El Cajon Centennial Moments

Sharing a piece of history

Centennial Moment: 1957 Police Chief Ed Cartwright

Ed Cartwright

Below is an excerpt from a brochure published in 1961 in honor of the City's 50th anniversary of incorporation: "50 Years of Progress." The brochure chronicles events in the City by each year, from incorporation in 1912, through present day, at that time, in 1961. This Centennial Moment focuses specifically on the year 1957.

In this year of 1957, it is safe to say that nearly every child who had attended grammar school in El Cajon over the past 20 years knew Police Officer Ed Cartwright. He was a familiar figure at street crossings used by school children. Most of them would call him "Ed" or "Big Ed." Big Ed had served as Police Chief, a patrolman, and as a school crossing guard. He knew almost everyone in town and had a host of friends. Many mourned his passing this year (photo courtesy of the El Cajon Police Department).

Tom Wigton, the originator of the Mother Goose Parade, was voted the "Citizen of the Year."

The El Cajon Valley News celebrated its 65th anniversary. The paper was started by W.H. Somers in 1892.

For more El Cajon history, visit www.elcajonhistory.org. For Centennial updates and current information, visit www.elcajon100.com. Photo is courtesy of the El Cajon Historical Society.

For Health's Sake

Beating heart disease, know the facts

By Eliot A. Brinton,
MD, FAHA, FNLA

Hear disease is America's number-one killer. Yet many of the negative outcomes associated with the disease are preventable, thanks largely to cholesterol-lowering drugs called statins.

Unfortunately, statins don't work if patients don't take them, yet as many as three-quarters of patients stop taking their statin medication within the first year.

This has to change. In the quarter-century since statins were first introduced, dozens of clinical trials in hundreds of thousands of patients have shown that statins can prevent heart attacks and stroke and help save lives. In one study of over 17,000 patients in 26 countries, statin users had 54 percent fewer heart attacks, 48 percent fewer strokes, and 20 percent fewer deaths, compared with patients who took a placebo.

Statins work mainly by reducing patients' levels of LDL, or "bad," cholesterol by as much as 50 percent. High levels of LDL can lead to atherosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries, which is the primary cause of heart disease.

So why do so many patients stop taking their statins - or refuse them in the first place?

A common concern is the myth that statins cause liver damage. Statins can increase the blood levels of some liver enzymes, and so it has been assumed that they can harm the liver, or even lead to liver failure. But according to a recent study in the Lancet, a prestigious medical journal, statin-induced hepatotoxicity - the scientific term for liver damage - "is a myth." The study found that patients taking statins suffered no additional liver damage compared to people who didn't. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has even removed the recommendation that liver enzymes be monitored routinely in statin-taking patients.

Another major recent concern about statins is that they can cause diabetes. Statins can indeed raise blood sugar levels slightly - and thus increase the risk of developing diabetes by about 10 percent or so.

A recent article, however, in the Journal of the American College of Cardiology has clarified this point, finding that statin use only increased the incidence of diabetes in patients who already had multiple risk factors for the disease. In a commentary on the study, Dr. Gregory Nichols of the Kaiser Permanente Center for Health Research said, "We can now be reasonably comfortable that statins increase diabetes only among people who are probably going to develop it anyway."

Statins reduce the risk of cardiovascular events even in patients who develop diabetes, and the risk-benefit ratio of statin use remains positive; even for patients at high risk of developing diabetes.

Another concern is how statins interact with other medications. As many as 75 percent of medications - including warfarin, beta-blockers, antidepressants, and anti-HIV medications, among others, are metabolized through one set of pathways in the liver, called Cytochrome 450 (CYP450). When these, and some other medications, are taken with statins there can be "unanticipated adverse reactions or therapeutic failures." A recent survey of over 10,000 statin users found that 84 percent were taking a prescription, over-the-counter medication, or dietary supplement that could adversely react with their statin.

Patients prescribed statins should ask their doctors whether the medicines or supplements they're already taking can adversely interact with statins. Such conversations can help choose the best statin treatment to a patient's unique medical history, cultural perspective, and personal circumstances - and result in a personalized treatment plan.

This year, 785,000 Americans will have a heart attack, and nearly 600,000 will die of heart disease. That's more than one person every second.

Statins are our most important tool in the fight to prevent these terrible causes of suffering and death. Indeed, widespread statin use accounts for much of the progress we've made against heart disease over the past two decades. The problem, however, is far from solved. Patients can and should be proactive by having their cholesterol levels checked - and by following up with their doctors to start or continue whatever treatments may be needed, whether changes to diet and lifestyle or the use of a statin or other medication regimen.

Statins will work only if we take them - intelligently.

Dr. Eliot Brinton is the Director of Atherometabolic Research at the Utah Foundation for Biomedical Research and was recently a co-author of the largest U.S. survey of statin users, the Statin USAGE survey, which was sponsored by Kowa Pharmaceuticals America, Inc.

LAUGHTER IS THE BEST MEDICINE

What are the pictures?

A young lad was visiting a church for the first time, checking all the announcements and posters along the walls.

When he came to a group of pictures of men in uniform, he asked a nearby usher, "Who are all those men in the pictures?"

The usher replied, "Why, those are our boys who died in the service".

Dumbfounded, the youngster asked, "Was that the morning service or the evening service?"

How fast the shades of summer have faded

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

Am I getting old or his time passing faster than it used to? It seems I just settle down to do something and before I know it, it is over.

Back in "the day," a minute had 60 seconds. An hour had 60 minutes. A day had 24 hours. Oh, for those good old days.

I am not exactly sure how many seconds a minute has or how many minutes an hour has because he goes by so fast I cannot keep track. Technology has taken over and I for one object.

For example, I like looking at my wristwatch and seeing the second hand slowly tick around the dial. Now, we have cell phones with a digital clock. Unlike these digital clocks, all they tell me is what time it is right now. I like to look at a wristwatch and get a whole view of time: past, present and future.

I know that a week does not have seven days anymore.

I set out on Monday with high hopes of getting something accomplished during the week and by the time I clear my throat, it is Friday afternoon. Where did all that time go?

Years ago, the Beatles had a song called "Eight Days a Week." Nowadays it is more like three days a week: yesterday, today and tomorrow!

Today is tomorrow's yesterday and I am not exactly sure how to keep up anymore. By the time I get to tomorrow, I forgot what I was supposed to do today. Then, when I get to today, I cannot remember what I did yesterday.

I used to plan a whole week of activity, now that luxury is yesterday's news, or is it tomorrow's headlines?

I like summer, which may explain why it goes so fast. Maybe I should take a chapter from Murphy's Law and say I do not like summer, then it would drag by a without end in sight.

Interestingly, the thing I like to do the most goes by so quickly, that which I hate doing drags on for centuries. Which has me thinking maybe I should not voice what I like or do not like?

One thing I like about summer, when I can catch my breath and enjoy it, is the fact that it is made up of those lazy, hazy days I enjoy so much. Not having a schedule, not having a deadline, not having anybody telling me what I should or should not do. Ah, those crazy, lazy days of summer.

The fact that I did not get much done during the summer is no big deal. If anybody asked me if I got anything accomplished, I just said, "Hey, it's summer. Relax. I will get to it eventually."

Well, eventually has caught up with me and it is called winter.

The difference between summer and winter is that during the summer, you can get away with doing nothing but in the winter, there is nothing you can get away with.

During the summer my wife will ask me if I have done such and such and I respond by saying, "It's summer, I'll get to it. I got plenty of time."

During the winter, my wife will remind me of all the things I was supposed to do during the summer and that now I have to do because winter is a coming.

Summer is hazy and lazy, while winter is "Hurry up and get it done."

More is expected from a person during the winter months than during the summer. I object very strenuously to this kind of attitude. Of course, this attitude comes from the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage. She has the idea that winter, or at least the beginning of winter, is the time to clean up everything. By everything, she is including the garage.

Now that summer is over and the lawn does not need to be mowed anymore, I can, according to her logic, transpose that energy into cleaning up things. Then she will confront me with a favorite saying of hers, "Cleanliness is next to godliness."

One of these days, when I get up the courage, I am going to ask her to show me where that verse is in the Bible. I kind of think a person can be too clean, like squeaky clean. You know how squeaky gets on people's nerves, especially mine.

My favorite saying is, "Laziness is next to everything."

Perhaps that is why I like summer so much. There are shades of laziness that can only be exploited in the good old summertime.

Some people, like the one who shares a residence with me, things that laziness is a very negative thing. This person honestly believes that if she is not doing something all the time she is lazy. Something good can be said about being lazy. You get to savor a moment of non-activity.

The thing I like so much about summer is the activity you do do is only the activity that you want to do like sitting on the back porch, drinking a glass of lemonade, which is what summer is all about.

Solomon, the wisest man who ever lived, understood this concept very well. He says, "To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven," (Ecclesiastes 3:1 KJV).

Time goes by so quickly that a person hardly has enough time to really appreciate the time that they have.

At the Movies

Non-stop action fuels Ron Howard's 'Rush'

by Diana Saenger
If anyone put slips of paper with different words on them into a fish bowl and ask Ron Howard to draw out one, he could make an interesting movie about it. His new film Rush is based on the true story of the 1970s Grand Prix rivalry between James Hunt and Niki Lauda that lasted longer than the cheers from fans in the stands.

What sounded at first like a cat fight at the local race track is actually a good movie that includes drama, action, adventure, danger and even romance.

The film starts when race car driver English playboy James Hunt (Chris Hemsworth) is slightly injured and shows up at a hospital where he seduces the nurse taking care of him. Guess there's no question about that ego sitting on his shoulder. However, it's soon very clear in his Formula Three race car circuit he has no fear of dying. In fact he almost longs for it.

James' easy wins on the track and charisma as steamy with the ladies as those tires that have to be frequently changed, encounter a challenge when the Austrian perfectionist Niki Lauda (Daniel Brühl) -- driving for Ferrari -- shows up.

Niki is nothing like James. He has no personality. He's driven, cantankerous, edgy, meticulous and completely focused. More than scanning the crowd to find the babes like James, he uses that time to scrutinize a game plan.

Driving for Team McLaren James loses the first six races in several countries to Niki, which causes James' demeanor to change. Point wise they are both far ahead of any other driver, but that's not good enough for James.

The rivalry continues with some great action scenes of races and close calls as filmed by Anthony Dod Mantle (Slumdog Millionaire). The more James acts up, the more Niki digs in and beats him.

Peter Morgan has earned a huge reputation in writing biopics (Frost/Nixon, The King of Scotland, The Queen). His screenplay of Rush is rich with elements that will appeal to a wide range of audiences. While the guys tune in to the race scenes that span six years and two world-championship contests; the females have two romances to follow.

Olivia Wilde (Tron: Legacy, Butter) does a great job portraying Suzy Miller Hunt, a famous model who won James away from all the girls, but quickly found out she was a neglected trophy wife. In real life Miller had a love affair with Richard Burton.

Niki was so into his cars that romance was far from his mind. But after offering a ride to Marlene (Alexandra Maria Lara - The Reader), a stranger he met at a party, their chemistry took them down the aisle of matrimony.

Hemsworth and Brühl offer Oscar-worthy performances in this film. Hemsworth is such a cad; many women will be so focused on him they miss the plot, while other wills want to throw tomatoes for him to wake up to the real world.

Brühl is exceptional as a man so in control one feels the ice drip off his shoulders. In the scene where he has a car crash and is badly injured, everyone fears he is dead. Instead he's in and out of consciousness, nearly blinded, and has burns on his face. Brühl's intensity of what his character went through is clearly a mirror image of a rare person who could survive this accident.

Races are nothing without the sleek fast cars and the roar of engines. I know; I raced for two years and took third place in the World Finals of the NHRA Stock car races in 1976. Every gun of the engine sends chills up the spines of drivers and spectators. Howard has missed none of the exhilarating moments in this amazing sport, as well as every movement and decision that creates the incredible fortitude of these characters.

I'm not sure how Howard (Angels & Demons, Frost/Nixon, Cinderella Man) manages to create the total package with his films, but I'm glad he does. And Rush is among them. Luckily for film fans he has many projects in development.

OPEN BOOK — 'Close My Eyes'

Close My Eyes
Written by Sophie McKenzie

Review by Diana Saenger
Set in England and read by Marisa Calin, this psychological thriller is hard to stop listening to as the tension just keeps mounting.

Geniver Loxley's has been married to Art for more than eight years, and basically have a good marriage. He's involved in the corporate world and she is an author. Gen, as everyone calls her; has had writer's block since their baby girl died eight years ago. Art has come to terms with it, although he pushes her to undergo IVF once more to have another baby. Gen resists and can't move forward.

When a stranger knocks on her door and tells Gen her baby is not dead, Gen at first thinks the woman is a quack. Especially when Art's visiting sister doorstep Morgan offers her opinions. However, when Gen reads in the newspaper that the woman was run over and killed close by after leaving Gen's house, doubt really sets in.

The intrigue moves very quickly in this mystery as more people die, strangers pop in and out of Gen's life and she has serious doubts with good reasons as to who her husband really is. Did Art have something to do with their daughter's death?

Calin does a great job in reading and voice transitions in this story. There are some plots holes, elements I could sense coming and a few frustrations with Gen going on and on with doubts instead of taking action to answer them. Still, Close My Eyes is a great concept with lots of surprises.

The Location Sound Bible
Written by Ric Viers

Review by Diana Saenger

While many of us today are complaining about the high volume in many of today's films; we have to admit sound certainly is an added enjoyment movie fans of Hollywood's early film era could not enjoy. Like every aspect of filmmaking, sound is a complex and diverse beast that when is done properly, can be the surefire icing on the cake.

Ric Viers is known as the "Rock and Roll Professor of Sound," and has sound credits on 100's of productions. Some where at an early age he must have heard George Lucas say, "Sound is half of the (movie going) experience."

From classroom knowledge to what really works on location Viers has left little to know about this subject. Twenty chapters deal with everything from microphones, booms and to the different systems equipment needed and recorders, applications, working with talent and the business of show biz.

Viers includes stories about his experiences on sets, and is also the author of The Sound Effects Bible. For anyone with any interest in filmmaking; this is a must-have book. But it's also interesting to movie fans who want to really understand what goes on when the sound mixer or boom operator yells "speed" and then the director yells "roll camera."

Through Dec. 31: Ripley's Believe It or Not! returns to San Diego for the first time in nearly 80 years—new one-of-a-kind special exhibition at the San Diego Air & Space Museum opens Friday. Exhibit explores the weird and wacky world of Ripley - a real-life Indiana Jones. This is the first time a Ripley's exhibition has been to San Diego since the California Pacific International Exposition in 1935, the same year the Museum's Ford Building was built. The Ripley's Believe It or Not! Museum, in collaboration with the San Diego Air & Space Museum, created this special exhibition specifically for San Diego. This exhibition is the only one of its kind in the world. For over 40 years, Robert Ripley - a real-life Indiana Jones - traveled the world collecting the unbelievable and the inexplicable. His vast collections, praised as "amazing," "ludicrously strange," and "extremely amusing" are on display at the Museum for visitors to see. The Ripley's Believe It or Not! special exhibition is a self-guided, self-paced interactive tour that is fun for the whole family and allows guests to fully enjoy San Diego's most bizarre attraction. Admission to Ripley's Believe It or Not! is only $5 (with general admission) and includes entrance to the general Museum galleries. For more information and pricing call (619) 234-8291 or visit www.sandiegoairandspace.org.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. ORDINANCE NO. 4995

AN ORDINANCE APPROVING SPECIFIC PLAN NO. 523 FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A PROPOSED MULTI-STORY MULTI-USE BUILDING, THE INSTALLATION OF ADDITIONAL PARKING SPACES, THE INCLUSION OF THE EXISTING MASTER PLAN APPROVED BY CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT NO. 1985 INTO SPECIFIC PLAN NO. 523, AND REPEALING SPECIFIC PLAN NO. 301

WHEREAS, Specific Plan No. 301 ("SP 301") was adopted by the El Cajon City Council by Ordinance No. 3575 in order to identify a future public street (the "Public Street") on the north side of East Madison Avenue between Granite Hills and Greenfield Drives (the "Subject Properties"); and

WHEREAS, SP 301 was amended by the City Council by Ordinance No. 3910 in order to modify the alignment of the Public Street at the Subject Properties; and

WHEREAS, on October 12, 2004, after certifying the Final Environmental Impact Report No. 77 ("FEIR No. 77") the City Council approved General Plan Amendment No. 2004-3 and Conditional Use Permit No. 1985 for a master plan on the Subject Properties (the "Master Plan"), in order to expand existing religious and educational facilities, and the development of a six-lot residential subdivision; and

WHEREAS, on August 12, 2013, the El Cajon Planning Commission held a duly advertised public hearing to accept testimony in considering a proposed addendum to FEIR No. 77, for the adoption of Specific Plan No. 523, which contemplates the transfer of the Master Plan under Conditional Use Permit No. 1985 into a new specific plan, designated as Specific Plan No. 523 ("SP 523"), and the repeal of SP 301; and

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission recommends City Council approval of the addendum to FEIR No. 77, approval of SP 523, the repeal of SP 301, and the revocation of Conditional Use Permit No. 1985; and

WHEREAS, on September 10, 2013, the City Council held a duly advertised public hearing, to accept testimony, both oral and written, and to consider, among other things, the proposed addendum to FEIR No. 77, the repeal of SP 301, and the approval of SP 523.

The City Council of the City of El Cajon does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. That the foregoing recitals are true and correct, and are findings of fact of the El Cajon City Council.

SECTION 2. That the City Council of the City of El Cajon finds, based on the evidence presented in the record of its proceedings, as follows:

A. The proposed project modifies the approvals for the east campus only to reflect the replacement of existing college facilities with a building of approximately the same floor area and installation of additional parking, which is an amendment to the approved Master Plan under Conditional Use Permit No. 1985;

B. That the proposed project includes the transfer of the previously approved Master Plan by Conditional Use Permit No. 1985 into Specific Plan No. 523, because circumstances require a more detailed and consolidated framework of development, and more detailed standards than the general provisions of the Zoning Code;

C. That there are no new significant impacts or substantial increases in the severity of any previously identified significant impacts that would result from changes proposed by the project or related to changes in circumstances related to the project and project area; and

D. That there is no substantial new information that was not known and could not have been known in 2004 and which could result in a new significant impact, a more severe significant impact, or feasible mitigation measures has been identified as a consequence of the proposed project.

SECTION 3. That based upon said findings of fact, the El Cajon City Council hereby approves the proposed addendum to FEIR No. 77 for the proposed project to replace existing college facilities with a building of approximately the same floor area, the installation of additional parking, the inclusion of the Master Plan by Conditional Use Permit No. 1985 into Specific Plan No. 523, the repeal of Specific Plan No. 301 and the revocation of Conditional Use Permit No. 1985.

SECTION 4. That based upon the record as a whole, the City Council hereby makes the following additional findings:

A. The proposed Specific Plan No. 523 serves the public interest by: (1) placing existing and future educational and religious facilities under a single specific plan, which is a comprehensive and coordinated plan for development; and (2) allowing for a place for worship, counsel, compulsory education, higher learning, jobs and community assistance to those in need; and

B. The proposed Specific Plan No. 523 will systematically implement the City's General Plan because it focuses on a particular portion of the City where special circumstances require a more detailed framework of development that the General Plan, and more detailed standards than the general provisions of the Zoning Code. Furthermore, the City recognizes the importance of religious facilities and activities in the community, therefore the development and design standards in this specific plan works to ensure compatibility between the religious and educational uses on each campus and the surrounding area.

SECTION 5. That based on the above-stated findings of fact, the El Cajon City Council hereby repeals City of El Cajon Ordinances No. 3575 and 3910, thereby eliminating Specific Plan No. 301, making it null and void, and of no further force and effect.

SECTION 6. That Specific Plan No. 523 is hereby approved for the construction of a proposed multi-story multi-use building, the installation of additional parking spaces, and the inclusion of the existing Master Plan approved by Conditional Use Permit No. 1985, as presented in Exhibit "A" of Specific Plan No. 523 on file in the Community Development Department and incorporated herein by reference.

SECTION 7. The documents and other materials which constitute the record of proceedings upon which this decision is based, are in the custody of the City Clerk, City of El Cajon, 200 Civic Center Way, El Cajon, California 92020.

SECTION 8. This ordinance shall become effective thirty (30) days following its passage and adoption.

PASSED AND ADOPTED by the City Council of the City of El Cajon, California at an Adjourned Regular Joint City Council/Housing Authority/Successor Agency to the El Cajon Redevelopment Agency Meeting held this 24th day of September, 2013, by the following vote to wit:

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF GRACE KILPATRICK CASE NO. 37-2013-00066789-PR-PW-CTL ROA #: 1 (IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: Grace Kilpatrick. A Petition for Probate has been filed by James L. Kilpatrick, Jr. in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO. The Petition for Probate requests that James L. Kilpatrick, Jr. be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The Petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on OCT 15, 2013 at 11:00 A.M. in Dept. PC-1 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building. If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: Philip P. Lindsley APLC. 4364 Bonita Rd., PMB-461 Bonita, CA 91902, Telephone: 619.235.4357

Pet of the Week

Hi people! My name is "Phoenix" and I am a fun fellow who is a proud member of the Catnip Generation! I was brought here through no fault of my own. My owners moved and couldn't take me along. So here I am, looking ahead to a furrever home who will always love me. In turn, I will love you and cuddle up with you while we watch TV together. Purrsonally, I love So You Think You Can Dance... sometimes when it's nighttime here and all quiet, I pretend I'm one of those dancers! It's fun! I'm a handsome guy with a short, easy to care for coat and big 2-tone green eyes. I'm a youngster and will do best as an only cat. Please come in and ask to visit me in the Cat Room I'm in cage #105. AND, if I'm Phoenix: Domestic Short Hair - Orange And White, Cat; El Cajon, CA not there, look for me in the Office, overseeing the Staff! LOL! Pet ID: 15975
