Local program brightens the holidays for seniors

This season, holiday shoppers in San Diego County can give cheer to area seniors by participating in the Be a Santa to a Senior program.

The program – run by the local Home Instead Senior Care office in partnership with La Mesa Adult Enrichment Center, area retailers, volunteers and members of the community – helps ensure isolated seniors receive gifts and companionship during the holidays. This can be a difficult time for many, especially those who live alone or have lost spouses and loved ones.

Adult Enrichment Center at 8450 La Mesa Blvd in La Mesa and at Jet Air at 681 Kenny St. in El Cajon.

The local Home Instead Senior Care office have enlist volunteers from its staff, senior-care business associates, non-profit workers and others to collect, wrap and distribute the gifts to local seniors who might otherwise spend the holiday alone.

“Be a Santa to a Senior gives back to older adults in our area, many of whom have had significant, positive influence on our lives,” said Leslie Bojorquez, owner at the local Home Instead Senior Care office. “During this season of giving, we encourage shoppers to buy a little extra to say thank you to these community members.”

For more information about the program, visit BeaSanta-toaSenior.com or call (619) 460-6222.

An estimated 27 percent of people 65 and older (10.8 million people) are widowed, according to the U.S. Census Bureau. Further, the Administration on Aging reports about 28 percent (11.8 million) non-institutionalized people 65 and older live alone.

Retailers that participated in Be a Santa to a Senior displayed Christmas trees from Nov. 12 to Dec. 11 that featured ornaments with seniors’ first names and their gift requests. Holiday shoppers picked an ornament from these trees, bought the items listed and returned them unwrapped to the store, with the ornament attached.

Be a Santa to a Senior trees are located at the La Mesa

Volunteers at the Wrapping Party for the ‘Be a Santa to a Senior’ program. The wrapping party took place at the Home Instead Senior Care office at 5260 Jackson Dr. in La Mesa. The gifts will be delivered to lonely and needy seniors for the holidays.

Viejas Casino General Manager Chris Kelley said, “This year’s goal of 10,000 toys was a bit daunting at first, but when we started seeing the response from our guests and Team Members we quickly became very confident that we could reach the goal. And actually exceeding it by so much is incredible, and is a testament to the spirit and dedication of all those involved.”

Also at this evening’s event, Viejas Community Relations presented Salvation Army Captain Terry Masango with a check for $15,000 on behalf of the Viejas Band of Kumeyaay Indians to support the Army’s efforts in eastern San Diego County.

East County Toy & Food Drive — helping those in need

Helping those in need, the El Cajon Valley Host Lions Club will deliver 100 Christmas food baskets on December 21 starting at 7 a.m. Each year for the past 26 years the Lions Club has delivered food baskets to the needy of East County. Donated food will be divided up into identical baskets for delivery by the Lions and Leo's Club of El Cajon High School. Each basket will contain a 15 pound turkey, various canned goods, milk, bread, cereal, noodles, rice, apples, eggs, cheese, cookies, soup, celery, stuffing mix and much more. This annual tradition began in 1967 when the Lions delivered food to 25 families. That number grew to 33 by 1998 and last year they delivered to 44 families and 15 more were picked up. The Salvation Army provides the list of families in need based on criteria that they have used for years. Anyone wishing to donate food, please call (619) 504-0583.

City of El Cajon employees collect more than 200 new books

El Cajon Community Development staff members showing a few of over 200 books that were collected for Rady Children's Hospital.

Employees in the City of El Cajon's Community Development Department organized a Second Annual "Book Drive for Rady Children's Hospital" for the holiday season. More than 200 new books appealing to kids under 18 were collected and will be distributed to patients at Children's Hospital.

During the first delivery, two City of El Cajon residents, Drum Macomber and Citizen of the Year Sunshine Horton, dressed as Santa and an Elf, and read "Twas a Night Before Christmas" to over 30 children and their parents in Carley's Garden at the hospital. The second batch of books will be delivered on Friday, Dec. 20.

"We are pleased that our employees and community had an outpouring of support for the kids at the hospital," said Ron Luis Valles, one of the organizers of the drive from the Community Development Department.

Nurses at the hospital commented that parents and staff reading the books to the children from the first book drive provided great comfort during their recovery.

This year, employees were encouraged to donate a book of their favorite childhood story or one that they would read to their children.

For Health's Sake

Take control of your time, health and future this holiday season

by Ruth Kenzelmann, Ph.D

The holiday season can be a stressful and overwhelming time for many people. In addition to increased financial pressures and family or social obligations, as the New Year approaches many of us must acknowledge that we didn't achieve the goals we set last year for making positive changes in our lives. Each January, we promise ourselves that this is the year we will really follow through on those resolutions to improve areas of our life, from our health to our career to our personal relationships. But without clear goals, and steps in place to attain those goals, it can be difficult to successfully achieve meaningful, lasting changes in our busy and demanding lives.

One approach that can help us break out of the annual rut of broken resolutions is positive psychology, which focuses on using and cultivating the strengths, talents and virtues that enable individuals, families and communities to thrive. Incorporating positive psychology techniques in your daily routine can be an effective and valuable way to address feelings of stress or anxiety and stay committed to your goals of making healthy improvements in your life. These techniques can help us focus on things we can actively do every day to produce authentic happiness and cultivate wellbeing, leading to a better quality of life.

Stress, anxiety and other mental health challenges affect people from all walks of life regardless of age, gender, ethnicity, or socioeconomic level. Positive psychology offers tools anyone can use to start improving their mental health and wellbeing today. It can help us expand our focus from clinical problems to cultivate feelings of wellbeing for a life filled with meaning, positive relationships and accomplishment.

Positive psychology offers strategies to help people manage life's challenges, maintain a healthy outlook and recognize opportunities for enjoyment. These techniques are valuable tools that can promote mental health, increase resiliency and add balance to your life. Anyone can use positive psychology to help manage holiday-related stress and anxiety and stay on track toward personal goals by following these simple tips:

- Unplug. Stay present, calm, and positive during this year's holidays by building some "down time" into your day during which you switch off your mobile device, computer and television. Not only will this help you relax and recharge, but you will be able to better focus on the people and things around you.

- Set realistic goals that fit your schedule and budget. This is a great time of year to take stock of your goals and accomplishments and create a step-by-step plan to help you achieve greater control and fulfillment in the year ahead.

- Keep the momentum going! Stay inspired by keeping a daily account of your hard work and progress. Cross goals – large and small – off your list as you accomplish them. Develop a motto that inspires you and keeps you focused even after the glow of the holidays has faded to avoid backsliding into unhealthy habits. Something like, "I can do it" or "All great journeys start with one step."

- Don't be afraid to ask for help. If you're feeling overwhelmed this holiday season, remember there are people out there who are ready and available to help. People in San Diego County can call the 24-hour Access and Crisis Line at (888) 724-7240 to get free, confidential support and referrals related to a variety of needs, including suicide prevention, crisis intervention, community resources, mental health referrals, and alcohol and drug support services. Anyone in San Diego County who needs help or is experiencing a crisis can call the Access and Crisis Line to immediately get assistance from a Master's level clinician, available in 150 languages through an interpreter service. There is also a chat function available Monday-Friday between 4 and 10 p.m. at www.optumhealthsandiego.com

Ruth Kenzelmann, Ph.D. is the Executive Director for Optum San Diego. Since 1997, Optum has worked in close partnership with San Diego County to help 425,000 Medicaid members get the mental health and substance use services they need to reach recovery. Over the years, Optum's goal has been to improve quality and increase access to programs and services that help people in the San Diego community live happier, healthier lives.

The Food Network's "Cupcake Wars" winner shares tips for Holiday Desserts

If there's one downside to fabulous, food-filled holiday celebrations, it's the gurgles and groans of post-feasting indigestion.

"We assume it's because we overate, but for a lot of people, that pain and sick feeling may not be about how much you ate but what you ate," says Kyra Bussanich, (www.kyrasbakeshop.com), three-time winner of The Food Network's "Cupcake Wars" and author of a just-released recipe book, Sweet Cravings: 50 Seductive Desserts for a Gluten-Free Lifestyle.

"About 2 million Americans have celiac disease – an autoimmune reaction to gluten, the protein in wheat," says Bussanich, whose painful symptoms became life-threatening before she was finally diagnosed with the illness. "Most of those people aren't diagnosed though, because the symptoms look like so many other intestinal ailments."

People with celiac disease must completely avoid gluten, which is also in rye, and barley, to avoid a case of painful and gut-damaging indigestion. But, as Harvard Medical School reported earlier this year, avoiding gluten also appears to help people with less serious digestive issues.

"It really does seem to provide some improvement in gastrointestinal problems for a segment of the population," says Harvard assistant professor Dr. Daniel Leffler.

For Bussanich, a chef, there was no choice: One speck of gluten would make her ill. But she refused to give up pastries, cakes and other treats, so she perfected gluten-free varieties. Her award-winning desserts left their flour-based competition in crumbs on "Cupcakes Wars" in 2011 and 2012, and she was a runner-up on the show's "Cupcake Champion."

Bussanich offers these tips for whipping up gluten-free baked goods this holiday season:

- If you're following a recipe, don't substitute the listed flour or starch with another type unless you're familiar with its properties. There are many different types of gluten-free flours and starches, including millet, sorghum and sweet white rice flour, and potato and tapioca starches. Each has its own idiosyncrasies. For example, millet flour has a slightly nutty flavor and is well-suited for

Inspiration

If you like your snow, you can keep your snow, please

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

Memory is a very wonderful thing, at times. It seems the older I get the more I remember things that never happened. I do not know how that takes place, but I guess it is just old age creeping up on me. With me, old age has ceased creeping and has started a fast sprint to some finish line. I just wish it would slow down just a wee bit.

Christmas, however, is the time to indulge ourselves in memories. Some people can go back in time and remember things when they were two or three years old years old. Me, I cannot remember what I had for breakfast this morning. I have a strong suspicion that those remembering things back that far are remembering things that really did not take place but who in the world is going to prove them wrong.

To me, one of the delightful things about Christmas is getting to see family and friends that you have not seen all year long. I remember those old-fashioned family reunions we used to have when all of our relatives would get together. It was at those reunions that I remembered why I did not see my relatives the rest of the year. Once a year was quite enough, thank you.

If insanity is hereditary, I am in deep trouble. I am only thankful my wife did not meet my relatives prior to our wedding. Of course, after I met her relatives I began realizing that after all, families are relative, and some more relative than others.

I was thinking about some Christmases in the past and the good times we had. I remembered our first Christmas as a married couple. That was probably the cheapest Christmas we ever had. Then I got to thinking about the Christmases as the kids began dropping into our family and taking up permanent residence. When the kids arrived, it changed Christmas forever and not just the cost.

This week I got a couple Christmas cards from some relatives who live up north. All of them had pictures of snow.

Watching the weather reports this week I knew many of them were having snowstorms and I chuckled to myself thinking about it. In one Christmas card, was the familiar title, "I'm dreaming of a white Christmas." Then at the bottom of the card, they scribbled, "Don't you miss all the snow this time of the year?" Then they drew a series of smiley faces.

I smiled and for a few moments, one brief moment, I did miss all that snow.

The Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage saw me smiling and asked, "Who sent the Christmas cards?"

I told her who the cards were from and added, "They think we miss all that snow." We then shared a hearty laugh together and went about our own business.

I just could not get it out of my mind. Did I miss all that snow? What a question.

I put my thinking machine in gear and began processing the Christmases we celebrated up north where there was plenty of snow. As I begin thinking, I did begin missing all that snow.

Then it dawned on me what snow was all about.

At times, we forget some details of our memories and only think of the positive and good aspects. Do not get me wrong. Snow looks wonderful on a Christmas card. I do not mind watching a TV program where plenty of snow is falling and people are singing Christmas carols. I rather enjoy it in those venues.

The question is, did I miss all that snow?

My answer goes something like this. Yes, I do miss all that snow! Furthermore, I plan to miss all that snow for the rest of my life.

The basic reason I moved to Florida when I did was that I do not like snow. I like looking at snow on a Christmas card but I do not like looking at snow through my car window.

It is not so much that I do not like driving in snow; it is the other idiots coming at me who do not know how to drive in snow and do not know how to stay in their own lane.

I remember the last time I did any driving in snow I ended up almost a complete nervous wreck. People drive in snow as though they do not know how to drive in snow.

Yes, I do miss the snow, and the cold and being snowed in, did I mention the cold. I do miss all that and I plan to miss it the rest of my life. Period. Some things you can live without and as far as I am concerned this is one.

To all those who love snow and cannot get enough of it, please enjoy it this year for me because I do not plan to.

Only one Bible characters seemed to enjoy snow. God said to Job, "Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? Or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail?" (Job 38:22).

When God was trying to get Job to see is that no matter what your circumstances are, that is not the end. Look beyond your problems and difficulties and see the hand of God who created all things and then called them "good." In every circumstance you will find some treasure of God's amazing grace.

Dear Dr. Luauna — You are a gift

Dear Readers,

Every day is like Christmas to me! Psalms 100:4-5 "Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise. Be thankful to Him, and bless His name. For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting, and His truth endures to all generations."

Did you know reader, you are a gift? Your life on this earth is not only a gift to others, but a gift back to God. Psalm 95:4-7 "In His hand are the deep places of the earth; the heights of the hills are His also. The sea is His, for He made it; and His hands formed the dry land. Oh come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our Maker. He is our God and we are the people of His pasture, and the sheep of His hand."

Is Christmas just about a Christmas tree, Santa Claus, presents or gifts? No, Christmas is about the greatest gift given to mankind, "Jesus, born in a manger." God's love always amazes me, from Genesis to Revelation He shares His love. In Genesis Chapter one, God created all things for you and I. All that He created was for our pleasure.

God Almighty had us on His mind. To give us His best, even when man fell to sin in the garden. He again came to our defense in Genesis 3:15 "And I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her Seed; He shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise His heel." Even though Adam and Eve disobeyed, God in His love He foretold His future to plan to defeat Satan. Jesus, the woman's "Seed," would bruise "Satan's head." Jesus would destroy Satan's authority over mankind. Isaiah 7:14, "Therefore the Lord Himself will give you a sign; 'Behold the virgin shall conceive and bear a Son, and shall call His name Immanuel.'" Romans 16:20, "And the God of peace will crush Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen."

God's mercy towards man always amazes me. Are you going through a hard trial, do you think there's no way out? Are you broken and hurting, do you feel like your worth has been stolen away? God has a plan for our life! When we go through great trials and pain we must always remember, God is able to turn it and work something out for your greater tomorrow. If some of your trials have been brought on by bad decisions, one must truly repent and still trust God. He loves you.

No matter what the devil tries to throw at you, read the whole story of a young boy named Joseph. Every trial came against that young man to try to destroy him. But read at the end, God was working on a greater plan. Genesis 50:18-21; "Then his brothers also went and fell down before his face, and they said, 'Behold, we are your servants.'" Joseph said to them, "Do not be afraid, for am I in the place of God? But as for you, you meant evil against me; but God meant it for good, in order to bring it about as it is this day, to save many people alive. Now therefore, do not be afraid; I will provide for you and your little ones." And he comforted them and spoke kindly to them."

One man or woman called of God, who is willing to trust and obey God, knowing He really does have a plan will make a difference. God has a plan, and you will see the victory, hold on dear ones. You are fearfully and wondrously made, created for His pleasure. Jesus loves you, and you are a gift.

Merry Christmas dear one, I love you.

The Pacific Southwest Association of Realtors (PSAR) were recently honored with a commendation of appreciation from the La Mesa City Council after completing a home makeover beautification project for a disabled and unemployed La Mesa homeowner down on his luck. Earlier this year, a small army of more than 100 PSAR members and supporters, including contractors and other building trade specialists, volunteered their labor over several weekends at a home on Troy Lane that had been previously cited by city officials for zoning code violations. The improvements to the home included a new roof, landscape renovation and general clean-up. Donated construction materials included plywood, roofing, paint and plants. Representing PSAR at the recent La Mesa City Council meeting included (left to right) Jeff Campbell, 2013 PSAR president and Carey Guthrie, 2014 PSAR president-elect. La Mesa Mayor Art Madrid is holding the commendation.

'12 Years A Slave' is an outstanding and brave film

Review by Diana Saenger

Is 12 Years A Slave as hard to watch as critics say? You bet! Do audiences need to see it? Absolutely.

Steve McQueen's incredible film is based on a memoir by the real-life Solomon Northup and incredibly played by Chiwetel Ejiofor. Solomon is a free man in 1840 living and working in upstate New York. A family man of good morals and a great musician, life seems good. When Solomon is offered a chance to take his fiddle on the road with a traveling circus, he grabs the opportunity.

After having dinner with two guys in Washington, D.C., Solomon wakes up the next morning in chains. The plot was to get him and sell him to the plantation owners in the south. Transferred from cell to ship to the slave trader's auction, Solomon professes he is a free man but no one believes him. He winds up in the ownership of plantation owner Edwin Epps (Michael Fassbender). He likes that Solomon is a big strong man, and gets annoyed every time his slave claims to be a free man.

This melodrama from the superb script by John Ridley doesn't take the easy road to tell its story. The slaves are constantly beaten and mistreated by the two-faced Epps who appears to be a Godly man but is far from it. When he takes on a slave mistress -- a routine among most plantation owners -- Epps wife (Sarah Paulson) is outraged and does her own horrible things to meet Patsey (Lupita Nyong'o), who detests the physical abuse from both owners.

When Solomon gives Epps a good idea, plantation worker Tibbeats (Paul Dano) accuses Solomon of a false act and insist he hangs. Dangling from a rope and swaying back and forth with his toes barely touching the mud below him, Solomon is finally rescued.

Sixteen years living this horrible life -- Solomon sees an open door when a Canadian contractor (Brad Pitt) comes to do some work for Epps. But is Solomon safe revealing his real story to the stranger even though he's an abolitionist.

This story is so engrossing due to the excellent screenplay and terrific cast. Ejiofor embodies every attribute of a wronged man. Fassbender easily broadens the soulless aspects of Epps and makes him so easy to hate. Nyong'o earns sympathy every moment her character Patsey is being tortured.

12 Years A Slave, already racking up awards in many voting groups, is a sad but important reminder of how far we have come from the brutality of the Civil War era. It's also a great representative of how a dedicated and untied team can make an outstanding movie.

Chiwetel Ejiofor leads all-star cast in dramatic biopic, 12 Years A Slave.

Alpine High School student a semi-finalist for California State Board of Education

Casey Lind, a junior at Granite Hills High School, was recently one of 12 semi-finalists vying for a one-year term on the California State Board of Education. Each year, high school juniors from across the state apply for consideration for the student position on the State Board of Education (SBE). Hundreds apply, and 12 semi-finalists are selected to proceed to the next step in the application process.

On Saturday, Nov. 2, Casey went to Sacramento to participate in a statewide, five-day Student Advisory Board on Education conference. All semi-finalists made presentations about their interest in, and qualifications for, the student member position.

Lind attended Shadow Hills Elementary and Joan MacQueen Middle School before entering Granite Hills in 2011. She has been an active participant in the Culinary Arts Pathway at Granite Hills, and this year was chosen to be the Career Technical Education (CTE) Ambassador for the Culinary Arts Pathway at Granite Hills, promoting the program throughout the district.

Lind was recently accepted into the National Honor Society based on her outstanding academic performance coupled with her additional involvement both inside and outside of the school environment. She is concerned about low test scores and student dropout rates across California. She is an advocate for the SOAR (Students Organized to Achieve Success) program recently implemented at Granite Hills. Through this program, students tutor fellow-students who are struggling or just need a little extra assistance with their homework.

"It is evident that Ms. Lind is frequently selected as a leader because of her ability to have a positive impact on the people around her," said Granite Hills Assistant Principal, Dale Sheehan, Ed. D. "She has been a dedicated athlete, participating in cross country and track and field since her freshman year. Ms. Lind demonstrated excellent leadership skills and is the current team captain. She excels in these leadership roles as she has demonstrated her ability to plan meetings, promotional strategies, discussions, and outreach programs."

Lind is also known for her commitment to her community. "Outside of school, Casey is generous with her time by giving back to her community and helping others," said Laura Whitaker, Principal at El Capitan High School. "For the last several summers she worked at Forest Home Camp as a childcare assistant, and she also was a peer leader with the other assistants. She regularly visits one of the local nursing homes where she spends time with the elderly residents there. Casey has a vibrant and friendly personality, and she has a true heart for serving people."

On November 5 and 6, there was a secret ballot and the final group of students voted on their peers to be one of six finalists. Lind was one of the six. Governor Jerry Brown then selected one teen to be the Student Board member.

"Casey was not selected to be one of the final three, but she had an amazing experience, and learned so much," said her mother Amy Lind.

Being in several different national film critics' groups can be interesting and challenging. It's always fascinating when we all see the same films yet have different reactions. Having done this for 20 years, I think it's often a fact of environment, upbringing, lifestyle and how open we are to "seeing the big picture." I'm just very glad that I can enjoy my colleagues -- often in heated debates -- but then have my own say as well. Check out these year-end choices.

Chargers get win of the year

by Chuck Karaszia

Special team “hands” player Bront Bird leapt up and alertly knocked the on-sides kickoff out-of-bounds, which not only frustrated the (11-3) Denver Broncos and QB Peyton Manning (keeping him planted harmlessly on the sidelines as the last seconds dwindled down), but also, kept the (7-7) Chargers playoff hopes alive.

The Broncos were averaging 40-points a game. San Diego held their own in all three phases (offense, defense, and special teams) spoiling the Broncos undefeated season at home, getting the Chargers a huge, much needed win.

Ten point underdogs coming in, five days after defeating Eli Manning and the New York Giants, the Chargers on Thursday Night Football won this one hard, the “old fashioned way,” in the trenches on both sides of the ball at the line of scrimmage.

Completing only half as many passes as his opponent, Philip Rivers orchestrated a smart Chargers offense, never turning the ball over and came out victorious outdueling Peyton Manning, getting help from his backfield teammate Ryan Mathews who ran the ball 29 times for 128-yds 4.4 avg., 1 TD.

Quiet in the second half, rookie standout receiver Keenan Allen lit up the scoreboard in the first half getting two critical touchdowns on athletic plays.

OLB Thomas Keiser got a late key interception off Manning, with help from the pass rush of DE Corey Liuget. This play had been set up by a Mike Scifre’s punt, pinning Manning and the Broncos back at the three-yard line.

The Chargers controlled the line of scrimmage from the outset to the final whistle. Success came by running the ball at Denver, while holding the Broncos running game to just 18-yards on 11 rushes, 1.1 avg. Credit has to go to the guys up front on the line of scrimmage for executing, and to the coaches for implementing a winning game plan.

Best in the league in third down conversions, the Bolts offense went 6-of-12, while holding Peyton Manning and the Broncos to 2-of-9 on third downs. San Diego also dominated time of possession roughly 39.0 to 21.0.

The San Diego Chargers welcome their longtime rivals the Oakland Raiders to Qualcomm Stadium this Sunday. Kickoff is at 1:25p.m.

“Well I think it’s a great rivalry. It’s been that way for years. We need to have our best fan support of the year this week in our stadium,” Chargers Head Coach Mike McCoy stated this week.

“We know what this game means to this division and the rivalry. Chargers and Raiders twice a year. This is something our fans should be excited about, so it’s a big game for us.”

The San Diego Chargers offensive line took military youths shopping for Christmas presents at Macy’s UTC Monday, Dec. 16. Bringing holiday cheer to kids throughout the County, goods with a hearty texture. Sweet white rice flour holds moisture well and is good for recipes that have a slight gumminess to them. Potato starch is light and good for fluffy cakes.

Tips on holiday desserts...

- Use eggs and butter at room temperature. Eggs are often used as a binder, the protein that substitutes for the missing gluten. Eggs and butter are both easier to work with when used at room temperature, and room-temperature egg whites whip up fluffier. If you forget to pull the butter out of the refrigerator beforehand, heat it for 7 to 12 seconds in the microwave. Put cold eggs in warm (not hot) water for 30 to 60 seconds.

- Don’t overwork batter and dough with xanthan gum in it. Corn-based xanthan gum is often used as a stabilizer and thickener in gluten-free baked goods, sauces, dressings and soups. Once this ingredient is added, overworking the dough can give it a slimy, gummy texture, and cause it to lose flavor. (A good substitute for xanthan gum is ground psyllium seed husk.)

- Heat higher, cream longer for lighter cakes. One complaint people sometimes have about gluten-free baked goods is that they’re too dense. To prevent this, try setting the oven temperature 25 degrees warmer than you would for flour. This will cause the butter in the recipe to release its water as steam, which helps the cake rise quickly. Also, cream eggs and butter together longer – about 10 minutes – than you would for flour cakes.

Try some gluten-free desserts and maybe your holidays will be indigestion-free this year, Bussanich says.

“If your recipe doesn’t turn out wonderfully the first time, don’t give up,” she says. “I promise you, anyone can make delicious gluten-free desserts. It just may take a little practice.”

About Kyra Bussanich: Kyra Bussanich is a three-time winner of The Food Network’s hit show, “Cupcake Wars.” She graduated with honors from Le Cordon Bleu and opened her award-winning bakery, Kyra’s Bake Shop, which features gourmet, gluten-free sweets. She has branched beyond desserts to other gluten-free goods in order to help those with celiac and other autoimmune diseases enjoy quality treats

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF MERRIL R. MASSURE
CASE NO. 37-2013-00076205-PR-PL-CTL
ROA #: 1
(IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: MERRIL R. MASSURE
A Petition for Probate has been filed by TODD MASSURE in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO.

The Petition for Probate requests that TODD MASSURE be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 01/07/2014 at 11:00 AM in Dept. PC-1 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building. If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. Our Best Friends

Pet of the Week

"Who's the sweet, loving, and handsome cattle dog at the El Cajon Animal Shelter? It's me, ARTHUR. I'm an Australian Cattle Dog mix, and I'm about one-and-a-half years old. I'm looking for that special person who will understand and appreciate my sensitive nature. I promise to be loyal and affectionate if you'll show me love, and I'd do best in a quiet, adult home. I get along very nicely with other dogs, so maybe I could be a pal to your current dog. I'm learning how to walk nicely on a leash, so perhaps we could explore the world together. My favorite place wherever we go will be by your side. I hope you'll head on over to the shelter real soon so you can feel my soft, healthy coat, and see my beautiful markings. Please ask the helpful shelter staff to take us out to the play yard so we can get better acquainted. I'll be able to relax a bit more once I'm out of my kennel. The shelter staff isn't sure yet if I've been house trained, but I'm a very smart boy who's eager to learn all sorts of new things under your patient guidance. Please help my dreams of a new home come true. Love, Arthur" Kennel #50
