Forget your lazy days of summer! Hundreds of East County elementary and middle-schoolers will be busy engaging their minds and bodies while having fun at College for Kids classes at Cuyamaca

First offered during the '80s, the College for Kids program has been revitalized and updated to include technology-related offerings such as classes in making movies using Adobe Flash animation software. It returns this year as the Youth Boost Career Institute, free career exploration for incoming seventh- and eighth-graders interested in the fields of health and medicine; green entrepreneurship; and science and engineering.

Committed to addressing the educational needs of the community, the district also views College for Kids as an early orientation for Grossmont and Cuyamaca's future students. Honoring volunteers in El Cajon

As the City of El Cajon continues to celebrate 100 years of incorporation, we would like to honor those who volunteer in our community through the 100 Hours Honoring 100 Years Volunteer Program. As we celebrate our Centennial Year and reflect on our rich City history, it is important to recognize that it is the people who make El Cajon the "Valley of Opportunity," including our volunteers. The 100 Hours Honoring 100 Years Volunteer Program was developed to provide an opportunity for El Cajon residents and others involved in the community to be recognized for their service in honor of El Cajon's Centennial. Through this volunteer program, the City will recognize the volunteer service performed in the El Cajon community during the Centennial year (November 2012 through November 2013). All are invited to participate, whether as an individual, or in a group on behalf of an organization, community group, or business. Find out more by visiting our Centennial website, www.elcajon100.com, under "Participate" and download the forms. Completed forms will be accepted throughout the year; however, all forms must be completed and delivered, or post-marked, by December 10, 2013. For more information, call (619) 441-5549.

Sharing a piece of history

Centennial Moment: Fire equipment 1924

Below is an excerpt from a brochure published in 1961 in honor of the City's 50th anniversary of incorporation: "50 Years of Progress." The brochure chronicles events in the City by each year, from incorporation in 1912, through present day, at that time, in 1961. This Centennial moment focuses specifically on the year 1924.

The tax rate for 1924 - 25 was announced at $1.60 for each $100 in assessed evaluation. The amount was divided as follows:

The first firetruck.

Fire Fund - 15¢
Salaries - 20¢
General Fund - 25¢
Municipal Improvements - 30¢
Street Lights - 20¢
Streets - 20¢
Main Street Bonds - 20¢
Magnolia Avenue Paving - 10¢

Go ahead — make Dad's Day

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

A theory, which I subscribe to personally, states the reason Father's Day is so lame is because so much has been spent on Mother's Day, there is nothing left.

I am in favor of celebrating Father's Day "any which way you can." It really does not matter to the father involved. Any father would consider his child a "million dollar baby" if he or she would just give a Father's Day card to him, along with a nice hot cup of coffee while sitting in his favorite chair reading the newspaper. Nothing the children did throughout the year would remain "unforgiven" if something this simple were done on Father's Day.

Father's Day is celebrated "every which way but loose," and I believe it is time this has stopped. Too many loose ends concerning Father's Day. It is a "true crime" the way certain things are left hanging concerning fathers. Some fathers have felt like "the dead pool" around Father's Day, not knowing exactly what to expect.

Mother's Day is rather simple. Every mother knows that she will get certain things; flowers, a Mother's Day card and dinner at her favorite restaurant.

By the time Father's Day comes around everybody is so exhausted from Mother's Day, not to mention most fathers are broke, nobody knows exactly how to make dad's day special

Lily of The Garden

By Barrett Stowers in memory of his Great- Grandmother

I walk through a small garden that has been in this yard for years; yet is still gleaming with vibrant verdancy.

A man took care of this vineyard then left it to the faithful hands of his wife.

She continued to plow and till the earth with prayerful fervency, until her hands could no longer hold the hoe she used for the soil. Now she steps back to watch her last seeds sprout and grow towards the sky.

I walk with the lovely lady who lasted these years.

She shows me every berry, especially the boysenberries, which we believed sweetest of all. Their vines are young and their fruit freshly bloomed, and walking beside me, she plucks any berry around.

It was harvest time under the warm, fall sun. "Winter is coming soon," she told me with a tender smile. "We should enjoy these berries before it gets cold." So I too plucked a few to enjoy and saved some seeds for the next season.

We then walk to the flowers, spotting a stretch of orchids; but my eyes transfix on a sea of lilies, white and fluorescent. In the front of this foliage, a single lily sprouts above the others. Its stem is a light, faded green; its petals are soft and fragile, slumping towards the earth, but still blooming out for the sky, as bright as any white, summer sun.

We knew winter was coming, and this flower would fall dormant letting its petals softly float and fall to the earth below.

Still this great and grand flower's spirit would soon ascend to the heavens.

"I grow tired of tending to these plants today," softly sighing the woman rested her hands. "Perhaps tomorrow you will finish the harvest. Or perhaps you will work on a new patch. Whatever you do, do it with sturdy hands."

I watch the tired woman walk toward the steps of her porch; entering her home to rest her head. I turn to see the aged lily lower a single petal to the soft earth underneath. It was growing colder.

But I believe there is a place where summer never ends and flowers forever flourish.

Dear Dr. Luauna — What is your life?

Dear Readers,

I want to ask a powerful question answered only by each person. I read a scripture in the Bible. James 4:14; "Whereas you do not know what will happen tomorrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor that appears for a little time and then vanishes away." In this text it doesn't ask what life is? If it did, nobody would have a logical answer.

Three main questions often come up during our lifetime. Children ask – where did I come from? (Best to answer this or someone else will give them a wrong answer.) Maybe right now, many are asking another question: Why am I here? Then when one is a bit older; Where do I go from here?

Some people say life isn't fair while others think life is feast, and yet another that life is a fast. One man says, life is a paradise but another it's like a prison. So where is your life at? Is it a failure, a success, or a disappointment?

God's Word tells us, 'Our life is like a vapor!' Does that mean it's like the steam that comes off the tea pot?

Try to get a hand full steam, and it's gone. Throughout the Word of God we see different descriptions of life. Paul says our life is like being in a tent for a night, and then we're packed up and gone. Isaiah likens us to the grass. Isaiah 40:7; "The grass withers, the flower fades, because the breath of the Lord blows upon it; surely the people are grass."

I Peter 1:24; "All flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of the grass. The grass withers, and its flower falls away." Psalm 103:15; "As for man, his days are like grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourishes."

If the Bible is about anything at all, it's about life. Man in all his strength doesn't really understand life. We have more war, sickness, broken homes, and broken lives than ever. Some have a blank soul. Where does one get life?

Jesus came, that we may have true life. John 10:10; "I have come that you may have life, and have it more abundantly."

John 14: 6; "Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." Thomas Kempis said, "Without the way, there is no going; without the truth, there is no knowing; without the life, there is no living."

Jesus said I am the bread of life in John 6:35; "And Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of Life, He who comes to Me shall never hunger, and he who believes in Me shall never thirst."

Genesis 2:7; "God is the breath of life And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living being."

Job 12:10; "In whose hand is the life of every living thing, And the breath of all mankind?"

Psalm 119:50; "This is my comfort in my affliction, for Your word has given me life."

What is your life? Do you have Jesus? We are all loved, and so important.

For Health's Sake

Can gratitude change your life?

Filmmaker Doug Vermeeren likes to quote author Robert M. Pirsig when introducing the idea of positive psychology: "The truth knocks on the door and you say, 'Go away, I'm looking for the truth,' and so it goes away. Puzzling."

Positive psychology entails a call for science and psychological practice to be as concerned with strength as with weakness; as interested in building the best things in life as in repairing the worst; and as concerned with making the lives of normal people fulfilling as with healing pathology, Vermeeren says.

"People can become suspicious when you tell them that they can change their lives with a simple shift in perspective; it can seem too good to be true because it's an uncomplicated answer to many of life's challenges. But I'm just one of many who have experienced a measurable life change with gratitude," says Vermeeren, creator of the new film, "The Gratitude Experiment," (www.thegratitudeexperiment.com), which demonstrates through individual stories the powerful effects of gratitude on people's lives.

"I feel that everyone deserves that opportunity."

He describes three areas in life that can be positively transformed with the power of gratitude:

- Attitude: Gratitude can help us overcome any problem or hardship. It gives us perspective on what's important, what we truly value and what we have right in front of us. In our small corner of this vast universe, we find the most miraculous thing of all: life. No matter what situation we are in or worries we face, we can always be grateful that we are alive on this beautiful planet. There is a world of possibilities open to whatever attitude we bring to it. Today we can appreciate this opportunity, giving thanks for everything we have and sharing with one another what we are grateful for.

- Health: The positive thinking triggered by our gratitude has proven health benefits, including strengthening the immune system, reducing stress and depression, reducing risk of cardiovascular disease, better coping skills during hardship and overall increased sense of well-being, according to the Mayo Clinic. "This isn't empty, New Age-y fluff," says Vermeeren, a successful business consultant. "This is testable criteria and measurable health benefits."

- Relationships: One of the most defining characteristics of the human race is our social nature. We are hardwired to work, communicate and interact with each other. Most of us understand the value of being there for each other, especially during hard times. However, research from the University of California-Santa Barbara shows that it's also crucial to be proactively positive during normal or good times, as well. Positive reinforcement during good times reinforces bonds and assures a friend, family member or spouse that you'll be there during hard times. A neutral response to good news from a spouse, for example, implies apathy and that the responder is less involved in the other's life. "Embrace the good stuff not only in your life, but also in the lives of others," Vermeeren says.

Laughter is the Best Medicine

Morning coffee for grandma

One morning a grandma was surprised to find that her 7 year old grandson made her coffee. Smiling she choked down the worst cup of her life.

When she was finished she found three little green Army men at the bottom. Puzzled, she asked "Honey, what are these Army men doing in my coffee?"

Her grandson answered, "like it says on TV Grandma. 'The best part of waking up is soldiers in your cup.'"

Dad's Day ...

or, more importantly, who will finance it.

With some of the presents I have received over the years, I am beginning to think my children imagine me as a "space cowboy," or maybe a "high plains drifter" driving around in a "pink Cadillac" heading for "the bridges of Madison County."

When it comes to being a father, I assure you I am not "the rookie" walking on a "tightrope," directly "in the line of fire" running toward "heart-break ridge." I have quite a bit of experience being a father, going back more than 40 years.

As a father, I have three children notched on my belt. At times, I have felt like "the enforcer" and the only way to deal with those children was to use "magnum force" and "hang 'em high."

I must confess at times I felt like a "pale rider" sweating it out in the "city heat," realizing no matter how hard I try it is not "a perfect world" we live in. What would make my day, and other fathers' day, would be a present I could really use, or at least understand without spending an entire day reading the directions.

In spite of all this, I have discovered one thing; being a father is its own reward. The Bible puts fatherhood high on the list of important positions in life.

David, the Psalmist, put his feelings about being a father into familiar words to all who have read the Bible. "Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord: and the fruit of the womb is his reward. As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth. Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them: they shall not be ashamed, but they shall speak with the enemies in the gate." (Psalm 127:3-5 KJV.)

This year, my advice is, whatever it costs, go ahead and make dad's day. He deserves it.

'This Is The End' — a rollicking comedy with undertones just for adults

Review by James Colt Harrison

A more crude, rude, and nude movie has not been made in years, and This Is The End is all those things in spades. It is also the funniest, groan-inducing picture to come out of Hollywood this year. It's sure to please the twenty-something crowd with its sometimes sophomoric sense of humor. But there are some genuine laughs and crazy situations to make those over 30 scratch their heads wondering what is happening. Why? Because it is a bizarrely funny film with many outlandish and horrifying sequences that young people can easily relate to.

Seth Rogan has written a zany script with Evan Goldberg and the two pals have directed the movie. Although the cast of pros doesn't seem to need much direction in their outrageous acting situations, Rogan/Goldberg must have acted more as referees to the out-of-control actors.

Everybody plays a real-life version of himself. They are all actors in Hollywood living a highly privileged life of parties sprinkled with beautiful starlets, gorgeous homes, and wild sex. The party is held at James Franco's "self-designed" home, and a beauty it is indeed. Life is fun, carefree, and somewhat selfish. When the film opens, real-life friends Baruchel and Rogan attend the party at Franco's house. Already there are Hollywood celebrities Rihanna, Emma Watson, Mindy Kalling, David Krumholtz, Christopher Mintz-Plasse and others. There is no thought about anything but pleasure, sex, and drug use. In other words, the world is going to He in a hand-basket.

Despite all the hilarity in the beginning, the film changes courses with the introduction of sudden earthquakes, fires, car crashes and sink-hole infernos opening up in the earth. It's the Apocalypse in the middle of Hollywood! Rogan and Goldberg have cleverly written some seriousness into the script while embellishing it with gallows humor. Scary demons appear to challenge the boys, and some raunchy sexually oriented scenes appear with great hilarity tinged with horror. Rogan/Goldberg have tempered what could be hair-raising scenes with some good old-fashioned college humor of the sleaziest kind, but yet the audience screams with laughter – and then dives under the seat from being scared. It's the old Hollywood trick of making an audience jump in horror and then laughs its head off. It worked 50 years ago, and it works now. Only these kid movie-makers have brought it all up to date, and it's done with contemporary style.

takes is an act of kindness and a little love. We can't reveal if that happens, but it's an incentive to be good. The picture is not for everybody, but those who love sleazy humor and sexually raunchy frankness, will revel in the laughs as well as the gore.

Pixar's 'Monsters University' lacks heart

Review by Diana Saenger
Monsters University isn't even close to being as funny and witty as its predecessor, Monsters, Inc., but then how many sequels outshine their parent film? Some of the characters from the original movie have apparently aged and are now off to college. Mike Wazowski (voice of Billy Crystal) is finally getting his dream to become a scarer and wants to get into the Scare Program at Monsters University. It might seem coincidental, but he's joined by a few characters from the original film including Sully (John Goodman), and Randy (Steve Buscemi).

It doesn't take anyone over four to realize Mike looks like a funny-looking ball with one eye. He's not scary at all. And that's exactly what Dean Hardscrabble (Helen Mirren) lets him know in no uncertain terms. She should know, because she is scary. She might even frighten some really young members of the audience.

Even though Mike studies the scare books from back to front he just can't produce a freighting face or hearty growl that makes the other students jump. Meanwhile, all the blue Sully has to do is puff up those big shoulders, let his big white teeth show, and unleash a growl that makes kids run and hide.

We get a lot about what Pixar is known for like cute things in its work. One example is when the students have to walk into rooms where artificial simulators of little children are sleeping in bed and the students have to scare them. Their actions are recorded on a monitor that reveals their scare score.

Co-screenwriters Daniel

Gerson and Robert L. Baird (co-collaborators on Monsters, Inc. script also), attempt to recreate the jewel they helped birth in the original film but this sequel falls short in many areas. Of course, Mike does not do well in this test. But – he doesn't give up. That's one of the few positive things about Monsters University; it teaches kids not to give up on your dreams.

There's lots about college that seems pertinent to today, pledges, rivalries and competitions. I felt some of this was a little overboard for an audience that really only wants to be entertained. The big campus competitions where teams snarl at each other felt like an immature CNN sports events, not something a five or six-year-old child would find interesting. I also felt there was real passion missing in this movie that was so much a part of Monsters, Inc. – one of my favorites of all time.

Worse of all <spoiler alert>, Mike discovers he's just not right for his dream. Who thought that idea up for a kids' movie? There are laughs for both adults and children but it's not enough to push this film up to par with its Pixar animated brothers and sisters.

Chargers begin a new era

by Chuck Karazsia

Last week's three-day Mini Camp concluded with a lot of new faces mixed in with old ones.

Veterans broke camp after Thursday's practice and will not return until training camp begins in late July. Rookies will stick around a week longer getting acclimated to their new team, busy learning new plays, techniques, and their new coaches and staff.

Head coach Mike McCoy and coordinator Ken Whisenhunt conducted the team's first off-season program, familiarizing the players, with themselves and their new system.]

Keeping it simple is their game plan, most notably on the offensive side of the ball.

"Just continue to learn the system, and pay attention to detail," McCoy said to his team in the locker room. We had a couple of days for the coaches to get their point across to an entire football team. We know how we want to do things here with the changes we're making, how we are going to coach certain situations. Just do all the little things right."

Anchoring the middle of the offensive line again is veteran Nick Hardwick at center in his tenth season. Jeromey Clary has moved from tackle to guard on the right side, opening up the tackle position for this year's first-round pick, D.J. Fluker.

Former Pittsburgh Steelers' veteran Max Starks will protect Rivers blind side at left tackle. Chad Rinehart will be the left guard. Moving players around during camp allowed the coaches to put the best players at the best position, also creating versatility within the offensive front, which as we know, will be needed during the course of the season.

Vincent Brown is back on the field fully rehabilitated from a broken ankle which sidelined him last year. Teaming up with Malcolm Floyd, and Danario Alexander, the former Aztecs wide receiver is looking to have a big season.

Chargers starting quarterback Philip Rivers is also itching to get the ball in the hands of the sure-handed receiver. "It's been a long road for him to get back on the field," Rivers said. "He was going to be a huge part of it last year. He looks good, fresh. You can tell life is back in him."

Free safety Eric Weddle is the lone starting mainstay to a young Chargers defensive secondary. Gone is long time cornerback Quentin Jammer who signed in Denver. Taking over both corner spots will be Derek Cox and Shareece Wright. Brandon Taylor is the projected starter at strong safety pending full recovery from ACL surgery in late December.

Defensive line and outside linebacker positions are thin due to the off-season departure of Garay and Phillips (Denver) and season-end knee surgery to former first rounder Melvin Ingram. The Bolts D-line will be anchored by former round one picks Corey Lueget, and Cam Thomas. Number two selection, the behemoth Kendall Reyes will beef up the middle. OLB, Larry English will once again attempt to play injury free, so the former first round pick can make tackles.

Recently signed free-agent Dwight Freeney was lured from the Colts to the Bolts. The 33 year old future Hall-of-Fame pass rushing specialist will attempt to add to his 107-plus career sack total. Veteran lineman Jarret Johnson will clog up the run lanes.

"It's a starting point, and we got a long way to go," McCoy said. "At training camp the tempo is going to pick up. We've got to learn what we're doing first."

Training camp will open July 25 with selected dates open to the public.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF LERAE ANN LOUGHRIDGE

CASE NO. 37-2013-00051460-PR-LA-CTL ROA #: 1 (IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: LERAE ANN LOUGHRIDGE
A Petition for Probate has been filed by ALISON HOWE in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO.

The Petition for Probate requests that ALISON HOWE be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 7/25/2013 at 1:30 p.m. in Dept. PC-2 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building. If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: J. Douglass Jennings, Jr., Esq., 3655 Nobel Drive, Suite 200, San Diego, CA 92122, Telephone: 858-457-1224

Pet of the Week

"I may be tiny, but I have a big heart! My name is LEO, and I'm a five-year-old Chihuahua who will melt your heart. My favorite spot in the world will be on your lap or in your arms. I just want to be loved! I get along nicely with other dogs, and I'd be a loving and loyal pet in a family with older, considerate children. I'm so very small that I would do well in an house or an apartment. The shelter staff is fairly certain that I've been house trained, but they're still watching me to be sure. Please come to the El Cajon Animal Shelter and visit me. You'll find a sweet little fellow waiting for a new forever home. I'm a little overwhelmed here at the shelter, but I feel better after somebody cuddles me. Just ask our helpful staff if we can get to know each other better out in the play yard. I think you'll fall in love with me once you hold me in your arms. Love, Leo" Kennel #11
