Lakeside Round Up of Events

by Patt Bixby Lakeside Fire Protection District Training

Lakeside Fire Protection District Division Chief Jim Kirkpatrick, offered thanks to Eucalyptus Hills homeowners for their patience during the fire training activities in the hills. Heartland Training Facility has been conducting annual refresher training exercises in their El Cajon classroom and field training along the streets and roads of Eucalyptus Hills.

Eleven Heartland strike team cities, districts, and tribal areas participated in the training exercise. Teams broke up into groups of six. Each person represented what would be an engine during a real fire incident. Teams met with instructor Doug Naylor, a retired Fire Captain from El Cajon at the Eucalyptus Hills old school at the top of Valle Vista. There they simulated an active fire heading out of Muth Valley toward Eucalyptus Hills heading from Muth Valley to Hwy 67 with an estimated time of 1 to 1 ½ hours where it is expected to jump HWY 67 and head into the hills. The team was given 45 minutes to form an Intel plan and advised there would be two aircraft with a no divert. The teams then headed out in groups of six.

There are three categories of protection in accessing a home; non-threatened, threatened defensible and non defensible. The teams accessed water sources, access, stay behinds (elderly and those who stay behind during an evacuation), locked gates and tree-lined drives with power lines. People with locked gates should put in a Knox lock which will allow access by firefighters. Power lines are a big issue. Firefighters may go in on a road with power lines and trees along the road and become trapped when the power lines ignite and go down.

When the firefighter teams met back at the school with the instructor they reported what conditions they found and how well they felt the homes could be defended. As part of the training the instructor asked questions including what they would do if one of the firefighters became separated from the others. After some discussion the answer was honk the horn. The instructor pointed out that what can go wrong will go wrong; so it's important not to get tunnel vision but to rely on their training. This was a key to the importance of having annual refresher training. Training in Eucalyptus Hills will continue until the end of May.

Sheriff's Sub-station

Captain Lisa Miller of the Santee Sheriff's station said the search for a sheriff sub-station in Lakeside has narrowed to two locations. While not ready to publicly announce the two locations, she said they both have the pulse of the community. The final location and hopefully an opening will be finalized within the next year.

Job Fair

A veteran's military and civilian job fair hosted by Wal-Mart, Assemblyman Brain Jones, and the Santee Chamber of Commerce in partnership with East County Career Center will be held May 30, 2013 from 9 a.m. to noon at the Santee City Hall building #7 and 8 on N. Magnolia Ave. in Santee. The event is free to job seekers and open to the public.

Some of the over 40 businesses scheduled include American Solar Direct, California Army National Guard, City of San Diego, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Good Will Industries, Home of Guiding Hands, H&R Block, San Diego Electrical Training center, San Diego Marriott Hotels, Sea World San Diego, State farm insurance, US border Patrol and many more.

Sharing a piece of history

Centennial Moment: End Horse Racing on Main Street in 1914

Below is an excerpt from a brochure published in 1961 in honor of the City's 50th anniversary of incorporation: "50 Years of Progress." The brochure chronicles events in the City by each year, from incorporation in 1912, through present day, at that time, in 1961. This Centennial moment focuses specifically on the year 1914.

John H. Dodson, who had been the postmaster of El Cajon from 1895 until 1901 when he turned the office over to J.G. Burgess, took up the duties as Justice of the Peace. This year Dodson resumed the duties as postmaster.

During the time that Dodson had been Justice of the Peace, he brought the end to horse racing down Main Street from Lincoln Avenue to Magnolia Avenue. He made the statement that it made it dangerous to women and children crossing the street to get their mail in Browder's Drug Store. He bluntly told everyone who took part in such sports, in the future if he could catch them, would be fined $3 each. And that was alright with him as that money would go into his pocket. The Trustees asked the Board of Supervisors for a rifle and 5,000 rounds of ammunition so that the City Marshal could back up his authority.

An electrical lighting system was established by the board to illuminate the streets at night. Nineteen street lights were proposed, to include that area bounded by Washington Avenue, Claydelle Street, Orange Avenue and north on Magnolia Avenue to the bridge.

Waste Management of San Diego and the City of Santee bring Recyclebank rewards program to residents

Santee residents are first in San Diego County to be rewarded for taking everyday green actions with discounts and deals from community-based businesses and national brands

Waste Management of San Diego and the City of Santee today announced the launch of a new rewards-for-recycling program from Recyclebank.com in the City of Santee. Santee is the first Waste Management served city in San Diego County to launch the Recyclebank program that rewards people for taking everyday green actions with discounts and deals. Brought to Santee by Waste Management, residents have the opportunity to earn everyday savings while helping the environment and contributing to a more sustainable future.

"Santee is pleased to be the first city in San Diego County to offer this new recycling incentive program," said Mayor Randy Voepel. "By increasing the city's total volume of recycling, citizens can help boost revenue and keep our taxes as low as possible."

"We were thrilled to connect Santee residents to extra rewards for their everyday green actions," said Eloisa Orozco spokesperson for Waste Management of Southern California. "Because we are in the business of recycling services, it gives us great pleasure to bring this incentive-based program to our customers who through recycling are helping to conserve precious natural resources and promote sustainable behavior."

Earlier this month, Santee residents received an introduction letter, which outlined the benefits of the program as well as signup instructions. To participate in the Recyclebank program and begin earning points for recycling at home, residents must first register for a free account at recyclebank.com/WM and verify their home address. Once a Recyclebank member, residents earn points each time they recycle. Each time a neighborhood's recycling is collected, the weight of the collected material is converted to Recyclebank Points. Those who are Recyclebank members will automatically receive their share of the points for their recycling efforts. Residents can also earn bonus points each week when they report their recycling efforts on the Recyclebank website or on the Recyclebank iPhone and Android mobile apps.

"At Recyclebank, we believe that individual actions toward sustainability can collectively make a huge impact on our environment," said Lucie Poulicakos, vice president at Recyclebank. "We are excited to be launching the Recyclebank program in Santee and look forward to rewarding residents for their everyday green actions."

Recyclebank is similar to a frequent flyer program, only members earn points each time they recycle. Members earn Recyclebank Points each time they recycle, which they can use to redeem discounts and deals from hundreds of locally-based businesses and national brands. Some program launch rewards partners include Ziploc®, Coca-Cola®, Unilever®, and many others. Over the course of a year, an average member can earn hundreds of points that can be redeemed for special rewards, translating into real value — more than $165 annually.

"Recyclebank is a great program for Santee residents to get coupons and discounts for doing the same thing they have been doing for years — recycling," added Orozco. "Waste Management already makes recycling easy through our curbside recycling program. And now, recycling is even more rewarding for Santee families because the more they recycle, the more reward points they can earn."

For more information, visit www.Recyclebank.com/WM.

Santee businesses who want to be a part of rewarding their neighbors for their recycling efforts can sign up to offer discounts to City of Santee residents by contacting Lynn O'Shaughnessy at loshaughnessy@recyclebank.com or (212) 659-9984.

Viejas Band of Kumeyaay Indians hold Annual Yucca Festival

The Viejas Band of Kumeyaay Indians held their first annual Yucca Festival on Saturday May 18. Early that morning yucca blossoms were collected to boil through the afternoon. This process, handed down through generations, leeches out the poisons and bitterness of the plant. The final product is rendered tasteful and healthy. In the past, the springtime festival celebrated the blessings of nourishment that the yucca plant provided for the tribes. In August the acorn is also celebrated with a festival.

Inspiration

And I thought I was confused!

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

I have concluded that life, as it stands out in the public arena, is a very confusing thing. As I watched the news and see scandal after scandal unfold and people trying to dance around the facts so that they come out looking good, I am reminded of how that doesn't work for me.

I have a new TV show I want to pitch to someone. I am calling it, "Dancing with the Idiots." The genius of the show is there is no shortage of contestants. The problem with this show would be who is the idiot to beat all idiots?

Since I am not a very good dancer this does not work for me.

I think the difference is, I have to answer to the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage. Believe me, she was not born yesterday but I will not give the exact year for obvious reasons. I used to do that but that is when I learned I could not dance, at all.

When I was very young and more confused than I am today I thought I could get away with anything. Believe me, I tried. I could write a book, but then there are so many people I would not want to read it that it would not be worth publishing.

One problem is associated with this kind of thinking. If you get away with something, who in the world can you brag to about it? If I do something behind my wife's back and actually get away with it, where is the consolation prize?

I think the only thing that really illustrates this is fishing. When I was younger, I loved to fish. The wonderful world of angling consists of two kinds of fishermen: those who brag a lot and those who catch a lot and the twain shall never cross rods.

I was an avid fisherman and it was a long time before I figured out that in the 23rd Psalm David is not talking about a fishing rod when he says, "thy rod and thy staff they comfort me." Be that as it may, my fishing rod did a great deal of comforting me back in "the day."

When I would go fishing and come home empty-handed, I could brag about the big one that got away. Of course, every time I told the story the fish got just a little bit bigger. But who is going to correct me on that? Who is to say that it was not really that big? Or, even bigger?

When I came home with a bunch of fish, the catch spoke for itself. After all, how in the world can you exaggerate something when it is right before you? Who do you think I am? A politician?

If you do think you are getting away with something, somebody will see you and share that information with somebody else who will share that information with somebody else until it has come full circle. Thus begins the dizzy world of confusion.

Just this week, for example, I was caught. I hate getting caught.

I had come home after a long day at the office and my wife greeted me with, "I saw Mrs. Jones who said she saw Mrs. Smith who told her that Mrs. Grant saw you buying an Apple Fritter at Publix. Is there any truth in it?"

Any husband knows he will never win any argument when there are four women who testify to the contrary of what he is about to say.

The best procedure at this point is to fall on the mercy of the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage. Because, I have discovered the great secret to marital bliss. Simply put, when she is happy, I am happy. The trick is to find out what makes her happy.

When I am thus caught with the alleged Apple Fritter, she is happiest when I confess and say the magical words, "You're right!" Arguments have disappeared. The only thing I have to hear now is, "Well, don't let it happen again." And the marital bliss is back on track and I have averted a personal train wreck.

A long time ago, I understood the difference between being happy and being right. Yes, there is that time when you need to stand your ground regardless of the consequence. My philosophy of life is to simply pick your battles very carefully. Not every battle is worth the scars.

After all, when you are caught with the goods in hand, denying it is the epitome of stupidity. Unless I am a politician, I want to stay away from stupidity as much as possible.

The thing about denying the scandal you might be in at the time is, it only prolongs the focus on the scandal. Perhaps some politicians could take my advice and confess fully when caught with the goods in hand. Saying, "I'm sorry," is the first step in putting something behind you.

Someone said that confession is good for the soul. It is good for many other things as well. The Bible is sure good on this aspect of confession.

"If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9 KJV).

The world can be very confusing if we are not willing to 'fess up and try straightening things out.

Dear Dr. Luauna — 'A Mother's Story'

Testimonial: This story grabbed me from the first page to the last I could not put it down until I finished. It is a gritty real life story which reached into my heart. I laughed out loud and felt sad at times and most of all I was inspired by someone who rose above hopelessness, defeat and so many tragedies to a life of triumph. Even though I couldn't relate to the author's life experiences, her descriptive writing brought every emotion alive in me. Everyone needs to read this book. Jill Testimonial: Dr. Luauna's heartfelt memories of her youth feeling hurt and unloved, were the same path my daughter is on now. I read this book and found hope for my wayward teen. Grief stricken as a mother can be, I read on and found what I am looking for – a greater faith. In the miracles of God, Dr. Luauna showed me God's amazing hand anew on a person's life when they turn towards Him.

Testimonial: Anyone who is a mother and has a troubled teen should read this book for comfort and encouragement. Hopefully the hand of God will work for all who need it. After reading this book I felt connected to Dr. Luauna, and look forward to her next book, to discover where the hand of God has taken her next. Thank you, Dr. Luauna Stines for writing this book and touching my heart. Suzanne

A Mother's Story is a true story of my life. For those going through hard times and trying to make ends meet should take time to read my book. Walk with me through every page to be inspired by God's grace, healing, and restoration. For those who think God can't use them – think again. I'm walking proof of God's amazing grace.

Gratitude: Climbing the stairway to Heaven

by Rev. Sharon A. Connors

Most scientists as well as theologians and metaphysicians agree that heaven is not a place. It is a state of mind and can be a "now" experience. There is a guaranteed way to experience heaven. It's the practice of gratitude, which is actually an expression of the power of love.

For me, there are levels of gratitude--like a stairway. The first level is the easiest. It just takes paying attention and doing it. Give thanks for all the good you have in your life now, for all the beauty around you, for the countless things we tend to take for granted.

Level 2 takes some faith. It is to give thanks for the good you seek. That is, give thanks in advance. Unity's 24/7

Prayer Ministry, Silent Unity, is founded on that principle. People from around the world call in for prayers for healing, guidance, relationships and finances. The prayer they hear is always affirmative--envisioning the good as already done in the invisible reality of life.

Level 3 challenges our human sensitivities. It is to give thanks for the blessing in the breakdown, the miracle in the mess. It is to be in a difficult circumstance and hold fast to the truth that there is no spot where God is not. It is to know that God is Good all the time and that some good can come out of the issue, circumstance or experience.

I have to keep reminding myself of these things. It is so easy to forget. It is so human to get hooked on the problem instead of refocusing on standing in faith and calling into being the solution that is already there. As Wayne Dyer said so simply--for every problem, there is a spiritual solution.

Gratitude wears a few faces and they are all beautiful and miraculous. A daily practice will ultimately create a beautiful mind and a heavenly kind of life. That's what I want. How about you?

Nonmelanoma skin cancers can be dangerous, disfiguring and deadly

According to The Skin Cancer Foundation, an estimated 3,170 deaths from nonmelanoma skin cancers will occur in the US in 2013.

May is Skin Cancer Awareness Month, and while the dangers of melanoma are well known, it is important not to neglect the warning signs of the two most common types of skin cancer: basal cell carcinoma (BCC) and squamous cell carcinoma (SCC), which can also become disfiguring and even deadly if not diagnosed and treated promptly. Because about 90 percent of nonmelanoma skin cancers are associated with exposure to ultraviolet (UV) radiation from the sun, The Skin Cancer Foundation encourages everyone to practice proper sun protection and learn how to spot non-melanoma skin cancers.

"Melanoma is the most talked about skin cancer because it's the most deadly; however, basal and squamous cell carcinomas should be taken seriously as well," says Perry Robins, MD, President of The Skin Cancer Foundation. "Most nonmelanoma skin cancers are preventable, if a complete sun protection regimen is followed. This is why protecting sun-exposed areas, such as the ears, nose and lips, and learning the warning signs of these common skin cancers, is so important."

Between 40 and 50 percent of Americans who live to age 65 will be diagnosed with either a BCC or an SCC at least once. The Skin Cancer Foundation urges everyone to learn the facts about nonmelanoma skin cancers:

Basal Cell Carcinoma is the most common form of skin cancer, with an estimated 2.8 million diagnosed annually in the US.

What causes it: BCC is usually caused by a combination of cumulative UV exposure and intense, occasional UV exposure, the kind you might experience on sunny vacations.

Interesting fact: BCCs sometimes resemble noncancerous skin conditions such as psoriasis or eczema.

What to look for: Warning signs include an open sore, a reddish patch or irritated area, a shiny bump or nodule, a pink growth, and a scar-like area.

Squamous Cell Carcinoma is the second most common form of skin cancer, with an estimated 700,000 cases diagnosed in the US each year, resulting in approximately 2,500 deaths.

What causes it: SCC is mainly caused by cumulative UV exposure over the course of a lifetime.

Interesting fact: SCCs are most common in areas frequently exposed to the sun, such as the rim of the ear, lower lip, face, bald scalp, neck, hands, arms and legs.

What to look for: Warning signs include a scaly red patch, an elevated growth, an open sore, or a wart-like growth, and these lesions may sometimes bleed.

To properly protect against the dangers of skin cancer, follow The Skin Cancer Foundation's Prevention Guidelines:

- Seek the shade, especially between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.
- Do not burn.
- Avoid tanning and UV tanning booths.
- Cover up with clothing, including a broad-brimmed hat and UV-blocking sunglasses.
- Use a broad spectrum (UVA/UVB) sunscreen with an SPF of 15 or higher every day. For extended outdoor activity, use a water-resistant, broad spectrum (UVA/UVB) sunscreen with an SPF of 30 or higher.

- Apply 1 ounce (2 table-spoons) of sunscreen to your entire body 30 minutes before going outside. Reapply every two hours or immediately after swimming or excessive sweating.
- Keep newborns out of the sun. Sunscreens should be used on babies over the age of six months.
- Examine your skin head-to-toe every month.

See your physician every year for a professional skin exam.

Catholic shampoo

Two nuns were shopping at a 7-11 store. As they passed by the beer cooler, one nun said to the other, "Wouldn't a nice cool beer or two taste wonderful on a hot summer evening?"

The second nun answered, "Indeed it would, Sister, but I would not feel comfortable buying beer, since I am certain it would cause a scene at the checkout stand."

"I can handle that without a problem" the other nun replied as she picked up a six-pack and headed for the check out.

The cashier had a surprised look on his face when the two nuns arrived with a six pack of beer.

"We use beer for washing our hair" the nun said. "Back at our Nunnery, we call it Catholic shampoo."

Without blinking an eye, the cashier reached under the counter and pulled out a package of pretzel sticks and placed them in the bag with the beer. He then looked at the nun straight in her eyes, smiled and said, "The curlers are on the house."

Something for everyone in 'Star Trek Into Darkness'

Review by Kenny Radcliffe

J.J. Abrams, director and producer of Star Trek Into Darkness, has done a respectful job in keeping the much-loved series alive, as he did with Star Trek (2009). The fact that – as of now – he's slated for future involvement in the next film in 2016, ups his value even more.

As the Enterprise returns to Earth after trying to save indigenous people on a planet from a volcano, Kirk (Chris Pine) finds himself in serious trouble. Once again he has disobeyed protocol. This time it's in trying to save Mr. Spock's (Zachary Quinto) life. The volcano didn't explode, and Kirk gets demoted and loses command of the Starship Enterprise.

When Khan plants a bomb at headquarters, it has a disastrous effect on the Enterprise crew. That's another one of the things Abrams (one of my favorite directors) handles well in this film; there are plenty of expositions, noise and special effects and all are just fine in hyping the story.

The 3-D is like the old days when 3-D was exciting and added great entertainment to a film, not something with little 3-D effects that end up costing consumers more money to the see the film.

Along with the drama of torpedoes, catching and get rid of the bad guys, keeping the Enterprise operating and handling the Klingons, there's also a romance which will appeal to the female audience. Everything feels real in this world of make-believe which is not always true in remakes.

I can't say I loved Star Trek Into Darkness, but I was entertained and think both Star Trek fans and newbies will enjoy the film.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF SANDRA KATHLEEN RASMUSSEN
CASE NO. 37-2013-00047863-PR-PL-CTL
ROA #: 1 (IMAGED FILE)
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: SANDRA KATHLEEN RASMUSSEN also known as SANDY RASMUSSEN
A Petition for Probate has been filed by DARLENE L. BARNETT in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO.
The Petition for Probate requests that DARLENE L. BARNETT be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
The Petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.
The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on JUN 18 2013 at 11:00 A.M. in Dept. PC-1 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building.
If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: Larry D. Submission of a bid shall be prima facie evidence of the bidder's compliance with this requirement

However, at the time the contract is awarded, the contractor shall be properly licensed in accordance with the laws of this state. The first payment for work or material under any contract shall not be made unless and until the Registrar of Contractors verifies to the agency that the records of the Contractors State License Board indicate that the contractor was properly licensed at the time the contract was awarded. College dreams come true for 10 local students

Many high school students aspire to attend college, but not all possess the dedication and determination exemplified in the 10 local students receiving $2,500 each in scholarship funds through the Ronald McDonald House Charities®/Hispanic American Commitment to Education Resources (HACER®) Scholarship.

The program, supported by Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC) of Southern California, RMHC of San Diego, the McDonald's Operators' Association of Southern California, and the McDonald's Operators' Association of San Diego, honors outstanding high school seniors with a strong academic performance, and a personal drive to excel in college and give back to the community. A panel of judges, including McDonald's and RMHC representatives and educators, evaluated applicants on academic achievement, financial need, personal successes and their commitment to the community.

"Out of more than 200 applicants this year, 10 students stood out for their remarkable resilience, passion and drive," said Christian Sandoval, a San Diego McDonald's owner/operator and chair of the scholarship committee. "We are honored to help these students take the next step in their academic studies to reach their career goals."

This year's recipients are: Samuel Carrillo, The Preuss School UCSD

Alexis Montoya, Mountain Empire High School
Miguel Santiago, Orange Glen High School
Perla Rubi, The Preuss School UCSD
Misael Cabrera, Herbert Hoover High School

Catherine Zuniga-Mata, Herbert Hoover High School
Amy Cruz, San Pasqual Academy
Criselda Vasquez, La Costa Canyon High School
Armando Narciso, Patrick

Henry High School
Susana Hanna, Granite Hills High School

Nationally, the RMHC/HACER scholarship has become one of the largest college scholarship programs for Hispanic students. Since its inception in 1985, nearly 15,000 Hispanic students throughout the nation have been awarded more than $22 million in grants to support their college education.

FAIR HOUSING

CSA San Diego County has decades of experience as advocates for fair housing and in mediating tenant/landlord issues, and we continue to do so today. Other issues CSA addresses include; hate crime prevention, civil rights of first generation immigrants, human trafficking, youth education and voter education.

Fair Housing: Fair housing exists in a community when individuals of similar incomes have the same range of housing choices regardless of race, color, ancestry or national origin, religion, gender, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, source of income, or other arbitrary factors. A violation of fair housing is defined as any action, omission, or decision that limits housing choices based on the protected classes defined above.

We ensure protection under fair housing laws that address discrimination and harassment. We can assist in handling a fair housing dispute and completing the forms needed to file a claim with the department of fair Employment and Housing (DFEH). Services include: Fair housing counseling and dispute mediation, educational fair housing seminars for tenants and landlords (English and Spanish), services to discrimination audits and free rental housing handbooks in English, Spanish and Arabic if you think you have been a victim of illegal housing discrimination, we can help you file a complaint with the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the DFEH.

If you are in need of information about Fair Housing Laws, or another housing related needs exercise in your rights and contact CSA San Diego County at 619-444-5700 (or 800-954-0441), or visit our website at c4sa.org

Pet of the Week

Hello, friends! My name is CLARA BELLE, and I'm an eight-year-old Brussels Griffon-mix little lady who's looking for a new forever home. Let me tell you a little bit about myself. I love to go for walks and I love to snuggle. I'll never turn down a good back scratch.

That's for sure! I would be a very special house dog and a super buddy. I'm a quiet girl and I've been house trained, so I'd do well in a house or an apartment. I get along nicely with other dogs, and I'd do fine in a house with older, considerate kids. Please head on over to the El Cajon Animal Shelter so we can get better acquainted in our lovely play yard. You really must get to know me! Before I forget, I have some great news. MY ADOPTION FEE IS ONLY $30! A pretty good bargain for a special pooch like me, if I do say so myself. I'll be waiting for you in kennel #8. Love, Clara Belle"
