the families of our troops. Get ready; one in 88. Hope you did not drop what you had in your hands as well.

I presented that dismal statistic to the team on Tuesday and there was silence. It was confirmed and after a few hours of patients and pharmacies we reconvened. The only consistent causative factor that surfaced through frustration and a few tears was that the vast majority of parents and children in the military are fully, to the max, immunized. Can not hang it on a region, diet or specific toxic exposure as the servicemen and women are from all over the nation and are stationed all over the world. Time to restudy our approach and keep in mind, more or bigger is not necessarily better.

Laughter is the Best Medicine

The deal

A young boy had just gotten his driving permit. He asked his father, who was a minister, if they could discuss the use of the car. His father took him to his study and said to him, "I'll make a deal with you. You bring your grades up, study your bible a little and get your hair cut and we'll talk about it."

After about a month the boy came back and again asked his father if they could discuss use of the car. They again went to the father's study where his father said, "Son, I've been real proud of you. You have brought your grades up, you've studied your bible diligently, but you didn't get your hair cut!"

The young man waited a moment and replied, "You know Dad, I've been thinking about that. You know, Samson had long hair, Moses had long hair, Noah had long hair, and even Jesus had long hair..."

To which his father replied...."Yes, and they WALKED everywhere they went!"

Turtles sit in the sunshine to get the sun's light and heat. It is one way that they regulate their body temperature. Basking in the sun helps them to warm up. The Mitsubishi Outlander S 3.0 GT

by Dave Stall

With the market flooded with small SUV's, the manufacturers are looking for ways to get customers to come to their showrooms. This week, I am driving a 2011 Mitsubishi Outlander S 3.0 GT S-AWC. It is a nice model that has many features and a price tag under $30,000. What is interesting, though, is how Mitsubishi is trying to make an impression by breaking records, and not just any records but the Guinness Book of Records.

First: The greatest distance by a vehicle in reverse on snow in 30 seconds in a Outlander Sport.

Second: The shortest braking distance by a vehicle on ice (30 mph to 0 mph) in a Outlander Sport.

Third: The most vehicle figure-of-eights on ice in two minutes and three laps in an Outlander.

Fourth: The fastest vehicle slalom relay on ice (1/4 mile) in a Outlander & Outlander Sport.

Fifth: The last record broken was the fastest driven square lap in a vehicle (gravel, 100 ft. x 100 ft.) in an Outlander.

Besides the records, this is a great family hauler, getting a fuel mileage rating of 19 mpg city and 25 mpg freeway with a combined mileage of 21 mpg. There is one issue with the mileage the EPA has given this Outlander, I got much higher mileage on highway and combined. The Outlander is good for families, the surfaces are kid friendly — easy to clean and plenty of storage.

Outlanders come well equipped: Hands Free Link System, All-Wheel Drive, Active Front Differential, Tarmac, Snow and Lock, Aluminum Roof panels, flap folding tailgate and service reminder system — I love this feature. There are many more features available. Stop by a local dealer or "build you own" Outlander on www.mitsubishicars.com

The Outlander also has a smaller engine — a 2.4-liter 4-cylinder that will get 23 mpg city and 28 mpg freeway. Make the decision on engine choice after test driving both.

When it comes to transmission there are two choices depending on the engine choice. Drivers can opt for a CVT Sportronic or a six-speed Sportronic® with Idle-Neutral Logic.

Check out the warranty, 5-year 60,000 mile bumper to bumper, 10-year 100,000 Powertrain Warranty, 7-year 100,000 rust perforation warranty and 5-year Unlimited Mileage Roadside Assistance!

San Diego County Fair loaded with sleight-of-hand artists

Do you believe in magic? Then the 2011 San Diego County Fair is the place to visit. Presented by Albertsons/Sav-on magic will happen all over the fair grounds this year.

Magician Terry Godfrey has three shows every day at the stage by the tunnel in the Infield. Times are 1 p.m., 4 p.m., and 5:30 p.m. Terry also will entertain at the Fair's O'Brien Gate prior to the daily opening of the Fair. In the week before the Fair opened, Terry performed a "blindfolded drive" down Jimmy Durante Boulevard into the Fair's parking lot, which was covered by a number of San Diego television stations.

Robert Meigs will host "Cabinet of Curiosities," a "museum of magic," on the Plaza Stage every day at 11:30 a.m.

Godfrey and Meigs will join forces to host Abra-Kid-Abra, a magic camp for kids, in the Creative Youth tent in the Infield on Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays at 12:30 p.m. At Abra-Kid-Abra, the two illusionists will teach magic and let the kids keep the props.

Finally, on Saturday, June 25, Ring 76 of the International Brotherhood of Magicians puts on "Believe in Magic," a one-hour stage show featuring several nationally and internationally known performers. There are two showings – at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. on the Plaza Stage.

The 2011 San Diego County Fair's wheels are in motion to "Race to the Fair" for 22 days starting Friday, June 10, through Monday, July 4. (The Fair will be closed the first three Mondays, June 13, 20 and 27.)

The theme for this year's Fair is everything about cars. Cars, CARS! Southern California is a mecca for car clubs and car enthusiasts from around the world. There's no better place to celebrate automotive history and car culture than at the San Diego County Fair! Featured throughout the Fair are exotic cars, luxury cars, "star" cars, muscle cars, low riders, Southern California car culture and lots more! And, true to the mission of the 22nd District Agricultural Association, the 2011 San Diego County Fair will highlight agriculture, farmers, 4H, FFA and Grange.

Of course, the Fair will have more than 100 food vendors, great commercial exhibitors, thrill rides and attractions, the Paul Ecke Jr. Flower and Garden Show, a fun and educational Theme Exhibit, and a fantastic lineup of headliner entertainment with the Toyota Summer Concert Series on the Heineken Grandstand Stage, the Paddock Concert Series, The Solid Gold Series, the Chevrolet Del Mar Arena, and so much more.

Gates open daily at 11 a.m., Tuesdays through Fridays, and 10 a.m., Saturdays, Sundays and Monday, July 4. Admission is $13 for adults; $7 for ages 6-12 and 62 and older; and free for ages 5 and younger. The San Diego County Fair is the largest annual event in San Diego County and the sixth largest fair in the United States.

For more information about the Fair, go to the Fair website, www.sdfair.com. Facebook fans will find the Fair at www.facebook.com/sdfair, Twitter fans can get updates and special offers at twitter.com/sdfair and those on the go can use the Fairgrounds' mobile phone website at m.sdfair.com

The Fabulous Thunderbirds to play the San Diego County Fair, June 28

The Fabulous Thunderbirds will be performing at the San Diego County Fair, at the Del Mar Fairgrounds, 2260 Jimmy Durante Blvd., in Del Mar, on June 28 at 9 p.m. Tickets to the show are free with Fair Admission. That is $13 for adults, and $7 for those ages 62 plus and children between 6 and 12. The Fair runs June 10 through July 4, and is closed on Mondays except for the 4th of July. For more information, please call 858-755-1161, and the web site is <http://www.sdfair.com>.

For over thirty years, The Fabulous Thunderbirds have been the quintessential American band. The group's distinctive and powerful sound, influenced by a diversity of musical styles, manifested itself into a unique musical hybrid via such barnburners as "Tuff Enuff" and "Wrap It Up."

Founding member Kim Wilson spearheads the group as it evolves into its newest incarnation. "We started as a straight blues band," vocalist and harmonica player Wilson says. "We now incorporate a mixture of a lot of different styles. We're an American music band and we're higher energy than ever before." The Fabulous Thunderbirds features Jay Moeller on drums, Johnny Moeller and Mike Keller on guitar, and Randy Bermudes on bass.

Wilson's musical talents have garnered him multiple Blues Awards and Grammy Nominations. The Blues Foundation 2008 blues Music Awards named Wilson "Instrumentalist - Harmonica" category. In 2006, he was named "Contemporary Blues Male Artist of the Year" in 2006, and "Lookin' for Trouble!" was named Blues Song of the Year in 2004. Wilson has contributed to the work of many other great artists such as the legendary Muddy Waters (who called him his "son"), contemporary artist Bonnie Raitt, guitar legends Stevie Ray Vaughan and brother Jimmie Vaughan, and Martin Scorsese's movie "The Blues." With his current movie project "Cadillac Records," Wilson continues to focus on the music he loves.

With over 20 albums recorded and millions sold, Kim Wilson and The Fabulous Thunderbirds tour the world performing their own unique style of music. Ranging from pop anthems like "Powerful Stuff" which was featured in the Tom Cruise movie "Cocktail," to the low down blues of "Chicago," this brand of honest music brings fans back time and again.

Having shared the stage with The Rolling Stones, Joe Cocker, Carlos Santana and blues legends BB King and Buddy Guy and countless others, The Fabulous Thunderbirds continue to tour Europe and the North America, bringing more great music to their fans worldwide.

DVDs for dad on Father's Day

Reviews by Diana Saenger

After dad returns home from those bicycle rides at the beach, tag-football at the park with the kids, or that long up-hill, down-hill walk at the Zoo; a soft chair, good snack and the perfect movie should make him very happy. Here's a list of some of the newer DVD releases that might entertain dad.

Featured DVD

'Platoon' – 25th Anniversary Edition

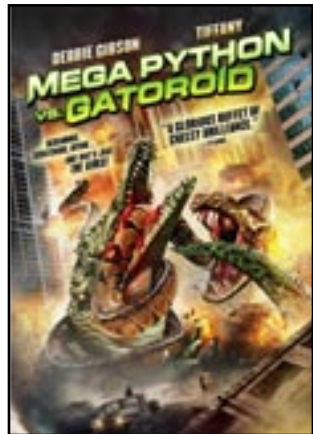

The aspects of Blu-Ray bring this four-Academy Award-winning film realistically to the screen. Oliver Stone's experience as an American soldier in Vietnam guides what this gritty story of war is really like. The great cast of Tom Berenger, Willem Dafoe and Charlie Sheen take on damaged characters who must battle drug addiction, death, guilt and dissociation. It's a powerful film. Rated "R" – MGM Home Entertainment.

'Green Lantern: Emerald Knights' – Blu-Ray

This newest original DC Comics animated film is an anthology of five stories featuring members of the Green Lantern Corps. When Oa comes under attack the GL Corps join him to battle Krona – the ancient enemy of the Guardians of the Universe. There are lots of character journeys and action in this film that will entertain Green Lantern fans. New fans might find it a bit confusing but keeping up will soon become easy. Excitement includes knowing how the Green Lantern came to be; stories about Lantern's enemies and friends, and seeing all of the special effects in the beautiful Blu-Ray version. There are also lots of bonus features on this DVD. Rated "PG" – Warner Bros. Home Video.

'Mega Python vs. Gatoroid' – DVD

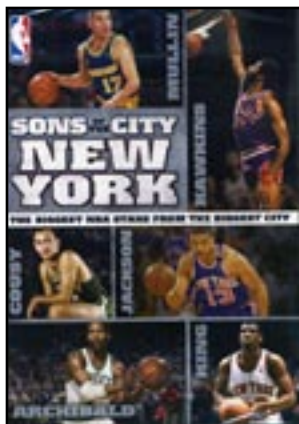

It's a battle of the beasts from the director of Pet Sematary that'll rock viewers world when two titanic terrors face off along with a pair of '80s pop icons. After an animal activist (Debbie Gibson) accidentally unleashes a python into the Everglades, her Chief Ranger rival (Tiffany) is tasked with finding an expert reptile hunter. When her boyfriend dies in the process, she resorts to extreme measures to create genetically enlarged gators to stop the slithering menace. Soon the swamp is a huge, scaly battleground between colossal gators and pythons. This film is cheesy and not well acted, but funny. Not sure I'd let the kids watch it. "Not Rated" – Image Entertainment.

'Tron the Original Classic' – Blu-Ray

Released weeks ago, this film might be one of dad's favorites. 'Sons of the City New York' – DVD

Basketball is known as 'The City's Game'. Countless dreams born on the asphalt of neighborhood courts in cities around the country all climax with NBA stardom. This film celebrates the greatest players from New York who lived their dreams of success and stardom in the NBA. From Bob Cousy and Dolph Schayes, to Tiny Archibald and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, to Bernard King and Chris Mullin, this is a look at the lives and careers of the biggest stars from the biggest city. "Not Rated" – Image Entertainment.

'Unknown' – Blu-Ray

Anything can disappear in a New York minute – that's a lesson we learn all too often. With this theme in mind, the thriller Unknown focuses on a horticulture professor (Liam Neeson) who travels to Germany to be part of a biotech conference. Strangely, he is soon denied his identity by his wife (January Jones) and finds himself defenseless and distraught. The plot is clichéd including the bomb threat involving a foreign head of state. Yet it's still intriguing and quite intense because of the fast pace and keen cinematography of Flavio Martinez Labiano (Bones). While not terrific, Unknown seems a good DVD option. Available June 13. Rated "PG-13" – Warner Bros. Home Video.

Humor and silliness abound in 'Judy Moody'

Parris Mosteller, Jordana Beatty and Preston Bailey star in Judy Moody and the NOT Bummer Summer. Photo credit: Suzanne Tenner/ Judy Moody Productions, LLC/Relativity Media

Review by Diana Saenger

Many adult critics are panning Judy Moody and the NOT Bummer Summer. Yet the majority of kids at the screening I attended seemed to find the film fun and comical. The movie, based on Megan McDonald's best-selling "Judy Moody" book series, has sold four million copies in 23 languages. With that kind of an audience, it only made sense to turn one into a movie.

Judy Moody and the NOT Bummer Summer begins when Judy decides to make a chart. She and her three friends will mark the chart with points during their summer to see who ends up with the best score – assuming the results will indicate which person had the best summer.

Judy (Jordana Beatty) is devastated when she learns her two closest friends, Rocky (Garrett Ryan) and Amy (Taylor Hender) are leaving town. That means she's left with Frank (Preston Bailey), who manages to make Judy have a horrible time, even at the amusement park when he throws up on the roller coaster.

Trying to forget about the good times her friends are having, Judy wants to trump their experiences. But what could be better than Rocky helping out in a real circus or Amy going to Borneo for a vacation?

Judy comes across as a true vision of a frustrated, bored young girl who must create her own fun. What I like about her is that she isn't glued to a cell phone, lap top, iPod, or TV for entertainment. Similar to children in days gone by, she makes bizarre creations from numerous ideas and follows through to carry them out. Sometimes she ends up with good results, other times not. But there's a learning lesson in both outcomes.

Explaining Judy's character, McDonald said, "When you first see Judy with her messy hair and her colorful wardrobe, you know this is a creative, imaginative child. She has a lot of ups and downs, like we all do, and the books are about the things that happen every day. You don't always win the spelling bee. You go to the pet contest and something goes wrong when your cat tries to make toast."

Beatty, an Australian actress who first auditioned for the role of Judy on Skype, had to work with a dialect coach before filming. She's great as Judy and hits every annoying beat of the girl's personality while polishing the good traits as well. Beatty also works well with her co-stars without over-shinning them.

Judy's little brother Stink (Parris Mosteller) is quite a character. He's obsessed with Bigfoot. He's sure the creature has been seen in town and is out to capture him. Mosteller (a regular on TV's Worst Week) does a great job making Stink real, funny and of course, a pain to his big sister.

The kids' parents (Janet Varney and Kristoffer Winters) leave town quickly, so Aunt Opal (Heather Graham) arrives to take care of the kids. Her crazy ideas are even sillier than Judy's. Although it might have been funnier if the two of them were more on the same page, they share some funny moments.

Negative reviews of Judy Moody and the NOT Bummer Summer include comments about Judy's hair having an Alfalfa cowlick and being unbrushed, her wardrobe which consists of pajama bottoms paired with t-shirts and flip flops, her silly made-up words such as 'Supercalifragilistic-expithrilladellie,' her dumb charts, and about the story lacking a satisfying journey.

I had three kids and have a 10-year granddaughter visiting right now. Kids are often content to get out of bed and let their hair be a beehive or crushed mess the entire day. They grab the clothes left piled on the floor and rarely care if they match. I recently caught my granddaughter heading out the door in a nylon nightgown to go rock climbing. Sit down and listen to a conversation by young teens and I guarantee you'll hear many made-up words you don't understand. My 10-year-old daughter loved to make charts.

So I didn't see the boring, fun-lacking movie described by most critics. I saw a film that kids can relate to because Judy Moody is just like real kids. And she gets moody just as they do in a flash. Are there jokes about poop? Yes. Do some scenes go on too long? Maybe, but that's true of many films. Will this be appealing to adults? Probably not, but the kids learn a few lessons and will enjoy Judy Moody and the NOT Bummer Summer – especially those who are fans of the book series.

Summer off to a good start with 'Super 8'

Review by Michael Black

Some people might miss Super 8 due to its rather mild and uninformative title. However, it's the first big summer hit of the season and deservedly so. It doesn't surprise me that Spielberg produced this film since it resembles a few of his best movies from the 80s such as The Goonies (1985) and E.T. (1982).

Joe (Joel Courtney), Charles (Riley Griffiths), Cary (Ryan Lee), Martin (Zach Mills) and Alice (Elle Fanning) are a group of small town high school students who are determined to finish making an 8mm monster movie. They find the perfect location in an isolated train station to use as a backdrop for one of the scenes. As a train passes by they film it to give the scene some realism. When it derails on top of them, they survive the accident, but the cargo on the train becomes a real threat.

In addition to the train disaster, there is a subplot that involves how Joe's father (Kyle Chandler) copes with his wife's accidental death at the factory and how a coworker (Ron Eldard) was involved.

Director and writer J. J. Abrams hit it big with the Star Trek reboot in 2009 and as a producer of Cloverfield in 2008. The most enjoyable part of Super 8 is the teenage characters. Each teen brings a different element to the film just like The Goonies did in 1985. Cary steals many of the few scenes he's in because of his out-of-control obsession of fire and explosions. Dakota Fanning's sister Elle is going to give her some good competition. Elle has a few challenging scenes where she has to step up her acting abilities such as a scene at the train station where she has to change her demeanor from an average teenager to a convincing actress.

The train disaster looks and sounds spectacular thanks to top notch computer graphics. The entire film, set in the late 70s, looks authentic, and there some really good scares. However, due to screen death, drugs, and some language, parents should be cautious when bringing children under 13. The ending is not a huge surprise and not as good as the middle but Super 8 is a good movie to start the summer. Make sure to stay for the credits because you get to see the teens 8mm film finished, and it's a good ending to the movie.

Summer grooming tips for pets

Taking care of your pets coat during the summer can make him more comfortable.

When warm weather hits, people put away the winter coats and slip into something a little more comfortable for the higher temperatures. The four-legged family members need a little help to make the transition, however, as pets also need to stay cool when sunny days arrive. PetSmart grooming expert Linda Erickson shares her tips on prepping pets for the season with regular grooming appointments and at-home treatments that will make everyone paw-fectly happy it's summer.

Drop the Winter Coat: It's important to help your dog get rid of their heavier winter coat so they can stay cool as temperatures rise. A bath will release the undercoat and a good brushing will get rid of the extra hair. To make sure pets are extra silky and shiny, a dose of milk bath moisturizing conditioner and regular at-home brushings will help make coats softer and healthier.

Less is Not Always More: Pet parents often think shaving a dog during the summer is the answer to shedding and overheating. However, a pet's coat actually helps regulate their body temperature and protects them from the sun. The FURminator Shed-less Treatment is an alternative to shaving and an effective way to help control shedding and keep pets cooler.

Swimming Safety: Swimming is a great activity during warm weather, but your dog will need a good cleaning after a dip in the pool or ocean. Be sure to rinse your pet after swimming to remove chemicals or irritants from their coat, as these can dry out your pet's skin. Also, try to keep your dog's ears clean and dry after swimming. Swab their ears with a cotton ball and use a recommended ear cleaner to help remove any waxy build-up or water left behind.

Regular Maintenance Required: Dogs have regular, ongoing needs no matter the season, including coat, tooth and paw care. A good teeth-cleaning routine both at home and the grooming salon is an essential part of a pet's health. And it's important to help keep dogs' paws healthy with regular nail trims and removal of any extra hair so debris won't get stuck in their paws.

You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below. You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/self-help), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court. There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contact-ing your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court’s lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case. Tiene 30 DIAS DE CALENDARIO despues de que le entreguen esta citacion y papeles legales para presentar una respuesta por escrito en esta corte y hacer que se entregue una copia al demandante. Una carta o una llamada telefonica no le protegen. Su respuesta por escrito tiene que estar en formato legal correcto si desea que procesen su caso en la corte. Es posible que haya un formulario que usted pueda usar para su respuesta. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y mas informacion en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp/espanol/), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede mas cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentacion, pida al secretario de la corte que le de un formulario de exencion de pago de cuotas. Si no presenta su respuesta a tiempo, puede perder el caso por incumplimiento y la corte le podra quitar su sueldo, dinero y bienes sin mas advertencia. Hay otros requisitos legales. Es recomendable que llame a un abogado inmediatamente. Si no conoce a un abogado, puede llamar a un servicio de remision a abogados. Si no puede pagar a un abogado, es posible que cumpla con los requisitos para obtener servicios legales gra-tuitos de un programa de servicios legales sin fines de lucro. Puede encontrar estos grupos sin fines de lucro en el sitio web de California Legal Services, (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California, (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp/espanol/) o poniendose en contacto con la corte o el colegio de abogados locales. Say yes to MESS!
Creative messy cooking is good for kids

FAMILY FEATURES

It seems as if parents spend a lot of time trying to get their kids to clean up — or, better yet, to not make a mess in the first place. But guess what? Getting messy can actually be good for kids.

Clinical research shows that creative, messy activities like cooking and baking engage all of a child’s senses, helping them explore new ideas and teaching them how to solve problems. It also provides valuable time together, as well as an opportunity to teach basic math skills, cleaning habits and nutrition.

“To unlock a child’s fullest potential, cooking activities, even as simple as pouring and mixing, are recommended at least three to four times a week,” said Karen Deerwester, child development expert and founder of Family Time, Inc.

According to Deerwester, children shape their own learning by transforming unpredictable, messy experiences into creative, purposeful action. “These mess-to-morsel experiences teach children a critical life skill called executive function,” she said, “which is a child’s ability to self-manage behavior and negotiate age-appropriate challenges and obstacles. Furthermore, these types of activities teach kids to take risks, learn from mistakes and create out-of-the-box solutions.”

Children learn through play, so Deerwester encourages parents to cook up a mess with their children on a regular basis. These tips and ideas will help you create a powerful — and fun — learning experience for your child.

Show me the dough!

Get started on some creative kitchen play with these homemade play doughs and fun toast art.

Best Play Dough Ever

- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup salt
- 1 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 teaspoon food coloring
- 2 cups water

Mix ingredients in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until dough leaves sides of the pan. Remove from pan. When cool to the touch, knead for a few minutes. Play dough can be stored in the refrigerator for weeks in an airtight container.

Edible Peanut Butter Play Dough*

- 1 cup peanut butter
- 1 cup powdered milk
- 1/4 cup honey

Optional texture items: raisins, coconut, crushed graham crackers
Mix the first three ingredients in a large bowl until smooth. Add optional texture items.

Not for children with peanut allergies.

Chocolate Play Dough

- 1 1/4 cup flour
- 1/2 cup cocoa powder
- 1/2 cup salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 1/2 tablespoons cooking oil
- 1 cup boiling water

Combine flour, cocoa powder, salt, and cream of tartar. Add cooking oil and boiling water. Stir quickly and mix well. Cook over low heat until dough forms a ball. When cool, knead with hands. Refrigerate and store in an airtight container. Smells great, but is not really sweet enough to eat.

Love Toast

Toast is for more than just eating. White bread is an excellent canvas for making meal-time extra special. Simply paint bread with milk mixed with food coloring and then toast. For some extra fun, cut toast into a special shape using a seasonal cookie cutter. For a fruity flavor twist, create paint out of water and flavored powdered gelatin mix.

How to cook up a mess with kids

- Baking and basic food assembly is the easiest way to branch into messy culinary play. Cut up fruits and vegetables to make fun faces, or simply mix together homemade dough to play with and shape. (See recipes.)
- Age is just a number! Allow even the youngest chef to help by pouring ingredients like flour, sugar and eggs into a bowl.
- Start simple. No-bake cookies, smoothies and sandwiches are a great start. If using a cookbook, start with one that has pictures for each instruction.
- Pour on the praise! No matter the outcome, always encourage their effort. Remember, practice makes perfect.
- Spills happen. Take it in stride and simply use the opportunity to teach clean-up. Clean applicable surfaces with Clorox Clean-Up Cleaner with Bleach, especially after using eggs or raw meat.
