Fifty years of beauty, talent and community service was celebrated on March 3 at the Miss Lakeside Scholarship and Teen Miss Lakeside Pageants held at the Lakeside Community Center for a nearly-standing room only event. Norah Kanine, Miss Lakeside 2004, served as the Mistress of Ceremonies.

Kanine introduced local dignitaries and representatives from the offices of Duncan

Hunter, Senator Joel Anderson, Assemblyman Brian Jones and Lakeside Chamber of Commerce who presented proclamations acknowledging the community service of the pageant. She then introduced nine Miss Lakeside and 16 Teen Miss Lakeside contestants. During the evening gown portion of the program, each contestant gave a presentation of Lakeside's history.

The top five finalists in each division was announced, then answered a question on stage. After the judges made their final decisions; these were the Lakeside representatives: Miss Lakeside - Erica Cordes; Teen Miss Lakeside - Paige Lott; First runner up to Miss Lakeside - Rebecca Sullivan; second runner up - Celeste Frandsen; First runner up Teen Miss Lakeside - Francesca Barnes; and second runner up - Cece Solivan.

2011 Pageant winners Miss Lakeside Victoria Riingen and Teen Miss Lakeside Emily Archuletta spoke of the amazing year they experienced and welcomed the new Miss Lakeside and Teen Miss Lakeside for 2012.

"Make every moment last," Riingen said.

"Enjoy it, the year flies fast," Archuletta added.

Following the show, each winner was asked what they would do the next morning when they woke up as Miss Lakeside and Teen Miss Lakeside. Miss Lakeside Erica Cordes said she was so excited she would pinch herself when she woke up to make sure it had really happened. "I'm so excited to be Miss Lakeside. I'm ready to run!" Cordes said.

Teen Miss Lakeside Paige Lott, said "I probably won't sleep I'm so excited. In the morning I'm going to Cups and Cones (her sponsor). I'm ready to start running!"

Inspiration

Keeping close tabs on my investments

by Rev. James L. Snyder

I find it quite amusing that some of the brightest and richest people in our country do not seem to have a clue as to what they are doing. Most do not have the common sense that God gave to a cat-erpillar. As Abraham Lincoln used to say, common sense is not as common as it used to be. Amen, to that one.

The financial experts are telling us that we need to buy gold or silver to safeguard our investments. I am way ahead of the game. Several years ago, I got a gold tooth. Fortunately, for me, I got it before the financial crisis in our country. I cannot tell you what a remarkable feeling it is to walk around with your fortune in your mouth.

I hear about all of the investment schemes that are supposed to make me rich. I have a sneaking suspicion that the only people getting rich are those with the investment schemes. They want us to buy stocks and bonds and futures. I never heard of anything so silly in all my life.

What would I do with stocks, bonds and futures, whatever in the world they are, in my portfolio. I have no idea what a portfolio is but I am certain it has something to do with these investment schemes. I just do not want anybody folioing around with my port, thank you very much, sir.

If I got my facts right, and I looked it up in the dictionary, port has something to do with wine. Why would I want to put a bottle of port into my folio and pretend it is some kind of an investment?

I really have to give it to these investment schemers. They really know how to pull the wool over our eyes. I want to go on record as saying that they are not pulling any wool over my eyes. Just leave my wool alone. If I want my wool pulled, it certainly will not be over my eyes, I will tell you that right here. This wool pulling sounds more like sheep fleecing to me, and I want nothing to do with it.

For me I have discovered a way of safeguarding my wealth. My basic financial philosophy is simply spend less than I make. I know that is a revolutionary concept in today's world, but it has stood me in good stead for many a year.

We live in a culture that has absolutely no spending control whatsoever. This culture does not know the relationship between saving money and spending money.

For example. The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage came home the other day and in a very exuberant tone told me how much she saved at the grocery store. "I saved $119.23 today at the grocery store. Isn't that terrific?"

Being the humble, demure sort of guy that I am, I did not ask her a question that was buzzing around my head at the time. The question was, how much did it cost me to save you that much money?

Having a happy home is more important to me than exploring truth at its core. Especially in this area.

My financial strategy down through the years has been a very regular and wise investment plan. I am not quite sure how I came up with this marvelous plan, but one day it just hit me. Ever since that time, I have been using my financial investment plan.

My investment plan only cost me $19.79 back in the year of our Lord 1986. Since that time, it has faithfully served me and I have no complaints. I have through the years thought about upgrading my investment plan, but then what would the purpose be?

Back in 1986, I saw in the men's department of the JCPenney store in our community a very nicely tailored navy blue and gold striped gentleman's vest. It immediately caught my attention and as I examined it, I noticed that inside this vest was a variety of pockets. I looked at them and that is when it hit me.

Down through the years I have often wondered why somebody else did not come up with this idea. I guess I am just a genius.

I bought the vest and brought it home and hung it in my closet after I first labeled each of the inside pockets. There was a pocket for dollar bills, one for five-dollar bills, one for ten-dollar bills and one that I do not use as often for $20 bills. Every time I have a little bit of change left over I go to my closet turned to my vest and invest that money where nobody can find it.

My investment plan is more or less an in and out exchange program. When I have a need, I sometimes divest some money. Through the years, it has been a great blessing in my investment plan and is something that I am rather proud of.

Solomon put it in great perspective concerning wealth when he said, "Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me: lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the LORD? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain" (Proverbs 30:8-9 KJV).

My investment plan is well buttoned up for future security.

Dear Dr. Luauna

I am a movie buff and a Christian. I have friends at church who seem legalistic about watching movies; we are all adults, what is the big deal anyway? Signed, Movie Buff

Dear Movie Buff,

As I read your question, I thought of today's movies and the Hollywood machine which is producing all of them. As I measure the values of Hollywood against Biblical principles the answer seems obvious. Yes, it is a big deal for Christians to compromise in the movies they watch. Movies infiltrate our society at every level, shaping and molding our culture, including our children to compromise with sin.

The mind is the battlefield, as believers we must guard our minds; Matthew 15:19, "For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies. These are the things which defile a man..." These are common themes made into movies. Why do Christians want to finance Hollywood's vision to overthrow innocence for our children, to support sexual immorality and things which are in direct contrast to the Word of God?

Christians can insist that watching the movie does not affect them that, they are free to watch them as adults and anyone who does not agree is legalistic. Those who take a righteous stand are not legalistic. The Bible is filled with believers who were challenged by their culture, their fleshly desires and faced with decisions to follow Jesus in everyday life. Today, we are challenged on all sides, including with Hollywood movies. I cannot avoid the truth in scripture which declares, there are consequences for believers who disobey God's commandments.

Believers in Christ should desire to sacrifice anything which is part of the world to live right and please the Lord in all things. Please read the book of Psalms 1, the Bible is proof that Christians must be careful with what they set before their eyes. We are given the choices every moment of every day to choose righteousness, the abundant life of Christ. I hope you will make the right choice, I invite you join us for any of our church services.

EQUAL ACCESS TO HOUSING IN HUD PROGRAMS REGARDLESS OF SEXUAL ORIENTATION

HUD recently released a new rule that prohibits discrimination in HUD funded programs based upon sexual orientation, gender identity, or marital status. Through this final rule, HUD implements policy to ensure that its core programs are open to all eligible individuals and families regardless of sexual orientation, gender identity or marital status. This rule follows a January 24, 2011, proposed rule, which noted evidence suggesting that lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender (LGBT) individuals and families are being arbitrarily excluded from housing opportunities in the private sector. Such information was of special concern to HUD, which, as the Nation's housing agency, has the unique charge to promote the federal goal of providing decent housing and a suitable living environment for all. It is important not only that HUD ensure that its own programs do not involve discrimination against any individual or family otherwise eligible for HUD-assisted or insured housing, but that its policies and programs serve as models for equal housing opportunity.

To promote equal access to HUD's housing programs without regard to sexual orientation or gender identity, in the January 2011 rule, HUD proposed to prohibit inquiries regarding sexual orientation or gender identity. As proposed, the prohibition precludes owners and operators of HUD-assisted housing or housing whose financing is insured by HUD from inquiring about the sexual orientation or gender identity of an applicant for, or occupant of, the dwelling, whether renter or owner occupied. In the January 2011 rule, HUD proposed to institute this policy in its rental assistance and homeownership programs, which include HUD's Federal Housing Administration (FHA) mortgage insurance programs,

The new rule which announced in early February 2012, does not create a new federal class of protection under the Fair Housing Act and enforcement of the rule will be accomplished through the individual programs. Violations of this rule will be handled in the same manner that violations of other program requirements are handled. Ultimately, this could mean sanction, suspension, debarment, or the seeking of civil penalties against those individuals or entities who deny individuals and families access to HUD programs because of their gender identity or sexual orientation.

However, under the Fair Housing Act, discrimination based upon gender or gender stereotyping is illegal. Gender stereotypes are simplistic generalizations about the gender attributes, differences, and roles of individuals and/or groups. If a landlord denies housing to an individual based upon application of a gender stereotype then that is considered gender discrimination and is illegal under the Fair Housing Act.

If you feel you have been discriminated against or illegally been denied a housing dwelling, please contact your fair housing services provider and ask to speak to a Fair Housing Counselor immediately.

Jose Cervantes is a Fair Housing Counselor with CSA San Diego County and can be reached at (619) 444-5700.

For Health's Sake

Treating heart disease without drugs or surgery

FDA-cleared treatment gently squeezes patient's legs to open narrowed arteries and create new blood pathways to the heart - 35 one-hour sessions enable most individuals diagnosed with angina and heart failure to live active, healthy and pain-free lives.

A painless, non-invasive medical procedure for treating heart disease called EECF therapy (Enhanced External Counter-Pulsation) has been cleared by the FDA and is now being used on heart patients in leading hospitals and medical centers around the country including the Mayo Clinic, Duke University Medical Center, Cleveland Clinic, University of California at San Diego, University of Pittsburgh Medical Center and the Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia.

Some researchers and physicians familiar with the therapy and the physiological benefits the therapy has on the patient's circulatory system say that EECF therapy could eventually replace most of the drugs and invasive surgical procedures currently used to treat cardiovascular disease.

The painless treatment, done on an outpatient basis, has the patient recline on a padded table while three sets of inflatable cuffs are wrapped around his calves, thighs and buttocks. Triggered by a computer program wired to ECG sensors monitoring the patient's heartbeat, the cuffs are inflated with air during the heart's resting phase (diastole), gently squeezing the lower body and pumping extra blood throughout the body, especially to the heart and coronary arteries. The cuffs are deflated during the heart's pumping phase (systole), thereby significantly reducing the heart's workload.

"After having been applied successfully to several thousand patients, EECF treatment had been cleared by the FDA for the treatment of stable and unstable angina, cardiogenic shock, congestive heart failure and acute myocardial infarction (heart attack)," says Dr. Ozlem Soran, Associate Professor of Medicine and Epidemiology at the Cardiovascular Institute of the University of Pittsburgh.

"The clinical safety and efficacy of EECF therapy has been well documented in hundreds of peer-reviewed publications, with findings consistently showing a success rate of 75 to 80 percent."

Dr. Soran says that EECF therapy benefits the patient's cardiovascular health by forcing open collateral arteries in the patient's body and heart, circumventing blocked arteries and creating new pathways for blood to reach the heart as well as other organs and tissues.

EECF creates additional blood flow through the arteries, which stimulates the endothelial cells lining the vessels, improving arterial health and actually reversing arterial inflammation, constriction and hardening of the arteries associated with cardiovascular disease.

Dr. Soran says EECF is often prescribed by cardiologists whose patients have undergone invasive procedures, such as stenting and coronary bypass but still suffer from chest pains and other angina symptoms and other symptoms of heart failure.

"EECF can relieve pain and return mobility to patients who are ineligible to receive additional invasive procedures, but we feel that EECF can be an effective first option for millions suffering from certain types of coronary artery disease prior to any other interventional procedures," she says.

Some of the proven benefits of EECF therapy include:

- EECF is safe — no side effects, no risk of complications
- EECF requires no preparation or recovery time
- EECF works — over 160 peer-reviewed publications all document a high percentage of reducing/eliminating chest pain, shortness of breath, fatigue, improvement of ability
- EECF provides lasting benefits— positive effects last for years
- EECF is painless and non-invasive -- you can read during the 1-hour treatments
- EECF is covered by Medicare and private insurers
- EECF is right for virtually everyone -- any age, any size, any physical condition

Laughter is the Best Medicine

Don't mess with the elderly

An elderly lady did her shopping and, upon returning to her car, found four males in the act of leaving with her car. She dropped her shopping bags and drew her handgun, proceeding to scream at them at the top of her voice, "I have a gun and I know how to use it!"

Get out of the car you dirty rotten scoundrels!"

The four men didn't wait for a second invitation but got out and ran like mad, whereupon the lady, somewhat shaken, proceeded to load her shopping bags into the back of the car and got into the driver's seat.

She was so shaken that she could not get her key into the ignition. She tried and tried and then it dawned on her why. A few minutes later she found her own car parked four or five spaces farther down. She loaded her bags into her car and drove to the police station.

The sergeant to whom she told the story nearly tore himself in two with laughter and pointed to the other end of the counter, where four pale white males were reporting a car jacking by a mad elderly woman described as white, less than 5' tall, glasses, and curly white hair carrying a large handgun.

No charges were filed!

• EECF is inexpensive -- a full battery of 35 treatments costs approximately $6,000

"More than 66 billion dollars are spent annually on heart disease treatments. That amount could be reduced by two-thirds if EECF was used on a wider scale," Dr. Soran says. "The clinical studies show that EECF also reduces the number of emergency room visits and hospitalizations, which in turn reduces the health care costs."

For those wanting more information about EECF therapy, Dr. Soran suggests the book "Heal Your Heart with EECF" by Dr. Debra Braverman. EECF patient and physician testimonials are available at www.eecf.com.

Alpine Creek Town Center to welcome Fresh & Easy Neighborhood Market

Westcore Properties, owner and property manager of Alpine Creek Town Center, announces that Fresh & Easy Neighborhood Market will soon join its roster of quality tenants at Alpine Creek Town Center in the space previously occupied by Daniel's Market.

Fresh & Easy signed a 10-year lease for 22,015 square feet of retail space at Alpine Creek Town Center. Financial terms were not disclosed.

"We're excited to have Fresh & Easy on board," said Hack Adams, senior vice president of leasing for Westcore Properties.

"Fresh & Easy will become a staple for the Alpine community as residents seek wholesome, healthy food for their families. The company's commitment to providing good food at a cost savings, while also giving back to each community it serves, was important to Westcore Properties as we continue to look for ways to support Alpine with a well-rounded tenant mix."

Fresh & Easy offers a wide range of its own brand of products including freshly prepared meals with no artificial colors, flavors, high-fructose corn syrup and no added trans fats. The company's stores are designed with energy efficiency in mind in order to pass along cost benefits to customers.

According to Adams, Fresh & Easy plans to open in August 2012 and will begin making improvements to the space in mid-February.

Fresh & Easy is a community champion, pledging $1,000 to a neighborhood charitable group with each new store opening. Nominations for the recipient group are accepted in the weeks leading up to the store's grand opening. Alpine residents can make recommendations by visiting www.freshandeasy.com/nominategroup.aspx. The company operates stores in California, Arizona and Nevada.

Westcore Properties, which acquired Alpine Creek Town Center in 2004, completely renovated and redesigned Alpine Creek Town Center through a five-year effort which was completed in 2009. Additional tenants of Alpine Creek Town Center, located at 1347 Tavern Rd., include Vita Luna Boutique, Studio B Salon, West Coast Rideshop, Ace Hardware, CVS Pharmacy, Ahi Sushi, La Carreta, Mediterraneo, the soon-to-open Paparazzi's Restaurant and much more. 'A City is Born: The Incorporation of La Mesa'

The La Mesa Historical Society continues its popular History Roundtable Series for the City's Centennial year with a presentation on the efforts to establish the City of La Mesa one hundred years ago. Presentation will be held Saturday, March 17, 10 a.m. at Grossmont Healthcare District Auditorium, 9001 Wakarusa Drive, La Mesa 91942 (Next to Briercrest Park).

The speaker is La Mesa resident, historian, Society Vice-President, and regular roundtable contributor James D. Newland, M.A. Jim is the supervising historian, and a manager, with California State Parks. He is also a City Centennial Committee member and author of Images of America: La Mesa (2010). (Books will be available for purchase at the event).

Mr. Newland has spent much of the last year researching the people, issues and processes that led the small rural community of some 700 residents to incorporate into the City of La Mesa in February 1912.

The talk will feature a detailed look at La Mesa Springs of 1911-1912: the protagonists of the incorporation movement; the smaller, but organized and surprisingly influential opposition; and the local and regional trends and issues that pushed the community to vote for incorporation.

Bonny's Café favored for breakfast, lunch and friendliness

by Cynthia Robertson

There are some places that when it comes time for breakfast or lunch there's no second-guessing where to go. Bonny's Café in El Cajon is one. The café has remained a favorite among locals for nearly two decades. This year the café celebrates 18 years in business.

For most of the mornings owner Bonny Atherton does a little bit of everything. "I come in around 9 a.m., and I do whatever needs to be done," she said. "I'll help the girls with busing tables, handling the cash, or greeting and seating customers."

Atherton believes that Bonny's Café has stayed in business, not just for the tummy-satisfying entrees, but for the heartfelt chats that she has with the customers. "Of all the things I do here, I enjoy talking with the customers the most," she said. "Some of them have been coming here for years. We have a lot of fun here."

Atherton got a head-start in the restaurant business when she worked as a waitress in a restaurant in Los Angeles. "That's where I met my husband," she said. "He was working there as the manager."

After they were married, they bought and worked together at several restaurants. Bonny's was successful. When her husband passed away in 1997, Atherton became the sole owner.

On this day Atherton walks over to talk with some of the people eating lunch. She stops at the table where Jerry Wilson is drinking his coffee. "I've been coming here as long as I can remember," he said.

Seated at a table near the window are Nita Baranowski and Lauren Krekelberg. "This is where I know to come if I want to have a hamburger. But today it was a ladies' lunch," Krekelberg said digging into her Chicken Cranberry Salad.

Customers Nick Millican and John Knight like the food but also checking out the décor on the walls. Atherton enjoys doing all the decorating. "See that 'I Like Ike' poster hanging above the counter? I found that in Las Vegas, just after the café first opened," she said.

Part of her success Atherton said is her staff. She recently hired a new chef. "Salvador is the best," she said. "He has made some incredible new additions to the menu like the Fish and Chips, Chile Relleno, Greek Feta Salad and Chicken Cranberry Salad. I love them all."

Server Debbie Isom has worked as a server for 12 years and has her idea why the café has done so well for almost two decades. "It has a hometown feel," she said. "It's warm and genuine here."

Atherton doesn't mind coming to work at her restaurant. "This has always been my life," she said. "It's given me a reason and a purpose to get up in the morning."

Bonny's Café has live entertainment on the first Saturday of each month featuring Johnny Long singing and playing guitar.

Bonny's Café, 596 Broadway, open daily, 7 a.m. to 2 p.m., (619) 579-3464.

The El Cajon Brewing Company on the corner of Main and Magnolia in El Cajon is open and ready to serve customers. Featuring a full customized menu, a working brewery and three beautifully designed rooms for customers, this brewpub is a treat to visit.

Brothers Stephan Meadows – President and CEO – and David Meadows – Vice President and Brewhouse Technologist are co-owners of the business. David Meadows and his wife Jenny started Sigtunabryggshus (Sigtuna Brewhouse), a brewery in Stockholm Sweden in 2005.

Meadows has worked as a Technical Consultant and Master Brewer and earned many awards and recognitions for his beers. He started at home in Sweden, then went into commercial brewing, and helped start a home brewing association. He spent two years at a university learning his craft to become a Master Brewer. David and Jenny built the Grand Canyon Brewery Company, his first brewing company near the Grand Canyon in Arizona.

“My brother and I have talked about this idea since the 1980s, and now it’s even better because the brewing technology is so advanced,” Meadows said. “So I handle the brewing aspects of the business and Stephan and I have experience as chefs. He handles the kitchen, the food and we both plan the menu.”

The menu is impressive featuring sandwiches such as a BBQ Pulled Pork – which was very tasty with one of our diners – Rueben, Philly Style Cheese Steak – extremely pleasing to another in our group who praised the flavorful beef – Beer Bratwurst and more. Signature Burgers & Dogs also ranked high among diners I interviewed. One regular customer praised the Stuffed Burger that offers a choice of stuffing, and a table patron nearby really enjoyed the Bacon Wrapped Hot Dog. The huge, crispy, tasty onion rings were another of my favorites.

Also on the menu are soups, salads and entrées of steaks, prime rib, pork ribs, meatloaf and chicken. Presentation is perfected on every plate. Pizza lovers can watch Chef Mario hand toss the pizza dough, created by David Meadows with a touch of barley. Pizzas start at $5.95.

“Pizza and beer are the ultimate marriage in a pub,” Meadows said. “You can pair beer with anything, and the trend is going towards a more high-end menu.”

The servers at the brewery are energetic, happy, friendly and beer savvy, and the prices are very competitive.

The décor of the Brewing Company is eye-catching thanks to the brothers’ ingenuity, helped by the fact that Stephan is also a general contractor. A stunning service pass-through from the kitchen looks like marble but is a beautiful petrified wood called Rain Forest. Be sure to check it out. The cherry-wood looking tables and chairs hint of elegance, yet the historical photos of El Cajon and other nice décor touches make the brewpub comfortable for everyone.

“We wanted to mix earth and rock with the color tones of beer; barley-yellow, hops-green; the brown tones for wood and rock,” said David Meadows

Beer is a lot about the water chemistry which Meadows perfects in their IPA beer, one of the most popular. Other beers include Shady Lane Pale Ale, Firestone Double Jack, Sierra Nevada Bigfoot and more. For those who don’t know which beer they want to try, they can choose the beer taster flight of four beers or ask for a taste of a particular beer.

The El Cajon Brewing Company is still in its infancy with more plans to come including live entertainment, beer history courses, beer events, dinner pairings and other events.

“I have to pinch myself everyday to be doing what I’ve wanted to do,” Meadows said.

'John Carter' – a wow of a film

Review by James Colt Harrison

Edgar Rice Burroughs wrote about his jungle hero Tarzan for many years. Tarzan has lasted for a century as a fictional hero and no end is in sight. When Burroughs wrote A Princess of Mars, it was originally published as Under the Moons of Mars in 1912. Burroughs used a pseudonym because he was afraid he would be ridiculed for writing a science fiction genre story. The series of newspaper episodes became highly popular and were tagged "the Barsoom series," after the name of Mars in the stories.

A century has since passed, but Hollywood has discovered the stories once again unearthing the exciting adventure series to turn it into the rousing, spectacular film John Carter, a nod to the hero in the Burroughs episodes. Pulling the series together into one stupendously enjoyable film was the desire and work of director Andrew Stanton. With a little help from Walt Disney Pictures and $250 mil in cash, the film has been realized as a dream come true for Stanton. It may have started out as a big boys' toy, but it has been fashioned into an audience pleaser extraordinaire.

The film begins during the Civil War. So, the audience is probably thinking at first that this is a horse opera. Good enough. There are battle scenes with horses falling and soldiers shooting and shouting. It's everything one would expect in a Western set in Virginia. There are wonderful characters, one such being Bryan Cranston (TV's Mad Men) as Colonel Powell, who comes into conflict with the rambunctious former American Civil War Confederate Army Captain John Carter (Taylor Kitsch). He's a handful, and nobody is going to shackle him to a post.

Carter's dilemma of fighting with the colonel is solved suddenly when BAM! he's transported to Mars. It is never explained how or why this happened. Maybe I missed it. But there he is, lying in the sands of the Red Planet (really Utah, if you want to know). Mysteriously, it seems to have the same oxygen atmosphere as has Earth. So, Carter is not gasping for air nor wearing a glass fish bowl globe over his noggin like in a 1950s film.

Apparently there is a purpose for Carter's visit to Mars. The planet is dying from lack of water and its rapidly depleting atmosphere. But the worst thing is the various nations are warring against each other instead of joining together to save themselves and the planet. Carter hooks up with the ungainly tribe of four-armed giants whose leader is Tars Tarkas, voiced by Willem Dafoe. Luckily, Carter meets a human-bodied Princess named Dejah Thoris (was her mother Dejah Voo?), played by Lynn Collins (X-Men Origins: Wolverine) who reminded me of all those Maria Montez 1940s movies with a damsel in distress in exotic settings.

Naturally, the real stars of the film are the special effects. Lumbering animals pound across the dusty plains, enormous flying fighting machines dominate the skies, strange humanoids with four arms fight and have their limbs torn off, and John Carter is in the middle of all this action and excitement trying to defend the planet. It's Hollywood magic at its best and most imaginative. It's some of the best CGI ever seen, and it is all in spectacular IMAX 3D. It's a wow of a film and most of it has never before been seen in such magnitude.

Some drivers may wonder why Toyota made another hybrid Prius. They already have the lift back, Prius V (small station wagon) so to complete the line up with a true city car the Prius C (hence the name) arrived.

This vehicle averages 53 MPG open road and 46 in the city equaling a combined fuel estimate of 50 MPG combined city/freeway. How did they do it? They downsized the car by 19.1 inches, removed 543 pounds of unneeded weight, shortened the wheel base by six inches and pushed all four tires out as far as they could. They eliminated all the drive belts, added electric power steering, and the electric motor was downsized along with the gas engine.

All this downsizing has not affected the handling of the Prius C. It handles the road like a full-sized car, plus the car holds four friends along with the driver. The Prius C is 157.3 inches long, 66.7 inches wide, 56.9 inches of overall height and has a wheel base of 100.4 inches. There's 38.6 inches of head room up front and 37 in the rear. Leg-room is good, 41.7 inches up front and 35 in the rear, with good shoulder room – 52.3 inches up front and 51.7 in the rear. The cargo space has 17.1 cubic feet. The seats split and fold down for added storage. The Prius C weighs in at 2,500 lbs and has a 9.5 gallon fuel tank.

An inside look at the 2012 Prius C.

The Prius comes in four levels starting at $18,950 for the base level, level two is $19,900, level three starts at $21,635 and the top of the line level four starts at $23,230. The car has all the comforts of a well-equipped sedan but for little money and with great fuel mileage.

The Prius C is aimed at the younger generation that is looking for a smaller, sleeker car with today's technology in the sound system and operations with connectivity. I think it's a car for anyone who travels more than 10 miles to work daily, or for a student trying to get through college.

I drove it this car and loved it. I may even put one in my driveway as $5 a gallon is just around the corner – best to be prepared. The Prius C will hit showrooms in March. For anyone whose lifestyle is being cramped by the gas prices check out the Prius C.

Aztecs co-champions of the MWC

by Chuck Karaszia

After an arduous 98-92 overtime victory against TCU last weekend, the #21 nationally ranked San Diego State Aztecs finish the regular season co-champs of the Mountain West Conference, sharing the title with the New Mexico Lobos.

"Now we are co-conference champions, and that sounds good," said Aztecs Head Coach Steve Fisher.

In a hard fought contest against TCU Saturday, SDSU (24-6, 10-4) squandered numerous leads, and at one point surrendered an 18-point lead with the game tied at 77. Also in the last minutes of crunch time the game was tied twice more. The last one came when game MVP Tim Shelton made a free throw at the end of regulation that tied the game at 83 apiece, sending it into overtime. "I've got the biggest smile on my face. I'm so proud of everybody right now," Shelton said.

"I think it was fitting that Tim Shelton would be the guy that made the play to push it into overtime. It was great to see him make the play," Fisher said.

Explaining the mindset of the Aztecs in the huddle before the extended overtime period Shelton remarked, "In the huddle we decided we were not going to lose today. We gutted it out."

A lot of fouls were called at both ends of the court. The speedy TCU Horned Frogs made 29-of-70 shots from the floor, were 10-of-26 from the three-point arc, made 24-of-34 free throws, with 34 boards, 11 assists, and committed nine turnovers. Shooting 49 percent from the field (32-of-65), State made 78 percent of their free throws (28-of-38), a major key to the win. The Aztecs out rebounded their opponent 47-34, had 16 assists, six steals, and blocked one shot.

For the Aztecs, Jamaal Franklin led all scorers with a career high of 35 points. Getting back in the groove was senior forward Chase Tapley (18 points), Xavier Thames and James Rahon finished with 16 and 12 points respectively.

"Our kids earned what they got this year and that is absolutely fantastic," said Fisher about his teams' co-championship victory. "They (TCU) repeated what they did to Vegas and New Mexico when it was close to building a big lead. They played like warriors and made some incredibly hard three's to get themselves back in the game. It was a wonderful victory for us without a shadow of a doubt."

Up next, the Mountain West Conference Tournament quarterfinal when number one seed SDSU play Boise State Thursday at the Thomas and Mack Center in Las Vegas, NV.

PET OF THE WEEK

Moses is a 5 year old neutered male miniature Poodle mix. Moses' owners were no longer able to keep him so now he needs to find a new, loving forever home. Moses will make a great little housedog and companion. He's very housebroken and knows some commands such as sit, lay, stay, and come. Moses enjoys going for walks and playing fetch. Moses would prefer living in an adult household. With a proper introduction he should do just fine with other animals, but he would be perfectly content being the only dog. Please consider adopting Moses, he really will be a great new friend. Adoption fee $80 includes vaccines and microchip ID#9044
