On Saturday, Oct. 26, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. the El Cajon Police Department, working in conjunction with Drug Enforcement Administration, will be hosting a prescription drug drop off site.

ing lot of the El Cajon Police Station, located at 100 Civic Center Way in El Cajon. The take-back effort is designed to prevent pill abuse and theft by getting rid of potentially dangerous, expired, unused or unwanted prescription drugs in a safe manner. Studies show that most teens who have abused prescription drugs get those drugs from their own homes to play, as well as opportunities for the seniors to interact further with each other and the community.

The actual playground “building days” will take place on Nov. 7, 8 and 9. Bostonia Recreation Center is located at 1049 Bostonia Street in El Cajon. If you would like to give back to your community, we are looking for those highly skilled in the area of construction for the Nov. 7 & 8 prep days, and then 150 volunteers are needed, of all skill levels, for the Nov. 9 “build day.” Hours will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Nov. 7, and from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Nov. 8. On Nov. 9, building begins at 8:30 a.m. If you can help, call (619) 441-1756. Volunteers must pre-register.

KaBOOM! is a national non-profit organization dedicated to giving kids the childhood they deserve by bringing play to those who need it most. The project is one of more than 50 playgrounds being built by Humana, the Humana Foundation, and KaBOOM! across the U.S. over four years.

Skilled volunteers needed to help build a playground for all ages

We have the design and the materials — now we need skilled volunteers to help in the assembly of a one-of-a-kind, multi-generational playground at El Cajon’s Bostonia Recreation Center.

The City of El Cajon, American Legion El Cajon Post 303, Stoney’s Kids, Humana Inc. and KaBOOM! (a national non-profit organization that has built more than 2,300 playgrounds) have designed a special space for people of all generations to gather and play at Bostonia Park. The customized playground, funded primarily by Humana (a leading health and wellness company), was created from personal drawings and other input from local community members, from children to seniors, collected during a recent special design day on September 26.

The existing playground at Bostonia Park was in need of replacement, and exercise opportunities for seniors in the area have been limited. A new playground, with multi-generational exercise stations, will effectively address these needs, providing the youth with an age-appropriate area

California Art Club and Olaf

Juried Art Show

The works of some of San Diego County’s most talented and promising landscape artists will be on exhibit in a juried art show sponsored by the California Art Club (CAC) and hosted by the Olaf Wieghorst Museum. Landscapes of the West opened Oct. 8 and runs through Jan. 11, 2014, at the museum’s downtown El Cajon location at 131 Rea Avenue. El Cajon’s Olaf Wieghorst Museum is dedicated to preserving America’s western heritage. It houses the works of Olaf Wieghorst, an internationally recognized western artist whose paintings have been praised and acquired by royalty, presidents and celebrities. Born in Denmark, the self-taught artist immigrated to the United States and eventually settled in El Cajon. His restored ranch house is a local landmark and sits on museum property.

Two guest lectures will be hosted in the museum gallery during the art show. On Nov. 14, at 4:30 p.m., CAC Artist Member Mark Fehlman will speak on Capturing San Diego’s Nature, 100 Years of Landscape Painting. On Dec. 5, at 6:30 p.m., Olaf Wieghorst

Centennial Moment: 1960 — A year in review

Below is an excerpt from a brochure published in 1961 in honor of the City's 50th anniversary of incorporation: "50 Years of Progress." The brochure chronicles events in the City by each year, from incorporation in 1912, through present day, at that time, in 1961. This Centennial moment focuses specifically on the year 1960.

The El Cajon Hospital was completed in August and opened its doors for business, the first major institute of its kind in the City. It has 60 beds and 145 employees on the payroll. They have 65 on the active medical staff and 150 on the courtesy staff.

Action has started to widen North Second Street from the Freeway to Highway 80 (Main Street) to handle the traffic more efficiently.

DR. C. Randall Knox passes. He was the son of the founder of the City of El Cajon.

The assessed valuation of the City was set at better than $40 million.

The $53,000 Fletcher Hills Fire Station was completed, and the $300,000 Elks Club was completed out on Washington Avenue. The 23,000-square-foot Chamber of Commerce building was completed at a cost of $16,925.

From the year 1950 to 1960 Grammar School enrollments have gone from 2,250 to 10,000 students.

Three hundred thousand people were on hand to see the Mother Goose Parade this year.

Following four-year hiatus, Cuyamaca College puts GM-sponsored automotive program back into gear

Cuyamaca College students with ambitions of well-paying jobs in the automotive service industry have reason to celebrate.

Local General Motors and ACDelco service centers are once again partnering with Cuyamaca College to sponsor a highly-regarded training program that alternates classroom instruction on automotive repair with on-the-job training. The GM Automotive Service Education Program, or GM ASEP, had been offered at Cuyamaca for more than two decades, but it was suspended in 2009 when the recession forced scores of auto dealerships out of business. The economic uptick has allowed resumption of the program -- the only one of its kind offered in San Diego County -- that offers students two-year paid internships at service centers.

An orientation for students accepted into the program is one of the mid-semester short-term classes Cuyamaca College is offering starting Oct. 14. (See list, below for additional classes.) Registration is now open for all eight-week classes offered at both Cuyamaca and Grossmont colleges. Students can sign up online using WebAdvisor at <https://wa.gcccd.edu>

"The GM training program is an excellent example of Cuyamaca College's commitment to provide the quality of workforce training that today's employers are demanding," college President Mark J. Zaccovic said. "For the GM dealerships, hiring our students is an advantage because they know they are developing highly capable automotive technicians with the know-how, talent and professionalism to keep satisfied customers returning for business."

Although more than a dozen GM dealerships have closed in San Diego County since 2008, Chris Branton, head of the college's automotive technology program, is relying on the program's history of success and Cuyamaca's excellent reputation to convince the remaining shops to hire his students as entry-level trainees.

Cuyamaca, whose auto tech program was named a Top 20 finalist for 2011 School of the Year by a national industry magazine, is one of six colleges statewide to offer ASEP, a 52.5-unit program that earns graduates an Associate of Science degree with the completion of 22 additional general education credits. Students undergo an intense six-semester program with no summers off, but with a 99 percent employment rate among graduates, the program can boast one of the highest degree-completion rates at Cuyamaca College. Another payoff is that graduates typically earn $60,000 annually as journeymen certified technicians after less than five years' experience.

For more information on the GM ASEP program, contact Branton at (619) 660-4213.

Earn credits quickly
If you missed the start of classes in August or just didn't get the classes you needed, Cuyamaca and Grossmont colleges are offering another opportunity with a second series of eight-week classes from Oct. 14 to Dec. 9, 2013. The credit courses are offered at the same cost as regular semester-length classes -- $46 per unit. Most classes are three units, costing $138, plus books and fees. The short-term courses are a quick, efficient way to satisfy general education course requirements or to get workforce training to advance one's career.

Cuyamaca's short-term classes include:

- A one-unit class on teaching American Sign Language to infants and toddlers (ASL 125-3984)
- A one-week orientation for GM-ASEP students, followed an ASEP class in GM electrical systems (AUTO 200-1939 and AUTO 201-1942)
- Business Office Technology online classes in keyboard/document processing and a two-hour lecture class meeting weekly in effective job searching (BOT-101A & B; BOT 106-3166)

- Three-unit English classes in college composition (ENGL 109-2049, ENGL 120-1278)
- The Ornamental Horticulture program is offering a combination lecture and lab course in tree surgery and special pruning. (OH 261-4671)
- The Water/Wastewater Technology program is offering five classes covering a variety of subject areas, including water conservation, treatment and distribution. (WWTR 105-0187; WWTR 112-9474; WWTR 134-8302; WWTR 265-2624; WWTR 282-4678)

At Grossmont College, the short-term classes include:

- Business Office Technology: Keyboard/Document Processing (BOT 101B-8630); Effective Job Search (BOT 106-4837); Comprehensive Word Level I (BOT 120-2430); Comprehensive Excel 1 (BOT 123-0296); Comprehensive Power Point I (BOT 129-0299); and Using Microsoft Outlook (BOT 151-2476).
- Business: Managerial Accounting (BUS 121-3877).
- Child Development: Adult Supervision (CD 136-2570)
- Communications: Advanced Public Speaking (Comm 123-4417)
- Counseling: Study Skills and Time Management (COUN 130-8603; COUN 130-8606)

Dear Alpine Residents:

For the past 8 years the Alpine Woman's Club has sponsored "Christmas in Alpine" Home Tour. However, as of right now we only have one house for our tour.

This fundraiser helps to provide scholarships that we give away each year. Since 1950 the Alpine Woman's Club has given away more than $95,000 to exceptional Alpine graduating seniors.

We are reaching out to the community and looking for Alpine residents who love to decorate for the holidays and would enjoy sharing their decorating skills with others. The event is scheduled for Saturday Dec 14th from 10am to 3pm.

All we ask of you is to decorate your home. We provide insurance, booties to wear over your shoes (if you want them) and docents who are present in your decorated rooms.

If you are interested in being part of this fun event you will be invited to our Christmas Party starting at 3pm at the Alpine Woman's Club located in The Historic Town Hall building. There will be food, refreshments and surprises.

If you are unable to take part in this fund raiser perhaps you know someone who likes to decorate their home. If so, please forward this letter to them. You can reach me at 445-2055 ext 11 or email me at alpinewomansclub@aol.com.

Thanks so much,
Carlette Anderson

Is it a fragrance or a stench?

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

This past week I had to go to the mall. I know, I should know better but I thought I could sneak in, get what I needed and sneak out again. So much for my thoughts.

I wanted to purchase several tie chains for my neckties and searched every jewelry store and nobody had them. Finally, I ordered three online, which would be shipped free, (which always gets my attention) to the nearest store, which happened to be in the mall.

I do not like the mall and choose not to go there if I can help it. When in the mall I am usually very nervous and get confused and do not know which way I am going. Once I get in, I am not quite sure how to get out again. Everything seems to be contrived to confuse a person like myself.

Looking down at the ground while walking I became rather confused and I happen to turn into an open door.

My mall savvy is not sophisticated in the least. The door I turned into happened to be for the store Victoria's Secret. I do not know who Victoria is, I did not know what the store was all about but when I got in the store I discovered Victoria's Secret much to my great embarrassment.

That is exactly the reason I do not like going into the malls. They have places like this that a gentleman, such as Yours Truly, should never enter.

I am not sure how I got out of that store, all I can remember was a great deal of hilarious laughter thrown in my direction from inside. I just hope they did not recognize me. They probably did not, because I had all my clothes on.

It has been a long time since that incident and now I had to go and pick up my order. I put together a plan to sneak in very quietly, pick up my order and tiptoe out as quietly as I came in.

You know what they say about well-laid plans! Whether mine was well laid or not, it blew up in my face.

I did slip into the mall and found the store where my order was. I picked them up and quietly turned around and started for the door. How I got turned around is any man's guess. Actually, I think it turned around too many times. For the next 15 minutes, I tried to find the way I came in so I could go out.

The trouble started when I hesitated. I stopped to try to get my bearings and in stopping a young woman approached me.

"How do you do today, sir," she said most cheerfully.

I nodded and tried to get away as graciously as possible.

She would have none of it. "And how do you smell today, sir?"

Had I been in my right sense of mind I would have told her I smelled with my nose. Being in a confused state of affairs, I had no quick come back for her. It was then that she introduced me to her product.

I must confess I am not up-to-date with all of the body lotions and perfumes that are available today. I shave in the morning, splash some after-shave on my face, rub some deodorant under my armpits and that is as far as I go.

This young woman took me for a potential customer of her body lotions and ointments and perfumes. I suppose many people are concerned with how they smell. I am not one of them.

My basic philosophy along this line is simply, if I cannot stand my own smell, I take a shower. I know when it is time to take a shower when I can smell myself.

She wanted to introduce me to some body lotions and ointments and perfumes that would make me smell alluring to anybody I met during the day.

Personally, I do not have a "Bucket List" but if I did this would not be one of the items on it.

Trying to be polite, I informed the young woman I was late for an appointment and needed to get on right away.

"Oh," she said very cheerfully, "this will not take long at all."

With that said, and before I could process what she said, she began rubbing my face with body ointment or lotion of some sort. I froze and for a few moments, I could not even move. Even the little grey cells upstairs were shocked into a rare state of stillness.

"Now, you smell wonderful."

It was at that time I retired with honor my gentlemanly manners and started running as fast as I could run without drawing too much attention to myself.

I smelled that "fragrance" for three days in spite of the fact that I took 17 showers in the meantime.

Sometimes our focus is always on the outside. I like what Jesus said, "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess" (Matthew 23:25).

It does not matter how good I smell on the outside if there is stench on the inside. I want to focus on my inside and make it as fresh as possible. That is the fragrance God smells.

Dear Dr. Luauna — The Old Indian Fisherman (part 2)

Dear Readers,

I was surprised I didn't catch anything the first day. I noticed on the map another location, I asked a few people and they said, "Oh, yeah, you'll catch something there, it's the ocean's inlet." I discovered the fishing hole on the map was near our next lodging. After checking in the early in the afternoon, I was excited to try my hand at fishing again. Loading up our gear, we headed for the car with map in hand. When we arrived all I saw were pickup trucks, jeeps and what seemed like hundreds of cars.

Finding a parking spot a bit away, I started walking towards the inlet. As we got closer, I just stood back, "Whoa, look at all those people." I saw men lined up almost shoulder to shoulder, like sardines in a can. Jill and I just looked at each other, I said, "You think we hit the jack pot? They aren't standing in a line for nothing." I smiled and said, "Come on Jill, let's go." She just stood looking at me shaking her head no way. "Come on let's go down there and fish." Jill said, "I can't see a spot open, all those men are standing so close together." She turned around and walked another direction. I smiled, looked at Jill and said, "Not me, I'm going right down in the middle of them, squeeze in and catch me a fish." Jill laughed, and said, "Ok, I am going over there where no one is standing." I said, "Ok, see ya later," with my gear, rods, and back pack I started down the hill to the inlet. As I got closer, my heart started skipping a beat when I saw all those fish jumping out of the water, hundreds and hundreds of fish everywhere. Splash, splash, splash everywhere I looked, fish were jumping.

I watched as the men were just as excited as I was. I pushed my way down, "Excuse me, pardon me, excuse me, pardon me," finally I made it into a small opening. I put my stuff down and my heart was beating 90 miles an hour. I had never seen so many fish jumping at one time, I thought to myself, if I had a boat I would sit right in the middle of the inlet and fish could jump right in my boat. Grabbing my pole, and sitting down on my tackle box, I looked around to see what these men were using for bait. I could tell they were focused. They were not talking to anyone so I didn't want to stop and ask, "What are you using for bait." Waiting for just a few minutes, hoping I could catch a glimpse of someone's pole.

Lines were being thrown into the water I thought to myself, "How in the world do they not all get tangled?" I put a hook and what I had for bait and threw my line into the water. I could feel the excitement; I was smiling from ear to ear. Then I suddenly noticed I was the only woman fishing with all these men. I sat back down on my tackle box, with my line in the water.

All these fish and it looked like no one was catching any. Then I looked to my left about ten men over was an old Alaskan Indian man, maybe in his 80's. He noticed me looking at him and he smiled. I smiled back, and he went on placing bait on his line, I had never seen it done that way before. I kept watching him, to see how and what he was using. He was sitting on an old log; it was like he fished with no effort.

He again noticed me; he smiled and pointed out towards the water. He, while sitting threw his line way out towards the inlet entrance. BAM, within a minute, he stood and I saw his pole bend. The men shouted at once, "LINES OUT OF THE WATER." (Continued next week) www.atouchfromabove.org

Physician shares tips for surviving the 'Easy Life'

Study shows simple lifestyle changes can trigger Improvements at the Cellular Level

Dr. James L. Hardeman has seen firsthand the consequences of unhealthy habits during his 30 years as a practicing physician, and he says they're just not worth it.

"There are very clear, biological reasons why we are compelled to eat sugary, fatty foods; but if there was ever a case of 'too much of a good thing,' it's a sedentary lifestyle coupled with delicious, readily available food," says Dr. Hardeman, author of "Appears Younger than Stated Age," (www.jameslhardeman.com), a pragmatic guide to looking younger.

As we evolved, sugar, salt and fat were rare yet necessary commodities, and that's why we enjoy them so much, he says. But there are devastating consequences associated with too much rest, sugar and fat – including heart disease, obesity, diabetes and sleep apnea, he says.

"The 'easy life' isn't so easy in the long term," he says.

Multiple studies indicate the multidimensional nature of healthy habits, including one recently published by the Lund University Diabetes Centre in Sweden. The study tracked significant improvements in men who changed their lifestyle from inactive to active, and the results were impressive.

Waist circumference and blood pressure drastically improved after six months. But the study also showed that health also improved at the microscopic level, such as the functioning of genes and how they express proteins. Other studies indicate that gene improvement can occur after just one workout.

"Our bodies want to be healthy, and it's just a matter of getting and staying motivated," says Dr. Hardeman, who offers tips:

- Don't fall into the "I don't have time" trap. Time is arguably the most precious commodity any individual has – and that means life span. Don't have time to chop veggies before dinner or work out after work? Then make time! You will almost certainly live longer by following a healthier lifestyle. Need more incentive than a vague sense of health? How about avoiding the lifestyle restrictions imposed by diabetes, or the medical interventions necessitated by a heart attack?

- Keep in mind the intake/output principle. Miracle diets don't exist. While some people can burn calories more easily than others, it ultimately comes down to what you put into your body and what you do with that energy. If you want to lose or maintain weight, think of a 360-calorie muffin as a loan you have to pay back with 35 to 40 minutes worth of jogging, or a 55-minute walk.

- Keep doing fun things! Remember what it was like to be a little kid? Back then, simply running around during a game of tag was a blast! It's never too late to turn exercise into play. Try snowboarding, dancing at a club, hiking a beautiful landscape or taking a bicycle ride with the family.

- Find the motivator that works for you. Many people find a partner helps them stay motivated to exercise. If you're not inclined to walk in the morning, but you don't want to let down your walking partner, then you're more likely to walk anyway. Same goes for a dog that needs to be walked. However, the most dependable person to keep you motivated is you. If your routine is getting a dull, mix it up with an mp3 player. Whether it's Metallica, Manilow or Mozart, you can program a personal adrenaline soundtrack to keep yourself fully amped.

The best patients

Five surgeons attending a convention were discussing who makes the best patients to operate on.

Surgeon #1: "I like to see accountants on my operating table because when you open them up, everything inside is numbered."

Surgeon #2: "Yeah, but you should try electricians! Everything inside them is color coded."

Surgeon #3: "No, I really think librarians are the best, everything inside them is in alphabetical order."

Surgeon #4: "You know, I like construction workers...Those guys always understand when you have a few parts left over."

Surgeon #5: "You're all wrong. Politicians are the easiest to operate on. There are no guts, no heart, no balls, no brains, and no spine. Plus, the head and the A** are interchangeable."

Oliver Stone on his five-year project 'Untold History of the United States'

Oliver Stone.

Interview by Diana Saenger

Oliver Stone is a legendary filmmaker. His films arrive colored with his passion for truth. He won Academy Awards for Best Director for Platoon (1985) and Born on the Fourth of July (1989) and for Adapted Screenplay of Midnight Express (1978).

Stone's Academy Award-nominations include: JFK - Best Director, Best Picture (shared); Adapted Screenplay (shared); Born on the Fourth of July - Adapted Screenplay (shared); Salvador - Original screenplay (shared); Nixon - Original screenplay (shared). He's garnered many Golden Globe, Emmy, Festival, Guild and Critics' awards throughout his career.

Many of Stone's films are still talked about today including Wall Street, Savages, Any Given Sunday, Natural Born Killers, The Doors, Heaven & Earth and many more. His career as producer, director, and screenwriter has earned him respect in Hollywood and the movie public even though at times he's labeled as controversial and outspoken on politics.

Stone took a break from major filmmaking to create -- along with Historian Peter Kuznick and other writers -- a documentary miniseries for Showtime. Oliver Stone's Untold History of the United States is made up of 12 chapters and was a five year project.

Stone is a Vietnam Veteran. For his actions in the war, he was awarded a Bronze Star for Gallantry and a Purple Heart. Some of his experiences play out in his films and this series.

Stone, in his customary manor, was happy to talk about this recently released Blu-Ray DVD, as well as some of his thoughts about what was and what might be.

Q. How did you attempt to make this long project vibrant?

OS: When you look at long hours of archive film you can really fall asleep. I love history, but I know the moment people see black & white (images) they tune out. I wanted it to be exciting. I worked intensely on the music with Craig Armstrong who did World Trade Center, Great Gatsby, and Romero and Juliet. We went to Adam Peters who I worked on with Savages. He's an English composer and we blended the music always looking for ways to stimulate or when going into another era changing the music.

Q. You reference several movies in the DVD. Where did that idea come from?

OS: The movie idea in the project came about because we're talking about culture and specific things throughout this series; so why not use movies. I would have used more but with 58 minutes and 30 seconds in every chapter, along with fair use, you can only use maybe a minute so we were always toying that line. I think it relieves the tameness of the narrative, the voice, and we have no interviews. I would have put more films in as examples but people said that's too much.

Q. Can you mention some of those films that didn't make it in?

OS: Stallone -- you have to put him in, he's such a force. In the 80s it controlled public perception that Afghanistan was an evil Soviet empire. In Vietnam we had to go back and get the POWs. It's so important that film reaches out and hits so many people in the guts, and it becomes emotional in America. Don't forget the importance of George Bush with Pearl Harbor, Black Hawk

Down and Saving Private Ryan. It all had a huge impact on the culture in the 90s as we didn't have that enemy of the Soviet Union. So these films filled the need.

Q. Were their certain films that you personally thought would add impact to the series?

OS: JFK came out in the 90s but the Vietnam movies had receded and the last one, Heaven & Earth in 1994, was ill received in this country and did not do well commercially in the country. That was heart breaking to me, and after that we started that surge back to the WWII generation with George Bush, the father and a fighter pilot hero, and they sold the greatest generation. Yet Black Hawk Down was a wonderfully made film but with such a horrible message that US technology is ge-whiz thunder and shock and awe. That's what Bush quoted and he loved that concept, "we'll blow them away with our technology." That's what I objected to. That's another reason I made this series to get these movies in.

Q. What is the difference in documenting history as you did in the series and dramatizing history as you do in many of your films?

OS: A huge difference. In my films, you have actors, sets, and a script. This (the series) is all raw. All we have is the archive footage. Peter is an historian, and I'm a dramatist, and trying to take this book, which is about 25 hours of film and simplify it down to a formula that could work. Some say there's too much going on in here, that's okay. I'd rather not go faster because I've covered so much, but I'd rather you look at it a second time because some kids might do that.

Q. The series covers immense material, but you had several fact checkers, correct?

OS: I often look at a documentary a second time -- and fact check. We had recent grad students; researchers; Peter, who has been at this for 35 years; our own fact checker, as well as Showtime's fact checker, and CBS who owns ShowTime.

Q. Being a dramatist there's the interesting balance of the responsibility of telling a great story versus the subject matter of the event, have you ever found that those two could clash?

OS: That's why this was the hardest thing I ever worked on. There were times I was in complete despair having to rewrite again, but we found out things as we went. We started in 2008 but sometimes two years later you'd find out something that would blow your theory. I would question Peter, and he questioned me. It was very difficult.

Q. You were a teacher in Vietnam and obviously seek truth in your films. Do you see a trend to re-teach history in the way you see things?

OS: I wouldn't say I have the history of Vietnam in my films, but the atmospheres of the three stories were some of my own experiences along with Ron Kovic's. For history, I would suggest chapter 7 to get a sense of Vietnam historically, and that's not complete; it's just part of the story. But it was a devastating setback for the United States, what I would recall as a reversal of fortune. There was no end to that war and as Martin Luther King pointed out, Lyndon Johnson was committed to ending it, but it always comes back to American credibility. And we're hearing that today with the congress. Credibility -- it's a false argument based on so many tragic mistakes.

Q. What's next for you?

OS: I'm working on a new feature film but can't reveal the title as yet.

Massive work in Stone's mini-series now on Blu-Ray

Preview by Diana Saenger

Oliver Stone has always walked to his own beat and given us many incredible films as well as social commentary on his views. His latest project, Oliver Stone's The Untold History of the United States is a five year project. The Blu-Ray, recently released, contains 12 chapters of impressive story-telling that reminds us of both good and bad moments in our history.

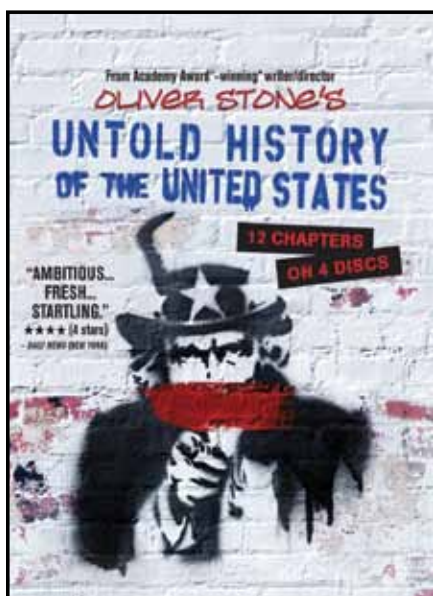

Stone, along with historian Peter Kuznick and British screenwriter Matt Graham wrote the chapters. Stone directed the documentary scenes and narrates the four discs of stories on the Blu-Ray. He narrates his own description through archive footage or at times lets the actual footage with words go on its own. Some of the DVD is in color other times black and white.

Chapter 1: WWII — is a one-hour series they delve in one of the wars currently most remembered in our time. With maps and graphs, Stone tells us about how the history of different countries as well as leaders such as Churchill, Roosevelt, and Stalin who were part of the initiation of this war.

Chapter 2: Roosevelt, Truman & Wallace — takes an in-depth look at actions of these men and how that affected our country. Facts about how the cold war began are here as well.

Chapter 3: The Bomb — takes a look at the actual foreigners who came to the United States to help create the atomic bomb here. It also looks into the distrust from other countries of the U.S. after we dropped the bomb on Japan.

Chapter 4: The Cold War — has Stone recalling how after WWII America thought we were on top of the world, but the Cold War was just as devastating. This segment features a lot about the McCarthy regime and the name calling of prominent U.S. Citizens as communists. One of the films featured in this segment is The Best Years of Our Lives (1946).

Chapter 5: The 50s — centers on the damage done by Henry Wallace — called an un-American because of the policies he wanted to put into action. Segments on President Eisenhower and Truman's rein bring back memories. There's a segment on the Soviet blockades and the film slice shown here is Invasion of the Body Snatchers (1956).

Chapter 6: JFK to the Brink — Subjects in this chapter include the attempts with Khrushchev to end the cold war; the Cuban Missile crisis and the Kennedy Assassination. Stone has comments about these occasions that create interesting thoughts and questions.

Chapter 7: Johnson, Nixon & Vietnam — East Germany, and Castor lead off this chapter which includes speeches by Kennedy and Martin Luther King, and moves into the Vietnam era. Stone has much to say about this war and includes the history of pre-war in Vietnam. There are comments and footage of how things changed with the Vietnam War after Johnson became President.

Chapter 8: Reagan, Gorbachev & The Third World — Focus is on some of President Carter's years and how that affected world issues. How Gorbachev changes policies and footage of Regan's run in the Presidential seat as well as his career on TV and thoughts about his service after he was out. Also are segments about Watergate, the Lebanon bombing and the U.S. going into Granada.

Chapter 9: Bush & Clinton — Focus is on the George W. Bush and Clinton Presidential runs. Stone mentions that the 1980s were some of the most joyful for our country. In this chapter we revisit Colin Powell's term, 911 and terrorists.

Chapter 10: Bush II and Obama — more about 911 in this chapter as well as the Bush agenda, Afghanistan and the U.S. hope for change and how much money the U.S. spent on military operations.

Chapter 11: Prologue A — Stone revisits history of WWI, The Russian Revolution, Woodrow Wilson, and talks about the early U.S Manifest Destiny and history in the 1800s.

Chapter 12: Prologue B — Stone revisits the 1920s, the depression, Harding, and mentions of iconic figures such as Lindbergh and Charlie Chaplin.

Last up is a companion film — A Conversation with History: Tariq Ali and Oliver Stone

Anyone over 50 will be amazed by the thoroughness of Stone's endeavors on this DVD. It's a wonderful tool for teachers and students to grasp the big picture of where this country got its roots, and engaged in good and bad decisions.

The stories serve to educate; make us remember sorrowful or prideful times and maybe rise to the occasion of being proactive. The music selections are wonderful and fitting for every segment.

'Captain Phillips' one of the best films this year

Tom Hanks stars in Captain Phillips. Photo Credit: Hopper Stone /Columbia Pictures Industries, Inc

Review by Diana Saenger
With huge fan and critic raves and one of movie fans' favorite actors, Tom Hanks, how could Captain Phillips go wrong? The film is based on the book by Captain Phillips and the 2009 actual kidnapping by Somali pirates of the commercial ship Maersk

Alabama as it passed through African waters.

We first see Phillips leaving his wife (Catherine Keener) and homestead as he boards a plane to go Captain the Alabama. At first it's kind of status-quo on board but Phillips is very aware of the pirate situation and begins checking out the ship right away.

Meanwhile, a group of thugs in Somali are causing havoc in trying to win a spot on the next pirate vessel escape. They honestly believe taking over a big commercial ship is a piece of cake and that they will get millions from the ship's owner to have it back.

As the two small motor boats set out with their team, it seems impossible they could catch up to the Alabama, but eventually they do. Phillips' crew has their eye on them and never believes they can actually board the boat, but soon Phillip's is telling his crew to hide and turn on the water guns to keep the Somali's from attaching their ladder to the ship.

Watching some of these moments is just the beginning of the intensity in Billy Ray's screenplay and Paul Greengrass' (United 93, Bloody Sunday) direction.

Everyone on the boat is scrambling by the time the pirates board and take over the captain's command. Muse (Barkhad Abdi), the pirate's leader, thinks he knows what he's doing. He calls the Captain Irish and lets him know if they get the millions they ask for no one will be hurt.

Phillips tells him they have only $30,000 in their safe and that they should take it and run as they will never get away with this action. Hours go by, injuries on both sides occur and nothing is working. Rescue forces are on the way but not nearby.

Eventually, Phillips, now slightly injured, ends up in a small rescue vessel with the pirates when they believe the big ship will no longer run. They are headed back to Somali but have to resort to all kinds of negotiations when American ships finally show up. Watching the Navy Seals take action in the dark of the night is a great reminder of all the men and women who risk their lives for our freedom.

The acting in this last portion of the film is incredible. Every moment is nail-biting, even when we know the real result of the outcome, it's still intense. This could be one of Hanks's finest roles. The men who play the Somali pirates Najee (Faysal Ahmed), Elmi (Mahat M. Ali) and Bilal (Barkhad Abdirahman) are incredible. They really frightened me just watching them.

Cinematography by Barry Ackroyd (Parkland, The Hurt Locker) is incredible. Anyone looking for a great film? Captain Phillips is it. However, it's not appropriate for anyone under 13.

Colts run out of Luck

San Diego Chargers quarterback Phillip Rivers (17) celebrates with a fist pump as the San Diego Chargers defeat the Indianapolis Colts 19-9 on Monday Night Football at Qualcomm Stadium. Photo credit: Tom Walko

by Chuck Karazsia

The San Diego Chargers played keep-away from Andrew Luck, saddling the Indianapolis quarterback, and getting a much needed victory after defeating the (4-2) Indianapolis Colts 19-9. The nation observed this on Monday Night Football on a beautiful evening at Qualcomm Stadium.

Climbing back to .500, the (3-3) Chargers — wearing powder blue — struck thunder with a solid running game and unpredictable defense. Sparked lightning eased out from the canon of quarterback Philip Rivers who threw the rock frequently to rookie wide receiver #13 Keenan Allen. This kept the Indy defense off balance and the high-octane Colts offense on the sideline.

Dominating time-of-possession (38:31) to (21:29), total yards (372 to 267), third down conversions (7-of 13) and turnovers (zero for San Diego), (one for the Colts), this was a recipe for winning rediscovered by the new-era Bolts and a delight of the packed home crowd fans.

Kicker Nick Novack converting on all four field goal attempts sealed the win with a 50-yarder splitting the uprights late in the game giving the Chargers a two-score lead.

All Indianapolis could muster were three field goals due to an unpredictable (rubber band/bend but don't break defense). That helped cause six or seven drops by Colts receivers thrown by their star quarterback under the duress of a relentless Bolts pass rush and good man on man coverage.

"John Pagano (defensive coordinator) and the scheme he had in place this week along with Joe Berry (linebackers coach) and the way he coached the players all week long, were very similar to a couple of weeks ago in Dallas," Chargers Head Coach Mike McCoy said. "John did a good job putting those players in a position to win."

Missing two starting linebackers for this game (ILB/Donald Butler and OLB/Jarret Johnson) Andrew Gachkar and Tourek Williams the backups helped to hold the high-powered Indy offense to zero touchdowns in the contest. Rookie ILB/Mantei Te'o had five tackles a few of those bone jarring hits."

FS/Eric Weddle blanketed Colts tight end Coby Fleener, knocking away a critical pass late in the game. Unrestricted free agent CB/Derek Cox sealed the deal for the defense intercepting Andrew Luck, spoiling the Colts last attempt at a comeback.

"BIG BAD" LE/Kendall Reyes laid the lumber to Luck, getting the only QB sack of the game. RE/Corey Liuget was a just whisker away from sacking Luck breathing down his back all evening long.

After the Colts opening drive of 10 plays resulted in a field goal, to the Chargers three-and-out, from then the Bolts ran 69 plays to the Colts 38.

Chargers QB Philip Rivers finished 22 of 33 for 237-yards, one TD (22-yards), and most importantly no interceptions.

Nine of the completions went to rookie wide receiver Keenan Allen for 107-yards, one touchdown (22-yards), eclipsing again 100 yards receiving in a game. Allen is on a path for 1000 yards receiving in his NFL rookie season accomplished by just a handful.

"He's a young player who's improving every day," McCoy said.

The game of football is won by the BIGS in the trenches, so hats off to the Chargers offensive lineman, especially tackles King Dunlap and D.J. Fluker for keeping Philip Rivers upright, especially against the NFL's leading sacker Robert Mathis (9.5).

The BIGS blasting open holes is also the reason Ryan Mathews ran for 102-yards on 22 carries vitally needed in ball-control.

"We were poor running the ball last week (1.7-yd avg.)," McCoy said. "That's not good enough at their level to win. I talked to the players about what we needed to do, and the coaches did a good job of putting the plays together. The guy's up front bought into it knowing we would run the football early and kept pounding. They did a good job of blocking."

Putting his players in a position for success can be said of McCoy and his staff. The Chargers have been in every contest, with most going to the end of the game. They have done a great job getting the players mentally and physically ready (except against the Raiders)

They can build on this confidence with another victory Sunday against the (0-6) Jacksonville Jaguars before heading into the bi-week.

Oct. 26 & 27: Glider Club Offers to Take You Soaring at Open House Event at Jacumba Airport. It's an Open House that promises to be an uplifting experience. A ride in a glider is just one of the many activities being offered by the Associated Glider Clubs of Southern California at the Jacumba Airport on October 26 and 27.

The event runs from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day and will feature a variety of aircraft on static display, food, and aviation-based games for the entire family. Sailplane rides will also be offered for a nominal fee. It's an opportunity for the public to experience the solitude and challenge of powerless flight.

"You'll be towed aloft to catch the thermals," said AGCSC Open House Chairman Benjamin Bleichwehl. He added, "Our experienced pilots will provide you with a relaxing glider ride that you will remember for the rest of your life."

The Associated Glider Clubs of Southern California was established in 1929 during a time when human flight was still in its infancy. Among the earliest sailplane pilots were Charles and Anne Lindbergh. Charles Lindbergh first used the cliffs at Torrey Pines for soaring on February 24, 1930. During AGCSC's history, the club has used Torrey Pines, Lake Elsinore, Warner Springs, Ocotillo Wells and now, Jacumba, as its home base for operations.

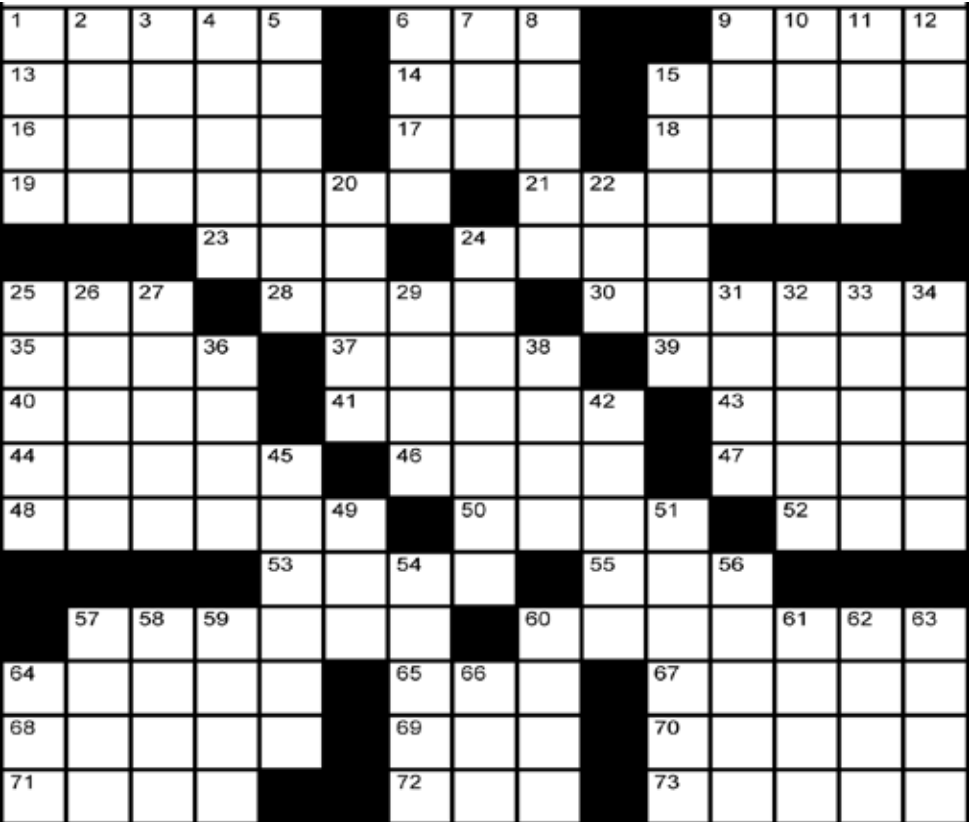

Jacumba Airport is located on Old Highway 80, one mile east of Jacumba. To make a flight reservation or for more information

You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located and more than three months have elapsed since such recordation. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (619) 704-1090 or visit this Internet Web site www.priorityposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case 13408. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. 10/7/2013 ACTION FORECLOSURE SERVICES, INC. 7839 UNIVERSITY AVENUE SUITE 211 LA MESA, CA 91942 (619) 704-1090 Sale Information Line: (714)573-1965 www.priorityposting.com JAMES M ALLEN, JR., CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER P1064521 10/10, 10/17, 10/24/2013

PUBLIC NOTICE

SDG&E Master Special Use Permit and Permit To Construct Power Line Replacement Projects Public Scoping

San Diego Gas & Electric Company(SDG&E or applicant) is proposing to combine over 70 existing special use permits for SDG&E electric facilities within the Cleveland National (CNF) into one Master Special Use Permit (MSUP) to be issued by the United States Forest Service (Forest Service). SDG&E Filed a Standard Form (SF) 299 Application for Transportation and Utilities Systems and Facilities on Federal lands along with a Plan of Development (POD) to initiate this action. The CNF MSUP study area is located with the Trabuco Ranger District in Orange County, California and the Palomar and Descanso Ranger Districts in unincorporated areas of San Diego County, California.

The Forest Service has reviewed the application and accepted the proposal with modifications to certain actions on National Forest System lands. SDG&E revised the POD in April 2013 to include modifications as requested by the Forest Service. This modified proposal is the Forest Service proposed action.

In addition to requesting Forest Service authorization of the MSUP, SDG&E is proposing to replace certain existing 69 kV power lines and 12 kV distribution lines located within and outside of the CFN. Replacement would primarily consist of fire hardening, relocation and undergrounding of certain facilities which will require a Permit To Construct (PTC) from the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC). The power line and distribution facilities proposed to be replaced are located within the central portion of San Diego County approximately 4.5 miles north Of the US Mexico Border, 14 miles east Of the City of El Cajon, in the vicinity of the unincorporated communities of Descanso, Campo, Pauma Valley, Santa Ysabel and Warner Springs.

On October 17, 2012 SDG&E filed an application (A.12-10-009) a long with the Preliminary POD for Permit to Construct (PTC) the proposed Power Line Replacement Projects with the CPUC. On June 26, 2013, SDG & E filed an amended PTC application which included modifications to certain actions on National Forest System lands as requested By the Forest service and described In the Revised POD.

The CPUC and Forest Service independent jurisdiction and approval authority for the project. In addition, the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), Bureau of Land Management (BLM), and California State Parks (CSP) at independent jurisdiction and approval authority for project segments within their areas of jurisdiction. The CPUC is the lead agency under California law and the Forest Service is the lead federal agency. As joint lead agencies, the CPUC and Forest Service has developed and signed a Memorandum of Understanding (January 2012) that will direct the preparation of a joint Environmental Impact Report (EIR) to comply With the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) to comply with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). The joint document will be called the “SDG&E Master Special Use Permit and Permit to Construct Power Line Replacement Projects EIS/EIR.” The BIA and BLM are joining the Forest Service as federal co-operating agencies under NEPA, and the CSP is participating as a responsible agency under CEQA.

As required by CEQA, the CPUC has prepared a Notice of Preparation (NOP). The purpose of the NOP is to inform recipients that the CPUC is beginning the joint preparation of the EIS/EIR with the Forest Service, and to solicit information that will be helpful in the environmental review process. Information that will be most useful at this time would be descriptions of concerns about the impacts of the proposed project and suggestions for alternatives that should be considered.

As required by NEPA, the Forest Service will publish a Notice of Intent (NOI) in the Federal Register in conjunction with the NOP for preparation of a joint EIS/EIR. Similar to the NOP, the intent of the NOI is to initiate the public scoping for the EIS/EIR, provide information about the proposed project, and to solicit comments on the scope and content of the EIS/EIR. That NOI also serves as an invitation for other federal agencies or tribes with jurisdiction or special expertise to join as a cooperating agency.

The NOP includes background information on the project, a description of the applicant’s proposal, the Forest Service Proposed Action, and a summary of potential project impacts. That in NOP and the NOI can be viewed on the project website at the following link: <http://www.cpuc.ca.gov/environment/info/dudek/CNF/CNF.htm>

Our Best Friends

Pet of the Week

Who's one of the cutest little snuggle-bugs around, you ask? Why, it's me, Fi Fi. I'm an affectionate Toy Poodle, and I'm about six years old. I'm a happy little sweetheart who loves to play fetch (boy, am I good at it), and who loves to snuggle. I'd be a perfect little lap dog, and I promise to love you with all my heart! I get along great with other dogs, and I'd do best in a family where the kids are older and considerate of me. The shelter staff is pretty sure that I've been house trained, but I might need a quick refresher course when I get to my new home. I sure hope you'll come visit me soon at the El Cajon Animal Shelter. We can hang out in the play yard so you can see why everybody says that I'm an absolute treasure. I have a strong suspicion that once you hold me in your arms, you'll never want to let me go. Love, Fi Fi" Kennel #11
