Viejas Casino & Resort achieves prestigious Four Diamond Status

Viejas Casino & Resort has been awarded the prestigious Four Diamond status from the American Automobile Association (AAA), officially designating the property as one of the nation's premier resort destinations.

Fewer than five percent of the nearly 31,000 properties approved by AAA achieve the highly-coveted Four Diamond distinction!

"We are extremely proud to be acknowledged as one of the finest resort destinations in the country," said Viejas Casino & Resort General Manager Chris Kelley. "This honor is a testament to the dedication, hard work and professionalism of our Team Members and reflects our absolute dedication to the highest standards of guest service, accommodations and amenities."

The Four Diamond rating followed a thorough on-site, property-wide evaluation by a professional inspector. AAA defines a Four Diamond property as "upscale in all areas. Accommodations are progressively more refined and stylish. Physical attributes reflect an obvious enhanced level of quality throughout, including an extensive array of amenities combined with a high degree of hospitality, service and attention to detail."

The achievement comes only eight weeks after the Grand Opening of Viejas Hotel, San Diego County's newest luxury hotel. The new five-story hotel has 99 deluxe rooms and 29 luxurious suites; a pool and hot tub, with an expansive patio area and cabanas; a business center; fitness room and room service. The property also includes a lobby area that connects to Viejas Casino and an expansion of the popular buffet, which is now one of the largest buffets in San Diego County.

SD County Fair opens with 'huge' star

A team from the East County Gazette made a visit to the Del Mar Fairgrounds to check out the upcoming San Diego County Fair. While the team was there, they met Tai and Rosie, Asian elephants from the (IEF) International Elephant Foundation. IEF is an organization that is active in conservation, awareness and scientific programs that enhance the survival of elephants worldwide. Not only are these elephants an endangered species, but Tai is a movie star as well. He was featured in the movie 'Water for Elephants.' Pictured above is: (L-R) Tai, Marcus Adema, Dave Norman, Debbie Norman, Constance Dansby and Rosie. Photo courtesy San Diego County Fair

The 2013 San Diego County Fair promises a summer of fun and games galore! From card games to board games, video games to game shows, con-soles to cell phones - this theme spotlights the nostalgic, current, and future "games people play!" The San Diego County Fair runs June 8 - July 4 (closed Mondays except July

1) and is the largest annual event in San Diego County and the fourth largest fair in North America, drawing more than 1.5 million visitors annually.

Stop by the livestock area and say hello to Tai and Rosie.

Watch the Gazette for more information on fair events next week.

Goodwill opens in Alpine and gets a 'green' welcome from CHIRP

The Alpine Goodwill store marks the 24th in the San Diego County and is now the farthest store east in the county. The store is open 7 days a week and is a great addition to the Alpine community. Photo credit: Kathy Foster While Goodwill workers were busy in their "new digs," getting ready for their May 23 grand opening, CHIRP volunteers busied themselves digging outside the building—planting, beautifying and creating an invitation for both shoppers and area winged wildlife.

Plants chosen for the project include a variety of California, Mediterranean and Australian natives, along with hardy succulents, each with its own merit in supporting local hummingbirds, songbirds and butterflies.

Kicking-off the new garden project was a generous donation by Hydro-Scape, which provided ten yards of topsoil, delivered to the site.

Vanessa Rusczyk, lead volunteer on the project, said that the topsoil "made all the difference in being able to create a showplace garden."

Other volunteers who worked on the project include Lisa Lomax, Maureen Austin, Rod Tuttle, Guille Tuttle, Diana Anderson, Marilyn Fox and Michael Varbaek.

Over 125 plants were installed in the new garden, including sages, aloes, cistus, ceanothus, arbutus and grevillea. The plants were purchased by CHIRP, with funds provided through fundraising and private donations.

Also donated was flagstone for a walking path through the garden, so it can be enjoyed from a closer vantage point, Rusczyk said.

Pea gravel and mulch added the finishing touches to the garden.

The new Goodwill Store is on property leased by Alpine Community Center.

Sue Roff, the Center's executive director, said she is very pleased with the new garden. "It's beautiful!" she said, "And it has really enhanced our property."

Roff said she is thankful to the donors and volunteers who made it possible.

The new garden is part of "Gardens on the Boulevard," a project of CHIRP for Garden Wildlife, Inc., an Alpine-based not-for-profit organization. Project goal is to beautify Alpine Boulevard by creating beautiful gardens in the dirt plots left as a result of SDG&E's Sunrise Powerlink project.

CHIRP is dedicated to the preservation and enjoyment of birds, butterflies, and other creatures of habitat, through hands-on programs and gardens. For more information contact CHIRP at (619) 445-8352.

Flag Pole Dedication

The Lakeside Water District's Flag Pole Dedication on May 28 was the culmination of hard work by many community and business leaders who offered donations, time and money. Lakeside Planning Board member, George Barnard, along with a number of community members worked hard to organize and present the 2013 Flag Pole Dedication to the public as a lasting landmark in Lakeside.

Master of ceremonies Neil Rodvold, President of the Lakeside Chamber of Commerce, introduced dignitaries County Supervisor Dianne Jacob; Congressman Duncan Hunter's representative, Michael Harris; Senator Joel Anderson's representative, Collin McGlashen; Assemblyman Brian Jones' representative, Gail Remer; Brett Sanders, Water District manager and the Lakeside Water Board.

Rodvold gave a special thank you to Barnard for putting together a team which included flagpole fabrication and clear coat, Enniss Inc.-drilling of the hole, Western Foundation and Drilling, Wyatt Allen- Concrete work, Wade and West En-

He received the bronze star metal for "heroic achievement while serving on board the U.S.S. LSMR403 during the amphibious assault against Inchon Korea on September 1950." Jones served in both World War II and Korea.

The dedication began with the presentation of colors with a four man color guard-Chatu North Island. Following the National Anthem the flag was raised by LT Jason Basden and Chief Petty Officer Josh Erickson.

El Cajon Centennial Moments
Sharing a piece of history

Centennial Moment: School district formed 1920

Below is an excerpt from a brochure published in 1961 in honor of the City's 50th anniversary of incorporation: "50 Years of Progress." The brochure chronicles events in the City by each year, from incorporation in 1912, through present day, at that time, in 1961. This Centennial moment focuses specifically on the year 1920. Photo is courtesy of the El Cajon Historical Society.

Although estimates and surveys of population fluctuated in these years between 500 and 700, the citizenry took steps toward the future education of their children. The Grossmont Union High School District was formed this year. This district included the El Cajon Valley High School and the Riverview Union High School in Lakeside.

The Grossmont High School first actually opened in the Riverview school facilities, while the El Cajon school continued to operate. It was located east of Bostonia and north of Highway 80 (now Children going to school.

East Main Street.) This school had 11 persons in the faculty and 180 students enrolled.

At the El Cajon School Model "T" cars and buses were used to transport students from outlying areas to the school. Older students would drive these vehicles and often the entire car or bus load would be late to school if the driver over-slept. The shop students taking courses in automotive repair maintained the Model "T"s.

Colonel Ed Fletcher donated the site in the Grossmont area for the present day high school.

Inspiration

I was tricked and I thought I was trick-proof

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

I was minding my own business last week, which is the only business I am concerned about, when the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage posed a question.

It is in the area of questions I feel the most inadequate. Maybe it is because I have not heard all the questions yet, but I think I have come close. I should know that any question that comes from my wife has a hidden agenda. Usually, she asks questions that have no answers.

"Let's go out for lunch today," she said rather chipperly. Experience should have taught me that when she is chipper, I am in trouble, because I am always the chippee. "We have," she explained, "some gift cards for a restaurant across town."

Then she smiled and that should have been a giveaway for me.

When you mention lunch, and when you add the word "free" to it, I lose all sense of proportion and sanity, if I had any. Actually, to be honest about everything, it does not take much to scratch between my ears and get me purring.

Then she threw in a perk that sold me completely on the idea. I love perks.

"I'll drive."

When you think you have heard every trick in the book, somebody writes a new book. Usually, I forget some old trick that she has played, and here was an old one she was playing on me again.

On the way to the restaurant, I had a little uneasy feeling, but as we sat down and began ordering, all suspicion faded into thin air. It was a scrumptious lunch and we both enjoyed being together, carefree and enjoying the ambiance.

When the check came I casually said, "You know, we ought to do this more often."

She smiled and nodded her head.

When we got into the car, she said somewhat nonchalantly, "Oh, by the way, since we're here I need to run into the mall and pick up an item."

When I heard those words, I froze. Not the mall! I hate shopping, especially at the mall. In my mind, the word "mall" is the acronym for May All Lose their Loot. Since I do not have that much loot to lose, I do not like going into a place designed to relieve me of my loot.

Every time I walk down the center of the mall, I feel eyes glaring at me and piercing to the core of my wallet trying to suck out all my money. And, by the way, they take credit cards. Boy, do they "take" credit cards.

When we parked at the mall parking lot, I indicated I would stay in the car and wait for her.

"Oh, no," she exclaimed, "come on in, you need the exercise. I'm just going to run in and run out."

Here is where the language differential between husbands and wives shows itself. Unless you are familiar with English with a feminine twist, you are going to get trapped every time.

For example: when a husband says the word "run," he is referring to speed. When his wife uses the same word it means she is going to run into every store in sight within the mall with one agenda, and that is to buy. For which I can say bye-bye to my money.

Why don't local universities offer a degree in wifeology? They have degrees in everything else, why not here where it would be most useful. By the time I reach the equivalent of a doctorate in wifeology, I would be too old to do any good with it.

Those who insist there is no difference between a man and a woman have never been married to a woman. Husbands get into trouble assuming their wife is just like them and thinks just like them.

Exiting the shopping mall my wife looked at me, smiled and said, "Now, wasn't that good exercise."

I nodded as I walked to the car with both my hands filled with recently purchased items from the shopping mall. Now I know my part of the exercise was hauling her purchases to the car. Halfway to the car I had to stop and catch my breath and wondered if I would really make it to the car.

"Come on, we're done shopping for the day. Let's get to the car."

While driving home I was afraid my wife was going to wear out her smile.

"This has been a great day. We'll have to do this more often."

Then she began humming a song, "We've only just begun." I think this is her theme song; in fact, I am afraid it is.

About half way home, I had a wonderful thought. It was a good day. I can always earn more money, but I can never get another wife quite as nice as the one I have. Then I began humming, "We've only just begun."

A verse of Scripture began playing in my mind as we continued our journey home.

"And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also" (John 14:3 KJV).

Driving into the driveway, I realized this was not our final destination. God has a wonderful place prepared for those who have put their trust and faith in Him. No tricks about it.

Dear Dr. Luauna — Where's my comfort?

Last week I met a distinguished woman from Michigan, as we were setting up for A Touch From Above – Friday's outside Church service at 6 p.m. on 9th & J St. in San Diego, she was here for the Marathon. Looking at the time I was 45 minutes early. I decided to sit in one of the chairs and pray before the service started. I noticed this woman walking past several times, finally she came and sat two chairs down from me. I smiled and asked her where she was from. With a blank stare she just looked at me and repeated my question back to me. "Where are you from?" Realizing she was almost angry and threw every question I asked her back to me. I just smiled; she looked towards the pulpit trying to figure out what was going on.

She looked at the wooden cross I always take with me when I preach outside. I stood up and opened in prayer. As I ministered my sermon how Jesus loves us right where we are, and His love was shown to us through the Cross. This woman was trying hard not to break down in an uncontrollable sob. I wanted to go sit beside her and just hold her, but one of our workers sat gently beside her. I saw her guard rise again. She was so broken, hurting deep inside. She was a very well to do woman, dressed in top of the line sport clothes. She would look like someone who wouldn't have a problem in the world, a Marathon runner, fit and a professional. Thirty minutes into the sermon, she stood up took a deep breath, wiped her tears, looked at me right in the eye and shook her head no, motioning not now, and walked away. It broke my heart to watch her walk down the street still broken, her answer was Jesus and He brought her all the way from Michigan to share His love with her.

In this life, we have many troubles, things happen when we least expect. Sickness, a death of a child, unfaithfulness of a husband or wife, loss of a job, the list can go ON and ON. I'm here to tell you, there is HOPE. Hiding brokenness in the heart can only lead to greater pain and even sickness. You are important to God; you were created in His image. His love for you is never ending. Does God hear when we cry out to Him? YES! God's heart is open to all who cry out to Him in prayer. God isn't like man, He doesn't have a hearing aid, and He doesn't wear bifocals. He longs to reach out and help you change your circumstance. Most of the times we don't deserve help from God. Our sin nature always tries to control our destiny, and lead us into brokenness, or a life out of God's will. Let's remember, John 3:16; For God so loved (put your name right here) that He gave His only begotten son, Jesus, that if (again place your name right here) would believe in Jesus should not perish but have everlasting life.

WOW, Everlasting life! Jesus is just a prayer away. Pray with me right now. "Jesus, I need You, I have made a mess out of my life, I have done many things wrong and I need Your forgiveness. I don't understand everything You did on the Cross to show me Your love. But I believe, and I ask you to be Lord of my life today, in Jesus name, amen." If you said that little prayer email me, and I will send you something to help you in your walk with Jesus. pastorluauna@atouchfromabove.org

Lemonade for life

by Mark Underwood

On cold, dreary, overcast days, do you dream about trading the chilly weather for a gorgeous day under azure blue skies and perfect temperatures?

That wishful thinking is a positive way to look at the world. The good news is it's more than wishing you had better weather—positive thoughts are good for your mental and physical health.

Wishful thinking can help you get through many challenges of everyday life. How we handle these challenges can affect our overall health.

Use a positive approach by taking the bitter moments of life and mix them into your "lemonade pitcher."

Make a virtual pitcher of lemonade out of bitter lemons and you'll be doing yourself a favor in more ways than one. For one thing, you'll be protecting yourself from the harmful effects of stress.

No fancy shoes or special equipment needed

Stress is nearly impossible to avoid. As we age, the effects of stress take a greater toll on our health and can disrupt our sleep. Positive thinking is not just window dressing for a problem; it is a management technique and potentially a lifesaver.

Effective stress management is an important life skill for all of us to learn how to incorporate into our daily routines.

Why do positive thinkers often experience health benefits? Several studies have suggested that people with positive outlooks are able to cope better with stressful situations and that reduces the harmful effects of stress on your body.

It's also thought that people who put a positive spin on life tend to live healthier lifestyles. They tend to get more physical activity, follow a healthier diet and don't smoke or drink alcohol in excess.

These are other direct benefits from optimistic thinking:

- Increased life span
- Greater resistance to common colds
- Lower rates of depression
- Reduced risk of death from cardiovascular disease

One of the great things about thinking happy thoughts is that you can do it without special equipment or training. Anybody can focus on positive thinking. It takes some practice but the more you make a con-

Sharp HealthCare to provide 5,000 free health screenings

Sharp HealthCare has launched an initiative to screen 5,000 San Diegans at more than 60 community events across the county. The free screenings measure five key health indicators: total cholesterol/HDL ratio, blood sugar, body mass index (BMI), blood pressure and tobacco use.

"Our long-standing mission is to improve the health of the San Diego community," said Mike Murphy, President and CEO of Sharp HealthCare.

"These five key indicators are measures that enable us to make significant changes to positively impact our health, improve the quality of our lives and prevent chronic diseases. These screenings will give San Diegans a quick and convenient way to know their numbers, understand healthy ranges and develop a plan to get within those ranges."

An individual screening takes only 15 minutes to complete and results are immediate. Registration is not required and adults over the age of 18 are invited to participate, whether or not they have health insurance or see a Sharp-affiliated physician. Fasting is not required prior to being screened.

Murphy added that participants retain the only version of their results; Sharp does not keep a copy of the health information.

"The results are confidential. In addition, participants will receive information on effective strategies to improve any out-of-range indicators, and individuals are encouraged to share the results with their primary care physician to develop a personalized plan for better health," Murphy said.

Sharp will conduct the health screenings around the county now through September. Initial screening sites include the following locations, and more will be added throughout the summer:

- Central San Diego: Mission Valley YMCA and Toby Wells YMCA

- Coronado: Coronado Library

- East County: Grossmont Center and Santee Library

- Point Loma: The Rock Church and Liberty Station (Vital Aging Event)

- South Bay: Parkway Community Center

"The community health screenings are one of the many ways Sharp is striving each day to make San Diego a healthier place," said Murphy. "It's one more way we're bringing The Sharp Experience to the people of San Diego."

For information about the community screenings, locations and times, visit www.sharp.com/screenings or call 1-800-82-SHARP (1-800-827-4277).

At the Movies

'After Earth' might appeal to teen boys

by James Colt Harrison
Movie stars are used to getting outrageous perks in their profession. Apparently star Will Smith was encouraged by the producers to come up with an idea for a movie that stars – his own son. Smith concocted an idea inspired by comic books, and then allowed screenwriter Gary Whitta (The Book of Eli) and writer/director M. Night Shyamalan to flesh it out into the film After Earth.

Cypher Paige (Will Smith) is a veteran space soldier who has spent too much time away in the galaxies to have spent much time with his son Kitai (Jaden Smith). They are estranged, to say the least. When dad returns from one of his testosterone campaigns, Kitai looks up to his father and desperately wants to be like him and to bond with him as a real father and son duo. Dad takes Kitai on a galactical voyage, but they are soon derailed by a storm that causes them to crash land on longabandoned earth. Humans have since moved to the planet Nove Prime, and earth became off-limits and now is filled with predators.

The challenge for young Kitai arises as both of dad's legs are broken in the crash and most of the space ship is scattered to the wind. One life-saving beacon is in the tail of the ship, miles away. Kitai must now take on his greatest challenge to cross hostile forests and waterfalls to retrieve the life-saving beacon. Jaden is still a slim teen who looks more frail than robust, so it is a bit of a stretch for him to be dashing about, confronting murderous baboons and hungry jungle pussy cats. Jaden hasn't quite grasped the art of acting, but he tries hard and is believable in most of his scenes.

Will Smith has more or less thrown the movie to his son because he is trapped most of the time in the space ship and can't move. He's a modern day version of France's Marcel Marceau doing pantomime.

This is the third film (The Karate Kid, The Pursuit of Happiness) in which Smith's teen-aged son, Jaden, appears as an apprentice actor. Everyone should be given a fair chance, and the young Smith improves with each film. No doubt dad gave Jaden some acting advice, but the boy's emotions have a long way to go. Jaden's idea of being concerned in a scene consists of furrowing his brows and looking constipated.

Studio publicity says more than $130 million was spent on the film for special effects and monsters. Most of the money shows on the screen, although a couple of the CGI scenes look cheesy and unreal. For the most part, all the fake sets and made-up scenery look as Hollywood intended – real!

After Earth might be a family pleaser. Most teen boys will like the action and the creatures that jump out to give a scare.

Review by Diana Saenger

Now You See Me is not as clever as it wants to be, but the idea of magical heists and a great cast might be enough to pull viewers into the theatre.

J. Daniel Atlas (Jesse Eisenberg) – a David Blaine type stunt magician – is easily having his way with magic and audiences. But he becomes more of a phenomenon when he joins forces with escape artist Henley Reeves (Isla Fisher), mentalist Merritt McKinney (Woody Harrelson), and street magician Jack Wilder (Dave Franco). The group calls themselves The Four Horsemen and quickly become known worldwide.

When millionaire Arthur Tressler (Michael Caine) becomes their sponsor, nothing is too grand for their shows. Of course, as with most magicians, one trick must be out-done by another. Performing on huge stages in Las Vegas some of the most interesting moments of the groups performance is the way they pop up onstage and magically disappear or cleverly leave.

While things seem to be going well for the Horsemen, behind the scenes they're planning magic that will move the money in a vault in a French bank to a vault below the stage. They also get political when they set out to expose a criminal and plan to heist his money and give it away to more deserving people.

Slowly keeping an eye on the group is FBI Special Agent Dylan Rhodes (Mark Ruffalo). He's hot on their trail, but when he turns up watching them in France, he's forced by Interpol to partner with agent Alma (Mélanie Laurent).

If this isn't enough players to trail in this fiasco, there's one more interesting figure. Thaddeus Bradley (Morgan Freeman) is known for debunking magicians and makes a good living on TV shows telling everyone "how they do it." He never misses a performance by the Horsemen. When the FBI becomes involved in the Horsemen's antics, Thaddeus is one they question as well.

The lead cast members serve their roles well. It's easy to get wrapped up in the illusions and camera work, which makes the characters feel real without a second thought. A twist towards the end was unexpected and only added to the misconception of the plot.

The illusion and teleporting presented in the tricks are well-done as anyone who likes magic wants to believe, but also know how it's done. Director Louis Leterrier (Clash of the Titans, The Incredible Hulk) lined up a good team to create real-looking scenes of magic. Directors of Photography Larry Fong, ASC (300, Watchmen) and Mitchell Amundsen (Red Dawn) helped the hype of believing anything is possible.

The Chick-fil-A Corporation has its restaurants participate in several different events throughout the year. On Wednesday, May 23, the Santee Chick-fil-A held its first annual Military Appreciation Night.

fun activities in an outside roped off area, a free meal and vendors, organizations, and church outreach groups who gave out items to the families, made balloon puppets, did face paintings all to honor those who serve our country and their families.

spent time shaking hands and saying thank you, while KCBQ did a live broadcast from the restaurant and a band provided music.

"It was a fabulous turnout, and we're proud to honor those who protect our freedom and their families who sacrifice so much as well," Knecht said.

Alpine Wall of Honor celebrates more heroes

by Diana Saenger
An Alpine Wall of Honor ceremony took place May 25, 2013, to honor 18 new tiles of Veterans recently placed on the wall. The Wall of Honor Committee aims to honor each new group that has their tiles added to the wall with a special ceremony. Families are invited, flowers and picture of those on the wall are invited to adorn the special Wall surroundings, and Rod Galloway provides patriotic music.

The Wall has 432 tiles representing those men and women who signed up to help keep America free. Wall Committee Chairman Dan Foster called out each name among the new tiles and gave a salute to each person in attendance or not there. There is plenty of space left for anyone wishing to honor a hero with a tile. Visit www.alpinewallofhonor.org

(This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 07/11/2013 at 1:30 p.m. in Dept. Probate Room: PC-2 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING CHAPTER 13.44 OF TITLE 13 OF THE EL CAJON MUNICIPAL CODE TO AUTHORIZE THE PLACEMENT OF SEWER SERVICE CHARGES ON THE COUNTY PROPERTY TAX BILL FOR COLLECTION AS A FIXED CHARGE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT AND TO ADD EXCEPTIONS TO THE SEWER SERVICE CHARGES APPLICABLE UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that at 3:00 p.m. on June 11, 2013, the El Cajon City Council will hold a public hearing in the City Council Chambers located at 200 Civic Center Way, El Cajon, CA to consider the adoption of an ordinance to amend Chapter 13.44 of the El Cajon Municipal Code to allow the City to place sewer service charges on the County property tax roll and to add exceptions to the City's sewer service charges applicable under certain circumstances. If approved, this ordinance would, among other things, allow the City of El Cajon to place its sewer service charges on the property tax bill of each affected parcel to be collected in the same manner as the property tax so long as the City complies with certain notice requirements required pursuant to California Health and Safety Code Section 5470 et seq. This ordinance is being recommended by staff in order to make necessary updates to Chapter 13.44 of the El Cajon Municipal Code and to give the City the flexibility to bill its sewer service charges in the most viable and cost effective manner.

The public is invited to attend and participate in this public hearing. Please call the City Clerk's Office (619) 441-1763, if you have any questions regarding this notice of hearing. If you challenge the matter in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice or in written correspondence delivered to the City Clerk at, or prior to, the public hearing.

Should you have any questions about the above-noted project, please contact Blake Behringer in the Public Works Department at (619) 441-1653.

The City of El Cajon encourages the participation of disabled individuals in the services, activities, and programs provided by the City. Individuals with disabilities who require reasonable accommodation in order to participate in the City Council meetings should contact the City Clerk's Office at (619) 441-1763.

ALPINE PLANNING GROUP CIRCULATION SUBCOMMITTEE

AGENDA

6:00 pm, Thursday, June 13, 2013
Alpine Community Center
1830 Alpine Blvd, Alpine, CA 91901

- I. Call to Order and Roll Call of Members
- II. Approval of Minutes for the Meeting of May 9, 2013.
- III. Public Comment Period: Opportunity for members of the public to speak to the Group on any subject matter within the Group's jurisdiction that is not on the posted agenda.
- IV. Action Items:
Subcommittee will review list of previously submitted maintenance & repair, safety, traffic flow and other circulation issues for Alpine Planning Area roads. The list of items to be discussed follows. DISCUSSION & VOTE

ALPINE TRAFFIC & CIRCULATION CONCERNS:

Maintenance & Resurfacing Issues:

The following roads are showing serious deterioration and need to be repaired or resurfaced:

- M1. Casa de Roca Way
- M2. Alpine Grove Lane
- M3. Anderson Road
- M4. South Grade Road from Tavern to Arnold
- M5. Tavern Road from Victoria Park Terrace to Arnold Way
- M6. Tavern just south of Roble Grande in the south bound lane: Three sewer man-hole covers are hazardous. Everyone tries to straddle them and they are constantly outside the lane
- M7. West, North, & East Victoria Drive and Victoria Park Terrace need to be resurfaced
- M8. Alpine Blvd from Peutz Valley Rd to South Grade: Pavement is not smooth and bump-free as was promised by SDG&E
- M9. Arnold Way from Tavern Rd to West Alpine Blvd
- M10. Arnold Way from Tavern Rd to Alpine Blvd at 5-way intersection

Safety Issues:

- S1. Add little, white, round speed bumps on Alpine Blvd on either side of Alpine Elementary School to slow traffic down around school, and/or lower speed from Alpine Elementary School to W. Victoria. Add a crosswalk with push-button controlled traffic light and flashing lights imbedded in road surface.
- S2. Improve maintenance of shrubbery on the NE and SE corners of Tavern and Alpine Blvd so that motorists can see pedestrians. Too dangerous a curve and at funky angle puts pedestrians at risk of being hit by a car or bicycle turning at this intersection.
- S3. Add raised median or bumpers in center of road at Otto and W. Willows to prevent cars straying into opposing lanes.
- S4. Add orange "impact barrels" at south side of W. Willows across from Avocado stand where there is a big light pole and chain-link fence. There are many deaths at this site due to confusion from cars appearing to be coming toward Willows from Interstate 8, and the fact that it curves fairly suddenly to the left (if travelling east toward casino).
- S5. Need sidewalks on both sides of W. Willows from liquor store through residential area to bridge over Viejas Creek.
- S6. Consider an on-going left hand turn lane through residential portion of W. Willows Road
- S7. On Japatul Road, add warning/watch signs to alert motorists to slower bicyclists.
- S8. Consider lowering speed down Tavern from Boulder Oaks Elementary school to Arnold Way, as 50mph is too fast when pedestrians are on the raised rural sidewalks.
- S9. From Tavern from Boulder Oaks Elementary to Arnold Way, sidewalks are not separated from the speeding traffic, and sidewalks are not complete and continuous along the west side of Tavern Rd – County should complete the sidewalks & provide separation
- S10. Add little, white, round speed bumps on Tavern at crosswalk at Alpine Historical buildings and on north side of Joan McQueen.
- S11. Work to make safer the "sidewalks" that cross over the creek on Tavern Road just prior to right hand side apartment complexes.
- S12. At Alpine Village Apartments on Arnold Way people turning left from the Apartments are always in danger of being hit and children crossing the road to wait at the bus stop are always in danger. Perhaps a stop sign for through traffic would help here as this may be a blind corner.

Improve Traffic Flow:

- TF1. Ask Cal Trans to widen the Tavern Bridge to include sidewalks for safety of Alpine citizens.
- TF2. Left turn lane within the median in front of Town Hall turning Left on to Victoria is too short for the number of cars that use this lane during heavy traffic. Suggest rebuilding the median to provide a longer turn lane.
- TF3. Tavern Road traffic in mornings sometimes backs up from the I-8 to Joan McQueen middle school due to 4 traffic signals beginning at Arnold Way. Can this be improved by programming the lights for 4-way flashing red?
- TF4. Moving the bus stop on Alpine Blvd at the 5way-stop down a little, perhaps past the Liquor Store driveway, to prevent the thick build-up at the 5-way stop when the bus is picking up bus passengers.

Other Issues:

- O1. Change parking along Alpine Blvd from diagonal & curb parking to center median "Z" parking.

- V. Group Business:
- VI. Announcements:
Future group meeting dates: second Thursday each month as needed.
- VII. Adjournment

Pet of the Week

Hello! Are you looking for a great little dog who is playful and happy? Well, I'm glad you found me! My name is SCOOTER, and I'm a 10-month-old Rat Terrier-mix who needs a new home. While I love to have fun and play, I also know when it's time to settle down. The perfect blend, you might say. I enjoy the company of other dogs, and I'd be a loving and loyal friend. I'd be a wonderful pet in a home with older, considerate children, and you'll be pleased to know that the shelter staff is quite sure that I've already been house trained. Everyone says that I'm so sweet, and I'd love for you to find out for yourself. Please come visit me at the El Cajon Animal Shelter so we can spend some time together in the shelter's lovely play yard. You'll be happy you did! Love, Scooter" Kennel #58 Pet ID: 15398
