Mother Goose Parade — not just a parade, it's an event

by Diana Saenger

For 65 years a big white goose has walked the streets of El Cajon creating wonder in children's eyes and swelling hearts with pride as the annual Mother Goose Parade takes place every November. The 66th Annual Mother Goose Parade's theme is "A Centennial Celebration." The parade takes place November 18, 2012.

The idea for the parade came from El Cajon businessman Thomas Wigton who thought the El Cajon business community should offer some kind of a special Christmas gift to children. Since everyone loves a parade, why not a Christmas present and he hit on the idea of a parade. Everybody loves the merriment and joy that comes with a parade.

Mother Goose Parade ...

The community quickly rallied together with donations, sponsors and inviting people and entrants from every walk of life. By the third year the parade drew 100,000 spectators. The city had a hit on their hands so in 1950, the non-profit Mother Goose Parade Association was formed, and parade Queen and Court were established.

"We always keep the original thought Thomas had in mind when he created this parade that's it's for the children," said Debbie Norman, President of the Mother Goose Parade Association. "It's the best event that's free and totally entertaining for everyone over most of the country."

Attracting and handling crowds of 300-400,000 people is no easy task. The Parade board of directors, all volunteers, work all year long in planning this huge event. This year is a special milestone as the City of El Cajon celebrates its 100th anniversary.

"We're going to do the parade in chapters by decades from 1912 to 2012, like the 1950s, 60s, etc.," said Patti Tuttle-Shryock, Past President and current Board Member. "We have prominent people assigned to each chapter and of course all the other wonderful things people enjoy about the parade."

Putting on such a large event not only requires a lot of hands but also many dollars. In addition to generous donations and sponsorships from individuals to businesses and groups, the Parade Association holds fundraisers throughout the year. This Saturday is the Mother Goose 5th Annual Royal Tea Party fundraiser at the Elks Lodge in El Cajon beginning at 10:30 a.m. and including a Tea and fashion show. Throughout the year restaurants allow Goose fundraisers where a portion of the funds go to the Parade Association. There's also a golf tournament, 5-K run, Goose Roast and other events.

Serving as The Queen and her Court is a long committee with the girls raising money and appearing at community events throughout the year as ambassadors. "This is great training for the girls," Tuttle-Shryock said. "We have classes for the girls to teach them etiquette, how to speak in public and general things like that. It's a great discipline for them and enjoyable to learn about and serve their community."

Something new this year is the creation of a junior board. "We thought it would be a great idea to establish a junior board to get involved at events and help us with ideas about what kids really are into these days," Norman said. "Again, it's another way we can instill good communication skills and a sense of pride in our future generation."

So what will be in this year's parade? Many of the popular entries that people look forward to every year including motorized floats, clowns, marching bands, drill units, equestrians, military units including WWII entries, special characters, surprising guests, performing artists, celebrities, giant helium balloons, specialty vehicles, and of course, Santa Claus. More specific details will be revealed soon.

Celebrities have always been a big draw to the parade and The Goose has attracted some big names over its history including: Chris Knight, Dean Cane, Erik Estrada, Glen Ford, Jerry Mathers, John Schneider, Tori Spelling, Barry Sullivan, Robert Wagner, Natalie Wood and more. The Goose's scouts are busy lining up new and exciting talent to compliment this year's parade.

With only a few months left, board members of the Mother Goose Parade Association can use all the help they can get. Anyone who wants to volunteer in any capacity; youth's interested in joining the junior board, possible parade entrants or possible vendors for the Goose Village should

Mother Goose board members meet twice a month to plan the November Mother Goose Parade. 17th Annual Wings Over Gillespie takes off with marine aviation centennial

by Cynthia Robertson

The 17th Annual Wings Over Gillespie air show will celebrate the Marine Corps Aviation Centennial with the howl of airplane engines from World War II drawing all eyes to the sky. The air show runs June 2 - 3, 2012, with gates at Gillespie Field in El Cajon opening at 9 a.m.

Air Group One, the San Diego branch of Commemorative Air Force (CAF), is proud to present the return of the famous WWII B-17 "Sentimental Journey" and B-25 "Made in the Shade" bombers.

Other planes to watch include the F4F Wildcat, F6F Hellcat, F8F Bearcat, and TBF Avenger along with many other "Flying Museums." Back by popular demand is the Northrop N9M Flying Wing. Designed in the 40s, the N9M is deceptively modern-looking.

"It just goes to show how advanced the building of planes was even back then," said Rich

Kenney, marketing director of Ag-1.

At the centennial celebration of Marine Corps aviation, air show spectators will have a chance to step into USN and USMC helicopters and gaze at rare aircraft on display. The Navy Seals and special military will perform, and there will be static displays of special military and law enforcement vehicles and equipment.

The San Diego Military History Association (SDMHA) will be in full World War II regalia, with Rosie the Riveter showing and telling her story of women entering the military work force.

"The landscape of San Diego was completely different back in the 40s," said Tim Jordan, a member of the SDMHA. "We have to educate the public about this incredible piece of history."

According to John Telles, chairman of Air Group One, the goals of the CAF are to commemorate, educate and motivate.

The air show will commemorate the 70th Anniversary of the Battle of Midway, the 70th Anniversary of Gillespie Field and the Centennial of Marine Corps Aviation plus the 100th Anniversary of El Cajon. Through the memories of veterans and the sights and sound of roaring piston engines, audiences will be able to learn what it was like when San Diego was home to thousands of aerial warriors training to fly for our national defense.

Friday, June 1, is a free Education Day with a community youth focus on Aviation Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (A-STEM). There is no scheduled air show flying on Education Day.

The Air Show is a unique family vacation day event with a special Kids Zone area. Amusements, rides, entertainers, games and prizes, education displays, and a great variety of food and beverages will be abundant for the entire weekend. The air show will also feature a beer festival.

For tickets and more information, go to www.ag1caf.org.

Tuskegee Airmen

Senator Joel Anderson has introduced Senate Concurrent Resolution 90 to honor and commemorate the service and sacrifices of the Tuskegee Airmen. Anderson honors Tuskegee Airmen with a memorial highway resolution. The vision behind the resolution came from former CM Sgt (Retired) and Rancho Bernardo resident Oscar D Teel, who presented the idea to Senator Anderson.

Local San Diego Tuskegee Airmen Claude A. Rowe said "We were just fighting for our country. We were fighting for our dreams and were willing to give our lives for it. Our Country has come a long, and we are honored and grateful to receive this recognition."

The dedicated section of highway is near Marine Corps Air Station (MCAS), Miramar, and will designate interstate 15, between Miramar Rd and Mercy Rd as "Tuskegee Airmen Highway."

Healthcare Heroes honored

Two volunteer physicians, two members of a community service club and a hospice volunteer were among this year's recipients of a 2012 Healthcare Hero award from the Grossmont Healthcare District (GHD).

Now in its sixth year, GHD's Healthcare Hero awards program recognizes and rewards front-line volunteers, caregivers and other individuals who help advance the delivery of health care and improve the quality of life for East County residents, said Debbie McElravy, GHD 2011 board president. Recipients of a 2012 Healthcare Hero Award included:

- Harry Bair of La Mesa began a "Vet-to-Vet" program that honors veterans under San Diego Hospice care. In a ceremony often witnessed by out-of-town family members, Bair, a Korean War veteran, will personally present the veteran with a special commemorative pin and a printed statement that thanks them for their service. The 80-year-old retired insurance agent also has walked dogs and delivered pet food to hospice patients unable to care for their four-legged family members. He also has served as a photographer and has accompanied Santa on personal visits to the homes of terminally ill children.

- Dr. Robert Eisenberg is a practicing urologist with Urology Specialty Associates in La Mesa, but he volunteers for Project Access San Diego (PASD), a San Diego County Medical Society Foundation volunteer physician program that has helped more than 1,500 uninsured patients receive specialty medical care through a network of volunteer physicians, hospitals, surgery centers and other ancillary health services. Since joining PASD in August 2010, Eisenberg has been one of the program's most active volunteers, seeing several patients every month.

- Dr. Steven Golbus is a retired physician who volunteers for Volunteers in Medicine (VIM), a non-profit agency that operates a free medical clinic at 1457 E. Madison Ave. in El Cajon. Before his retirement, he practiced medicine for more than 30 years, specializing in nephrology and internal medicine. He has served at VIM for the past five years as a primary care provider. In addition, he serves as VIM's co-medical director. He is among more than 100 medical professionals, including doctors, nurses and staff volunteers, who donate thousands of hours to about 3,000 patients annually at the VIM clinic located behind Chapel of the Valley United Methodist Church.

- Alpine resident Carol Lewis volunteers at more than 50 events annually hosted by the Kiwanis Club of Alpine. She has volunteered at blood drives and fundraisers for Rady Children's Hospital and the American Cancer Society. She also serves on County Supervisor Dianne Jacob's Building Better Health Leadership Committee and chairs the Mountain Empire Collaborative. Lewis also founded the annual Foster Family Respite Day at Santee Lakes featuring a day of fun sports activities and games for foster kids and support and encouragement for their families.

- La Mesa resident Henry

McAdams, nominated by the Grossmont Hospital Foundation, chairs the La Mesa Lions Club's Sight and Hearing Committee that recycles eye glasses, hearing aids and cell phones. He has recruited and organized more than 60 East County volunteers who have collected more than 31,000 pairs of used eyeglasses. Henry then personally sorts the eyeglasses, which are delivered to a distribution center in Vallejo, Calif., and then the eye glasses are shipped to third-world countries for needy people.

The 2012 Healthcare Hero awards were presented on a luncheon held on Wednesday, May 16, at Sycuan Resort in El Cajon. Event emcee was Alpine resident Marc Bailey, TV anchor with San Diego 6.

The Grossmont Healthcare District is a public agency that supports many non-profit, health-related community programs and services in San Diego's East County region. Formed in 1952 to build and operate Grossmont Hospital, GHD serves as landlord of the hospital, including ownership of the property and buildings on behalf of East County taxpayers. The District is governed by a five-member board of directors, each elected to four-year terms, who represent more than 500,000 people residing within the District's 750 square miles in San Diego's East County. Three boys on the playground were bragging about their dads. One said, "My dad scribbles a few words, calls it a song and they pay him 50 bucks."

"Oh, yah. My dad scribbles a few words, calls it a poem and they pay him 100 bucks."

"That's nothin'," said the third kid. My dad scribbles a few words, calls it a sermon and it takes six people to collect all the money!"

Inspiration

I used to believe in Leprechauns

by Rev. James L. Snyder

I must make a confession. It has taken me a long time to get to the place where I am willing and comfortable to make such an admission. I think some of my friends will be shocked at what I have to say. I think it is time I come clean and confess. Sort of, clean the air, so to speak.

Simply put, I used to believe in leprechauns. I know that comes as a shock to all of my friends. At a distance, I look like a very reasonable, well-adjusted person. And the further away the better I look. The same thing goes with my distant relatives. The more distant they are the more I like them.

Nobody would suspect that I had such a problem. You cannot tell what burdens people are carrying just by looking at them.

It all came to me by way of reading books. When I was a young person, I read many books that had to do with leprechauns, rainbows and pots full of gold at the end of those rainbows. I was young and naïve at the time and believed everything I read.

Once while my father was sleeping on the couch I asked him if he believed in leprechauns and he grunted in such a way that I took it to mean that he also believed in them. If you cannot trust your father while he is sleeping, who in the world can you trust?

Many a day I spent in the woods at the end of our property looking for leprechauns. I can testify that they are rather elusive creatures but several times, I almost caught one. They always were just a few seconds quicker than I was. I looked where I thought they were but they were nowhere to be found.

Do not get me wrong here. I was never frustrated in my fruitless search of leprechauns. There is no better way to spend a day in the woods than searching for the elusive leprechaun. I began to think what I would do if I actually caught one. Then what would I do in the woods? It is always better to seek and not find than to find something and have to quit the seeking.

I think it is something like fishermen. Few fishermen really fish for fish. They fish so they can go home and brag about the one that got away. It is hard to brag about the fish you caught and then there is the messy job of cleaning those fish. No, it is better to have fished and not caught anything to have fished and caught something that you have to take home and clean.

Such was my thoughts concerning my leprechaun pursuit.

Many an evening I entertained my parents with the exciting exploits of searching and almost catching a leprechaun today. I am sure they got tired of hearing, but I never tired of telling.

Then the time came when I really had to face the facts. After almost a decade of diligently searching for leprechauns, I had to conclude that they were simply a figment of my imagination. And you know what happens to figs if you keep them around for a long time. I had to realize there were no such creatures as leprechauns.

I must confess that it was a rather sad day for me. It was the beginning of many sad days like this.

For instance, the day I realized Santa Claus was not real. Every year I diligently prepared my Christmas list starting out with, "Dear Ole Santa," and dictated my list of Christmas hopefuls. Often I would sit on his lap and carefully read my list to him. The last time I did this my wife made me get off his lap. Something about being too big or something like that.

To my recollection, he never made good on any of those requests. Jolly old soul? Phooey!

Then there was the Easter Bunny. This had me for quite a while. After all, I love the chocolate Easter bunnies he brought me along with the rest of the candy. Unlike Santa Claus, the Easter Bunny was very generous in dousing me with candy galore. I truly hated putting the Easter Bunny away.

Probably the last one I will mention would be when a politician says, "I feel your pain." At first, I thought this was a genuine concern for my state of affairs. When I found out he was just playing me in his political theater I wanted him to feel some more of my pain.

Pondering this I begin to realize that many things that I have believed in turned out not to be true.

It is quite disconcerting when something you have believed in for a long time turns out to be phony. While I am confessing here, I must confess that only one thing has turned out not to be disappointing. That one thing has been the Bible. It has been the only thing that has not let me down in life. I take great comfort in Psalms 119:105, "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

Many things disappoint me and I have given them up. I start each day with the only thing that will never let me down, that is the Word of God. I believe the Bible.

Dear Dr. Luauna

I am tired of doing what is right. Everyone else I know seems like they are ALL doing whatever they want. I share Jesus with them, and it seems like I always receive a rebuttal in return. They say I am crazy, I am missing out on fun, and sometimes I feel like giving in and joining them in the party. I feel so alone in this battle. Please help me; I am feeling so weak inside.

Dear Weak inside,

First you are never alone. Hebrews 13:5, He Himself has said, "I will never leave you nor forsake you." Stand strong in your faith little one, our hope and strength comes in Jesus only. Sin may seem fun for a SMALL season, but in the end it only brings destruction, heartache, and death. Every believer goes through dry times in their Christian walk. Our walk is a walk of faith, faith in the one who gave His life for our freedom, and helps us have VICTORY from day to day.

When we take time to think about eternity, our time on this earth is like two seconds compared to eternity with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Why allow those friends who do not know Jesus to pull you into their world of darkness. Pray and ask the Lord to give you strength, and share with them how amazing it is to know Jesus as Lord and Savior.

If they do not want to know about Jesus, maybe you should consider picking some new friends. 1 Corinthians 15:33, Do not be deceived: "Evil company corrupts good habits."

Fill yourself with the Word, Jesus LOVES you and you are important. When we are weak, we are strong in Jesus. Let me share one of my favorite verses in the Bible when I go through hard times. Isaiah 40:29-31, "He gives power to the weak, and to those who have no might He increases strength. Even the youths shall faint and be weary, And the young men shall utterly fall, But those who wait on the Lord Shall renew their strength; They shall mount up with wings like eagles, They shall run and not be weary, They shall walk and not faint."

You are truly special; don't throw away your faith for anyone or anything. JESUS loves you. One day we shall hear the trumpet call, and we shall meet Him in the air. I Thessalonians 4:17, "Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And thus we shall always be with the Lord."

Keep your eyes on the Cross, and run the race that is set before you. For great is your reward in the end, come to church, and grow strong in your faith.

Scheib Paint and Body makes the old look new again

Joe Livolsi owner of Scheib Paint and Body Photo credit: Diana Saenger

by Diana Saenger

Company layoffs are usually not a great thing for most people, but when for Joe Livolsi got a call from Earl Scheib that he was being let go, it turned out to be a stroke of luck. Livolsi owns Scheib Paint and Body in El Cajon and has more than 18 years in the business.

Livolsi grew up in Spring Valley and started working for Earl Scheib in National City in the 1990s. After six years he moved on to a high end collision repair shop. He then went to work for Earl Scheib. It was in 2010 when Livolsi got the conference call that would change his life.

"We got a call from the corporate office that after being in business for 75 years all the locations nationwide were closing, all its employees were laid off," Livolsi said. "I was fortunate enough to retain his current location, get the rights to the name and retain the same crew. So instead of being unemployed at 47, I was able to remain here and run my own business."

Livolsi had no problem switching hats from employee to owner. He has a background in sales. "Running a paint shop is basically sales, and people need to feel confident enough to leave their vehicle with you," he said. "For most people their vehicle is a big ticket item in their lives, and we care about those vehicles. That's our niche, we can make pretty, but not perfect."

For many owners the $3-4000 paint job at a manufacturer type shop is out of their league. Scheib Paint and Body caters to those with a smaller budget in the $500 to $1000 dollar range. "That works well for people painting older cars, ones they want to give their kids who are just starting to drive. Rather than buy a new car, it's cheaper to paint the old one," Livolsi said. "And we offer military discounts."

Paint jobs normally take 2-3 days unless the vehicle needs body work. Livolsi said they do a lot of collision work, but no frame work or a tremendous amount of welding. There are many paint colors to choose from. They don't do custom work but do two tones. His shop has painted patio furniture, motorcycle parts and all kinds of odd things. They have an overgrown spray booth and can do RVs, trucks and equipment up to 33 feet. Paint products and regulations have changed over the years especially in California where everything has to be environmentally friendly.

"We comply with all of that," Livolsi said. "Lacquer paint is outlawed but as long as we do everything in compliance, which we are, there's no problems. We've been at the same location for eight years and offer the same low pricing and do a little nicer job (than the original Scheib shops) because we take our time, we care about work, and we're not constricted by corporate guidelines."

Livolsi's son Michael is a college graduate working part time at the shop while contemplating his future. "It's nice to have him here working with me, and my great crew I've had for the last eight years," Livolsi said. "I brought them with me from the shop I worked at before and I can trust the work they do."

Scheib Paint and Body can help arrange for a rental car and often help owners with insurance claims deductibles because of their low labor rates and parts. Livolsi is very happy with his business.

"It's been a real blessing to have been running the same business for the last eight years and to have the menu and prices stay the same," Livolsi said. "It took a couple of weeks after I was the owner to realize I didn't have a boss anymore, so being a minute or two late was okay."

Scheib Paint and Body, 1002 W. Main St., El Cajon, open Mon-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. and by appointment on Saturday. (619) 442-0819.

'Hysteria' – a fanciful romp for adults

Review by Diana Saenger

Many may not realize that the electric vibrator was invented in the 1880's as a way to cure women's hysteria. That historical fact is now a fanciful story of romance, women's rights and the fortitude of the real Dr. Mortimer Granville as unveiled in Sony Pictures Classics Hysteria.

Dr. Granville (Hugh Dancy) takes his oath as a doctor seriously, so when he's chastised by the English doctors who adhere to medieval practices for wanting to clean wounds or put fresh bandages on ailing patients because they don't believe in something called germs, he leaves the shoddy hospital. When his ideas are rebuffed by every doctor he seeks to work for, Granville almost gives up. But then he knocks on the door of Dr. Robert Dalrymple (Jonathan Pryce).

Granville is puzzled when he works his way through a waiting room full of upper class ladies waiting to see the doctor. Dalrymple has found a rather prosperous treatment for housewives with sex problems, which he translates to them as having nervous problems or "hysteria." He offers Granville a job as his assistant, and as he has run out of options, he must accept.

Dr. Dalrymple's daughter Emily (Felicity Jones) is attracted to Granville immediately. He finds favor with her, but more so because she's her father's favorite and he's hinting at marriage and a business partner. But then the other daughter, Charlotte (Maggie Gyllenhaal), shows up. She bursts into her father's office asking for a handout for the settlement house she runs for impoverished prostitutes. Dalrymple throws her out of the office and threatens to disown her.

Relating all of this to his roommate, Granville gets little advice from Edmund St. John-S (Rupert Everett), an inventor whose mind always seems somewhere else. It's actually Edmund's design of an electric cleaner tool that triggers Granville to envision a tool that will replace the hand method of pleasing his women patients.

The script by Stephen Dyer and Jonah Lisa Dyer is terrific. They did their homework in investigating a time period between traditional times and new ideas. For Granville this meant leaving behind the use of vapors and leeches and really understanding germ theory. The plot is well rounded with not only a love story, but a breaking of the mold by two different women. One is easily manipulated by her father and wanting to please him. The other a suffragette willing to stand up, maybe even face prison for a cause she believes in.

A terrific cast pulls off this story that's both amusing and whimsical. Dancy (Adam, The Jane Austen Book Club) pulls off the charming doctor who has brain, intellect and foresight and true heart waiting to be captured. Gyllenhaal (Crazy Hearts, Secretary) steals this film with her strong portrayal of Charlotte. She's not ashamed of what she does and sees her work even more significant than her fathers.

Jonathan Pryce (Pirates of the Caribbean) is precise as the doctor who can't see the forest for the trees and doesn't want a saw. Everett (Shakespeare In Love, An Ideal Husband) is the kind of actor whose cool demeanor makes it seem like he's barely acting, but it's that pearl of talent that cements his character.

The look of Victorian England, the incredible costumes (Nic Ede), great cinematography by Sean Bobbitt B.S.C. and superb direction by Tanya Wexler add even more enjoyment to Hysteria.

They're creepy and they're kooky and 'The Addams Family' comes to San Diego

Brian Justin Crum

Interview by Diana Saenger

The national tour of the new musical The Addams Family, based on the bizarre and beloved family of characters created by legendary cartoonist Charles Addams, will play at The San Diego Civic Theatre May 29 - June 3, 2012.

The Addams Family, now in its second year on Broadway, began performances in March 2010 at the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre and immediately became one of Broadway's biggest hits. The Addams Family features a book by Marshall Brickman and Rick Elice, and music and lyrics by Andrew Lippa. The production is directed and designed (sets and costumes) by Phelim McDermott and Julian Crouch, with creative consultation by Jerry Zaks and choreography by Sergio Trujillo. The production features lighting design by Natasha Katz, sound design by Acme Sound Partners and puppetry by Basil Twist.

The Addams Family features an original story and it's every father's nightmare. Wednesday Addams, the ultimate princess of darkness, has grown up and fallen in love with a sweet, smart young man from a respectable family. A man her parents have never met. And if that weren't upsetting enough, she confides in her father and begs him not to tell her mother. Now, Gomez Addams must do something he's never done before - keep a secret from his beloved wife, Morticia. Everything will change for the entire family on the fateful night they host a dinner.

Actor Brian Justin Crum plays Lucas Beineke in the show. A local San Diegan, Crum appeared on Broadway in the 2010 Pulitzer Prize-winning Next to Normal, Grease, Wicked, and the National Tours of Grease, Wicked, and Altar Boyz. (Mark). He recently played the title role in Disney's Tarzan at North Shore Music Theatre. He also had starred in Jesus Christ Superstar and Hot Mikado.

Crum grew up in Claremont and attended the San Diego School of Creative and Performing Arts. He took voice lessons from Bill Doyle and Leigh Scarritt and dance lessons in high school.

Crum gave the Gazette an exclusive interview about his role and career.

Q. Why was acting the right career for you?

BC: I started after school activities when I was young, and acted at CYT and Junior Theatre and others and fell in love with it. When I was 16 I did shows at Starlight, and that's when I knew what I wanted to do for a career. I got picked for Wicked when I was 18.

Q. Why was this the right play for you?

BC: I had just come off Next to Normal on Broadway as an understudy, so I was looking for a principal role. So I got to play one of the leads and there were a lot of great names associated with the show. I mean three Tony Award nominees, and a great cast.

Q. Did you ever see the original TV show?

BC: No, but I loved the three movies. I watched them a bunch of times.

Q. So what is the basic plot of this show?

BC: It's about the Addams family which everyone knows and loves, and my family, the Beinekes. Wednesday and I are getting married and no one knows that yet. So when my normal family from Ohio comes to meet the kooky bunch, the craziness unfolds for the rest of the show.

Q. You have built an impressive resume already. Is it easy now for you to just jump on stage and play someone else like in this show?

BC: This show is great because I got to create the role from the ground up with director Jerry Zaks and the entire team. We got new pages every day and new music every day, it was like creating a new Broadway show. I love doing something from scratch and when you're an understudy you have to try and mold what the person on stage is doing to your own body so that if you go on stage it's not noticeable. As an actor all we can hope for is making good career choices and the next best stepping stones in the process. For me, I'm in a great place right now.

Q. Was there a mentor in your early training that helped set you on the right track?

BC: There were three of them, and I'm so happy they are all coming to opening night. They are Bill Doyle, my teacher at SDCPA. I respect him so much, and he really changed my outlook on what I was able to do. Roy Mote and Leigh Scarritt both were very encouraging and pushed me in the right direction.

Crum is anxious to return home, greet old friends and family and celebrate his 25th birthday. Additional show information can be found at <http://www.broadwaysd.com/theaddamsfamily.php>

The best vehicles to fit your needs

The next time you're in the market for a new car or truck, you may wonder what's hot and what's not. What seals the deal for many buyers is the ability to individualize and personalize a vehicle.

While the $28 billion annual automotive customization market offers thousands of products to transform any car or truck, some models offer more options for personalization than others.

One way to learn which cars and trucks are the most accessory friendly is to check out the SEMA Award winners, presented annually by the Specialty Equipment Market Association (SEMA). Whether you want to create a high-performance sports car or a rugged truck worthy of off-roading, these awards can help you identify which vehicles have the greatest potential for customization.

"Each year, manufacturers from the specialty and performance industry come to the SEMA Show with an array of new products and new styling trends displayed on the cars and trucks they view as the most popular trend-setting models," said Chris Kersting, SEMA's president and CEO. "The SEMA Award taps into the exhibitors' unique ability to identify what's hot, just as the trends are gaining momentum."

This year's awards were presented to the Chevrolet Camaro for the Hottest Car, the Fiat 500 for the Hottest Sport Compact, the Ford F-Series for the Hottest Truck and the Jeep Wrangler for the Hottest 4x4-SUV.

Hottest 4x4-SUV

The Jeep Wrangler was named the Hottest 4x4-SUV for the second consecutive year. Custom parts and accessories for the Jeep Wrangler remain in high demand as owners look for ways to make their Wranglers more their own. Enthusiasm for the Wrangler has led to its winning of multiple industry awards, including the SEMA Most Accessory-Friendly SUV in 2007.

Hottest Truck

The F-Series is a perennial favorite with enthusiasts and specialty-equipment manufacturers. New F-Series designs have spurred even more parts and accessories for blue-oval fans, and all indications are that the trend will continue with the latest models.

Hottest Sport Compact

The Fiat 500 was named the Hottest Sport Compact at the 2011 SEMA Show, making it the first vehicle to take home the honor in the newest category and beating out a dozen competitors. After arriving in U.S. showrooms earlier last year, the Fiat 500 quickly became a favorite of auto enthusiasts, specialty manufacturers and customizers nationwide.

With beautiful Italian styling, timeless functionality, fuel efficiency and innovative technology—the same attributes that made the original version an icon—the 2012 Fiat 500 is relevant for an entirely new generation of drivers.

Hottest Car

Named the Hottest Car for the second consecutive year, the Camaro remains one of the most accessorized vehicles on the planet, and the list of available performance parts and accessories grows daily as its popularity increases.

The SEMA Award program provides valuable guidance to those looking for a top-quality vehicle that can be personalized.

Before purchasing your next vehicle, visit www.sema.org to learn more about the program and see how you can customize your new ride.

2012 Fisker-Karma

by Dave Stall

The Fisker-Karma has finally arrived in San Diego at Marvin K. Brown in Mission Valley. The dealership is the sole dealer in San Diego and has sold 30 vehicles to date.

This is an amazing car. Henrik Fisker and Bernhard Koehler have more than 51 years in the automobile design world. They are responsible for this design along with some financial government assistance. Most of that money is being spent in the U.S. Currently the car is built in Sweden, but there are nearly 400 engineers in Irvine California working on building the car in the U.S. Fisker Atlantic, a new option, is right around the corner.

Fisker-Karma is the first automobile company to bring a true premium hybrid electric vehicle to market. With innovative ideas like using reclaimed woods from the bottom of the Michigan Lake and stressed woods from California fires, plus seat cushions from green technology and environmentally made door panels, the Fisker Karma is taking its part in giving back to mother earth. One bonus is they don't skimp when it comes to looks, comfort, performance and on the 22-inch alloy wheels.

The Fisker-Karma is powered by an electric generator that gets it power from a gas powered four cylinder twin turbocharged engine that produces 400 horsepower. The pound-foot of torque doesn't come from the engine, it comes from the generator, and that torque number is outstanding – 995 pound-foot of torque.

2012 Fisker-Karma

There's no transmission just electric motors at the rear wheels rated at 4:10 gear ratio. Check out the solar panel on the roof, biggest in the industry.

The batteries in the Fisker-Karma are mid-mounted lithium ion battery pack with Nanophosphate technology. The battery capacity is 20.1 KWH and the voltage is 336-Volts, on board charger is a 3.3 KWH. It is not recommended for a home charging system; see dealer for more information.

Performance is controlled with a top speed of 125 and acceleration from 0 to 60 is 6.3 seconds in Sport Mode. Driving range will vary depending on the terrain. The electric system averages 50 miles on the electric supply, then the gas engine kicks in and the range is extended up to an additional 300 miles. Need more range, then fill the 9-gallon fuel tank with premium. The electric/gas transition is seamless.

Safety features include eight air bags, knee bags, side curtain and side seat bags. The car has a great sound system and Blue Tooth. The car weighs around 5500 pounds but drives great and handling is superb. The price is $100,000 plus tax and license, but there are rebates. See a dealer.

CITY OF EL CAJON PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF SUBMITTAL OF FY 2012-13 ONE YEAR ACTION PLAN TO THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT (HUD)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of El Cajon has prepared and submitted the FY 2012-13 One Year Action Plan to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The One Year Action Plan consists of the City's application and proposed activities to be funded through both the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) and Home Investment Partnerships (HOME) programs. The City anticipates receiving approximately $999,879 in CDBG funds and approximately $380,648 in HOME funds for fiscal year 2012-13 (July 1, 2012 - June 30, 2013). In addition, the City will use approximately $612,436 in CDBG unallocated funds and $10,390 in HOME unallocated funds to implement the Plan.

Copies of the FY 2012-13 One Year Action Plan are available for review by the public in a variety of ways. The Plan is available for review at the Redevelopment and Housing Division public counter located at 200 Civic Center Way, Third Floor, El Cajon, California between the hours of 8:00 am and 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday (except for legal holidays). Printed copies are available for purchase upon request (a limited number of copies are available free upon request) and a complete copy on Compact Disc (CD) is available at no charge by calling (619) 441-1786. In addition, the Action Plan is available on the City of El Cajon's Redevelopment & Housing website at <http://www.ci.el-cajon.ca.us/dept/redev/housing/index.aspx>.

If you wish to object to the City's application and proposed activities, you may do so by contacting the Los Angeles office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development at 611 W. Sixth Avenue, 10th Floor, Los Angeles, CA 90017 or by calling (213) 534-2569. Objections should be filed with HUD as soon as possible following submittal of the application to HUD. HUD will consider objections to the application on the following grounds: the City's description of the needs and objectives is plainly inconsistent with available facts and data; or the activities to be undertaken are plainly inappropriate for meeting the needs and objectives identified; or the application does not comply with applicable law; or the application proposes activities which are otherwise ineligible according to federal regulations.

All other comments and/or other inquiries may be directed to the Redevelopment and Housing Department, 200 Civic Center Way, El Cajon, CA 92020, (619) 441-1786.

Pet of the Week

Andy, 3-year-old Miniature Pinscher male. Andy is a special little fellow and so handsome. The perfect size and wouldn't take up very much room in the house. His hair is real short, so you know that he is one of those easy-care kind of guys. Andy loves going for walks and of course he enjoys being held as well, and getting brushed. Andy is in need of a new forever home. He only needs a smallish yard where he could enjoy himself, and he'd love to have a nice and comfy dog bed in the house, so that he could always be close to his person or his family. When you get to the shelter, just ask our great Shelter Staff to introduce you, and you might discover that you can become best friends "FUR"EVER !!!!

Please visit Andy in kennel #57. Pet ID: 12238 • Spayed/Neutered • Up-to-date with routine shots • House trained • Primary color: Red, Chestnut or Orange
