St. Patrick's Day Half Marathon

Runners line up on the starting line for the St. Patrick's Day Half Marathon on Main Street in El Cajon. Photo credit: Monica Zech

Sunday, March 16 was a beautiful day for a race in the City of El Cajon, as RunEC held its second annual "St. Patrick's Day Half Marathon, Main Street 5K, and Green Mile."

There was a sea of green when participants flocked to the streets of Downtown El Cajon in the early morning. Just prior to the 8 a.m. start, Mayor Bill Wells provided encouraging words to the participants. The half marathon runners then led things off, followed by the 5K runners and the "Green Mile Fun Run" participants.

All courses were designed so that everyone involved could fully enjoy Historic Downtown El Cajon. The races began and ended near the Downtown El Cajon Arch landmark, at the intersection of Main Street and Magnolia Avenue.

A few new activities were added to this year's event. These included a "Tribes & Clans Competition," as well as a day-long Beer & Wine Festival. The festival was hosted by URBN Coal Fired Pizza and Brewery, scheduled to open in Downtown El Cajon within the next couple of months.

The El Cajon City Council attended the Grand Opening of the new Walmart Neighborhood Market on Second Street early Saturday morning.

The City of El Cajon is excited to welcome Walmart and the opening its first Neighborhood Market, which is a smaller store focused on groceries and neighborhood services. The market moved into a vacant grocery store building located on Second Street, providing an opportunity for the community to access much needed goods and services for the central area of the City.

Bashar Katou owner of the new Baking Delorian restaurant and cocktails 10109 Maine Ave. said he was pleased with the large turn out for the grand opening and Lakeside Chamber of Commerce Ribbon Cutting on Friday, March 14. This is what he wants his restaurant to be, welcoming to everyone.

The name Baking Delorian reflects bringing the past and present together. There will be entertainment with three bands and a DJ featuring country music.

The restaurant has an extensive menu Hot off The Grill, Rodeo BLT, Build Your Own Burger II and Crafted Pastas, Chefs Creations and Custom Delorian House Cocktails.

New Fire Engine

The Lakeside fire board members toured the district newest fire engine, the 2013 Smeal "Type 1" engine built on a Spartan (brand) chassis during the March 11 board meeting. The engine has a 500 gallon water tank and a 1500 gallon per minute (GPM) fire pump. The newest engine is identical to the engine received last year, which is housed at station 2. The short wheelbase of the engine dramatically improves maneuverability with the districts topography. The cost of the apparatus and equipment is about $550,000. The third engine of this type will arrive in 2015.

The Fire Chief Andy Parr and his firefighters are very appreciative to the citizens of the District for their unwavering support of the men and women, who are paid and volunteer, that make up the Lakeside Fire Protection District.

Marathon ...

Everyone enjoyed the safe and family-friendly environment, which included live music, food, and activities for children.

With all races combined, close to 2,000 participants registered, resulting in nearly a 35 percent increase over the inaugural 2013 run. The number of volunteers tripled from 2013, to over 400 this year. In total, attendance (runners, volunteers, vendors & spectators) was estimated at nearly 6,000 people.

Due to the large turnout, RunEC officials anticipate being able to make important contributions to several charities from their proceeds, donating more than last year.

The date is already set for next year's St. Patrick's Day Half Marathon and promoters are hoping to see over five-thousand! So, mark your calendars for March 15, 2015! For more information, visit www.StPatricksDayHalf.com.

In praise of crazy

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

I made the mistake the other night of complaining out loud. It is one thing to complain under your breath so that nobody hears you or knows what you are complaining about. But when you complain out loud, then you run the chance of somebody hearing you.

The somebody I was most concerned about was the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage. Some things are meant to be kept to yourself and for obvious reasons.

For some reason, who knows what it was, I let my guard down and vocalized my complaining. I must confess that it rather caught me off guard.

"What are you complaining about," my wife said directing the question to me.

At first, I did not know what she was talking about because I did not realize that I was vocalizing my complaints.

All I could say at the time was, "Did I say that out loud?"

My wife has a delicate way of backing me in a corner where I have to say what is on my mind. Fortunately, I do not have much of a mind for anything to get on. Unfortunately, my tongue is not attached to anything and so it is loosey-goosey.

What I was complaining about were all the crazy people, particularly on television. Just when you think you have seen the most crazy thing, something else or someone else takes the lead in the race to crazyville.

Since my wife asked me, I let go on a very eloquent rant against crazy. At this point, I forget the exact crazy that set me off. But it does not matter. If it were not one thing, it would be another thing. I have tried throughout my life to be an equal crazy complainer. If you are crazy, you can be sure I am going to complain about you.

"You, in particular," my wife was directing this toward me, "ought to be quite thankful about all of the crazy people in the world."

That set me off on another rant. I am not thankful for the crazy people in this world. The less crazy people the better I am going to like it. And I made the mistake of telling her exactly what I thought about that. We do not need more crazy people, I argued. Someone in Congress ought to pass a law against crazy.

While I said that, it occurred to me that most of the crazy people are in Congress.

I do not want more crazy people in this world. Enough is enough already, move on.

"Really," my wife argued, "you ought to be happy about all the crazy people in the world."

At this point, I was tempted to direct my complaining toward her. But you know what that would mean, and so do I.

I finally broke down and asked her what in the world she was talking about.

One of the things I have learned throughout the years of marital bliss is that if you ask your wife to tell you something, she will do it. But I was desperate at this time and I needed a little bit of clarification.

She looked at me, paused as if she was collecting her thoughts and then said, "You should be thankful that there are so many crazy people out in the world. The more crazy people there are, the more you are going to fit in. If for some reason we could eliminate all the crazy people in the world you would be a very lonely person.

She continued her explanation by saying, "Every crazy person takes the focus away from you. If there were not enough crazy people out in the world people would be focusing on you and complaining about how crazy you are."

You do not have to hit me over the head with a hammer. That is the thing about my wife. When she is right, she is right.

At least it gave me a new perspective on the world around me. Also, a new appreciation for crazy. I began to see her point of view, as humbling as it was, and realize that crazy has a place.

As I further thought about this, I began to realize that everybody is crazy only in different areas of their life. Some people's crazy is more noticeable than others, but everybody has that crazy gene. I guess that is what makes us human.

After some deep reflection on the subject, I have come to the point where I want to praise crazy. I never thought of it along this line, but everybody has the right to change his or her mind about anything. Personally, I would like to change my mind for one that really works.

One man's crazy is another man's delight. What is crazy to one person may be something rather important and enjoyable to another. After all, who am I to say what is crazy and what is not crazy. It is important to find someone else with something that you can truly appreciate.

I thought about that and what Solomon said, "Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the LORD, and depart from evil. It shall be health to thy navel, and marrow to thy bones" (Proverbs 3:7-8).

Instead of spending so much time complaining about other people, I need to exercise the fine art of appreciation and learn how to praise people on their terms.

Dear Dr. Luauna — Each one reach one

Dear Readers,

Have you ever thought to yourself, "I can't share Jesus with that person, they might hit me?" One day I was inside my shop looking through the front windows, I saw a black man walk by, I thought, "Go tell him about Jesus." I was finishing up with a customer so I called my friend over and asked her to please go outside and have the man come back. He was already halfway down the block. She caught him and asked him to please come back, her boss wanted a word with him.

After I said goodbye to my customer, I met the black man at the door, smiled and said, "Hello." When I reached out to shake his hand, I could see his sadness beneath the strong, fearless appearance. He was about 65 or 70. I could tell he'd been around the block some. His built in frown, his tough jaw line strong in places, a few scars on his face, and his cockiness as he looked me up and down. He kicked his shoulders back as he tilted his head and said, "What do you want?" I told him about Jesus Christ, he was stunned! He just looked at me as I continued sharing how God could use his life for His glory. I felt his cold front melt away.

I shared how much God loved him. I shared what Jesus did in my life. He lowered his head in shame. He looked up at me eye-to-eye, and asked, "Can God love someone like me?" I shared how Jesus can change anyone who is willing to repent and come to Him by faith. He prayed right there on the street, then I invited him to church. That night, what a surprise, he showed up with a smile on his once stone face. At the end of service he came to the front, fell to his knees and wept like a baby. I sent another man to please go pray with him, the black man continued to weep and weep. Church was excused, but he was still praying. No one bothered him; Jesus was doing something wonderful in his heart.

The next service he showed up with a few wild looking girls. I went to speak to them, they were young street walkers, prostitutes. I prayed with them, they wept like babies too. Every service he brought in a few more wild girls, street walkers, each one giving their hearts to Jesus. Finally, I asked Eugene, "Where are you finding these women?" He said, "I was their pimp, since Jesus touched my heart, I have to get them off the streets." I wanted to weep with joy. He bought an apartment building and started taking all the girls off the streets; he started a clothes closet and food pantry. We worked together for many years. I had three women's homes at the time. He was always bringing me hurting, broken women in need of Jesus.

Eugene was so touched by God's love, he came to visit me and told me he had to go into the hedges to reach the lost. He jumped on a bus headed to Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, and the Bronx of New York; he traveled preaching JESUS everywhere he went. After a few years on the road, I saw Eugene standing on a corner in one of the roughest areas preaching about Jesus. He was passing out gospel tracts to everyone who passed by. I honked my horn, pulled over, and asked him, "When did you get back in town?" He smiled, "I'm just here for a few days to check on the girls. Making sure they are still going to church. I leave again on the train." With his backpack filled with gospel tracks, he smiled and said, "I worked hard for the devil too many years. Now I must work for Jesus." Smiling, he said, "Thank you, for telling me about JESUS." (Matthew 28:19) Never be afraid to tell somebody about Jesus!

National Kidney Month — What everyone needs to know

March is National Kidney Month, a great time to focus on kidney health and treatment. If you don't know much about the topic, get informed -- kidney disease is common and can be deadly.

In fact, kidney disease is the ninth leading cause of death in America, according to the National Kidney Foundation, and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that one in three Americans are at risk for kidney disease.

Risk factors include high blood pressure, diabetes and a family history of a kidney disease.

Staying healthy

Certain lifestyle changes can help promote healthy kidney function. Your doctor may prescribe a well-balanced diet low in cholesterol, sodium, processed foods and sugar. Get plenty of physical activity. Stay hydrated. Avoid unhealthy habits such as smoking.

Talk to your doctor about your risk and preventive steps you can take.

How treatment works

In a healthy body, kidneys clean the blood by removing excess fluid, minerals and wastes. However, for patients with kidney failure, kidneys don't function properly and they need a medical treatment called dialysis to clean their blood.

More than 430,000 people in the U.S. undergo dialysis at home or in clinics yearly, according to the United States Renal Data System.

There are two types of dialysis: peritoneal dialysis and hemodialysis. Peritoneal dialysis uses a cleansing fluid that is instilled into the patient's peritoneal cavity, the fluid-filled gap between the walls of the abdomen and organs, and then drained after a prescribed period of time. The patient's own peritoneal membrane acts as a natural filter for removing excess fluids and wastes.

Hemodialysis requires the patient to have a permanent access site to his or her cardiovascular system and uses a machine to remove blood from the patient, pump it through an artificial kidney that removes toxins and excess fluids, and then return the blood to the body.

Home hemodialysis

For those undergoing hemodialysis, there is good news. At home care can benefit patients looking for more control of their care.

Traditionally, patients on hemodialysis receive treatments at a dialysis clinic three days per week, lasting between three and five hours per visit. And patients must comply with the clinic schedule, requiring them to manage their treatments around the clinic's availability.

For some, home hemodialysis (HHD) may be a better alternative. With HHD, patients and care partners perform dialysis at home after successfully completing HHD training with a nurse.

Although home hemodialysis is not a new treatment option, many patients and physicians are unaware of its benefits.

"Improvements in technology have allowed more patients to bring dialysis treatment home, which means more flexibility to maintain their normal routines," says Mark Costanzo, President of the Renal Therapies Group at Fresenius Medical Care, a manufacturer of renal care products.

options for kidney failure in the U.S., visit www.fmcna.com.

Free food giveaway at Chick-fil-A for diabetes risk awareness

The Chick-fil-A restaurant in Santee, 9418 Mission Gorge Road, will give away free food on Tuesday, March 25, to encourage people to find out their risk of developing type 2 diabetes.

As part of the American Diabetes Association's Alert Day, an annual promotion held on the fourth Tuesday in March, everyone is encouraged to take the ADA's diabetes risk test at www.diabetes.org/risktest. The risk test with eight questions covering such topics as weight, age and family history takes less than 60 seconds to complete.

Anyone who visits the Chick-fil-A restaurant in Santee between the hours of 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. on March 25, and shows proof they completed the diabetes risk test, will receive their choice of a free Chick-fil-A grilled chicken sandwich entrée or a free eight-piece grilled nugget entrée. Proof can include either a printout from the website page or show the risk test's final page on a smart phone. No personal information or test results are required. No purchase is required. Limit of one free entree per customer per day.

The ADA said an estimated 26 million Americans have diabetes, including about 230,000 San Diego County residents. As many as 25 percent of people with diabetes are not aware they have the disease, according to Larissa Roman, executive director of the ADA office in San Diego. "Alert Day becomes a wake-up call for many people," Roman said. "Diagnosis of diabetes often comes seven to 10 years after the onset of the disease. Early diagnosis is critical to successful treatment."

The Theory of Cat Behavior

LAW OF CAT INERTIA - A cat at rest will tend to remain at rest, unless acted upon by some outside force, such as the opening of cat food.

LAW OF CAT MOTION - A cat will move in a straight line, unless there is a really good reason to change direction.

FIRST LAW OF CAT ENERGY CONSERVATION - Cats know that energy can neither be created nor destroyed and will, therefore, use as little energy as possible.

LAW OF BAG/BOX OCCUPANCY - All bags and boxes in a given room must contain a cat within the earliest possible nano-second.

LAW OF FURNITURE REPLACEMENT - A cat's desire to scratch furniture is directly proportional to the cost of the furniture.

LAW OF CAT COMPOSITION - A cat is composed of Matter + Anti-matter + It Doesn't Matter.

their work that cover numerous genres and forms. There is plenty for movie fans to enjoy through Sunday. Films are in Spanish with English subtitles or English. Watching a good film is compelling whether reading the subtitles or just listening. Founder & Media Arts Center San Diego Executive Director Ethan van Thillo has always said it's about the story and getting them told to inspire anyone who sees these films.

There are still great films to catch – just a few to spotlight here;

Cesar's Last Fast, is a documentary about Cesar Chavez's last protest of his life – a 36-day hunger strike to raise awareness of the harmful side effects pesticides bring to farmers. Including previously unseen footage, viewers take an intimate look at the life one of the most significant civil rights activists of the 20th century. This film recently premiered at Sundance and is van Thillo's top pick for the festival. Show time is March 22 at 7:30 p.m.

El Paseo 2, part of the festival's Comedy Showcase features John Leguizamo as Lucho, patriarch and leader of the massive Calvo family. He decides to take a road trip to Cartagena for a much needed break from the daily grind. But when his wife Gloria's ex-boyfriend shows up unexpectedly, the entire experience turns into a zany and entertaining series of misadventures punctuated by Lucho's frustration. Show time is March 22 at 9:15 p.m.

No sé si cortarme las venas o dejarmelas largas, also in the Comedy Showcase, asks the question; How well do we really know our neighbors? Two very different couples living in the same apartment building find out just how little when a handsome and athletic new renter moves onto their floor and two gunshots ring out. With a great cast this crazy dramedy plays with our expectations while maneuvering the treacherous territory of an urban living space overrun with manic characters. Show time is March 21 at 7 p.m. and March 23 at 2 p.m.

'Divergent' — will appeal to teens who relish violence

Review by Diana Saenger

Like Hunger Games, Divergent is yet another teen fantasy action film that makes teenagers struggle to stay alive. Once again the film is set in a future world. In Chicago, teens are divided into distinct factions that are based on their personalities. When they are 16, they must be tested to see which faction fits their personality.

People can wind up in the Dauntless (the brave), Erudite (the intelligent), Amity (the peaceful), Candor (the honest), or Abnegation (the selfless). When Tris Prior (Shailene Woodley) is tested, her test is not clear so she can't be placed in a particular group. She's what's called Divergent, someone who will never fit into any group.

When Beatrice (nick named Tris) hears what happens to those who are Divergent, she takes unusual steps that can mean the end of her life at any time. She finds a way into the Dauntless group which requires a number of out-of-your-mind stunts for doing them. This includes jumping onto moving trains or off very tall cliffs.

The young girl is soon struggling to keep up with the group spear-headed by Instructor

Four (Theo James) who soon becomes attracted to Tris, which complicates things for both of them. The world they live in is cold, dark, dreary and volatile every day.

Overseeing this entire group is Erudite's Jeanine (Kate Winslet) who has her suspicions about Tris. Other ones Tris has problems with are Dauntless leader Eric (Jai Courtney) and big mouth trainee Peter (Miles Teller).

Like many films coming to theatres these days box office numbers are often not reflected in critics choices. At the time of this review critics rated it at 30 percent approval rating opposed to the audience rating of 96 percent. Obviously most of these moviegoers were those who liked Veronica Roth's book on which the film was based, and the string of dark teen films hitting the big screen.

I thought the actors did a great job in the film, but found the plot dull and insensitive.

To read Diana's interview with two stars from the film check out Gazette archives for March 13, 2014.

Studio: Summit Entertainment

Gazette Grade: C-

MPAA: "PG-13" for intense violence and action, thematic elements and some sensuality

Who Should Go: Those who like these kinds of stories

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (714) 848-9272 or visit this Internet Web site www.elitepostandpub.com, using the file number assigned to this case 13-25837. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. It shall be the bidder's responsibility to examine the project site(s) in order to determine the exact existing conditions, and the character and extent of the work to be performed. Submission of a bid shall be prima facie evidence of the bidder's compliance with this requirement

Copies of the general prevailing wage rate of per diem wages, as determined by the California Director of Industrial Relations and by the U.S. Department of Labor Statistics, are available from the websites of the respective agencies. Any successful bidder who intends to use a craft of classifications not shown on the general prevailing wage determinations may be required to pay the wage rate of the craft or classification most closely related to it as shown in the general determinations effective at the time of the call for bids.

The Contractor and its subcontractors shall pay minimum labor wage rates as follows:

a) California General Prevailing Wage Rates
In accordance with the provisions of Section 1773 of the California Labor Code, the City Council of the City of El Cajon has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages as determined by the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations applicable to the work to be done as listed in the California Department of Transportation publication entitled general Prevailing Wage Rates, dated March 1, 1994 which is on file in the office of the City Clerk.

Future effective wage rates which have been predetermined and are on file with the Department of Industrial Relations are referenced but not printed in said publication. Current determinations are available online at www.dir.ca.gov/DLSR/PWD/index.htm.

Any contractor who is awarded the contract and intends to use a craft or classification not shown on the general prevailing wage determinations, may be required to pay the wage rate of that craft or classification most closely related to it as shown in the general determinations effective at the time of the call for bids.

b) Federal Minimum Wages
Federal minimum wage rates for this project as predetermined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor are set forth in the Special Provisions. Current determinations are available online at www.wdol.gov/dba.aspx.

If there is a difference between the Federal minimum wage rates predetermined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor and the prevailing wage rates determined by the City of El Cajon for a similar classification of labor, the Contractor and its subcontractors shall pay not less than the higher wage rate.

All bids submitted shall be accompanied by a check made payable to the City of El Cajon, and certified by a responsible bank, in an amount which shall not be less than 10% of the amount of the bid, or by a surety bond for said amount and so payable, executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of California, and satisfactory to said City.

A performance Bond and Labor and Material Bond, each in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, shall be executed by the successful bidder within ten days after the Notice of Award of Contract has been mailed. Securities or bank or savings and loan certificates of deposit may be substituted for any moneys withheld to ensure performance of the contract, pursuant to Section 22300 of the California Public Contract Code.

The Contractor shall provide the City with a signed and notarized non-collusion affidavit.

Bids shall be delivered to the Purchasing Agent at the 1st floor front counter of City Hall, 200 Civic Center Way, El Cajon, California 92020. At the time fixed for receiving bids, all bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared. The results of the bidding and the calculations of the bids will be reported to the City Council at a meeting subsequent to the date above set for the opening of bids.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids if it considers it necessary to do so for the public good, and it may reject the bid of any bidder who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the City.

In all contracts subject to this part where federal funds are involved, no bid submitted shall be invalidated by the failure of the bidder to be licensed in accordance with the laws of this state. However, at the time the contract is awarded, the contractor shall be properly licensed in accordance with the laws of this state. The first payment for work or material under any contract shall not be made unless and until the Registrar of Contractors verifies to the agency that the records of the Contractors State License Board indicate that the contractor was properly licensed at the time the contract was awarded. Any bidder or contractor not so licensed shall be subject to all legal penalties imposed by law, including, but not limited to, any appropriate disciplinary action by the Contractors State License Board. Failure of the bidder to obtain proper and adequate licensing for an award of a contract shall constitute a failure to execute the contract and shall result in the forfeiture of the security of the bidder.

Hello Kiki here. I am a young (4-1/2) Orange Tabby male, neutered with all the trimmings! I am DECLAWED in front, have all my shots, and am still a playful house trained kitty ready to come live a furrever long life with you! I am shy with people, but as soon as I get to know you I'm sweet with a very loving personallity! I would love to have a forever home with a family that has the love and understanding a boy like me needs. I need patience, time, and care, with love, and understanding. My family had to give me up by no fault of mine...it was an allergy issue, so I was not the reason. I am sad and a bit confused right now, I am missing them so much. I have so much love to give, and laughs to provide...I will make you smile when you are sad, and happy after a long hard day at work. Can you give this boy a loving chance at a new FURRREVER home? Come visit me in #103.

Why dogs go nuts over car rides

We've all seen it - a dog with his head tilted up, the breeze blowing through his fur, with an unmistakable look of pure joy on his face as he takes a ride in his favorite person's car. The sight is enough to bring a smile to anyone's face. Everyone can identify with that feeling of unadulterated bliss.

But what is it about car rides that makes dogs so happy?

The truth is, we'll probably never know for sure, because they can't tell us! But we've dug into the mystery a little bit, and found five plausible reasons for this curious phenomenon.

1. They like adventures

This doesn't apply to every dog, of course - some dogs are shy and crave comfort — but in general dogs are highly curious by nature and really enjoy any kind of adventure, from taking a new hiking trail, to meeting a new canine friend, to exploring that interesting-smelling crawlspace under the house. A car adventure is as good as it gets — it's novel, unpredictable, longer than many walking adventures, and offers all kinds of opportunities for an exciting time. Where will we go today? Who will we see?

2. There's a smorgasbord of smells in the air

Dogs are all about smells, and for good reason. According to Nova's website, scientists have determined that dogs have about 3,000,000 olfactory receptors in their noses, compared to our paltry 30,000. Dogs' sense of smell overpowers our own by orders of magnitude-it's 10,000 to 100,000 times as acute. What does this mean, exactly in terms of the difference in our abilities? Well, as dog-cognition researcher Alexandra Horowitz explains in her book Inside of a Dog, while we might be able to sniff out a teaspoon of sugar in our coffee, our pooches can detect a teaspoon of sugar in a million gallons of water.

So, when you crack open the car window, you're cracking open a whole fascinating, unseen world for your dog full of novelty and intrigue that could keep him entertained indefinitely. If he's happy sniffing out familiar scents in your backyard, imagine how delighted he is to sort out thousands of new smells every minute, from the scent of flowers in bloom, to the smell of food cooking at restaurants, to lingering traces of a deer that ran by two hours ago.

3. There's something new to see everywhere

Dogs are easily stimulated by visual cues. You've probably noticed this if your dog's ever gone manic at the sight of a squirrel or rabbit in the yard, or if he sounds off each day as soon as he spots the mail truck. On a car trip, there's no end to the things that can catch your dog's attention, from squirrels, to pedestrians, to other doggie passengers. Unlike their human travel companions, who are busy trying to get where they're going, dogs have the luxury of gazing out the window throughout the whole trip.

4. They're comforted by the close presence of their "pack"

A car creates close quarters, and this makes dogs feel secure. They can see you, smell you, and be near you, while still getting all kinds of sensory stimulation they wouldn't at home. In a sense, you are a pack on an adventure together -- just the way things would be in the wild. Except you're traveling in a familiar vehicle, with comfortable spaces your dog can curl up in if he gets tired of looking at the scenery.

5. It triggers their hunt instinct

Kevin Behan of Natural Dog Training believes that dogs love car rides because it puts them in the same state of euphoria that hunting does. The idea is that the motion of the car causes synchronized movements among the "pack members," as they sway along with the twists and turns of the road. These synchronized movements trigger a feeling in dogs similar that of moving in unison with a pack on the hunt. In addition, to your dog the objects outside the car appear to be moving quickly, which can trigger his instinct to give chase.

Of course, it's important for dogs to be safe during car travel. Their heads and paws should stay inside the car at all times, and they should be properly secured for their safety and the safety of other passengers. This doesn't mean they will enjoy the ride any less -- they can still see the sights, sniff the wind and feel the excitement of a new adventure. It just means you'll enjoy the ride even more knowing that they're both happy and safe.
