Taylor Guitars 'Business of the Year'

A large crowd entered Taylor Guitars' warehouse last Saturday for their one-day "Friends and Family" sale. Photo credit: Tom Walko

by Tom Walko

On Tuesday, Dec. 13 Senator Joel Anderson, representative of Senate District 36, presented the "Business of the Year" Award to Taylor Guitars in front of a bustling factory floor where the world famous Taylor Guitars are made. Attending the presentation were Bob Taylor, President, Taylor Guitars, Barbara Wight, CFO, Taylor Guitars, Kurt Listug, CEO, Taylor Guitars, Tim Whitehouse, Photographer.

"Taylor Guitars is an example of the American dream come true," Senator Anderson said. "In 1974, Bob Taylor and Kurt Listug started the company in a building with a leaky roof and sawdust on the floor to sop-up the puddles. Almost 40 years later, Taylor Guitars operates out of a 25,000 square foot El Cajon facility, employs hundreds of my constituents, and makes a world-class guitar. Taylor Guitar has also given back to their community through their support of local high school wood shop programs that are building the critical career development skills of our youth. It's an honor to make Taylor Guitars my 2011 Business of the Year."

This past weekend Taylor Guitars opened their warehouse doors to the public for the first time ever for a one-day sale offering "Friends and Family" pricing. More than 400 people lined up outside the El Cajon warehouse for the sale.

At the age of 18 Bob Taylor began working on guitars. At the age of 20 he purchased the American Dream Guitar shop naming it the Westland Music Company. Needing a name that would fit on the headstock of the guitar he changed the name to Taylor Guitars launching a business that would become a standard for musicians around the world.

At the recent sale, local musicians, guitar players young and old, and folks who just wanted to see the famed guitars marveled as they traversed the isles of guitars waiting for a new home. Almost like children in a candy store, they moved from one to the other picking out their favorite tunes on each guitar they could not pass up.

A tour with Taylor Guitars' Chalise Zolezzi navigated the way to the beautiful twelve-string acoustic and twelve-string electric guitars where local disc jockey Madison (Keith Miller) of KPRI 102.1 FM was found cradling his dream electric twelve string the 25-S1.

Taylor Guitars stands out for its community service and dedication to the musical arts as it continues to produce one of the purest musical sounds through its guitars.

Taylor Guitars factory is open for tours and located at 1980 Gillespie Way, El Cajon, CA, (619) 258-1207.

HUD AND NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REAL ESTATE
BROKERS FORM PARTNERSHIP TO PROMOTE FAIR HOUSING

In an effort to end discriminatory treatment African Americans and other people of color often experience, HUD and the National Association of Real Estate Brokers (NAREB) today announced a new partnership to work together to promote fair housing in minority communities. In Fiscal Year 2010, 27.8% (2,820) of the 10,157 fair housing complaints HUD and its fair housing partner agencies received alleged race discrimination against blacks. At the same time, a recent HUD report showed that the nation’s “worst case housing needs” increased by 3.2 percentage points among African American families.

The Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) HUD and NAREB signed will help end discrimination by informing consumers in African American and other minority communities and public and private industry members about their fair housing rights and responsibilities under the Fair Housing Act.

“This partnership advances HUD’s and NAREB’s joint vision and commitment to end housing discrimination,” said John Trasvina, HUD Assistant Secretary for Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity (FHEO). Under the MOU, HUD and NAREB will conduct joint seminars, workshops, and forums on ways to identify unlawful sales, rental and lending and related government contracting discrimination. Additionally, they will work together to educate people in all communities about their fair housing and related government contracting rights and avenues available to them should they experience discrimination.

Furthermore, NAREB will emphasize the importance of fair housing and equal opportunity to real estate professionals as well as work with other organizations and institutions in African American communities, including faith-based groups, government agencies.

NAREB, the oldest minority real estate trade association in America, was founded to create equal housing and government contracting opportunities for every resident of the nation, regardless of race, creed, or color. Its 18,000 members, 12 regional offices, and 92 chapters work to help stabilize the nation’s housing and urban community real estate foreclosure-related losses in minority communities.

FHEO and its partners in the Fair Housing Assistance Program investigate more than 10,000 housing discrimination complaints annually. If you feel you have been discriminated against or illegally been denied a housing dwelling, please contact your fair housing services provider and ask to speak to a Fair Housing Counselor immediately.

Jose Cervantes is the Fair Housing Programs Director at the Center for Social Advocacy and can be reached at (619) 444-5700.

Pine Valley Teen promoted to rank of Chief Petty Officer

Naval Sea Cadet Kaitlin Ortmeier, 16 has the anchors of a Chief Petty Officer pinned on her by her grandfather, Frank Ortmeier, who served in the Navy as a Gunner's Mate from 1958 to 1963. Photo Credit: Naval Sea Cadet Corps

Kaitlin Ortmeier, 16, a Junior at Granite Hills High School, is your typical teenager, during a ceremony at the Naval Amphibious Base in Coronado, she was promoted to NSCC Cadet Chief Petty Officer. The rank of the Chief Petty Officer or CPO is the highest rank a cadet can earn, and the equivalent of Scouting's "Eagle" rank.

Ortmeier joins a small cadre of NSCC Chief Petty Officer's numbering only 90 cadets nationwide. Only four Naval Sea Cadets out of over three hundred in San Diego County are Chief Petty Officers. A CPO typically serves for one to two years before graduating from the program. Serving in CORONADO Battalion based at Naval Amphibious Base, she will now lead her Battalion as the most senior cadets.

For young men and women ages 10-17, the Naval Sea Cadet Corps through organization and cooperation with the Department of the Navy, encourages and aids American youth to develop an interest and skill in basic seamanship and in its naval adaptations, to train them in seagoing skills, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues" in a drug-, gang- and alcohol free lifestyle. Cadets of CORONADO Battalion come from the cities of Coronado, Chula Vista, Imperial Beach, as well as the San Diego communities of Nestor and San Ysidro.

With units across San Diego and Imperial Counties including Coronado, El Centro, Escondido, Lakeside, Kearny Mesa, Miramar, National City, and Oceanside there are opportunities for everyone. Those interested in finding out more information on the Naval Sea Cadet Corps can visit www.seacadets.org or contact the Regional Director, Lt. Cmdr. Scott D. Christmas fruitcake always gets a bad rap

Rev. James L. Snyder

Many reasons exist why a person should love and embrace the Christmas season. I hear of those who attack the Christmas season and I take no notice to them at all. The thing that keeps buffoons energized is his attention paid to them. If they were really serious about their so-called beliefs, they would leave the country during the Christmas season and go somewhere where it is not celebrated.

My recommendation is the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean.

Ignoring the holiday buffoons, I snuggle down and enjoy the Christmas festivities. So much about the season to savor and enjoy.

The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage has our home all decorated for the Christmas season. In the evening, we sit down in the living room among all of the decorations, sip our hot cocoa and have a healthy slice of Christmas fruitcake.

When it comes to decorating things, I don't even have a thumb. During this time, I envy those who are all thumbs. My decorating expertise is simply to enjoy the work done. And that I do.

I love everything about the Christmas season, except maybe shopping in the mall. I think there should be some kind of a law restricting shopping in the mall. It is not that I hate going to the mall... well, I guess if I am truthful, I really do hate going to the mall. If they had a nice good used bookstore, I might see my way to the mall more often and deliberately.

Apart from the mall, the Christmas season is a terrific time to be alive.

I love the Christmas trees. Go ahead and call it a "Holiday Tree" if you do not mind letting other people know how stupid you really sound. Solomon, in the Old Testament, had some of these people in mind when he wrote, "Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: and he that shutteth his lips is esteemed a man of understanding." (Proverbs 17:28 KJV). If it is a "Holiday Tree," which holiday does it represent?

I love all the decorations associated with this time of year. Throughout the year, everything seems to be rather drab, but when Christmas comes along things begin to brighten up.

I love all the stories associated with Christmas. Yes, I know some of them are just stories made up; but every once in a while it is good to listen to a story. The fact that somebody has accused Santa's reindeer's of bullying poor little Rudolph only indicate that some people do not know the difference between fact and fiction.

Do not let this get out, but, Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer does not even exist. He is just a made-up character in a Christmas story. I know that will come as a shock to many people, but the truth is the truth no matter whom it hurts.

I love the music of Christmas. Particularly, because 90 percent of the Christmas music is religious. Go figure? Nothing is more inspiring than listening to a choir sing Handel's Messiah. Of course, there is a danger that the wrong people will get a hold of this great piece of music and want to change the title. I am looking for someone to protest this and insist we call it, "Handel's Person."

The music of Christmas is uplifting and inspiring despite all the naysayers that seem to come out of the ground during this time of the year. I wish they would stay underground and celebrate whatever they celebrate with Punxsutawney Phil.

Dare I mention the food of Christmas? I'm going to anyway. The best thing about the food at Christmas time is that nobody, and when I am talking about nobody, I am referring of course to my wife, says, "You shouldn't be eating that." The beauty of Christmas food is that you can eat it whenever and as much as you like.

When I come back for my second slice of fruitcake and somebody looks at me I always say, "I'm starting my diet next month." And I get away with it.

Speaking of fruitcake, it is the best part of the Christmas food frenzy. My biggest concern in this area is that the fruitcake has gotten a very bad rap by people who do not understand this delicacy. It is a very wonderful way for a person to get their daily portion of fruit. How nice of it to be mixed in with cake. After all, if the word "fruit," is associated with it, it must be good, right? Everybody knows fruit is good for a person.

I take my portion of vegetables in carrot cake and my portion of fruit in fruitcake. This is the cuisine of the gods.

There is a very practical side to this fruitcake business. As I am picking up my fifth slice of fruitcake, I begin thinking about the New Year and how I need to add more fruit to my diet. As I slowly chew on the fruitcake, every aspect of my being is energized with glorious delight and goodwill toward men. After a few slices of fruitcake, I am in such a good mood that even the "Holiday Tree" people do not bother me so much. Nothing comes between my fruitcake and me.

Christmas is the season to rejoice in God's love for the world so much that he sent his only son, Jesus Christ.

Dear Dr. Luauna

Dear Readers,

It has been almost 33 years since I received Christ as my Savior. Christmas began to mean more to me when I personally experienced the life-changing love of Jesus. I was lost, broken and hurting deep within and Jesus rescued me. Matthew 1:23, "Behold the virgin shall be with child and bear a Son, and they shall call His name Immanuel," which is translated God with us."

This scripture is so powerful. God came to be with us, to make Himself real instead of the picture of a distant, angry Creator. He is a loving Father who came to seek and save the lost. Many people are hurting, broken inside and some even contemplating suicide during this time of year. It's more important than ever to reach out to others with the love of Jesus, to let them know there are answers for their life and healing for their broken hearts.

The babe born in the manger came with a Divine purpose spelled out in this verse: Isaiah 9:6, "For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given; and the government will be upon His shoulder. And His name will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace." So many around us are searching for peace from the turmoil of life, anxiety and fear of the future. The Bible promises in Philippians 4:6-7, "Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God; and the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." He is still touching hearts and changing lives today. Maybe you need this kind of touch from the Lord. He is waiting to help you not just during a season but everyday of your life. If you would like to receive Christ as your Savior, repeat this prayer with all your heart, "Jesus, I believe you died on the cross, I believe you rose from the dead. I ask you to forgive my wrongs and I surrender my life to you. Help me to understand and experience your peace, in Jesus name, Amen." I said a simple prayer like this one and Jesus changed my whole life. He is the only reason for the Christmas season, Merry Christmas!

For Health's Sake

Red Cross offers tips for 12 days of holiday safety

Having a busy time getting ready for the holidays? While everyone is shopping, baking, gift wrapping, decorating and going to parties, the American Red Cross, San Diego/Imperial Counties Chapter has holiday tips to help make the season a safe one.

1. Prepare vehicle for traveling to grandmother's house. Build an emergency kit and include items such as blankets or sleeping bags, jumper cables, fire extinguisher, compass and road maps, shovel, tire repair kit and pump, extra clothing, flares, and a tow rope.

2. Drive the sleigh and reindeer safely. Avoid driving in a storm. If travel is a must, let someone know the destination, the route being taken to get there, and how long it should take to arrive. If the car gets stuck along the way, help can be sent along the predetermined route.

3. Help prevent the spread of the flu. Stay home if sick. Wash hands with soap and water as often as possible, or use an alcohol-based hand rub. Cover the nose and mouth with a tissue or sleeve when coughing or sneezing, and throw the tissue away after use. If a tissue isn't available, someone should cough or sneeze into their elbow, not their hands.

4. Follow Santa's fashion lead – dress in layers. When it's cold outside, layered lightweight clothing will keep a person warmer than a single heavy coat. Gloves and a hat will prevent loss of body heat.

5. Use a Red Cross-trained babysitter when attending holiday festivities. Red Cross-certified babysitters learn to administer basic first aid; properly hold and feed a child; take emergency action when needed and monitor safe play. Some may be certified in Infant and Child CPR.

6. Avoid danger while roasting chestnuts on an open fire. Stay in the kitchen when frying, grilling or broiling food. If leaving the kitchen even for a short period of time, turn off the stove. This is important because unattended cooking causes nearly 90 percent of all kitchen fires.

7. Be a lifesaver during the holidays. The Red Cross recommends at least one person in every household should take first aid and CPR/AED training. Visit www.redcross.org/training for details and to register.

8. Designate a driver or skip the holiday cheer. Buckle up, slow down, don't drive impaired. If someone plans on drinking, designate a driver who won't drink.

9. When the weather outside is frightful, heat the home safely. Never use a stove or oven to heat the home.

Never leave portable heaters or fireplaces unattended. Install smoke alarms.

10. Cut down on heating bills without being a Grinch. Get the furnace cleaned and change the filters. Make sure furniture isn't blocking the heat vents. Close off any rooms not in use and turn off the heat in those rooms. Turn down the thermostat and put on a sweater.

11. Home for the holidays? Travel safely. Check the tire air pressure and make sure the windshield fluid is full. Be well rested and alert. Give full attention to the road – avoid distractions such as cell phones. If someone has car trouble, pull off the road as far as possible.

12. Resolve to Be Red Cross Ready in the New Year. Get ready now in case someone in the household faces an emergency in 2012.

Laughter is the Best Medicine

The green thing

Checking out at the store, the young cashier suggested to the older woman, that she should bring her own grocery bags because plastic bags weren't good for the environment.

The woman apologized and explained, "We didn't have this green thing back in my earlier days."

The clerk responded, "That's our problem today. Your generation did not care enough to save our environment for future generations."

She was right -- our generation didn't have the green thing in its day. Back then, we returned milk bottles, soda bottles and beer bottles to the store. The store sent them back to the plant to be washed and sterilized and refilled, so it could use the same bottles over and over. So they really were recycled. But we didn't have the green thing back in our day.

We walked up stairs, because we didn't have an escalator in every store and office building. We walked to the grocery store and didn't climb into a 300-horsepower machine every time we had to go two blocks. But she was right. We didn't have the green thing in our day.

Back then, we washed the baby's diapers because we didn't have the throw-away kind. We dried clothes on a line, not in an energy gobbling machine burning up 220 volts -- wind and solar power really did dry our clothes back in our early days. Kids got hand-me-down clothes from their brothers or sisters, not always brand-new clothing. But that young lady is right; we didn't have the green thing back in our day.

Back then, we had one TV, or radio, in the house — not a TV in every room. And the TV had a small screen the size of a handkerchief (remember them?), not a screen the size of the state of Montana. In the kitchen, we blended and stirred by hand because we didn't have electric machines to do everything for us. When we packaged a fragile item to send in the mail, we used wadded up old newspapers to cushion it, not Styrofoam or plastic bubble wrap. Back then, we didn't fire up an engine and burn gasoline just to cut the lawn. We used a push mower that ran on human power. We exercised by working so we didn't need to go to a health club to run on treadmills that operate on electricity. But she's right; we didn't have the green thing back then.

We drank from a fountain when we were thirsty instead of using a cup or a plastic bottle every time we had a drink of water. We refilled writing pens with ink instead of buying a new pen, and we replaced the razor blades in a razor instead of throwing away the whole razor just because the blade got dull. But we didn't have the green thing back then.

Back then, people took the streetcar or a bus and kids rode their bikes to school or walked instead of turning their moms into a 24-hour taxi service. We had one electrical outlet in a room, not an entire bank of sockets to power a dozen appliances. And we didn't need a computerized gadget to receive a signal beamed from satellites 2,000 miles out in space in order to find the nearest pizza joint.

But isn't it sad the we didn't have the green thing back then?

Gifts For Kids

Hasbro – has great toys and games for kids. Scrabble Alphabet Scoop (SRP: $19.99; Recommended Age: 5 and up) – is a first word game for players as young as five-years-old. This game will have younger wordsmiths out of the seats in a frenzied word-building race. On the count of three, players rush to scoop letters out of the bowl to spell one of the words on their playing card. Watch out for flies in the soup! If a player scoops a fly, they have to return their letters to the bowl and start over again. Simon Flash (SRP: $29.99; Recommended Age: 8 and up), is a new spin on the iconic 80's game that challenges players to conquer the colors by repeating the patterns of the four jewel-toned cubes as they light up in four different games of memory and logic.

Bop-It! XT (SRP: $24.99; Recommended Age: 8 and up) – is back and still calling the shots. Bop-It! XT adds three all-new commands, now challenging players to “Bop it,” “Pull it,” “Twist it,” “Flick It,” “Spin It” and “Shake It.” A head-to-head game play mode also adds an extra challenge to please competitive gamers. Connect 4 Launchers (SRP: $19.99; Recommended Age: 5 and up) – is a game of four-in-a-row takes on a fast-flying, frenetic pace in this new take on the classic Connect 4. Players engage in a head-to-head race as they aim, launch and connect their way to victory with a new, horizontal game unit to catch the launched checkers. Available at toy and game retailers.

Gifts For Him & Her

Privacy Screen Protectors for Tablets – are an added bonus for those have or are getting a Tablet this season. 3M privacy and protection products make for two great stocking stuffers for business travelers or techies looking to protect their new holiday gadgets. 3M Privacy Screen Protectors are the must-have accessory for the hottest gift of the holiday season – tablets and smartphones like the Apple iPad and iPhone 4S. Offer privacy protection for your gadget so that content and data displayed on screen is kept secure from nosy neighbors when out in public. Protect the device's display screen against dust, dirt and scratches. Start at $34 for tablets and $14.99 for smartphones. For more information visit www.3mscreenprotectors.com

Be-Classic Tees – are designed in Paris and manufactured in Turkey and feature five different

Taboo – is an hysterical game from Hasbro for adults. The game of forbidden words with new packaging comes with a new

With more than 1,000 words for players to try to guess, the “unspeakable” fun will keep the whole room laughing. This will be the life of the party (SRP: $29.99; Recommended Age: Adult) Available at toy and game retailers.

The Game of Things – is Hasbro's perfect for party guests. Have your guests telling all at the next party with The Game of Things. Players are presented with topics such as “Things a chimp thinks about when he sees you at the zoo...” or “Things that you'll say to get out of a speeding ticket...” and asked to write down. (SRP: $26.99; Recommended Age: Adult). Available at toy and game retailers.

Gifts For Family

Patch Products – is a Wisconsin-based manufacturer and marketer of family entertainment products that has terrific games and activities that make the perfect gifts for both kids and adults. This company agrees with Dr. Michele Borba's assessment that “Plugged in kids lose family time and empathy.” <http://www.micheleborba.com/blog/2011/04/10/is-a-plugged-in-world-reducing-childrens-empathy/> For adults, board games provide the face-to-face interaction that we need with our family and friends. For children, games teach crucial social and communication skills they can't get from digital media. These are three games we predict as top sellers this year:

And here are three new toys that will allow children to unplug for a few minutes each day:

“Unplug” children with games, puzzles and activities: <http://www.patchproducts.com/media/document/Unplug-ChildrenwithGamesPuzzlesActivities.pdf> For more info visit www.patchproducts.com

'Carnage' is funny, horrifying and revelatory

John C. Reilly, Jodie Foster, Christoph Waltz as and Kate Winslet star in Carnage. Photo Credit: Guy Ferrandis / Sony Pictures Classics

Review by Jean Lowerison

Despite the veneer of civilized behavior most of us humans affect, let's face it—deep down, we're all a bunch of Neanderthals. Maybe that's why watching sophisticated people act badly despite their pretensions is such fun.

In Yasmina Reza's play Carnage (adapted for the screen by Reza and director Roman Polanski), a playground squabble between two 11-year-old boys has resulted in tooth damage to one. Now Alan (Christoph Waltz) and Nancy Cowan (Kate Winslet), parents of the aggressor, meet at the home of Michael (John C. Reilly) and Penelope Longstreet (Jodie Foster) to discuss how to handle the incident.

A supremely commonplace issue, to be sure, and (one would think) easily resolved. But before our eyes, the comfortable Longstreet living room morphs from civilized drawing room to verbal sparring place to near boxing ring. The four players in this charade are a study unto themselves. Alan, attorney for a pharmaceutical company, calls his son Zachary a "thug" but is distracted by call after call on a cell phone seemingly attached to his ear—to his wife's escalating annoyance.

Winslet's Nancy, an investment banker, starts out as the peacemaker, but loses her cool in direct proportion to the number of phone calls Alan feels the need to take, her tongue becoming more caustic as the voice rises and the civilized exterior melts.

Down a notch on the social scale are the Longstreets. Reilly's Michael, a wholesaler in household goods, is fun to watch as a big bear of a man whose hastily painted-on manners begin to erode when Nancy discovers his fear of hamsters. Foster's Penelope, who writes about art and worries about starving children in Africa, suffers the biggest crash, her "evolved consciousness" devolving into anger, insults and physical violence.

Polanski has this quartet moving, circling, realigning in fascinating ways as alliances shift, scotch loosens tongues and tempers flare. The stage version of this (God of Carnage) was my favorite play of 2011. Though the original cast (Marcia Gay Harden, James Gandolfini, Hope Davis and Jeff Daniel) is hard to beat (and Harden is better than Foster), Polanski gets credit for not trying to open it up too much, but retaining the slightly claustrophobic feel of the original.

How much does it take to scrape off the veneer of civilized behavior and expose the raw self-interest underneath? Find out in this funny, horrifying, revelatory film.

Trees of Christmas

Evergreens are the favorite trees for Christmas. They stay green all through the harsh winter weather. Their green color, cones and berries remind us of new life and the coming spring. Their size is just right!

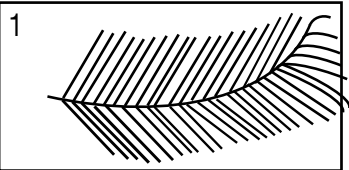

When it's hard to find an evergreen tree, people cleverly use other trees, bushes or even ...
Follow the dots to see what it is!

What Kind of Tree?

During the winter holidays, in our country's capital, Washington, D.C, a national Christmas tree is lighted to show hopes of joy and peace for the world. There are many kinds of evergreens from which to choose a tree. We look at the length and softness of the needles, and the shape and height of the tree. Which are your favorite needles? Read the clues to fill in the name of these greens:

P _ N _

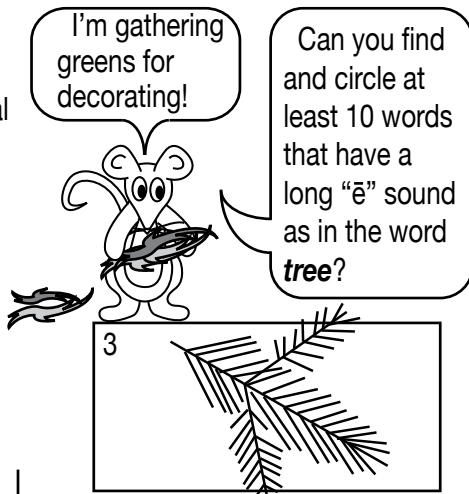

This is a favorite tree. It is bushy and stays green a long time after it is cut. It has blue-green needles about 1 1/2 to 3 inches long.

2

B _ _ _ E _ S P R _ _

Ouch! These short, sharp, thick needles hurt my hands. But their beautiful silver-blue to blue-green colors make this a pretty tree.

This tree has short dark-green to yellowish-green needles. They bend easily to the touch. This is easy to decorate and smells so good too!

I'm gathering greens for decorating!

Abandoned kittens want to go ho-ho home for the holidays families. In honor of Mevi and his good deed, the kittens have been named after the virtues of the holiday season – Faith, Hope, Joy, Love (or charity) and Peace.

“First, I was shocked,” said Mevi of finding five kittens in a ratty box at the end of his long driveway. “Second I thought how cute they were and third, I knew that if my daughter saw them, she would think Santa had come a little early and would want to keep them, so I took them to Helen Woodward Animal Center where I knew they would be able to find homes.”

Four of the kittens, three males and one female, are grey with big green eyes, while one lone female is black with green eyes and a white tuft of fur on its chin. They are sweet and playful and ready to find their forever homes this holiday season.

The kittens will be part of the Iams Home for the Holidays campaign which has found homes for 6 million pets since it began at Helen Woodward Animal Center in 1999. This year 3,800 animal organizations are participating worldwide and the goal is to find homes for 1.5 million pets this holiday season.

For more information or to adopt these kittens, visit www.animalcenter.org, call 858-756-4117 or stop by at 6461 El Apajo Road in Rancho Santa Fe.

Just two days before Thanksgiving, John Mevi awoke to find five hungry, flea ridden kittens abandoned in a urine soaked box in his yard in Lakeside. Mevi who had adopted pets from Helen Woodward Animal Center in the past, called the Center for help. The kittens, who are now about 10 weeks old, have recovered from their ordeal and are ready to find their forever

Mevi doesn't hold it against the people who abandoned the kittens, “In this economy, people just don't know what to do. I am glad they left the kittens at my house and we were able to do the right thing.”
