Turning back the 'wheels' of time

by Debbie Norman

A team of East County men worked their magic to turn back the wheels of time for a local businessman and resident. It all began when Bob Heim, CEO Inland Federal Credit Union, sent a letter to Miguel Villavicencio explaining his wishes. "One of our long-time Credit Union Members, John Maides, has been battling cancer for quite some time," said Heim. "John owns a 1972 Chrysler Town & Country station wagon, that has seen better days. This is John's pride and joy."

Miguel Villavicencio knew just what to do and he didn't hesitate to jump in and take over the operation. Calling upon his friends, former co-workers and business owners he knew, he built a team of volunteers to give Maides' Chrysler a make-over.

"Everyone wanted to pitch in to help out," said Heim. Members of the credit union donated money, businesses donated paint, upholstery for the seats, and many donated time and their labor to get this deed done. "Everyone just wanted to be part of this. It's a really great feeling that there's some goodness in this world."

The team arrived at 5 a.m.

at Customs by Miguel, Villavicencio's business off Pioneer Way in El Cajon. There they worked through the weekend to paint and upholster the wagon.

Villavicencio was surprised how many people wanted to help. As he called for help, everyone said yes, and asked what he needed. "It's people helping people! If we can just help one person, it makes a difference," said Villavicencio. "I like East County!"

Kirk Maides, son of John, kept the troops fed and hydrated. He wanted to do everything he could to help. Maides felt overwhelmed with the work everyone was doing for his father. "This is going to mean the world to my dad," Maides said.

"My dad will probably cry."

John Maides, owner of Valley Clock Shop on Second Street in El Cajon was brought out of his store at noon on Monday to see his big surprise. Driving up into the parking lot was a beautiful 1972 Chrysler Town & Country Station Wagon, it was his pride and joy! All Maides could do was smile and say "It looks better than it did when I bought it new!"

Sharing a piece of history

Centennial Moment: 1959 second fastest growing area in the state

Below is an excerpt from a brochure published in 1961 in honor of the City's 50th anniversary of incorporation: "50 Years of Progress." The brochure chronicles events in the City by each year, from incorporation in 1912, through present day, at that time, in 1961. This Centennial moment focuses specifically on the year 1959.

The Sanford Research Institute told the Council that the City's future is bright and that 70,000-90,000 people will be living in the City by 1975.

The City was named as the second fastest growing area in state with a 623 percent increase over 1950. Anaheim was tops for state.

Building permits were down to $18,820,819 and 2,742 homes constructed.

A Senior Citizens Club is to be organized in Wells Park.

Two hospitals started construction in the Valley, the El Cajon Valley Hospital on East Main Street and the Heartland Hospital on Cuyamaca Street.

The photo is courtesy of the El Cajon Historical Society. For more El Cajon history, visit www.elcajonhistory.org. For Centennial updates and current information, visit www.elcajon100.com.

The Parsonage Kitchen shutdown threat

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

A certain situation has been building in the Parsonage for the last several months. At first, I did not think it too serious but alas, we have reached a terrible impasse.

It started a few months ago when I came home, walked into the house and was hit in the face so hard I almost passed out. At the time, I was hoping I would pass out, but no such luck.

Walking into the house, I was hit with the horrific smell of broccoli cooking on the stove. I do not know if you ever smelt such a smell as that but if you are not prepared for it and even if you are prepared for it, it can smack you in the face like you have never been smacked in the face before.

When I came to myself and gathered what little composure I could find, I queried the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage who was in the kitchen.

"What is that awful smell?"

"I don't know, have you taken a shower yet?"

"No," I said gathering a little bit of manliness about me, "Something in this house smells dreadful. I smelled it as soon as I walked in the door."

Then she chuckled. I hate it when she chuckles.

"Oh, that must be the wonderful aroma of broccoli cooking on the stove. Isn't it marvelous?"

Hoping she would catch my attitude of disdain and disgust, I said, "You're not cooking broccoli for supper tonight, are you?"

Obviously, for whatever reason, she did not catch the drift.

"Yes," she said as chipper as I have ever heard her chip, "I thought I would surprise you with a wonderful dish of broccoli for supper tonight, to go along with our pork chops."

"But I thought you knew I do not like broccoli?"

"Oh, that," she said with another chuckle, "I just thought you were joking."

Nobody jokes about broccoli, especially me.

Then a brilliant idea reverberated between my ears. I thought I could take advantage of this situation and sneak in something forbidden in our kitchen and house for that matter, a rare delicacy.

"I will then run to the store and get some fresh Apple Fritters for our dessert."

I figured if she wants to put in front of me broccoli the least she can do is allow me an Apple Fritter or two.

In a moment, all the chipper drained from her person and she looked at me and said, "Apple Fritters are not allowed in this house."

"Let's negotiate," I said as calmly as I have ever been in my life. "I will allow you to eat broccoli tonight if you allow me an Apple Fritter for my dessert."

"This is how we will negotiate, we will have broccoli tonight without any Apple Fritter. I am only thinking of your health."

The way she glared at me I knew negotiations were off the table at this time and in its place was some steaming broccoli.

If only we could act like grownups, come together, voice our differences and strike a compromise. After all, our government works that way.

I thought about this and came to a certain conclusion. The Christian life is not really negotiating your preference but rather honoring Christ. Jesus said, "For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them" (Matthew 18:20 KJV).

When self is at the center of my negotiations, Christ is never honored.

Dear Dr. Luauna —

The Old Indian Fisherman (part 1)

Dear Readers,

After a few years of working hard I realized I needed a break. Plans were made and the date was set to fly to Alaska. I was so excited; after all it had been over three years since I had a real break. After work I would pull out my maps of Alaska, and studied the creeks, rivers and little towns.

Packing everything I would need, fly rod, regular rod, flies, lures, hooks, you name it, whatever I could stuff in all those little pockets in my fishing vest. I packed my waders, jacket, extra fishing line for both poles, and I filled up a small tackle box. Thinking I better prepare a small emergency pack, being from Colorado and hiking those Rocky Mountains all my younger life, I knew the weather could change in a moment without notice. I always had a few little things prepared for weather, or if something unexpected happened or someone was to get hurt.

The landscape of Alaska was just amazing and breathtaking. At the airport I was talking to someone about the Bald Eagles. He smiled and said, "You are in the right place to see the Bald Eagle for sure." He went on to tell me, "When you look up at all those evergreen trees, look to the highest branch, then look for a white golf ball." I just looked at him and smiled; he smiled back and said, "Trust me! Do it, you'll see what I'm talking about."

Unpacking at the first hotel, I wanted to get out and see the landscape. I asked Jill if she wanted to just go for a ride. She was just as excited, grabbing a jacket. We took off for a drive and to find a place to have dinner, it was late so we didn't fish the first day. The drive was beautiful; it looked like a picture right out of a magazine. Emerald green trees and fields, they looked like velvet. I stopped to take a picture. Then we came across a stream that looked like a river of silver with the reflections of those trees it looked so beautiful.

I pulled over to take in its beauty, looking up into all those evergreen trees. I closed my eyes, taking in a deep breath of fresh air. Then I remembered what the man told me at the airport. I started to scan the tops of the trees, then all of a sudden, there it was, it looked just like a little white golf ball up in the tree. Grabbing my binoculars I looked up to see this golf ball shape. Wow, it was the head of an amazing Bald Eagle, as I was looking at him, he was looking right back at me.

Consumed by the magnificence of this eagle, he sat with poise, looking back and forth along that river as if he was the boss. All of a sudden he sprang up, lifting up his wings for takeoff his wings spanned out about five feet wide or more. He flew higher and higher, as I could barely see him. Then all of a sudden, I heard a screeching, the eagle was now making a dive right into that silver river. Watching this eagle's every move, as he plunged right into the water, and then right up out of the water with an amazing fish grasped in his claws. I just stood speechless, mesmerized by this amazing scene. The fish was so big; the eagle could hardly get it up out of the water. This Bald Eagle wasn't going to let his fish go, he held on to it with everything he had, his wings working hard to fly over the water maybe a foot or two until he reached the bank of the river.

He fought with that fish. I was so excited, wow how many times in life does one get a chance to see something like that. I was sorry I didn't have a camera that could have filmed that amazing, majestic bird in action. I felt so blessed. Seeing that eagle fish sparked a joy deep in my heart for fishing tomorrow, and I couldn't wait. (Continued next week)

LAUGHTER IS THE BEST MEDICINE

Use of the car

A young boy had just gotten his driving permit. He asked his father, who was a minister, if they could discuss the use of the car. His father took him to his study and said to him, "I'll make a deal with you. You bring your grades up, study your bible a little and get your hair cut and we'll talk about it."

After about a month the boy came back and again asked his father if they could discuss use of the car. They again went to the father's study where his father said, "Son, I've been real proud of you. You have brought your grades up, you've studied your bible diligently, but you didn't get your hair cut!"

The young man waited a moment and replied, "You know Dad, I've been thinking about that. You know, Samson had long hair, Moses had long hair, Noah had long hair, and even Jesus had long hair..."

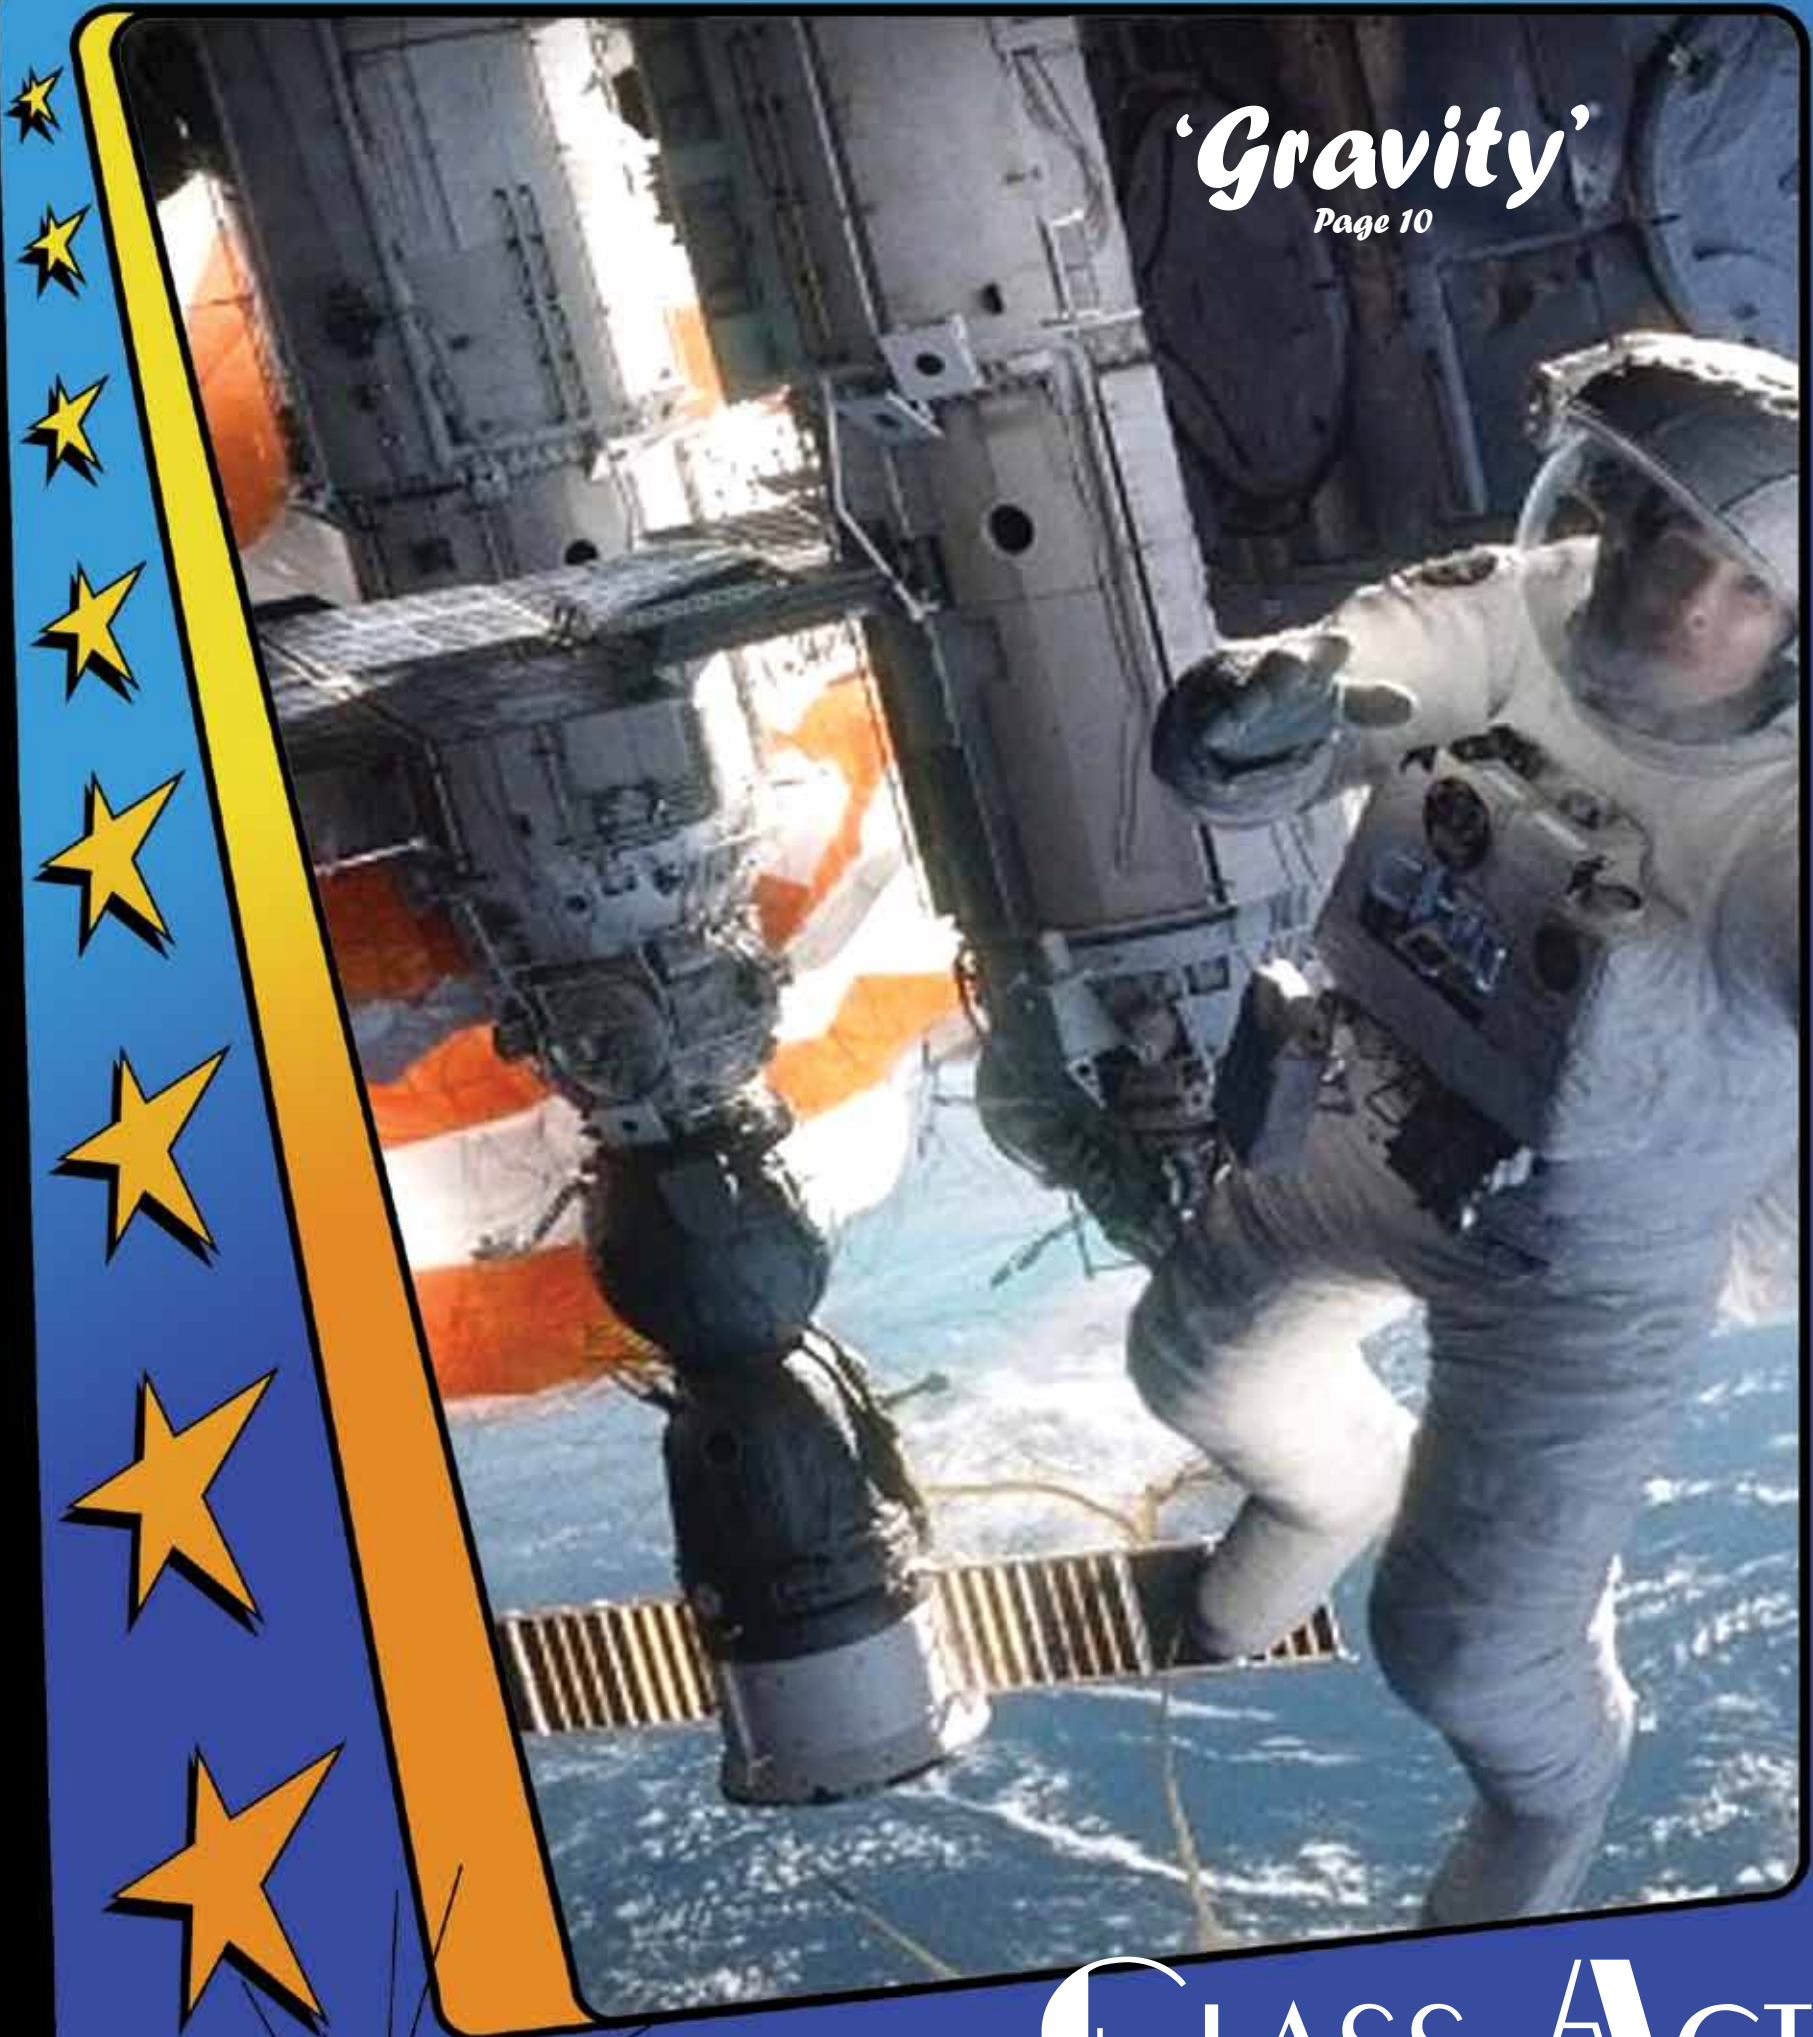

To which his father replied... "Yes, and they WALKED every where they went!"

'Gravity' — short but engaging

Preview by Diana Saenger

For most of us, what happens in outer space is either something we read about or see on TV. The vast, endless black out there seems mysterious and only beckons a few to be courageous enough to actually board a vessel that will take them there.

In Gravity, Matt Kowalski (George Clooney) is a veteran space traveler on his last mission. As mission commander of Shuttle Explorer, he's joined by Dr. Ryan Stone (Sandra Bullock). Their mission? Re-justing the Hubble Telescope. Ryan, a single woman trying to get over a very bad incident in her life, is a brilliant medical engineer but still a little nervous on her first shuttle mission.

Matt has a grand time floating around with his new jet pack, which means he doesn't have to be tethered to the shuttle. In addition to taking in some of the more incredible views of earth and the skies around it, Ryan -- attached to a robotic arm -- is installing a new scanning system on the telescope.

Things are going along okay until a chain reaction of collisions caused by the detonation of a Russian satellite hundreds of miles away sends a huge area of debris flying into everything and breaking apart the shuttle. Matt floats away from Ryan, who can't disengage from the robotic arm until another piece of debris hits and she's off floating in space all alone.

Objects are still hurling by like models on a Paris runway and although Matt and Ryan can communicate through their instruments for a short while, it's clear they have no idea how to get back home. Finally Matt tells Ryan she needs to get to the Chinese space station and get a ride from there. (It was never revealed how someone steers themselves though space -- makes me curious.)

Because Gravity features only a two-person cast -- in addition to Ed Harris's voiceover from Mission Control -- it's difficult to create believable characters. However, Bullock plays her part exceptionally well. Ryan comes alive right before our eyes as she's forced to rely on herself and what little knowledge she has about spacecraft to survive. Bullock could earn an Oscar nomination for this role.

Director Alfonso Cuarón took a big leap undertaking the filming of this story he co-wrote with his son Jonás Cuarón. He worked with great collaborators, especially cinematographer Emmanuel Lubezki, who captures every eerie and frightening moment so well I often held my breath. These filmmakers became very innovative when creating the illusion of being in space as well as the realistic appearance of all the equipment and the sensation of no gravity. We really feel for Ryan's plight.

My readers know I'm not a fan of 3D for the most part, but Gravity is a must-see in 3D.

Be wary of intense drama in 'Prisoners'

Hugh Jackman and Maria Bello star in Prisoners. Photo Credit: Warner Bros. Entertainment

Review by Diana Saenger

From the moment the trailers of Prisoners hit the airwaves the intrigue about the film built. Children kidnapped, an evil person on the loose, a crazed dad that would do "anything" to find his daughter and an excellent cast propelled Prisoners to a good box-office opening.

Keller Dover (Jackman) is a carpenter in Pennsylvania living a satisfying life with his wife Grace (Maria Bello), their son Ralph (Dylan Minnette) and young daughter Anna (Erin Gerasimovich). When their friends Nancy (Viola Davis) and Franklin (Terrence Howard) Birch invite them over for Thanksgiving, everyone is happy.

Screenwriter Aaron Guzikowski has skillfully thought out every scene. The family prays the Lord's Prayer together and the song "Put Your Hand in the Hand of The Man Who Stilled the Water" plays in the background. As they all settle in after a great dinner, Joy (Kyla Drew Simmons), the Birch's daughter, and Anna beg to go out and play.

In opening scenes Keller and Franklin take the girls for a walk around the peaceful snow-dusted neighborhood. When they encounter a motorhome parked in front of a vacant house, the girls run up to jump on the ladder in the back. It's a moment that will eventually chill Keller to the bone.

When the girls ask to go to the Dover home to fetch something, they never return and are missing. Anxious moments turn into hours, and Detective Loki (Jake Gyllenhaal) is assigned the case. Keller has little patience as days tick by with no leads.

When Alex (Paul Dano), the man who lives in the motorhome, is arrested, the case seems solved. He's a very odd person suffering from some mental problems but there isn't enough evidence to hold him so he's released.

Keller is positive this is the kidnapper and knows the girls will not survive if not found soon. He takes action on his own. He captures Alex, hides him, and begins a relentless daily torture --that for me became a little too gruesome. Franklin joins Keller at first but then tries to stop the torture with no luck.

Loki discovers other suspects and pursues them while also continuing to investigate to Alex though his offbeat Aunt Holly (Melissa Leo).

Prisoners is a tad long, has disturbing content, and a few cracks in the plot, but it's a solid film from scene one. The entire cast is superb, due again to screenplay. Bello creates a mother so distraught that her daughter might be dead that she goes into a deep depression staying in bed day and night, which cleverly leaves her out of the way for Keller to proceed with this plan.

One can feel that Jackman -- a favorite of fans -- could feel this threat deep down. Paul Dano has little dialogue but knows how to expertly create a character that easily arouses suspicion and surprise. Remember There Will Be Blood?

Denis Villeneuve's direction is seamless and Roger Deakins' excellent cinematography makes every scene feel as if you were in it.

New classics on DVD

Preview by Diana Saenger

Take a break from soccer and kid's homework with some laughs from Warner Archive Collection New Releases: Back to School Special

As the coals of Labor Day cool, and the children lick the last of the summer mustard off their lips, they know that the words "Back to School" are no longer a far off gossamer dream, but a dull hard truth. But fear not, seekers of wisdom! This school sampler sized selection of films and TV are guaranteed to make your school days a sight better than ol'e Tom Brown's. And if you need any more sweeteners, we direct your attention to our now-extended annual Labor Day sale - details found below! And so, let us bid you a Q.E.D.

PENROD AND SAM (1931) The first talkie version of the Booth Tarkington classic is replete with pitch perfect schoolroom and schoolyard scenes that will have you looking for your very own gang of rascals. Leon Janney has the lead but Cameo the dog steals your heart.

ANDY HARDY COLLECTION VOLUME 1 and 2 (1937-58) Many of America's favorite teen's misadventures center around simply going to school - and dealing with its consequences. Mickey Rooney's impersonation of a high school thespian in Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever is a masterwork of comic acting, while his size-ism bashing collegial jitterbugging in Love Laughs at Andy Hardy is astonishment.

EVERYBODY SING (1938) This cautionary tale is a requisite warning to any juvenile musicians who may dare risk expulsion by introducing the plague of "swing music" to their schools. Thankfully Judy Garland has a dysfunctional family of performers waiting for her at home. With Allan Jones, Fanny Brice, Reginald Owen and Fanny Brice.

HELL'S KITCHEN (1939) Although Stanley Fields makes a more comical "Mayor of Hell" than ever Cagney did, this take on the gangster-turned-reform-school-reformer tale climaxes with a "youth in revolt" sequence featuring Leo Gorcey as a chilling Dead End Kid with murder on his mind. Also stars Ronald Reagan.

GALLANT SONS (1940) Jackie Cooper leads a squad of schoolyard sleuths (including Bonita Granville and Leo Gorcey) tasked with unfitting a parent - for murder. And if they fail, one of their chums might have to live... "with a goil!"

BRIGHT ROAD (1953) Dorothy Dandridge's extraordinary gift for dramatics is on ample display in this inspirational tale of an idealistic school teacher's first year. Harry Belafonte lends support as the school's principal. This poignant and insightful picture was a generation ahead of its time.

COURTSHIP OF ED-DIE'S FATHER THE COMPLETE SEASONS 1
and 2 (1969 - 1971) The first two seasons of this sitcom classic feature a memorable schoolyard character - Eddie's best frenemy, Joey Kelly. But Joey isn't just any run-of-the-mill bully, she's a tomboy played by Ms. Jodie Foster!

BACK TO SCHOOL SPECIAL

SUPERBOY SEASON 2 (1989-90) All Hail to Thee, Shuster U! Superboy's sophomore season would prove to be his last at the campus' hallowed halls before he graduates to become a government intern. Before that happens, collegiate complications abound - including new dormmate Andy McAllister (Ilan Mitchell-Smith)! Although shot in Orlando, the fictional Shuster University was set in Siegelville, Florida - both named after Super-man's creators, Joe Shuster and Jerry Siegel!

UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. Notice is hereby given that RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A., as duly appointed trustee pursuant to the Deed of Trust executed by JUNE CARRINGTON, dated 08/14/2009 and recorded 8/21/2009, as Instrument No. 2009-0470171, in Book N/A, Page 5876, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of San Diego County, State of California, will sell on 11/07/2013 at 10:00AM, On the grounds of the Scottish Rite Event Center, located at 1895 Camino Del Rio South, San Diego, CA at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash or check as described below, payable in full at time of sale, all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust, in the property situated in said County and State and as more fully described in the above referenced Deed of Trust. The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 9861 CASPI GARDENS DRIVE #6, SANTEE, CA, 92071. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. The total amount of the unpaid balance with interest thereon of the obligation secured by the property to be sold plus reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is $131,679.69. It is possible that at the time of sale the opening bid may be less than the total indebtedness due. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept cashier's checks drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state. Said sale will be made, in an "AS IS" condition, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust, advances thereunder, with interest as provided, and the unpaid principal of the Note secured by said Deed of Trust with interest thereon as provided in said Note, plus fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on a property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 1-800-281-8219 or visit this Internet Web site www.recontrustco.com, using the file number assigned to this case 12-0085178. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. DATED: 03/08/2013 RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A. 1800 Tapo Canyon Rd., CA6-914-01-94 SIMI VALLEY, CA 93063

ROBERT H. EICHHORST AKA ROBERT
HENRY EICHHORST
CASE NO. 37-2013-00068139-PR-PW-CTL
ROA #: 1
(IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: ROBERT H. EICHHORST AKA ROBERT HENRY EICHHORST A Petition for Probate has been filed by KATHLEEN M. EICHHORST in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO. The Petition for Probate requests that KATHLEEN M. EICHHORST be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The Petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on NOV 05 2013 at 11:00 A.M. in Dept. PC-1 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building. If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: Paul C. Our Best Friends

Pet of the Week

"Howdy, folks! Looking for an all-around great house dog? Well, here I am! My name is SKIP, and I'm a friendly Long-Haired Chihuahua mix who's about two years old. I'm just the right blend of playful and calm, so I'll enjoy our daily walk, and I'll also be content to curl up next to you on the couch. Did you notice my beautiful coat? I love it when people pet me and brush me. It makes me feel loved! I'll be a great family dog, and I get along nicely with other dogs. I'd love to have a little yard in my new home, but I'd be fine in an apartment, too, as long as I get a daily walk. You'll be happy to learn that I've already been house trained, too. I sure hope you'll come visit me soon at the El Cajon Animal Shelter. I'd love to get to know you better in the great play yard here at the shelter, so please don't delay. Love, Skip" Kennel #5
