Lakeside's Roundup

by Patt Bixby

Senator Joel Anderson and staff work at Habitat for Humanity during volunteer month

Senator Joel Anderson, his wife Kate, Staff members along with volunteers from Habitat for Humanity spent Saturday April 5 working on the Habitat Humanity Lakeside Community Project "Building for the Brave." The four homes located on the corner of Lakeshore Dr. and Channel Rd. will all be ADA compliant. Each home will have special needs bathrooms downstairs along with the master bedroom, upstairs there will be two bedrooms.

Volunteers from "Team Anderson" worked throughout the four homes with a number of them including the Senator cutting and placing pavers for the patio. The ten volunteers along with the Habitat for Humanity foreman and long time volunteer John Zawis worked from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Senator Anderson said "They put their lives on the line for our country" and he wants to give back to the Veterans who gave so much for our country.

Veterans are going through a selection process now, income, the ability to payback the 0% loan are some of the criteria being looked at for the selection.

The Lakeside project began in June 2013, by September volunteers were coming and a May 31 2014 has been set for a dedication.

Why I am happy to pay taxes

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

Last week I was getting along just fine. Things were being accomplished and I was rather enjoying myself. Dutifully, I was checking off item after item on my "to-do-list." I love it when a plan comes together. However, at the top of my exuberance, the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage stopped me dead in my tracks with a query.

She is quite famous, or is it infamous, for pulling these kinds of things on Yours Truly. She has a question for just about every event. Most of her questions are beyond answering, at least for me.

For instance, when we are traveling, she will wait for the right moment and then put to me this query. "Do you know where you're going?"

A variety of ways to answer that question immediately suggests itself, not all of which would endear me to her. However, to be honest, and who doesn't want to be honest these days, the answer to that question is usually a mumbled "No."

Just as we get into the car and get ready to go, she asks another question. "Do you have everything you need?"

Invariably, I do not, and have to go back into the house and pick up what I left behind.

I could do my own Left Behind series.

Then there is the all time favorite question. "Does this dress make me look fat?"

Just between you and me, one of these times, I am going to answer, "No, Honey, it's not the dress making you look fat." I am saving that one for a deathbed confession.

However, this past week when I was flying high, she dropped me dead in my tracks with another question. "Have you filed our income tax yet?"

It was at that moment my whole world came crashing down. I had not even given it a first thought, let alone a second thought. Why is it, although income tax filing day comes every year on the same day I always forget? I am getting either senile or moving towards going into politics. I am hoping for the former.

Of all the things I love doing in this world, and there are plenty, paying my income tax each year does not rate number one. Do not get me wrong, I really enjoy shelling out my hard-earned money and sending it to politicians to invest in one of their pork projects.

Every time I have a little extra cash in my pocket, I always wonder what that happy crowd in Washington DC could do with it. Usually I am tempted to send it to them along with a little note that says, "Spend it with my compliments."

To be quite honest, there are few things I enjoy more than filing my income tax each year.

One would be calling the telephone company to straighten out my telephone bill. This is good for an entire day of delightful conversation with idiots. Every time I think my life cannot get any lower and drabber than it is, I simply pick up the telephone and call customer service at my friendly telephone company. Within three minutes, (after I had been put on hold for 27 minutes) I recognize exactly how wonderful my life truly is.

Probably the most magnificent thing about calling customer service is that you know somebody's going to get it all screwed up and you will have the pleasure of doing it all over again next week. A wonderful ongoing relationship that is priceless.

Another activity I enjoyed doing more than filing my income tax is spending five whole days in bed with the flu. Nothing could be more delightfully entertaining.

Just think of it, five whole days to luxuriate in your bed and not have to get up and do a thing. Talk about a vacation! What with the sneezing and coughing, and your nose running like the mighty Mississippi, and your head thumping like an African bongo drum, what more could a person ask for?

If somebody calls for you during that time all your wife has to say is, "He's in bed with the flu." Everybody understands that. Of course, if she said you are just in bed, people would not accept that and think a little poorly of you.

But if you have diarrhea along with the flu, that is spectacular. Not only do you get to lie in bed, but also you get a little exercise, jumping up and running to the bathroom every 3 1/2 seconds. The side benefit of this is you lose some weight during that week.

One more thing slightly more exciting than filing your income taxes, is poking yourselves in the eye. I must confess this a favorite of mine because every time I do it, I learn new dance steps. Alas, when the swelling dies down I cannot remember those dance steps.

Therefore, paying my income tax each year is included in some of my favorite activities.

Even Jesus got into the discussion of paying taxes. When queried on this subject he replied, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's" (Mark 12:17).

When I think of all the money wasted in our country, especially by our government, I grieve. Someone once said, "Money in the hands of a fool always goes for foolish things."

How a person spends his or her money reveals a lot about that person.

Dear Dr. Luauna — Trouble on all sides

Dear Readers,

Do you ever feel like you have trouble on all sides? Feel like no matter what you do you are being tossed from one side to another. It's like the storm of life just keeps coming at you. Let me share a great story with you, there were these really tough, rough men who were so used to the sea, and for them passing through a storm was the norm. One day they decided to cross over to the other side of the sea, a pretty simple task, so they thought! It was dark, cloudy and the rain was fierce. The wind started up and the boat began to rock back and forth, a victim of the wind. This night storm paralyzed them with fear.

These strong men, like so many of us allowed this storm to shake them up a bit and fear gripped their hearts. Then can you imagine looking out to sea in this condition in a dark night with wind blowing strong, and suddenly they see something or someone coming towards them, walking on the sea? Panic set in! They thought it was a ghost.

John 6:16-21; "Now when evening came, His disciples went down to the sea, got into the boat, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was already dark, and Jesus had not come to them. Then the sea arose because a great wind was blowing. So when they rowed about three or four miles, they saw Jesus walking on the sea and drawing near the boat; and they were afraid. But He said to them, "It is I; do not be afraid." Then they willingly received Him into the boat, and immediately the boat was at the land where they were going."

Sometimes life can be a storm with darkness all around us, and we may feel like we have no one or no solution to our problem. Can I share with you today; JESUS is one who walks on the storm tossed sea. He brings comfort to a troubled sea, and commands the wind to be still.

Has life been giving you lemons? Jesus knows how to make lemonade, sweet, and delicious. Why don't you stop for a moment and ask JESUS to help your storm tossed life. Nothing is too hard for Him, after all, He created all the heavens and the earth in six days. Do you really think your problem is too big for Him? I mean after all, He did throw the stars up in the sky and told them to hang up there on nothing and they did. He gave the sea's their boundaries and told the sun and moon when and how to shine. I think God is pretty awesome. Jesus loves you! But do you love Him? Is your life founded on the Rock? Jesus is the Rock of Ages.

When we build our life (house) on the foundation of the Lord, the wind can and will come, sometimes so strong, but don't worry, you will have the strength to keep standing. Matthew 7:24-25; "Therefore whosoever hears these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."

Don't keep your eyes on the storm of life or the circumstances around you; keep your eyes fixed upon Jesus.

I just want to say, thank you for all those who have said they read my weekly column, you are a treasure and a gift. God bless you today in all you do. I wanted to also let you know on my website I have podcasts that are free for you to download, share with your friends.

For Health's Sake

Three ways to get healthier from the inside out

Heat health should be a year-round consideration for anybody looking to lead a healthy life. While that may sound like a daunting task, better heart health can be possible with a few steps in the right direction.

Iconic television, stage and screen actor, Tony Danza, makes his health a top priority, even when facing a busy schedule. Danza, who knows the importance of diet, exercise and "doing good to feel good," offers his go-to tips for fitting health and wellness into your daily lifestyle:

- Turn Your Daily Habits

Into Exercise. Most people know that exercise, in addition to a healthy diet, also plays a key role in bettering your overall health. However, many people have trouble fitting exercise into their busy schedule or think they have to look to costly private training options to see results. What most don't realize is fitting in exercise can be as easy and cost-efficient as taking the stairs instead of the elevator or going for a walk on your lunch break.

Encourage others, like your friends or family, to join you on these mini exercise sessions. Having a support system of people who are looking for ways to be healthier can help provide motivation to keep going on your journey to better health.

- Get Your Fiber Up. Fiber is a crucial component to our diet, but most Americans are not getting the recommended daily amount of 25 to 38 grams of fiber, according to the American Dietetic Association. Many people know that fiber can help promote digestive health, but few know that it can also promote heart health.

Diets low in saturated fat and cholesterol that include seven grams of soluble fiber per day from psyllium husk, as in Metamucil, may reduce the risk of heart disease by lowering cholesterol. One adult dose of Metamucil has at least 2.1 grams of this soluble fiber.

"Metamucil has been an important part of my health regimen for over 20 years. It's a simple way to get multiple health benefits and an extra fiber boost since it can be hard to get all the fiber you need from food alone," says Danza.

- Do Good; Feel Good. Overall health and wellness also comes from how you feel about yourself as an individual. Danza makes giving back to the community a regular practice and lists it among his healthy habits.

"Giving back is good for the soul and really warms the heart. You will be amazed to see how much you do for yourself as a person, when you are helping and giving back to others," says Danza.

More tips and information on healthy living is available at Metamucil's Facebook Fan page at www.Facebook.com/Metamucil.

‘Goodbye World’ takes a serious look at our future

Review by Diana Saenger
It's clear we're living in a new generation when friends are gathered together as the world may be ending and one responds "Starbucks" when asked what it is they will miss most.

A group of friends have grown up together and for several years gone their separate ways. James (Adrian Grenier, Entourage) and Lily Palmer (Kerry Bishe, Argo) have created their own refuge from whatever might happen. Living with their adorable daughter Hannah (McKenna Grace), their happy home is also a well-stocked supply house of food, water, medicine, weapons and energy sources.

On a very normal day a mass text message begins to appear on phones with the words "Goodbye World." Many have no idea what that means until the news begins to broadcast that the Nation is under a cyber-attack, and phones quit working, broadcasts cease and electric power is out many places.

Only moments before all of this happened the Palmer's friends arrived for a surprise visit. Nick (Ben McKenzie, Southland) is a former business partner of James and arrives with his girlfriend Becky (Caroline Dhavernas, Holly-woodland). Ben and Lily used to be a couple, and while it's not a problem immediately, it will be a pivotal point in the film when real danger arrives.

By now the entire world is freaking out so the foursome's other friends also show up at the Palmers. Benji (Mark Webber, Save the Date) is a political radical. Laura (Gaby Hoffmann, Field of Dreams) is a political insider wounded by scandal. Kid Cudi (Scott Mescudi, How to Make It in America) is a hyper-intelligent computer programmer who may be involved with the catastrophes that are happening.

as they were, and often do not share the same opinions. The situation turns really dangerous when two soldiers show up pushing their guns around and threatening James if he doesn't give them what they want.

According to Director Denis Henry Hennelly, his screenplay co-written by Sarah Adina Smith, the story is what, "happens between the cataclysmic event and the trials of survival that come with the new world. It's where we find out who's going to make it and who's going to become that skeleton the heroes find at the side of the road. This movie is not about the dire straits of post-apocalyptic survival; it's about the mini-apocalypses of broken friendships, strained marriages, and shattered dreams. Whether or not we experience societal collapse in our lifetimes, we will experience these."

The Coyote Music Festival coming soon
Cuyamaca College invites you to join them at their sixth annual "Coyote Music Festival" which will take place on the campus Grand Lawn on Saturday, April 26 from 12 to 4 p.m. The festival features seven bands of up-and-coming local talent that will showcase all-original music compositions. These home-grown singer-songwriters will perform a variety of genres, including acoustic, rock, folk and pop. Enjoy an afternoon listening to some great music while relaxing under the sun at this casual, park-like setting. The event is free and open to the public with plenty of free parking. Visit www.facebook.com/coyotemusicfestival or www.coyotemusicfest.com for more information.

At first it's like a fun family reunion. They eat, play games, drink way too much wine and partake in a lot of pot smoking. When a few of them go to a small local store they discover a band of bikers has taken it over and there's little food left and one tomato will cost $40. Other neighbors come seeking food and are in desperately need of medicine, to which James refuses — worried his own family will run out.

Things begin to get testy among the friends as they realize that are not the same

Although Goodbye World has some elements I didn't find appealing, I found it an interesting look at our world and how much we depend on "things" instead of people. The cast were all great in making their characters feel authentic, and good or bad in their relationships, they help to remind us all, it's humans, not things, that create profound differences in each of our lives.

Super fun, super exciting Captain America is back

Review by Diana Saenger

Super heroes are super because they have an undeniable guarantee of returning to the big screen again and again. That's why the expectation for Captain America: The Winter Soldier resulted in a $96.2 million opening weekend.

Fans could not wait for the franchise to continue – and with Chris Evans back as Steve Rogers, aka Captain America. The film and Evans do not disappoint in this full-speed-ahead thriller/ action-adventure, which follows up the last Avengers' film.

Rogers thought he would get a nice break by rejoining a normal lifestyle. Wrong! That's because the world-wide protection agency S.H.I.E.L.D. needs his help. Rogers can't say no, for his abilities can make a difference between life and death.

Working with Commander Nick Fury (Samuel L. Jackson) and fellow Avenger Black Widow (Scarlett Johansson), plans are set in motion. Things happen so quickly, Rogers has some uneasy feelings that he may not be told the truth by his colleagues. But how could he question S.H.I.E.L.D., especially under the leadership of Alexander Pierce (Robert Redford)?

Yet when Rogers discovers that S.H.I.E.L.D. has built three massive flying warships equipped with amazing power as well as functions capable of ending or controlling anyone or everything, he sees problems ahead.

Soon Captain America flies, jumps, soars on his motorcycle and engages with enemies – all the while his stealthy and iconic shield is constantly in motion, leaving many to wonder, "How does that shield keep coming back to him?"

The production couldn't be any more spectacular. Trent Opatoch's (Elysium, District 9) cinematography is incredible. The special effects are amazing and the pacing of screenwriters' Christopher Markus and Stephen McFeely (based on the comic book by Joe Simon and Jack Kirby) script definitely packs more actions, betrayals, danger, what-ifs, wows and surprises than many similar rivals.

Much of the credit for the film's success also goes to its incredible cast. Evans has handled his role perfectly since film one, and now that the tension/stunts have reached new heights, he's even more suited for this role.

"He's extremely vigilant about the truthfulness of his performance," said co-director Joe Russo about Evans. "What I think is almost impossible to convey about Steve Rogers, which I think Chris does amazingly well, is he layers the character with a combination of machismo and morality. He's made the character very complex."

Jackson and Redford do good jobs in keeping their characters' true agendas under wrap. Sebastian Stan returns as the infamous assassin Bucky Barnes/ Winter Soldier and provides excellent suspense involving who will survive the duel (between him and Captain America) to end or save the world.

Two great female actresses bring a nice perspective to the story. Since I first interviewed 14-year-old Scarlett Johansson for The Horse Whisperer, she has continued to grow and excel as an actress. She has the character of the Black Widow nailed yet seems open to discovering new things about humanity. Emily Van Camp, one of the reasons TV's Revenge remains a high-ranker, joins this outstanding cast as S.H.I.E.L.D.'s Agent 13. Just like on the TV show, her character is not afraid to speak up about the truth or to challenge superiors such as Pierce.

Along with all its intense anxiety, Captain America: The Winter Soldier includes some fun and humor, especially between Rogers and his colleague Sam Wilson aka Falcon (Anthony Mackie). Sam is an ex vet, a great friend and seeker of good. The wit between these two characters offers moments of relief from the action. For example, when Evans asks "How do we know the bad guys from the good guys," Sam responds, "If they are shooting at you, they are the bad guys."

Overall, this offering is enjoyable on several levels. It's not necessary to have seen the other films with Captain America, but potential viewers might check out reviews of those movies in order to understand some of the basic elements of the franchise. And of course, it continues on with Captain America 3 in 2016.

Captain America: The Winter Soldier

Studio: Sony

Gazette Grade: B

MPAA: "PG-13" for intense sequences of violence, gunplay and action throughout.

Viejas Casino & Resort Opens New Bingo Hall at Viejas Outlets

Tribal Chairman Anthony Pico.

by Diana Saenger

What is believed to be California's first-ever bingo hall to be located in a shopping center opened at Viejas Outlets east of San Diego. The new Viejas Bingo opened on April 4 with a ribbon cutting and sneak peak at the new facilities for invited guests. The hall opened to the general public at 10 a.m. on Saturday April 5.

Viejas Bingo is located in the recently evacuated Anna's Linens (it moved to the west end of the Outlets) on the east end of Outlets, directly across the street from Viejas Casino & Resort. Featuring a 6,000 square foot bingo floor with 400 seats, dedicated smoking and non-smoking areas, valet parking, bingo guests are also excited for the return of the popular Viejas Bingo Snack Bar!

Speeding game play along, includes the traditional paper sheets and daubers, however guests can also choose from portable hand-held electronic bingo tablets and flat screen monitors that allow them to play up to 500 bingo games at a time

In addition, the new Viejas Bingo features a dedicated 1,000 square foot area with a selection of popular slot machines.

Viejas has continued to be ahead of the curve since its early days. The first Viejas Bingo facility opened in 1977 at the Ma Tar Awa RV Park on the Viejas Reservation. In 1994, Viejas Bingo was moved to a location inside the Viejas Casino building, and in 2000 a new structure was built on the east side of Viejas Casino to house the growing bingo operation. That structure was demolished to make way for the new four-diamond Viejas Hotel, which opened in March 2012 and Viejas Bingo was moved inside Viejas Casino.

A line around the building turned up early to gain an entrance into the new Bingo room after the official ribbon cutting. First in line were three women who have played Bingo every day at Viejas including Hayat Mannth (for 20 years), Julie Wagner (for 15 years) and Brenda Chanc (for 12 years).

Robert Scheid, Vice President of Community and Public Relations, welcomed those in attendance. "It's an honor to see friends, supporters and business partners from all over the county of San Diego, the Imperial Valley and other counties as well. That tells us about the tentacles that come out from an enterprise like this with benefits that go both ways in the community financially and otherwise."

Attending were the Viejas

Tribal Chairman Anthony Pico, Vice Chairman Ceta Welch and the Viejas Tribal Council members; Treasurer Sam "Qui Qui" Brown, Raymond Bear Cuero, Adrian Brown, and Ernest "Chuka" Pingleton.

Chairman Anthony Pico explained how this change came to be. "We are responding to what our guests want, more room, a snack bar, and no smoke to walk through before getting to their seats. In aboriginal times quests services were very important to us, and my elders told us whenever other tribes would come through we would always make sure they had a place to stay, rest and get provisions before moving on. That's why we continue those traditions; it's part of our genetics. We're grateful you are here, and please keep coming back, because in our hearts we really enjoy being of service."

General Manager of the Viejas Casino & Resort Chris Kelly, who has worked at the Casino for 15 years, said, "I was amazed when I went to a Bingo session at how well the players kept track of the games with their dabbers and different packs. It was impressive and the Bingo players here know what I'm talking about. With each move of the Bingo Hall each guest came along for the ride so today is about saying Thank You and showing that by giving our guests a new space. Our goal as a business is to be the best in our market and that means giving our guests the best service, products, amenities and team members. We are committed

If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. This court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below. You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff. A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the court clerk for a fee waiver form. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court. There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services Web site (www.lawhelpcalifornia.org), the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp), or by contacting your local court or county bar association. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case. Tiene 30 DIAS DE CALENDARIO despues de que le entreguen esta citacion y papeles legales para presentar una respuesta por escrito en esta corte y hacer que se entregue una copia al demandante. Puede encontrar estos formularios de la corte y mas informacion en el Centro de Ayuda de las Cortes de California (www.sucorte.ca.gov), en la biblioteca de leyes de su condado o en la corte que le quede mas cerca. Si no puede pagar la cuota de presentacion, pida al secretario de la corte que le de un formulario de exencion de pago de cuotas. Si no presenta su respuesta a tiempo, puede perder el caso por incumplimiento y la corte le podra quitar su sueldo, dinero y bienes sin mas advertencia. Hay otros requisitos legales. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF PHYLLIS HOPE LEWIS CASE NO. 37-2014-00008529-PR-PL-CTL ROA #: 1 (IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: PHYLLIS HOPE LEWIS
A Petition for Probate has been filed by ROBERT F. LEWIS in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO.
The Petition for Probate requests that ROBERT F. LEWIS be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.
The Petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.
The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 05/01/2014 at 01:30 pm in Dept. PC-2 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building.
If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Pet of the Week

"Howdy, folks! My name is RUBY, and I'm a loving and friendly four-year-old Pit Bull with a beautiful red coat. I want more than anything to be with a kind-hearted person. I enjoy going on walks and chasing after toys, and I'll never turn down a belly rub. You should see my face when I get a tummy rub. I look like I'm in heaven! I'd like to be in a home with adults or older kids, and I'd need to be the only dog in my new home. I'd also need to have a yard in my new home, along with a soft and snuggly dog bed in the house. I've already been house trained, and I can sit on command. I'll want to please you, so I'll try really hard to learn whatever you'd like to teach me. I sure hope you'll come visit me. The El Cajon Animal Shelter has a really nice play yard where we can get better acquainted, and I think you'll see what a special girl I am. Please come by soon! Love, Ruby" Kennel #18

Annual Heartworm checkups keeps 'Spring' in inpets' steps

Spring means many things to dogs and their owners. It's time for longer walks and the shared exhilaration of playing "fetch" on the lawn. Even muddy feet from spring rains can be a pleasure.

For many pets and their owners, spring is also a time to visit the veterinarian for an annual heartworm check-up.

Veterinarian and American Heartworm Society President Dr. Stephen Jones offers answers to common questions about this spring ritual.

- My veterinarian is recommending a heartworm test, but my dog was just tested a year ago. Why does he need a test again so soon?

Your dog should have an annual heartworm test to determine if he became infected during the previous season.

It takes months before a dog with heartworm will test positive. So testing annually — usually at the time the prescription for his heartworm medication is being renewed — makes sense.

As with many diseases, the earlier heartworm can be diagnosed, the better the chances he will recover. If heartworm disease in a dog goes undetected and untreated, the worms can cause progressive and potentially fatal damage to his arteries, heart and lungs.

- If my dog is on continuous heartworm prevention, why does he need to be tested?

Annual testing ensures his prevention program is working. Heartworm medications are highly effective, but dogs can still become infected.

Why? A common reason is simple forgetfulness. Missing just one dose of a monthly medication, or administering it late, can leave a dog unprotected. Even if you do everything right and on time, it's no guarantee.

Some dogs spit out their heartworm pills when their owners aren't looking. Dogs have also been known to vomit heartworm pills or rub off a topical medication. Whatever the cause of missing or delaying a dose, any of these mishaps can put your dog at risk of heartworm infection.

- Do my cats need heartworm protection too?

Like dogs, cats get heartworm disease. And while cats are not as easily infected as dogs, it only takes one or two heartworms to make a cat very sick. That's why the American Heartworm Society recommends year-round heartworm prevention for both dogs and cats.

Because heartworm disease in cats may or may not involve infection with adult worms, the diagnosis can be challenging. Veterinarians typically run heartworm blood tests on cats before putting them on medication the first time, but later rely on such procedures as chest x-ray or ultrasound to confirm diagnoses.

More information about heartworm disease and its prevention can be found at www.HeartwormSociety.org.

Spring, summer, winter or fall — your pets need year-round prevention to keep them healthy and free of deadly heartworms. Seeing your veterinarian for an annual heartworm check-up is one of the best moves you can make to keep the spring in your pet's step. (StatePoint)
