Mother Goose recently paid a visit to Taylor Guitars, the 2011 Mother Goose Parade Grand Marshal. Taylor Guitars, a world-wide company has its headquarters in El Cajon. Mother Goose was suprised at all the smiles the employees had on their faces as she toured the facility. The Mother Goose Parade Association appreciates the support that local businesses give the Mother Goose Parade Association in helping the parade happen every year. The Mother Goose Parade is all about the children and the smiles they give back when they see 'their' parade go down Main Street in El Cajon, each and every year. Pictured above is Mother Goose with Taylor Guitars' employees. See pages 14 & 19 for more on the Mother Goose Parade. Photo credit Debbie Norman

The Littlest Angel DVD – is the newest animated feature from Anchor Bay. The colorful adaptation of the fifteenth best-selling children's book of all time. The Littlest Angel tells the story of a young boy who arrives in heaven before his time. First released in book form in 1946, The Littlest Angel became popular for its ornate words and phrases paired with beautifully muted oil paintings. Tazewell's book was adapted into a TV musical in 1969 starring Johnny Whitaker, and theatrical versions continue to be done by schools and church groups today. The author would follow-up with another childhood favorite, "The Littlest Snowman," that would be read annually on the "Captain Kangaroo" show.

"This is a story that has made so many people happy over the years," says Lance Thompson, one of the producers of the film. "We've added some new elements to this production, but this is still The Littlest Angel everyone remembers from their childhood, and one that parents will enjoy introducing to their kids. I think Tazewell would enjoy knowing his work lives on."

Check out the Toy Industry Association (TIA) guidelines for Fun Play Safe Play:

Birth to Six Months

In the first six months of life, babies can't grasp objects with their hands, so they tend to use their ears and eyes to experience play. Toys that make noise or feature high-contrast, black-and-white or brightly colored images will definitely keep them entertained. Once they can reach for objects, they'll gravitate toward toys that are textured and safe for mouthing. Check to see that plush (stuffed) toys have age-appropriate features such as embroidered or secured eyes and noses for younger children and seams that are reinforced to withstand an older child's play. And remember to avoid the possibility of entanglement by avoiding toys with strings, straps or cords twelve (12) inches or longer for children younger than eighteen (18) months of age.

Six Months to 12 Months

Babies this age are mastering the motor skills that enable them to play with toys in new and exciting ways. When babies can sit up, they enjoy toys they can bang, drop, stack, put in and take out, and open and shut. And once they start moving – whether crawling, "cruising" (walking while holding furniture), or walking – they enjoy things that move along with them. Toys that show cause and effect are also thrilling at this age. More guidelines in next weeks Gift Guide. Saenger Syndicate

Five unique sites to visit.

The 2,000 acre Ferry Ranch ~ established 1887 grew and distributed peaches. The old foreman's 'grounds' are now a working horse ranch, complete with riding arena, tack room (and all the paraphernalia), and a hay barn that is 100 years old. Even the cobwebs are lovely. You can feel the soft nuzzle of a horse's nose as you give him/her a horse treat.

Also, the packing plant as been converted to a lovely home with manicured grounds.

I wonder how many of you know that Palm Row has a home which has incorporated a light house that once lived in Point Loma. You'll get to peek into the lighthouse. (Before it goes back to Point Loma Historical Society.)

More information about the other sites next month. I hope you are all intrigued and come see for yourself. Donation of $15.00 for adults; children under 12 $7.50. For reservations, please phone (619) 561-1886

For Health's Sake

Give Thanks for good health

Thanksgiving is filled with good food, company, and gratitude. For many people, it's also the source of weight gain and anxiety. This season, don't let the holidays derail your healthy habits. TOPS Club, Inc. (Take Off Pounds Sensibly), the nonprofit weight-loss support organization, offers tips to eat right, stay active, and reduce stress.

Eat without Regret

- Watch portion sizes. You don't need to fill your plate with everything that's offered. Sample your favorite foods and use a smaller plate to "trick" yourself into thinking you have consumed more.

- Slow down. Take time to enjoy your food and stop eating before you feel full.

- Change the focus to family at the table. Food and drinks are a large part of the holidays, but they don't have to be the focus. Instead, go around the table and have everyone say why they are thankful, share favorite holiday memories, and reconnect.

- Don't forget about breakfast. Approaching the Thanksgiving meal on an empty stomach can be a recipe for disaster. A nutritious breakfast helps control appetite, so you aren't as inclined to overindulge during dinner. Breakfast can also keep energy levels up.

- Send off leftovers. Don't fill your refrigerator with leftovers; send extra food home with guests. This will help avoid temptation to dip back into high-calorie treats.

Stay Active

- Take a hike or go for a walk. Make time to get moving on Thanksgiving Day. Take a walk or hike in the morning or head outside after dinner. Many communities offer "Turkey Trots," a 5K walk/run, which can be an invigorating way to kick off the day.

- Plan an activity. The day doesn't need to revolve around the Thanksgiving meal. Go for a family bike ride, play football, or have a relay race for the kids.

Say Goodbye to Holiday Stress

- Take time for yourself. During the holidays, there can be a lot of togetherness. It's important to spend a few minutes alone periodically to give yourself time to recharge. Take a nap, listen to music, or simply sneak off to a quiet room in the house to clear your mind.

- Be thankful. Feeling stressed or tired? Find yourself complaining? Take time to think about or write down the things you're thankful for, big or small. Being grateful can decrease stress, boost the immune system, and improve sleep patterns.

- Share the load. There's no reason only one person should plan, cook, and entertain. If guests offer to prepare a dish, let them bring it to your Thanksgiving celebration. Also, have the kids help with household chores. This will decrease your workload and make the holiday more pleasant.

- Help those less fortunate. Forget about your troubles for the day and spend time volunteering at a local soup kitchen or food pantry. Spread cheer by giving back, taking the focus off of your own stress and helping others in need.

- Breathe! It may seem simple, but people tend to forget to breathe when they're stressed. Take deep breaths to increase your oxygen intake. Find a comfortable place to rest and consciously slow the rate of your breathing. You'll be amazed how good you will feel.

- Keep it simple. Make a few fancy dishes and keep the others easy. It's okay to scale back the meal and festivities, so you enjoy the holiday rather than spend all of your time preparing.

To successfully employ these tips, make sure to plan ahead and practice an attitude of gratitude. The holidays are a time to focus on the people in your life, so make an effort to take the emphasis off of sweet treats and creating the perfect meal and be thankful for friends, family, and good health.

Founded more than 63 years ago, TOPS is the only nonprofit, noncommercial weight-loss organization of its kind. TOPS promotes successful weight management with a "Real People. Proud fathers

I was sitting in the waiting room of the hospital after my wife had gone into labour and the nurse walked out and said to the man sitting next to me, "Congratulations sir, you're the new father of twins!"

The man replied, "How about that, I work for the Doublemint Chewing Gum Company." The man then followed the woman to his wife's room.

About an hour later, the same nurse entered the waiting room and announced that Mr. Smith's wife has just had triplets. Mr. Smith stood up and said, "Well, how do ya like that, I work for the 3M Company."

The gentleman that was sitting next to me then got up and started to leave. When I asked him why he was leaving, he remarked, "I think I need a breath of fresh air."

The man continued, "I work for 7-UP."

Give Us This Day Our Turkey ... Again

Thanksgiving is my kind of holiday. Apart from the "thanks" part, the primary purpose of this celebration is eating. That is the one thing I do quite well.

Thanksgiving is the beginning of a feasting frenzy that would make Richard Simmons sweat to the goodies. Any thoughts of dieting at this time of the year are merely blowing in the wind. Hopefully, not in my direction.

Our Pilgrim Fathers came up with the idea of a Thanksgiving feast. The Pilgrim Mothers were too busy doing the wash and caring for the children to think of any more work.

The Pilgrim Fathers were sitting around waiting for someone to invent television so they could all watch a football game when someone had an idea. Most ideas are born in the midst of great boredom. That is why so many of them are... well...stupid.

"There's nothing to do," one bored Pilgrim Father said. "Let's get together and have a feast." Because nothing else was happening, the other Pilgrim Fathers got excited about this idea. The Pilgrim Mothers, however, had some different thoughts about this crazy feast idea.

After all, they would have to do all the work and Oprah

Winfrey had not been born yet to lead them in a chorus of whining and complaining and getting in touch with their real feelings.

The Pilgrim Mothers wanted a Tupperware party, but since it was not yet a two-party system, they could only do one party. The Pilgrim Fathers won this one.

However, like the good Puritan wives they were, they humored their husbands and began preparations for the first Thanksgiving feast. Because this was the first Thanksgiving, it was a simple affair compared with the ones to follow.

At the first one nobody said, "We've always done it this way." Because it was never done before. However, the second Thanksgiving was beset with this sort of thing. A tradition, someone wisely pointed out, is something done at least once.

What the Pilgrim Mothers did not count on was company for dinner. After all, they were thousands of miles from their nearest relatives with a big pond between them. They assumed, and rightly so, that they were safe from the intrusion of company on what would be the heaviest workday for the kitchen crew.

Have you ever noticed that when you are planning a feast of some kind, relatives who never bother you the rest of the year (something to be thankful for) seem to gravitate to your gravy bowl?

There is nothing like unexpected company to put pizzazz in a Thanksgiving celebration. Who wants pizza for Thanksgiving when there is so much turkey?

Imagine the Pilgrim Mother's surprise when the Pilgrim Fathers told them (probably on Thanksgiving morning) that they had invited guests for the feast. I can imagine some ears were stinging that first Thanksgiving Day. The Pilgrim Fathers braved through the stinging rebukes from their wives...for months.

Perhaps the biggest anomaly of Thanksgiving is the mountain of leftovers the next day and for weeks to follow. No matter how much turkey is gobbled up or how many people are around that Thanksgiving table, the leftovers are enormous.

There is more turkey on Friday than on Thanksgiving.

I cannot prove this, but I highly suspect the turkeys we have today keep growing even after we cook them. Maybe when placed in a cold refrigerator over night, they expand.

I really do not know what takes place, but something happens to that turkey when left overnight in a refrigerator. The big challenge is how to prepare leftover turkey so it does not look or taste like turkey.

Thanksgiving is a marvelous time for family and friends to get together to celebrate the goodness of the Lord. Each family has its own special tradition that seems to bring it together. This year, especially, we have so much to be thankful.

For some it starts with a Thanksgiving Eve service. Gathering as a congregation to express to God thanks for another year of bounty and blessing is important for Christians.

Personally, I like a Thanksgiving eve service over a Thanksgiving morning service. In the evening service, you do not have to rush through the celebration to get home in time for the big feast. Giving thanks to God should be a leisurely thing, not something rushed through while thinking of something else.

At Thanksgiving, we should bring a bouquet of blessing that fills the room with a sweet fragrance of praise that lingers all year long.

Some of the best and most fragrant bouquets are the small ones. Remembering the big blessings is easy. The smaller blessings are much harder to keep in mind. Some of them we even take for granted.

This Thanksgiving I am going to make a point to look over some blessing I have been overlooking. It is those small blessing that truly sustains us throughout the year.

The Bible reminds us why we are to give thanks, not only at Thanksgiving time, but also all year long. "But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord" (1 Corinthians 15:57-58 KJV).

There is so much to thank God for; one day is not near enough. Let us thank God every day for His goodness. Even for leftover blessings.

Thinking of my family on the plane coming home I thought, why am I the only sane person in my family? Then another thought emerged. Or, am I?

Dear Dr. Luauna

Dear Readers,

There are so many little things I am grateful for; many we probably do not even think about unless we are no longer able to enjoy them. Let's count our blessings: eyes with which we can see the beauty of God's creation and watch the changing color of trees in the fall. The light as it dawns with each sunrise and fades with each orange sunset. Watching your baby take his/her first step. Maybe the distinct songs we hear with our ears including the song of the crickets at night, poplar trees whose leaves when blown by the wind create a unique sound of the sea's crashing waves against the rocky shore. Or hearing your child utter his/her first word – "mama," or "dada."

Let's thank God for the little things.

What about our sense of smell? The fresh, clean smell after a rain fall, your favorite perfume or cologne, the smell of your clean towel as it comes out of the dryer, or the wonderful smell of your baby after a bath and being powdered. Your mouth which gives you the ability to sing a melody, to whisper softly, "I love you," "Happy Birthday," "You are special," to speak life-giving words of edification and exhortation.

Let's thank God for the little things.

Your hand with all it's fingers to grip and hold a coffee cup, to reach out to give someone a hug and helping hand in their time of need, to pick up baby when he/she falls from that first step. There are so many little things to value, to appreciate and not take for granted. Let us count our blessings, great and small.

1 Thessalonians 5:18, "In everything give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you."

Twilight's Elizabeth Reasser on the Twilight series and 'Breaking Dawn — Part 1'

Elizabeth Reasser

Interview by Diana Saenger

Since Stephenie Meyer released her first Twilight novel in 2008 and it was made into a film the same year, fans of vampire romances have eagerly awaited the release of each subsequent film. Much to the heartbreak of many fans and the continuous swooning of lead stars Robert Pattinson, Taylor Lautner and Kristen Stewart, the last of the series has been filmed. The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 1 opens this week in theatres. Part 2, and the final film of the series, will be released next year.

It's taken a big cast to fulfill this enormous and energetic story. Saenger Syndicate was delighted to have an interview with cast member Elizabeth Reasser. She's plays Esme Cullen, Carlisle Cullen's wife and the adoptive mother of Edward.

Q: What's it like to have been with this series from the beginning?

E.R. Amazing. It's been so many years and so much has changed in my life. But it's been fun, and we got to finish what we started, which is all we were hoping to do.

Q: This franchise has been so huge; will this episode be the biggest yet?

E.R. I haven't seen part two yet, and I think it's going to be epic. But part one totally sucked me in again as a fan, which I did not think was possible. After working on things for so long you sort of pick things apart when watching it so you can't totally be a fan or an audience observer. But I was totally enraptured with the whole experience and characters, and I fell in love with the character of Bella. At the end of the day it's her story, and that I was right there for it blew me away.

Q: What has excited you most about Part 1?

E.R. Getting to work with all the filmmakers on each film has been so fun. That we've had a new director every time is great because they each bring something so special. To get to work with Bill Condon on this film is fantastic. He's so brilliant and such a great writer, too. He really understands the story and this was such a huge endeavor and one that we really needed someone who could lead us. He did, and I think people will see in the movie that he did an amazing job. He's a special artist who has done so many different things, and it's always amazing to me when the set can sometimes be so chaotic and then you go see the movie and everything is so good.

Q: Are fans in for any big surprises in Part 1?

E.R. The wedding in itself is so magical, along with the dress. Fans of the book who have been waiting to see all of these things for years, know more about them than even we do. So it will be a plus for them to see how it's been realized.

Q: The production scene of the wedding filmed in Squamish, BC, Canada looks amazing. What was it like to stand there during those scenes and watch Bella and Edward get married?

E.R. It was freezing and raining and we were in these really uncomfortable corsets and heels. Yet it was so beautiful with the flowers and river behind the actual place where they got married. It was stunning to see Kristen walking down the aisle and so moving to see her getting married. And to see her little face was so sweet and that of Billy Burke as her father, as he was just heartbroken to give up his little girl and that was really moving. It felt real to see the faces of the cast as everyone was really committed to the scene. But when you're freezing, and in a corset, it kind of suspends your disbelief.

Q: Esme owns the island where Bella and Edward honeymoon, correct?

E.R. Yes. That was a wedding present from Carlisle and we let Bella and Edward go there for their honeymoon because it's so private and beautiful. So they go there and tear it apart—literally destroy the bedroom. We knew that going in because if you're going to have vampire sex for the first time; it's going to get crazy!

Q: You've remained really busy during this series doing other things as well; what keeps you going?

E.R. I'm always trying to find a role that excites me. That's what we all want at the end of the day, to be part of a story I can be excited by and go inside and lose myself. After doing this series for a while, certain things can be challenging and it takes a toll on you. It makes you wonder what you're doing this for and you have to figure that out. For me it's telling stories and finding the ones I love and want to be a part of.

Elizabeth Reasser earned a 2007 Independent Spirit Award nomination for Best Actress for her role in the drama Sweet Land, and received an Emmy nomination for her guest spot as Ava on Grey's Anatomy as well as shared a Screen Actors Guild's Award nomination with the cast for Best Ensemble. She recently completed production on Young Adult, a film directed by Jason Reitman and written by Diablo Cody and starring Charlize Theron, Patrick Wilson, and J.K. Simmons for a December 2011 release.

In June 2011, Reasser starred in the independent film The Art of Getting By, opposite Emma Roberts, Freddie Highmore, and Rita Wilson. She recently starred in the film Liberal Arts. She has also starred in Against the Current, Puccini for Beginners, Purple Violets, Stay, The Believer, Mind the Gap, Shut up and Sing and 13 Conversations About One Thing. In television she has starred on the CBS legal drama The Good Wife, Saved, Law & Order: Criminal Intent and The Sopranos.

'The Descendants' left me with questions and wanting more

Review by Diana Saenger

George Clooney is a popular actor and good at his job so it's easy to expect to like any film in which he appears. Still, I always hold my judgment until I've seen the film as I did with his newest movie, The Descendants.

Clooney plays Matt King, a husband, father and Hawaiian land baron who seems to fit the Hawaiian atmosphere with a laid back demeanor. He's not much of a father to his two daughters, Scottie (Amara Miller) and her older sister Alexandra (Shailene Woodley). He's not much in tune with his wife who he will soon learn has been having an affair. He's also lax about making a big decision along with his other descendants on the island about a parcel of land that developers want and that would make life as easy for his relatives as his seems to be.

Matt soon has a big problem; his wife Elizabeth (Patti Hastie) suffered a water-skiing accident and is in a permanent comma.

How to tell his daughters is foremost, and since the accident is never shown in the film, I was curious why his daughters didn't know about the accident or if they knew their mother was water-skiing. Now Matt has to reveal the news to his daughters and his choosing to do this while the girls are swimming in the family pool seemed illogical to me as well.

Alexandra, called Alex, is a moody girl who Matt cannot figure out or – it appeared to me – really tried. She has a huge chip on her shoulder because she knows her mother was unfaithful to her father, and feels she is more of a parent than her dad.

Scottie, played by newbie actress Amara Miller, is a free thinker and a girl who goes after what she wants. She's kept mostly in the dark about the real things going on with her family. She, too, is a mystery to her dad.

The comment from Matt, "I'm the back-up parent. The understudy," I think was supposed to elicit some type of sympathy from the viewer but to me it seemed a like an excuse from a man who hadn't taken the time to get to know his daughters.

Alex hangs around with Sid (Nick Krause), a buffoon who has no tack or manners and while Matt finds him unpleasant to be around and perhaps a bad influence on Alex, still allows him to be present in her life almost every moment. Why? I kept asking myself.

Eventually Matt, the girls and Sid go to spend time at the Honolulu beach property his family owns. It's there that he finds out that Brian Speer (Matthew Lillard), the man who was his wife's lover and also the realtor that wants to buy his family's property, is vacationing with his wife and kids and staying in one of his families beach houses.

The confrontation eventually comes and goes but it's done with that usual tongue in cheek humor Clooney is known for, and to me it felt like Clooney acting in a role. There are big griefs in this story, which is based on Kauai Hart Hemmings' debut novel, The Descendants, but I never felt the weight of them.

Many fans of director Alexander Payne (About Schmidt, Sideways) are giving raves to The Descendants. Although there's a moment of honesty in the resolution, it's terribly cliché and never overcomes all of my questions about this story and disappointment about Clooney's portrayal as Matt.

Beau Bridges gives a believable performance as Matt's cousin Hugh. Woodley (The Secret Life of the American Teenager) is actually the best thing about this movie. She has a tough role and performs it well.

East County youth create family tradition with roles in 'Grinch'

By Diana Saenger

He's green, doesn't like kids, dogs or presents, but kids of all ages return every year to see once again if the people of Whoville can tame Mr. Grinch. Opening on November 19 and running through December 31 in the Old Globe Theatre Dr. Seuss' How the Grinch Stole Christmas! will be a highlight in Balboa Park this year.

James Vásquez returns to direct the show, and Steve Blanchard, who debuts as the Grinch this year, is already getting raves from some of the youngsters in the show the East County Gazette interviewed.

Luke Babbitt (Boo Who), an 11-year-old La Mesa fifth grader at Murray Manor Elementary School who started acting at age 8, is performing for the first time at The Old Globe. He's enjoyed parts in several productions with Kroc Kids at the Ray and Joan Kroc Center including A Christmas Carol, The Sound of Music and Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. He likes to read and play video games.

Babbitt prepared a peppy song – "Friend Like Me" from Aladdin – for his audition. "I wanted something that was fun and showed my talent," he said. "It's so cool to be in The Grinch because it makes you feel important because it's such a big professional show."

Babbitt's favorite Seuss book is Cat in the Hat. He's quite aware how popular the show is. "It's become a tradition for families, and I think San Diego is the only city that has it every year," he said. "I'm really enjoying working with adults in the show who are good mentors. Maybe some day I will be like them."

Annie Buckley is a 12-year-old sixth grade student at Murdock Elementary in La Mesa. Buckley takes on a lead role as Annie Who. Her repertoire includes appearances in Annie (Moonlight Stage Productions), An American Christmas, The Music Man and Peter Pan (Peter Pan Junior Theater). When not acting or taking singing or dancing lessons, Buckley enjoys playing soccer or creating art.

Buckley did her homework before her audition. "I watched a few YouTube videos of the National and Broadway shows and studied Annie, and some girls in another show I was in gave me some hints about auditioning. I also did research on the computer about The Old Globe; and I got the part so I was very glad about that."

The cast of The Grinch changes somewhat every year, but some things always remain the same. "I love working there because it has a family feeling," said Buckley who has great support from her parents who have also been involved in theatre. Watching them inspired her.

"I saw my dad acting a lot, and I was also one of those little girls who loved being in the spotlight, so acting seemed just right for me," Buckley said. "And I was right because there are lots of kids and they're all your friends, and if you ever feel afraid, once you go to rehearsal all your fears go away because everyone is so supportive."

El Cajon's A.J. Foggiano (Teen Who) is thrilled to be back in The Grinch for a fifth year. Although Foggiano wasn't a shoo-in for the role of Teen Who, he did have confidence. "It's always nice to walk into a room when you know the people who you are going to audition for," he said. "That was easier than most auditions, but I do a lot beforehand. I think about what I want to do, get my sheet music together and my monologues prepared and then give them what I got."

Looking at his bio, Foggiano has a lot of experience on stage. The 15-year-old is in 10th grade at Grossmont High School. His theater credits include Whisper House, Dr. Seuss' How the Grinch Stole Christmas! ('06-'09 and '11, The Old Globe), The Merry Wives of Windsor (The Old Globe Summer Shakespeare Intensive), Bye Bye Birdie (San Diego Musical Theatre), The Wizard of Oz (Starlight Musical Theatre), A Year with Frog and Toad and The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee (San Diego Junior Theatre), Seussical the Musical (Actors' Conservatory Theatre – San Diego), 13 (American Rose Theatre) and Peter Pan (Christian Youth Theater). His film and television credits include Oxycontin PSA (KUSI), Ready? OK! (Daisy 3 Pictures) and The Legend of Pocahontas (I Can Fly Pictures).

Foggiano started taking classes in all aspects of theatre as a youth and still takes some today. Like other performers in The Grinch, Foggiano recognizes and respects that the play is a tradition. "It's a very unique show," he said. "It's become part of what San Diego and The Old Globe are about. Working in the show is like being part of a family so it's nice to part of that every year and meet seasoned actors, new actors and really talented people behind the scenes."

His goal is to make acting his career and along with maintaining good grades and continuing to build his performance repertoire Foggiano has his eyes on the goal. "After high school I plan to go to college and study more of my craft and then pursue a career in acting. I'm very passionate about acting, and as an actor, I feel there's nothing else I can do."

Because he's come so far and knows the ropes well, Foggiano has good advice for kids wanting to be on stage. "Just be yourself – a little kid," he said. "That's what producers want to see, because Who-ers are just people with over exaggerated costumes."

Santee's Kevin Davison (Little Who Ensemble) makes his debut at The Old Globe but is already comfortable being on a stage. He's appeared in Seussical the Musical (Pickwick Players), The Wizard of Oz, Snow White (CYT), and Peter Pan (Christian Youth Theater). The 11-year-old keeps up good grades at Horizon Christian Academy Claremont while taking singing and dancing lessons and auditioning where he can. He would like to have a role in Bye Bye Birdie and hopes to be on Broadway someday. Davison is excited to finally land a role at The Old Globe. "The Grinch is a really funny show and it's so fun to be in. Acting is my passion so I work hard before an audition. I think Steve is a great Grinch and he makes all of us laugh, even the adults."

Davison said he really had fun recently when it was Crazy Sock Day. "Everyone had to show up with one sock. It was really funny when even the leads in the play came on stage with one crazy sock on instead of their costumed-shoe."

Breaking the assumption by some that Christmas is about a tree or decorations, Dr. Seuss' How the Grinch Stole Christmas! reveals an important aspect of the season. A.J. Foggiano couldn't have described this show any better when he said about The Grinch, "It has a message about community and family that never gets old. The feeling of everyone wanting to feel they belong somewhere is as true today as it was 10 years or 20 years ago or beyond that."

CITY OF EL CAJON
PUBLIC NOTICE
FY 2012-13 COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT PROGRAM AND
HOME INVESTMENT PARTNERSHIPS
PROGRAM
NOTICE OF FUNDING AVAILABILITY AND REQUEST FOR COMMENTS

Under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, cities such as El Cajon are provided with an opportunity to implement community improvement programs and/or projects not otherwise possible under the constraints of the regular City budget. In order to receive the funding, the City must submit an annual Action Plan including proposed projects to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for FY 2012-13 (July 1, 2012 – June 30, 2013) by May 14, 2012.

The City of El Cajon invites public comments from residents, non-profit organizations and others serving the El Cajon community on how the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) and the HOME Investment Partnership (HOME) funds should be spent. The City welcomes and encourages citizen participation in the establishment and implementation of our 38th year of the CDBG Program.

The City of El Cajon estimates it will receive between $902,000 and $1,128,000 in federal CDBG funds for Program Year 2012-13. Of those amounts, a maximum of 15% of the total allocation (approximately $135,000 to $169,200) may be made available for public service programs and projects. In order to receive the funding, the City must submit its Annual Action Plan with proposed CDBG projects and programs which are designed to meet one or more of the following national objectives:

- 1) Benefit a majority of low/moderate income residents; and/or
- 2) Alleviate an immediate and serious threat to the health and/or welfare of the community when no other source of funding is available; and/or
- 3) Serve to prevent or eliminate conditions of slum and blight.

All activities funded through the City's CDBG program must be for activities that will improve the living conditions/environment for low and moderate income individuals and families in El Cajon. In addition, all CDBG projects must meet one or more of the local Priorities to qualify for funding. The Priorities are fully described in the FY 2009-2014 Consolidated Plan which is available for review at the Redevelopment and Housing Division public counter, located at 200 Civic Center Way, Third Floor, El Cajon, CA 92020 during normal business hours. The Consolidated Plan is also accessible on the City's website at <http://www.cityofelcajon.us/dept/redev/housing/funding.aspx>.

Non-profit organizations, City departments, neighborhood organizations, and faith-based organizations may apply for this funding. Please note that the City of El Cajon does not directly fund individuals through this program.

Applications for CDBG funding are available beginning Monday, November 7, 2011. The procedures for submitting a completed application, along with the range of activities that may be financed with CDBG funds, can be found in the Guidelines for each application as set forth below. All completed applications must be submitted no later than 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 7, 2011 for FY 2012-13 funding.

There are two separate CDBG applications and categories of funding available: 1) Public Facilities/Capital Improvement projects; and 2) Public Services projects and programs.

Applications and Guidelines are available in four different ways:

1) A copy can be accessed from the City of El Cajon's website at <http://www.cityofelcajon.us/dept/redev/housing/index.aspx>

2) The Word version of the application forms and guidelines may be obtained by e-mailing a request to jkasviki@cityofelcajon.us. The Word version will allow applicants to fill-in the requested information on a computer.

3) A paper copy of the application and guidelines can be mailed to you by calling the Redevelopment & Housing Division at (619) 441-1786.

4) A paper copy of the application can be obtained in person by visiting the Redevelopment & Housing Division public counter at 200 Civic Center Way, Third Floor, El Cajon, CA 92020 during normal business hours.

The City Council will hold a public hearing on the proposed CDBG projects tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, February 14, 2012 at 7 p.m. to allocate FY 2012-13 CDBG funds. A second public hearing is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, April 10, 2012 at 3:00 p.m. Final adoption of funding allocations is expected to occur at the second public hearing. Both hearings will be held in the Council Chambers located at 200 Civic Center Way in El Cajon.

For additional information on the City's CDBG and HOME programs, please contact Jamie Kasvikis in the Redevelopment and Housing Division at (619) 441-1786 or visit the City's website at <http://www.cityofelcajon.us/dept/redev/housing/funding.aspx>

The City of El Cajon is endeavoring to be in total compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. If you are a non-English speaking resident or citizen, are speech and/or hearing impaired and wish to review the documents or comment at the Public Hearing, please contact the City Clerk's Office at (619) 441-1763, as far in advance of the meeting as possible.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
PROPOSED ADOPTION OF CITY CHARTER

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that at 3:00 p.m. on Tuesday, December 13, 2011 the El Cajon City Council will hold a public hearing in the City Council Chambers located at 200 Civic Center Way, El Cajon, CA to consider:

PROPOSED ADOPTION OF CITY CHARTER:
This is the first of two public hearings to seek input from members of the public on a proposal for adoption of a City Charter for the City of El Cajon, prior to City Council action to decide whether to submit the measure to voters at a June 5, 2012 Special Municipal Election. If submitted to the voters and approved at the election the City would change from a general law city to a charter city. A city charter allows the city the power to make and enforce all ordinances and regulations with respect to municipal affairs unless preempted by state legislation as matters of statewide concern. The proposed charter would grant the City powers different from many of those described in the Government Code for general law cities. A second public hearing will take place at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, January 24, 2012.

A copy of the proposed charter is available for viewing in the City Clerk's office, (619) 441-1763.

The public is invited to attend and participate in this public hearing. Please call the City Clerk's Office (619) 441-1763, if you have any questions regarding this notice of hearing. If you challenge the matter in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice or in written correspondence delivered to the City Clerk at, or prior to, the public hearing.

The City of El Cajon encourages the participation of disabled individuals in the services, activities, and programs provided by the City. Individuals with disabilities who require reasonable accommodation in order to participate in the City Council meetings should contact the City Clerk's Office at (619) 441-1763.

The World According to Honey Bear, written by dog Honey Bear with her ghost writer and companion Catherine Rodriguez, Ed.D., has been awarded first place in The USA "Best Books 2011" Awards in the Children's Picture Book Non-Fiction Softcover Category. Rodriguez, a San Diego resident diagnosed in 1999 with Parkinson's, has long been an advocate for Parkinson's research. For the last three years, Honey Bear has been her constant companion and helper, assisting her with presentations to patient groups, state and local government officials, and local service groups.

"This book touched me in a way that reminded me of why I chose medicine as a career... For someone with a chronic disease such as Parkinson's disease, (Honey Bear) has as much to offer as the latest medication or high tech test," says Dr. Ronald Kobayashi, Neurologist and Movement Disorder Specialist.

All proceeds from the purchase of The World According to Honey Bear are donated by the authors to the Parkinson's Association of San Diego. Books may be purchased from the Parkinson's Association of San Diego or on Amazon.com.

The Parkinson's Association of San Diego is the county's only comprehensive source of support and information for persons with Parkinson's disease. The Mission of the organization is to improve the quality of life for those affected by Parkinson's disease through education, family services, and support of promising research.
