Viejas Casino sets new Guinness Record for the World's Largest Blackjack Table

Vice Chairman Cita Welch draws winning tickets for $21,000 giveaway at Viejas 21st Anniversary. Photo credit: Diana Saenger

by Diana Saenger

After days of announcing that Viejas would endeavor to set the Guinness Record for the World's Largest Blackjack Table, guests began arriving at the DreamCatcher at Viejas on September 13 to see what all the buzz was about.

At 9:45 a.m. six guests were escorted to a massive blackjack table measuring just over 2,226 square feet. They played a hand of blackjack with chips and cards that were 10 times the size of the actual Viejas blackjack chips and cards. The dealer and several Viejas Casino management employees actually stood on the massive bed of green that spread nearly wall to wall.

"It was 21 years ago today that the doors opened at Viejas Casino, and it's been setting milestones, breaking records and become a leader in this industry to see how things are done and to be successful," said Robert Scheid, Vice President-Community and Public Relations of the Viejas Band of Kumeyaay Indians.

Scheid then introduced Viejas Band of Kumeyaay Indians Tribal Council Members Vice Chairman Cita Welch, Secretary Anita Ugualla, Treasurer Sam Q. Brown, Councilmember Victor E. Woods and Councilmember Raymond Bear Cuero as well as team members and local dignitaries. The dealer for the day was long-time team member Myle Huynh.

Philip Robertson, an official "Adjudicator" for Guinness, was on hand to confirm the measurements and witness an actual hand of blackjack. The new record was officially certified amid a rousing round of cheers and applause from Viejas Team Members and guests.

Robertson explained Guinness was contacted by Viejas about the idea. "We wrote some guidelines so anyone who wants to challenge this feat in the future will have the same guidelines," he said. "I arrived in California to see the most remarkable blackjack table I've ever seen. The minimum requirement was it had to be 10 times larger than an existing blackjack table, and it's extraordinary. After I saw an actual hand of blackjack played it set an official record. I don't think anyone will attempt anytime this extraordinary for a while."

The doors of the DreamCatcher were opened to 50 V Club members at a time. They made their way around the large table where two cards were waiting face down for each player. They were then told to turn over the cards. Miraculously, the dealer broke every time. Players who had a black jack received three tickets for the evening drawing where $21,000 dollars would be given away. Other players received two tickets for the drawings. The guest were then escorted out, given a gift bag and the next 50 were brought in to lively music and clapping by team members.

Money was the theme at Viejas 21st Anniversary

The giveaway of $21,000 was cleverly tied into the game of 21 and the 21st Anniversary of Viejas. "Anytime we have an anniversary it's special for us," Sam Q. Brown said. "I thought it was a great plan."

Viejas Casino General Manager Chris Kelley said the event has been fun and a great experience for the Viejas Team. "We got the idea a year ago when we did the free food to players in the buffet," Kelley said. "We wanted to do something that showcased a game inside a business. Blackjack is a game that began it all for us. The table was built in-house by our maintenance and facilities team, and everything about this entire event was done in-house including the designs and advertising. It's even better than I anticipated."

Towards evening guests were hurrying into the game for their chance to enter the drawing. At 9 p.m. 12 tickets were drawn from a big drum by Vice Chairman Cita Welch. Two names called never arrived so two new names were called. Finally with show girls dressing up the stage, Dave Patrone singing and announcing, the 12 players took the stage behind a big card. When told to turn them over 11 players walked away with $1,000 each and

Alpine Wall of Honor continues to expand

Sonrise Prime Timers and friends Bill Ridenour, Jack Dumas and Vince Pascarelli in front of their tiles on the wall.

By Diana Saenger

Advertised hot temperatures didn't keep Veterans and their families away from another congratulatory celebration of more Veteran's tiles going on the Alpine Wall of Honor. Dan Foster welcomed Veterans, families and guests and informed them how the Wall of Honor came to be and its significance.

Proudly standing in front of a new row of 18 tiles, Foster acknowledged members of the Wall of Honor committee present and mentioned the book

Mission Honored – A Dream Achieved currently being written on the stories behind the tiles on the Wall.

"We honor every soldier that put on a uniform and who is willing to serve our country," Foster said. "This Wall is here thanks to the hands of many, and it's a beautiful symbol of freedom and bravery that we cherish."

After an invocation led by Pastor Doug Bray of Sonrise Prime Time, Foster began the ceremony. Calling off each name on a new tile, he welcomed the Veteran and family members to come forward for a handshake, photo, a salute and a big Thank You.

Bless them and God Bless America."

A cool breeze was welcomed by all as the ceremony concluded and attendees checked out the tiles on the Wall and met new friends.

Gregg Richards reflects on his and his father Earl's tiles on the Wall.

Inspiration

Who says the IRS is a meany?

by Rev. James L. Snyder

I often hear derogatory remarks directed towards the IRS. I must admit that many of these critical remarks originated with me. Not that I do not like my good old Uncle Sam, it is that he is a little demanding. When it comes to tax time.

Every year I complain about filing my income tax and paying out gobs and gobs of dollars to the United States government. I know it is important to pay taxes, and, I pay my fair share even though it may be grudgingly.

Throughout the years, I have complained that dear old Uncle Sam never writes me a letter. I will have to amend that complaint because I recently received a personalized letter from the IRS.

surprise at getting this letter. With trembling hands, I opened the letter, anxious to know what was going on in the world of Uncle Sam. I expected a detailed letter of what he was doing and how he was getting along and how the kids were and all that sort of thing. Imagine my surprise when none of that information was contained in the letter.

From the contents of the letter, and I must say a lot of it was goobly glop, I had fallen far short of my share of income tax this past year. According to the letter, I was a gazillion dollars short of what he had expected from me and quite frankly, he was disappointed in this behavior on my part. Do not ask me how many zeros a gazillion dollars have because I do not know. I do not have that many fingers or toes.

Although I read the letter several times it was not quite clear how much I actually owed and what plans there were in place for me to pay it back. From what I could understand from the letter, I owed good old Uncle Sam an arm and a leg, and he was highly expecting that I would come through for him.

Well, that kind of letter did not set well with me. I was tempted to leave the country, then sneak back as an illegal alien, and not have to worry about all this nasty stuff. But, I did not have that much energy available.

There was a phone number I was to call if I had any personal questions. Boy, did I have some personal questions. I was fully expecting not to get a real human voice when I called.

But, again, I was pleasantly surprised. Within 30 minutes and after dozens of pushing this button and pushing that button I had on the other end of the phone a very pleasant and cheerful voice, a representative of the IRS.

After we exchanged some personal niceties and followed up on the weather report from each of our locations, we finally got down to the real business of the phone call.

I must confess I was not expecting such pleasantries from an IRS agent. I assumed she had the telephone in one hand and a loaded, fully cocked revolver in the other. If she did, she concealed it most admirably.

Then we got down to the nitty-gritty of what the IRS is all about: collecting taxes from potentially delinquent taxpayers, like myself. The thought that I deliberately was delinquent was rather humiliating for me. Simply put, I just did not pay enough in, but this telephone call was going to rectify all of that.

After she crunched all the figures and as I waited patiently on my end of the phone, she was able to determine I owed the government an arm and a leg. It was then that the negotiations began in earnest.

I must confess she could not have been any nicer had she been my grandmother.

She then began to query as to which arm and which leg I was going to give to the government. This presented a real difficult decision on my part. Throughout the years, I have grown quite fond of both arms and both legs. Then I asked her if I could counter a proposal. She replied in the affirmative.

"Would you consider," I began rather slowly, "an arm or a leg?"

There was a pause on the other end of the phone when I could tell she was thinking. Whenever you get a government employee to think, watch out. I could hear the old wheels grinding and grinding. Finally, she said, "I think that would be acceptable. And, I'll even allow you to select either arm or leg. We like to work with people."

Now the burden was on me. I now owed the government an arm or a leg and I just had to select which one. I first considered my arms. In thinking about them, I use both of my arms although the left one less than the right one every day. What with writing and eating my arms are rather busy throughout the day.

Then I considered my legs. I like my right leg and so the choice became rather easy for me. Now, the United States government has at least one leg to stand on, thanks to Yours Truly.

I have something greater to stand on.

"Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage" (Galatians 5:1 KJV).

Jesus Christ trumps Uncle Sam when it comes to liberty.

Look where you are going

Dear Readers,

The other day while I was riding my bicycle at 6 a.m., the sun was just peeking through the clouds. I saw amazing colors that only the Master from heaven could have created. The oranges, pinks, gold, and yellow amid the cloud formation captured my attention. While taking in the beauty I didn't realize I was going over into the other lane. I turned to see where I was going just in time before I got too far in the middle of the road. That was close, as the big truck came passing by at 65 miles an hour.

Look where you are going, because you are going where you are looking. Reading in, II Corinthians 4:18; "While we do not look at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen. For the things which are seen are temporary, but the things which are not seen are eternal."

Paul the apostle is asking us to look with our spiritual eyes. In one day our entire world can change. Open your eyes of faith, and hold on to the promises of God's word. The word of God will get you through all that's not normal. If you are only focusing on everything around you, it can be overwhelming. If all you see and look at is poverty, sickness, unbelief, fear, doubt, a terrible day, a terrible wife, a terrible husband, you may head where you are looking.

Keep your eyes on the eternal and wake up knowing no matter what happens around you, Jesus has it all worked out. Hold on to God's word, the Bible. It's a treasure chest of amazing strength, joy, healing, and victory. Keep your eyes on Christ, not the things of this world.

If all you see is the storm, then you will not see the storm calmer. If all you see is a falling economy, then you will not see the one who multiplies the fish and the bread. If all you see is a defeated marriage, then that's where will end up. If all you see is sickness, you can't see the healer. If all you see is the mountain in front of you, then you can't see the mountain mover. Open your spiritual eyes. What a victory, when you do!

For Health's Sake

More teens turning to plastic surgery

A generation ago, reconstructive procedures were reserved for the aging and the rich and famous.

Now, teenagers are routinely undergoing plastic surgery – roughly 90,000 procedures a year, according to ABC News. Fourteen-year-old Nadia Ilse made headlines recently for having surgery on her ears because her classmates bullied and teased her, calling her “Dumbo.” The $40,000 specialty operation was paid for by the charity Little Baby Face Foundation.

“Not every one of the 90,000 surgeries is the result of teasing or bullying, but it’s clear more teens are undergoing invasive, sometimes dangerous, procedures simply to feel they fit in,” says international social advocate Traci S. Campbell, author of The C.H.A.M.P. Within (www.traciscampbell.com). “Enough is enough! A far healthier alternative is to develop the character and confidence necessary to navigate adolescence with a respect for yourself – and others.”

Campbell, whose nonprofit C.H.A.M.P. Community Project supports at-risk teens and single-parent families, discusses tough “personal love” steps teens can take to foster the healthy self-image that will benefit them throughout their lives.

- Forget Hollywood – be your own personal celebrity: Young women are starving themselves to be grossly thin or they idolize celebrities, including the Kim Kardashians of the world. Ironically, the truth of the matter is that many in Hollywood have more personal issues and hang-ups than those of us in the real world. Why not create your own style and make your own mark? Style includes your attitude, and what you do!

- Go in before you go out: While it is great to look like a million bucks, if you feel like two cents, then the fashionable clothes and expensive makeup serve no purpose. Take time to talk to yourself (seriously, out loud!) to find out what you want to do, want to be, and WHY. Write it down and review it often. Then line up your daily activities and associations around your list. Not only will you feel like you are accomplishing something, you will begin to feel good about YOU and to see your own value. Then, take a trip to the mall to get that latest pair of leopard skin boots, or whatever is trendy at the moment. I am sure they will look a whole lot better on you.

- Get old-fashioned: In an age when fast-paced social media rule interactions, old-fashioned values are needed more than ever! Why? Because they benefit us. They protect us from the consequences of impulsive actions and bad decisions; cause us to place higher expectations on ourselves and our associations (especially those involving men); and they foster the strong core values, like honesty and integrity, that never go out of fashion.

- Embrace your higher power ... a LOT!: You can't do it all by yourself! There is a sense of peace and confidence that comes when you take the time to pray/affirm, meditate and visualize your life. The focus and concentration, as well as repetitiveness of these actions, will energize you mentally and emotionally. It will also help you prevent future emotional “chains” by dealing with hurts and not sweeping them under the rug! Practice forgiveness to get rid of that old mental garbage; this is critical. And spend time daily to “exercise” your mind and spirit as well as your physical body to cultivate the image of yourself that you really want.

- Put other people first: To be the best woman you can be starts with being the best friend, parent, student and support for others. Real sexiness and attractiveness comes from the confidence of those who are willing to stand strong for a cause – one that benefits others. Spend time volunteering in your community. Seek opportunities to use your talents (and we ALL have a talent) to help or mentor another person, or a community.

Laughter is the Best Medicine

Lucky 4th

Two men at a racetrack were discussing their luck. “An amazing thing happened to me last time I was here,” said the first man. “It was the 4th day of the month, and it was the day of my son's 4th birthday. The address of our house is 44, and I arrived at the track at 4:44 p.m.”

“I bet you put money on the 4th horse on the card,” said the second man.

“Yes, I did,” said the first man.

“And it won?”

“No, it came in 4th!”

‘Trouble With The Curve’ — entertaining

Review by Diana Saenger

is another Moneyball movie. Although they occasionally rally around the same base, new screenwriter Randy Brown fields an entirely different story.

Gus Lobel (Clint Eastwood) has made a living at something he loves – baseball. As a scout he's brought the best players to the Atlanta Braves, often by listening to the crack of a bat rather than seeing the swing. Seeing, however, is one of the old age problems that's beginning to plague Gus, and he ignores it like he ignores his daughter.

Gus became a single father when Mickey (Amy Adams) was six-years-old. Not knowing how to raise her in the world of baseball, he often shipped her elsewhere to be cared for. Now grown and about to be offered a partnership in the law firm she's worked hard to impress, Mickey still had resentments about her father's lack of concern for her.

When it becomes clear to Gus's friend and boss Pete (John Goodman) that Gus has some real health problems; he informs Mickey that the front office wants him to retire. Mickey knows this will be the end of her father if he doesn't have baseball in his life. She agrees to Pete's request and surprises Gus when she shows up at a game in North Carolina where he's scouting Bo Gentry (Joe Massingill), a powerful hitter who rarely misses a pitch.

Gus is angry that Mickey thinks he needs watching so there's a lot of verbal sparring between them. Mickey is a chip off the old block in that she knows baseball as well as her dad. That's exactly what Johnny Flanagan (Justin Timberlake) learns. He's another scout who is there to see Bo, but takes an instant liking to Mickey. She shies away from him, still trying to figure out how to say goodbye to her previous boyfriend, and more interested in making a real connection with Gus.

Eastwood's character is not new. We've seen him play the curmudgeon in many films including Gran Torino, Space Cowboys, In the Line of Fire and the tough guy who won't give in like in Dirty Harry, Unforgiven and Million Dollar Baby, to name a few. But that's what fans like about Eastwood. He embodies a character to a fault, so there's no guessing about his intentions like when he refuses to learn to use a computer and constantly tells Mickey to go home. Its good writing that lets another character sneak under someone else's wing and soften him up, as Mickey does in Trouble With The Curve.

Timberlake is mostly eye candy, doing a good job in a role that requires little screen time. Goodman nicely handles the same kind of role. Adams is the star here. Like her father, Mickey's in transition – at her job, with her dad and new suitors. She really needs a shoulder to lean on and with every snarly remark from her father, Mickey swings back through Adams' terrific talent. She's been nominated three times for an Academy Award (Junebug, Doubt, The Fighter) and wowed fans in Julia & Julia, Enchanted, Miss Pettigrew Lives for a Day and more. Eastwood enjoyed working with Adams.

“Amy was a joy to work with,” Eastwood said. “Mickey's a girl who was raised on baseball, and one thing I admired about Amy is that she can sprint like a guy, wind up and throw a ball like a guy, and take a real swing with a bat. So she was perfect for the part of a woman who isn't an athlete, but who grew up around a sport, who has it in her blood.”

Discovering who will leave the game as a winner in Trouble With The Curve is fun, entertaining, and good for fans of this cast.

‘The Master’ is one of the best films of the year

Review by James Colt Harrison

Writer/director Paul Thomas Anderson has created an overly long look at a religious cult leader in the outstanding film The Master. The main character, played superbly by Philip Seymour Hoffman, is a charismatic quasi-preacher.

In the meantime, news from Hollywood is the Scientology organization has mounted a campaign of emails to the Weinstein Company objecting to the film. Anderson did say at the Venice Film Festival The Master was “inspired by L. Ron Hubbard and the early days of Dianetics.” Both Anderson and Harvey Weinstein have said the film is not a biography of the Scientology leader.

In the film, a befuddled Eddie is mustered out of the Navy just after World War II. He is lost, unhinged and confused about what to do and where to go. He needs a mentor and guardian and finds that in the person of Lancaster Dodd (Hoffman), the founder of a new religious organization.

Eddie is a drunk and a womanizer and hopelessly uncontrollable. Only a special actor could capture all of Eddie's failures, quirks, and hopeful eagerness, and Joaquin Phoenix (Gladiator, To Die For, Walk the Line) gives a performance of his life. He offers a great portrayal of a stumble bum, alcoholic screw-up and is flawless in his nearly over-the-top histrionics. But Phoenix knows when to stop with the scenery-chewing, thereby making his character more heart-wrenching and pathetic.

Hoffman, of course, is good at creating any of his characters, and he manages to be menacing, charming, and evil all at the same time as Dodd. Both Phoenix and Hoffman will be battling for that golden statue come next year, perhaps in different categories. In the film, however, Eddie's character is totally reliant on whatever Dodd tells him to do, and he becomes Dodd's puppy dog.

What is not totally apparent in this somewhat puzzling film is that it finally reveals that Dodd See ‘THE MASTER’ page 20

Chargers' — White lightning blasts the Titans

Tight end Dante Rosario (88) had three touchdown catches for the first time in his NFL career, and San Diego's defense harassed Jake Locker all afternoon as the Chargers beat the Tennessee Titans for the ninth consecutive time, 38-10, on Sunday at Qualcomm Stadium. Photo credits: Tom Walko

by Chuck Karaszia

On Sunday, Sept. 15, the San Diego Chargers honored one of their own by wearing all white uniforms. Jersey number #55 — so familiar to all football fans — worn by Oceanside native and future Hall of Fame linebacker Junior Seau, was retired. After that honor the San Diego Chargers destroyed the Tennessee Titans 38-10.

Unlike the ugly win in Oakland a week earlier, the Chargers put an exclamation point on a television blackout-lifted home opener victory at a packed Qualcomm Stadium, destroying Tennessee in all facets of the game.

In a game they were supposed to win, the (2-0) Bolts dominated from start to finish. The Chargers offense holding the ball for nearly 44 minutes, scoring touchdowns on five-of-six red zone attempts, and three drives of 94, 75, and 69-yards, was impressive.

Equally remarkable was the way the Chargers defense manhandled the Titans offense. They held dangerous Chris Johnson to 17-yards on eight rushing attempts, and the Titans offense to one touchdown and a field goal. That lone meaningless touchdown, coming late in the third quarter after a successful punt return, gave the Titans the ball on a short field.

After an Eric Weddle first quarter interception the Chargers were in business scoring two quick first quarter touchdowns in the red zone. Both were Rivers to Rosario touchdowns passes of four and eleven yards.

Rosario who? one may ask. A quality journeyman tight end released in the off-season by the Denver Broncos, Dante Rosario subbed for an injured Antonio Gates (sore ribs) and had a breakout day. It's not often an NFL tight end catches three touchdowns in a game (except Gates). It was a special connection he and the Chargers quarterback demonstrated against a poorly coached porous Titans pass defense.

Philip Rivers was on his game. The Bolts signal caller who was sacked four times and intercepted once demonstrated his leadership. The quarterback savvy directed a white-lightning Bolts offense completing 24-of-32 for 284-yards, with three touchdown passes.

In two games Rivers has only one interception, unlike last season when his interceptions came in bunches. The difference may be attributed to the play of both the offensive and defensive line.

Protecting Rivers backside at the offensive left tackle position is Mike Harris. Thrown into battle this early pending the injury return of Jared Gaither, Harris played exceptionally well in Oakland against heralded pass rusher Richard Seymour. Against the Titans Sunday, Harris remained strong.

"I just have to learn from this (experience), and make sure I'm prepared by watching film and not make any rookie mistakes," said the undrafted UCLA rookie, Harris.

Of the four sacks the Chargers quarterback incurred, two happened when Rivers dropped the ball, one on a coverage sack. Totally dominating the line of scrimmage, the Bolts O-line sparked the running game, especially in the fourth quarter on a hot day, blowing holes open in a weary Tennessee defensive line.

Some question when Ryan Mathews will return to the squad, healed and ready to run. Last Sunday he was held on the sidelines.

Bolts back Jackie Battle exploded for two one-yard touchdowns in the fourth quarter capping the scoring and giving the Bolts offense hope of a running game. Cumulatively, Chargers running backs gained 148-yards on 38 attempts, a significant improvement from last week against the Raiders.

The Bolts defense may be the key to success for the season. Holding the Titans to a first half field goal, and a late meaningless touchdown, the

Running Back Jackie Battle (44) leaps over the Titans for a 1 yard touchdown in the third quarter putting an exclamation point on the Chargers victory over the Tennessee Titans 38-10 at Qualcomm Stadium

Chargers defense this season has more team speed, especially on the defensive front.

"I gave all the offensive and defensive linemen game balls," said an appreciative coach Turner. "To me it all starts up front with them. We're developing an attitude that teams aren't going to be able to run on us."

Game plan was to get the Bolts defense off the field after third down. The Chargers accomplished that against the Titans limiting the opposition to just 1-of-9 on third downs. This comes after holding the Raiders to 6-of-22 in week one, equating to a combined 6-for-22.

"We're not going to be a good team if we're 20th in the league in this category. Obviously, in the off-season the thing we did from a personnel standpoint (G.M. A.J. Smith) was to bring in guys who can run and are athletic. When the line plays good, our playmakers get a chance to play," said Coach Turner referring to both the offense and defense.

The biggest test of the young season begins this Sunday, when the 2-0 Atlanta Falcons invade Qualcomm Stadium. Kickoff: 1:05 p.m.

2012 Chrysler 300 SRT8

by Dave Stall

Anyone looking for a four door sedan that can haul the family down the road in a split second might want to take the 300 SRT8 out for a spin. This is a heavy sport sedan. The word heavy is not a negative; in fact it adds to the drive.

With 6.4-Liter V8 Hemi® engine and Fuel Saver Technology under the hood, this monster Hemi engine produces 465 horsepower at 6,000 rpm and 465 lb-ft of torque at 4,200 rpm. Yet it gets 14 MPG in the city and 23 on the open road. As usual, mileage varies with the drivers' right foot pressure.

The car is backed by a high-performance W5A580 5-speed electronically controlled automatic transmission that provides an exceptional smooth ride and shifting, while reducing fuel consumption. There's also an AutoStick® driver-interactive transaxle shifter that provides clutch-less manual shifting. I am not a big fan of auto sticks, but this one worked flawlessly. Okay, so I'm old school – if I'm going to shift manually, I want a clutch pedal to challenge me.

The 300 SRT8 has Hill Descent, which allows the driver to sit on a hill at a light or stop sign, and while moving from the brake pedal to the gas pedal, the car waits for the transition. There's also rain brake support and ready alert braking (these features and others can be explained in detail at www.chrysler.com).

The 300 SRT8 has a stylish exterior with sporty leather bucket seats and SRT8 stitched into the headrests. The front driver and passenger seats are ventilated, and the cup holders up front can be chilled. The 20-inch x 9.0-inch aluminum SRT8 rims are mounted on 245/45ZR20 all-season performance tires and have a Tire Pressure Monitoring System to keep the car on the road. The steering wheel, with a shift knob, has a quality leather treatment.

The Chrysler UConnect Voice Command system with my Bluetooth phone hooked up with ease, and every time I got back into the car, my phone synched up with no problem. The voice commands were a real pleasure with no distractions for drivers.

Everything about this car screams comfort and performance. See CHRYSLER 300 page 20

ROBERT GORDON MANETTE
CASE NO. 37-2012-00152008-PR-LA-CTL ROA #: 1
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: ROBERT GORDON MANETTE

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by LINDA PIPONNIAN in the Superior Court of California, County of San Diego.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that LINDA PIPONNIAN be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A HEARING on the petition will be held on 10/2/12 at 11:00AM in Dept. PC-1 located at The Madge Bradley Building, 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101.
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

The pre-bid conference is mandatory for all general contractors and optional for subcontractors.

The plans and specifications show general information only. It shall be the bidder's responsibility to examine the project site(s) in order to determine the exact existing conditions, and the character and extent of the work to be performed. The bidder's omission, or failure to visit the project site(s) and acquaint itself with existing conditions shall in no way relieve the successful bidder from obligations with respect to the Contract. Submission of a bid shall be prima facie evidence of the bidder's compliance with this requirement.

Copies of the general prevailing wage rate of per diem wages, as determined by the California Director of Industrial Relations and by the US Department of Labor Statistics, are available from the websites of the respective agencies. Any successful bidder who intends to use a craft or classification not shown on the general prevailing wage determinations may be required to pay the wage rate of the craft or classification most closely related to it as shown in the general determinations effective at the time of the call for bids.

The Contractor and its subcontractors shall pay minimum labor wage rates as follows:

a) California General Prevailing Wage Rates In accordance with the provisions of Section 1773 of the California Labor Code, the City Council of the City of El Cajon has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages as determined by the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations applicable to the work to be done as listed in the California Department of Transportation publication entitled general Prevailing Wage Rates, dated March 1, 1994 which is on file in the office of the City Clerk.

Future effective wage rates which have been predetermined and are on file with the Department of Industrial Relations are referenced but not printed in said publication. Current determinations are available online at www.dir.ca.gov/DLSR/PWD/index.htm

Any contractor who is awarded the contract and intends to use a craft or classification not shown on the general prevailing wage determinations, may be required to pay the wage rate of that craft or classification most closely related to it as shown in the general determinations effective at the time of the call for bids.

b) Federal Minimum Wages

Federal minimum wage rates for this project as predetermined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor are set forth in the Special Provisions. Current determinations are available online at <http://www.gpo.gov/davisbacon/ca.html>

If there is a difference between the Federal minimum wage rates predetermined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor and the prevailing wage rates determined by the City of El Cajon for a similar classification of labor, the Contractor and its subcontractors shall pay not less than the higher wage rate.

All bids submitted shall be accompanied by a check made payable to the City of El Cajon, and certified by a responsible bank, in an amount which shall not be less than 10% of the amount of the bid, or by a surety bond for said amount and so payable, executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of California, and satisfactory to said City.

A performance Bond and Labor and Material Bond, each in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, shall be executed by the successful bidder within ten days after the Notice of Award of Contract has been mailed. Securities or bank or savings and loan certificates of deposit may be substituted for any moneys withheld to ensure performance of the contract, pursuant to Section 22300 of the California Public Contract Code.

The Contractor shall provide the City with an executed non-collusion affidavit.

Bids shall be delivered to the Purchasing Agent at the 1st floor front counter of City Hall, 200 Civic Center Way, El Cajon, California 92020. At the time fixed for receiving bids, all bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared. The results of the bidding and the calculations of the bids will be reported to the City Council at a meeting subsequent to the date above set for the opening of bids.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids if it considers it necessary to do so for the public good, and it may reject the bid of any bidder who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the City.

In all contracts subject to this part where federal funds are involved, no bid submitted shall be invalidated by the failure of the bidder to be licensed in accordance with the laws of this state. However, at the time the contract is awarded, the contractor shall be properly licensed in accordance with the laws of this state. The first payment for work or material under any contract shall not be made unless and until the Registrar of Contractors verifies to the agency that the records of the Contractors State License Board indicate that the contractor was properly licensed at the time the contract was awarded. Any bidder or contractor not so licensed shall be subject to all legal penalties imposed by law, including, but not limited to, any appropriate disciplinary action by the Contractors State License Board. Failure of the bidder to obtain proper and adequate licensing for an award of a contract shall constitute a failure to execute the contract and shall result in the forfeiture of the security of the bidder.

is totally smitten with Eddie and is secretly in love with him. Eddie, of course, is living a raucously erotic life with prostitutes and street sluts, entirely ignoring Dodd's feelings. Despite Eddie's terrible shortcomings as a human being, Dodd is totally captivated by the wild young man. Its apparent Dodd's wife (a steely-eyed Amy Adams) has figured out what is going on with her husband and manages to let him know in a surprising way that will make viewers sit up and gasp.

The Dodd's have produced two grown children, daughter Elizabeth, played by newcomer Ambyr Childers and son Val, played by Jesse Plemons.

Plemons is best known for his role on the television series Friday Night Lights playing a college kid from 2006 to 2011. The stocky blond hails from a small suburb of Dallas called Mart. His film appearances have been in Battleship, All The Pretty Horses, and Varsity Blues. As Dodd's son, he sees through his father's theatrics and is instrumental in informing Eddie of the truth. He hasn't fallen under his father's spell, and he isn't about to let Eddie believe the dogma of this mesmerizing charlatan.

Director Anderson has won many accolades with his previous films Magnolia, Let There Be Blood, and Boogie Nights. There is no doubt he is one of America's finest director's as is proved with this scathing view of religious cult leaders in general. The Master is one of the best films of the year and is sure to win honors at awards time.

mance, and the folks in the back seat get all the comforts of home. Need to go to the grocery store? Golf course, soccer practice? Baseball or football practice? There's tons of room in the sedan.

This car does it all and for a base price of $47,170, or my tester at $55,225 plus tax and license, it will make any driver happy. One of the options is the Customer Preferred Package 21SX, that includes power folding mirrors, adap-tive cruise control, forward collision warning, blind spot and cross path detection, rear fog lights, exterior mirrors with supplemental signals, and exterior courtesy lights. This package is $19,995 and is well worth the price.

I don't need the SRT8 300, but if it was up to me I would have the SRT8 and nothing else. I would build it at www.chrysler.com to make one bad ride. Check out the 2012 Chrysler 300 SRT8 at a local Chrysler dealer today.

Why I'd make a great companion: I have been at the San Diego Humane Society since March 16, 2012. This means the staff here has had plenty of time to get to know me. Everyone tells me I am purr-fect because I am the largest cat you have ever seen and I am also the most loving! The 3 words that best describe me are lucky, lazy and loving. My favorite activities include sleeping on the couch and watching old movies with you. A few other things you should know about me are that I am going to require a bit more care than the average cat here. I have something called Diabetes, but I don't let that slow me down. My friends here help me get the exercise that I need. Although I'd prefer to sleep all day, they help me enjoy short workout sessions to keep me healthy and in-shape. Don't let my Diabetes make you turn the other way, I am the biggest lap cat here - you won't find one better than me!

Pet of the Week

Who's a tiny dog with a big heart? Why, it's our pint-sized Chihuahua named CHACHI. Precious Chachi is about three years old, and he's looking for a new home with somebody who will love and cherish him. Chachi likes meeting new people, and he gets along nicely with other dogs. He's a mild-mannered, easy-going fellow who loves to snuggle. While Chachi would make a good apartment dog, he'd still need a daily walk. Being so small, Chachi would do best in a home with older, considerate children. The shelter staff is not yet certain if Chachi is house trained, so they're still watching him. Please visit Chachi at the El Cajon Animal Shelter in kennel #56, then ask the helpful staff if you can get to know him better in our lovely play yard.
