Red Shoe Day a huge success

s the sun rose on the morning of June 27, so did the volunteers of the Alpine Kiwanis Club with family members in tow. This year, the Kiwanis Club of Alpine had 11 volunteers stationed at various intersections throughout Alpine holding signs and the iconic size 14 Ronald McDonald Shoe in hopes of raising money to benefit the Ronald McDonald House Charities of San Diego. The Ronald McDonald House is a home away from home for families who have children being treated for serious, often life threatening, conditions at local hospitals.

This is the Alpine Kiwanis Club's third year participating in the annual Red Shoe Day event. Kristen Gauss, Chairwoman of the event, said she feared she set the bar too high this year when she set a goal of raising $1500. After the event, Gauss was proud to report that through pre-event fundraising, and the generosity from the community, the volunteers broke their initial goal and collected an estimated $1847.

"The generosity shown from the members of the community, and the members of the Alpine Kiwanis Club was overwhelm-

El Cajon Centennial Moments

Below is an excerpt from a brochure published in 1961 in honor of the City's 50th anniversary of incorporation: "50 Years of Progress." The brochure chronicles events in the City by each year, from incorporation in 1912, through present day, at that time, in 1961. This Centennial moment focuses specifically on the year 1926. Photo is courtesy of the El Cajon Historical Society he Street Commission The Street Common has been requested to secure the services of a "Speed Cap" to service all unpaved city streets at least twice each week. (A "Speed Cap" is believed to be a trade name for a scraper, either horse or motor drawn.)

In April, the Court Recorder reported to the Board of Trustees that in March there had been 13 violations of the Motor Vehicle Act within the city limits. All were convictions and the City Court collected $245 in fines. Also, there had been two violations of the Wright Act resulting in the collection of $150 in fines.

1928 - A report to the Trustees by the City Court for February showed the following convictions - one for a vehicle turning around in the middle of a block on Main Street. Another was for parking in a restricted zone. A minor was hauled into court for driving a motor vehicle without a driver's license. He pleaded not guilty because he did not have to have a license for driving a horse and wagon. The judge did not agree. There were three citations for reckless driving, which brought a total of $56 in fines.

The El Cajon Rotary Club was chartered this year (1926), and again the name of Reverend Charles F. Richardson (also City Clerk, Building Inspector and Health Officer) appears as the first appointed president of this aggressive public service organization until 1927.

Inspiration

Of course it's raining, I just washed my car

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

obody can say I did not warn the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage, for all the good my warning did. I am not one to say, "I told you so," but "I told you so."

I swear, at times I think my wife thinks I do not want to do something simply because I am too lazy. Nine times out of 10 it may be true, but what about that tenth time?

What women need to understand is when their husband does not do something; there may be a good, logical reason behind it. The problem men have is articulating their perfectly good and logical reason to their better half. Trust me on this one, ladies.

There are excellent reasons your husband does not always do what you request of him. I wish someone would explain this to my wife. It is just hard for us to explain it in terms women can understand.

Last week, for example, my wife made a request of me. She said, "Honey ..."

Whenever my wife begins a sentence with "Honey," I know I am in for a sticky situation.

Honey comes from bees and whenever she so addresses me, I know I be in trouble, and you can be sure there is a stinger in it for me - somewhere.

My wife was looking out the window with her arms folded, which means she is thinking about some job around the house for Yours Truly. Then she said, "Honey, don't you think you should wash the car?"

If I live to be a hundred that thought never crossed my mind. Do you know how much trouble it is to wash my car?

Then, it never fails to rain right after I wash the car and have to wash it all over again.

That was on Tuesday and I said to my wife, "You know, Dear," whenever a husband so addresses his wife, it always means he is trying to find some way out of doing her request, while making it sound like he wants to do it.

I said, "You know, Dear, it's a wonderful idea but it looks like it might rain." The key to this point is to put on a grimace and look up in the sky, in a thoughtful frame of mind. "Yes, I think I saw a raindrop. It won't be long now."

Right here is where most men fail. Simply because the first round is over does not mean, by any stretch of the imagination, the issue is put to rest. I can sum up the next move in one word - vamoose.

In other words, disappear. Remember the old saying, "Out of sight, out of chores"?

Find something to get you out of the line of fire. There is always a chance - slim though it is - the Missus will get busy with something else and forget.

By Thursday, I forgot the car washing idea and was standing around our living room looking out the window. It seemed harmless enough.

Have you heard the old saying, "An idle husband is a wife's workhorse?"

I heard those familiar words beginning with "Honey ..." And a streak of panic flowed through my body, freezing up every muscle I still had. "Honey, our car really needs a good washing."

Now, that was bad enough and I think I could have worked out something else except - before I could clear my throat, she added a phrase no husband wants to hear. "Don't you agree?"

If I say, "No," I am in trouble

If I say, "Yes," I am in trouble.

I am duped if I do not and doped if I do. How is a husband to win with the odds so stacked against him?

With a feigned meekness that would make St. Francis of Assisi envious, I said what all good husbands say under similar conditions, "Yes, Dear."

The next three hours found me outside, vigorously washing Old Nelly. As I washed her, I could feel someone (I am not mentioning any names) watching from our living room window.

The smile on my face camouflaged the clenched teeth behind it.

Just as I was putting the finishing touches on the wax job, I felt something cold on the back of my neck. At first, being engrossed in my chore, I did not pay any attention to it.

Then another - and another - and another. Then came the rain.

I glanced at my freshly waxed car and saw drops of water cheerfully dancing on my mirrored hood.

The thunder sounded like a heavenly giggle and before I could make it to the door, I was completely drenched.

Ducking inside out of the rain, I was greeted by my wife who calmly asked, "Oh, my. Is it raining?"

"Of course it's raining," I shivered, "I've just washed my car."

As I was drying off, I chuckled to myself as a favorite Bible verse came to mind.

"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose." (Romans 8:28 KJV.)

Two things in life are for certain.

One: things will always fall apart.

Two: God can always take those things that fall apart and pull them together for His honor and glory - come rain or shine.

Dear Readers,

reedom starts in the heart. I have traveled throughout the nations preaching this wonderful gospel message. Seeing Jesus Christ bring freedom to thousands who will by faith receive and believe. It has been only God's grace over my life which opened doors to minister in Korea, Australia, Canada, throughout Europe, and into the very heart of Africa. Deep in the bush where many don't have running water or electricity, I've walked for hours a day to travel from one place to another.

Freedom! Allow me to share a few powerful verses. John 8:36 "Therefore if the Son makes you free, you shall be free indeed." Romans 6:18 "And having been set free from sin, you became slaves of righteousness. "Romans 8:2 "For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has made me free from the law of sin and death."

A tear comes to my eye when I hear the National Anthem, or someone sing God Bless America. My heart is so grateful for freedom, the freedom to live in America. To live in a land that allows us the freedom to preach Jesus on the street corner, and still gather to pray or worship our God who still brings freedom to hearts. I'm proud to be a true American, a Native American Indian, loving this land—the United States of America. Yes, America needs to remember her God, and yes we need to go back to the basic Bible principals. Love the Lord your God with all your heart, and love your neighbor as yourself.

When I hear someone bash the United States, or burn our flag, I personally want to buy them a one way ticket, to another country where there is no freedom. I think to myself they must have never traveled to another nation. Last week two amazing young men came to spend a few days at the Prayer Mountain. They shared their burden for their nation where every Christian church has been burnt down or closed. And thousands of Christians a day look for the freedom to flee the refugee camps, while hundreds of others die of hunger or thirst in the desert. Bodies are found dead and opened up to steal their organs to sell on the black market.

America, yes, she needs Jesus once again. Lost are the days of Leave It to Beaver, and My Three Sons. But I know Jesus is able to hear our prayers as we cry out once again for our land. Prayer is a powerful tool. We can touch heaven from our knees; we can change our nation through prayer. I'm a life that has been changed through prayer. Nothing is too hard for our God, nothing. He created the whole world in six days; do we really think our problems in America are too hard for our God? He turned the water into wine, opened blind eyes, made the lame walk, and opened the sea for almost 2.5 million people to pass through on dry ground. I know God is able. Luke 18:1 "Then He spoke a parable to them, that men always ought to pray and not lose heart." I Thessalonians 5:17 "pray without ceasing."

Cheer up; we live in a great country, America. Let's pray for her and trust God to restore her once again to Him, One Nation Under God. Freedom first comes within. Jesus is our strength, no greater love than He who lays down His life for another. John 3:16 "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." Jesus loves you.

David Allen Rochester, Jr. Dave's email moniker was BIG DAVE, and he was big in size and bigger in heart....a kind and gentle man. Born on Christmas Day, 1958, his picture appeared in the local newspaper because he was one of 5 babies born in the small town of Lodi, California, on that day. He went home to heaven on Sunday, June 9, 2013.

Dave gave his heart to the Lord as a young boy, and when he was nine, he began to lose vision in his left eye to Coat's disease, named after the doctor who first identified it and usually only suffered by boys who are bigger and taller than normal for their age.

Within a few months he was completely blind in that eye, but it didn't stop him from later playing sports in high school. At Christian High he played football and basketball, competed in the shot put and discus, and was on the golf team. He was a school leader, serving as School Chaplain and graduating in 1977.

Dave spent a year at Christian Heritage College, but wanted to join his dad in the building trade. After he obtained his General Contractor's license, he proceeded to write a book about how to study for and pass that test

During that time, he joined with 3 friends to form the Calvary Mountain Boys, a Christian Folk band. For two summers they ministered at Hume Lake Christian Camp with their music.

Dave is survived by his wife of 31 ½ years, Bonny (Parker) and their four children, Jacob, Benjamin, Ben's wife Rosie, Amy Rochester, and Jessica Rochester. He leaves two grandchildren, Warren and Lily Rochester, his younger sister Wendy Rochester, and his parents David and Barbara Rochester, as well as aunts, uncles, cousins and many friends.

'Despicable Me 2' — a touching spotlight on family

Review by Diana Saenger espicable Me started out like a lamb in 2010 and after a few weeks in theaters became a lion. Universal Pictures and Illumination Entertainment's animated movie grossed more than $540 million and became the 10th-biggest animated motion picture in U.S. history. So the new 2013 Despicable Me 2 has a lot of pressure to measure up to.

Gru (voice of Steve Carell), who was a villain in the first movie, is now reformed since he became the adopted father of the adorable girls Margo (voice of Miranda Cosgrove), Edith (voice of Dana Gaier) and Agnes (voice of Elsie Fisher).

Dads have dual duty in trying to make a living and giving their children enough attention. So Gru must expand his Minion world, and decides to have them made jelly and jams. But how exciting can that be when he's been a super-agent spy? Luckily, Gru is contacted by a secret organization dedicated to fight evil around the globe. He takes on the job but is not excited to find out his new partner is the wise-cracking Lucy Wilde (voice of Kristen Wiig).

Basically, there are three subplots in this film. That Gru went from rigid bad guy to unbelievable father is extremely touching. When he can't find a fairy princess to appear at little Agnes's birthday party, his heart takes over. He becomes the princess dressed in a huge pink gown and arrives to the delight of the children. Every moment, no matter what matter needs to have his attention on his business; Gru is all about the children. He's there for them every moment.

Directors, Chris Renaud and Pierre Coffin, along with writers. Cinco Paul and Ken Daurio, create different personalities in the three girls. Margo is the oldest and while she's becoming a typical teen who wants to spend time on her cell phone and be with her friends, she's always there for her sisters. Edith is a mischievous tombov, always wanting to know what her dad is up to and how she can be a superhero. In Agnes, the animators have created an adorable, sweet, moon-eyed little girl everyone would want to take home. She really melts Gru's heart.

Now, there's someone new to share Gru's affection as he and Lucy slowly gain affection for each other. The girls push for her and Gru to get together, but Lucy is an agent who has an exciting job that takes her around the world. Would she give all that up to be a mother to three girls?

The third story is about Gru and Lucy trying to save the world. Gru losses his faithful friend Dr. Nefario (voice of Russell Brand) to the bad side, and has to figure out if Eduardo (voice of Benjamin Bratt) is really the charming owner of the Salsa & Salsa restaurant, or has he too gone to the dark side.

There's much to like about this film. Watchers get warm and fuzzy feelings from the family aspects of the characters. The Minions keep everyone laughing all the way through, even when they turn purple and are supposed to be bad minions. The young kids will really enjoy the animated sequences where things appear to jump out right at them.

Yet, I was disappointed in some elements I think when too far in a movie for kids. In the beginning of the film, Gru comes out at the birthday party with what looks like an Ak47. He pulls the trigger and out pops a balloon. "REALLY!"

Parts of the mission to save the world end up in a lot of battles that to me resembled too much of real war, something I think was a little over the top for a children's movie.

That said, Despicable Me 2 is cute and funny and while it's hard to create the same diamond twice, it's still a great getaway for kids and parents.

'White House Down' — a let down

Review by Diana Saenger hite House Down is an action-packed, high adrenaline time at the theatre. Filled with more explosions probably than people who visited the White House this year, Roland Emmerich once again attempts to level the White House as he did in "Independence Day."

The plot starts out somewhat engaging. John Cale (Channing Tatum), a U.S. Capitol Police officer, is trying to up his game, both in his career and his personal life with his divorced wife and his 11-year-old daughter, Emily (Joey King). Now John wants to be a secret service agent. He takes Emily along with him for his interview. However, a go around with Secret Service supervisor Finnerty (Maggie Gyllenhaal), isn't too successful. She reads off reports from previous jobs and one after another renders John not up to par in the accountable arena. "You have a lack of respect for authority," she tells John.

John leaves disappointed but can't let on to Emily he didn't get the job. Instead they join a group getting ready for a tour. While President James Sawyer (Jamie Foxx) returns to the White House, a full-scale armed invasion of domestic terrorists is spilling into every crevice in the White House with the intent to kill the President and level the White House.

Before the action gets too intense, the President pauses by the tour group to dazzle them with some basic White House history. Every question he asks, Emily answers. Seems she's obsessed with White House history.

And this is where the interesting plot ends. The rest of the movie is watching every protocol of the White House security fail – which obviously points to someone on the inside. Suspects include the Speaker of the House (Richard Jenkins), Walker (James Woods), the retiring chief of presidential security, and General Caufield (Lance Reddick)

Oddly enough everyone who is supposed to protect the President goes down, so John jumps to the chance to protect him. Stenz (Jason Clarke) heads the thugs who create havoc with everything from blowing up part of the White House and Presidential Planes to setting up missiles to attack countries around the world.

This might have been fun had it not all been done before, especially in "Independence Day." Even the good job by Emily to help thwart the thugs, can't overcome the tedious blow-ups and situations that were totally improbable. But one can't say Tatum didn't earn his money on this one with all the stunts he had to do.

Pet of the Week

Say How-de-do to Bentley, a gorgeous Himilayan guy, who's also one of the most laid-back cats we've ever met. He's got fantastic blue eyes, and a luxurious cream and deep brown coat. He came in as "lost" but is declawed, so needs to be an indoor kitty, for his safety and your peace of mind. He told the volunteers he didn't mind staying indoors, so long as whoever adopts him can love him fur-ever and ever. Come and see this extraordinary fella in cage #115. He's a keeper!
