Sharing a Legacy of Education

In 1945, Navy widow Barbara Cox christened the USS Midway, which served America for 47 years.

Now a museum, the USS Midway is berthed in San Diego Bay and hosts 45,000 students annually.

USS Midway Museum salutes Cox Communications and the James M. Cox Foundation for a $1.5 million grant to expand Midway's educational programs as we build a bridge between the Greatest Generation and America's future generations.

Special El Cajon celebration planned For NASCAR Champion Jimmie Johnson

Mark your calendar! The El Cajon City Council is recognizing El Cajon native Jimmie Johnson for his racing accomplishments and philanthropic contributions to the community on Tuesday, June 17, as he returns to El Cajon for this special celebration. The City is encouraging everyone to attend and show their support for one of NASCAR's biggest stars.

El Cajon Mayor Bill Wells, the City Council, Senator Joel Anderson and other local dignitaries will be honoring Johnson during a special ceremony beginning promptly at 11 a.m. local time. Additionally, portions of the event will be broadcast live on 101.5 KGB.

Johnson continues to make his hometown proud. In 2013, he won his sixth NASCAR Sprint Cup Series championship, adding to a NASCAR record five championships in a row (2006-2010). At just 38, he is the youngest driver to win six titles. His 66 Sprint Cup wins since 2002 ties him for eighth on the all-time wins list.

Despite his extremely busy schedule, Johnson still visits San Diego each year, not only to see family, but to give back to the community through the Jimmie Johnson Foundation. To date, his Foundation has given more than $6.5 million dollars to schools here in El Cajon and across the nation.

Come out and show your support of El Cajon's NASCAR superstar!

June 17, 11 a.m.-12 p.m. at the Centennial Plaza, 200 Civic Center Way

Note: Schedule subject to change.

On the morning of May 30, join thousands of riders across the San Diego region and stop by pit stops around the county to pick up a free Bike to Work Day t-shirt and refuel with free snacks and plenty of encouragement.

Biking to work is a great way to save money, get fit, and be environmentally friendly. Stop by one of more than 90 pit stops conveniently located throughout the county on Bike to Work Day. In the City of El Cajon, the pit stop will be located at the Prescott Promenade, 201 E. Main Street, which is in the heart of downtown. Visit the Bike to

You can help build a playground in one day at Wells Park

The City of El Cajon needs volunteers to help with the assembly of a one-of-a-kind, customized playground at Wells Park on June 5 and June 7. The existing playground at Wells Park is in need of replacement. A new playground will provide youth with a new area to play and have fun!

The City of El Cajon, Foresters, Stoney's Kids, Boys & Girls Club of East County and Ka-BOOM! (a national non-profit organization that has built more than 2,400 playgrounds) have designed a customized playground for Wells Park, located at 1153 East Madison Avenue. The playground, funded primarily by Foresters, was created from personal drawings and local community members' input collected during a recent special design day on April 3. The input came from all ages, children through seniors.

The playground "building days" will take place on June 5 and June 7. Wells Park is located at 1153 East Madison Avenue in El Cajon. If you would like to give back to your community, we are looking for those highly skilled in the area of construction for the June 5 prep day, and again for the June 7 build day. Hours will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on June 5, and on June 7, hours will be 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. If you can help, call (619) 873-1641. Volunteers must pre-register. 150 volunteers are needed!

Attend the next Friday night "Dinner & a Concert"

At the next "Dinner & a Concert" on Friday May 23, it's the music of "The Choice Entertainers!" Don't miss the fun music and dancing at the Prescott Promenade, Friday nights from 6 to 8 p.m. through September 26. The only two exceptions are June 13 and July 4, when concerts will be held on Thursday, June 12 & July 3, in conjunction with the Farmers' Market. Arrive early to dine at one of the many great restaurants downtown, or bring your picnic and lawn chairs. These free concerts are located at 201 E. Main Street and are brought to you by the Downtown El Cajon Business Partners. See the full line-up of bands at www.downtownelcajon.com, or call (619) 334-3000.

College for Kids signup starts at Cuyamaca College

Registration is now open for College for Kids, the popular summer enrichment program for elementary and middle-schoolers offered through the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District's Continuing Education program.

The lazy days of summer are just weeks away, but if the program's high demand is any indication, East County youngsters aren't inclined to spend their months off in a perpetual fugue, planted in front of their TV sets.

The 8- to 14-year-olds have been clamoring for more classes, program administrators say, and this year, the district is responding in a big way.

Eighteen new classes have been added to the mix, all meeting four days a week between July 7-31. Fees range from $60 to $120. Since introduced during the '80s and

'90s, College for Kids based at Cuyamaca College has proven such a hit that this year, 39 different classes – the most ever -- promise fun and stimulation in a state-of-the-art learning environment.

Registration is currently open for the low-cost, mostly weeklong classes offered from 9 a.m. to noon and 1-4 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays. Featuring a wide variety of workshops in art, science, music, media and more, this summer's College for Kids includes a football camp for ages 8-11 and 12-14, along with new day camps for BMX, scooter and skateboard riders.

Reconfigured and updated to include technology-related offerings such as beginning to advanced videogame design and Photoshop, College for Kids has been expanded to also include classes in archaeology, geography, engineering and chemistry. With course titles like "Wacky World of Chemistry," and "Dig It! Archaeology," the hands-on workshops are geared to make learning fun.

Digital Ocean Explorers is also new, and uses computer maps to teach students about the migrations of whales and sea turtles. A class taught at the Water Conservation Garden located on the Cuyamaca College campus, "Environmental Leaders: Butterfly Exploration and Tree Mapping," teaches kids how to identify and plant trees.

A career-exploration component of College for Kids returns this year as the Youth Boost Career Institute, free career exploration for incoming seventh- and eighth-graders interested in the fields of entrepreneurship, sustainable organic gardening and engineering. Funded by grants from the California Career Technical Education Pathways Initiative, the FREE career institute connects students with industry experts assisting them on career-related projects. The entrepreneurship class, for example, will have students pitching business plans to potential investors in a setting modeled after television's "Shark Tank."

The four-week vocational workshop makes it possible for students, selected on the basis of a 50-word essay, to rotate through each of the career areas. As with all College for Kids offerings, the career-education workshops will be led by a credentialed instructor. Additionally the middle-schoolers will be mentored by high school students selected from a district-supported teacher-preparation program targeting seniors from Granite Hills, Grossmont and Mount Miguel high schools with career plans as teachers. With nearly 80 students who enrolled in last summer's institute, class slots are expected to fill quickly. Students must submit a minimum 50-word essay signed by a teacher describing their interest in any of the three careers. The last day to submit an essay is June 6.

"Over the last couple of years, College for Kids has developed into this great niche program that has proven so popular, we have expanded it for spring break," said Erin Roberts-Hall, business developer for the district's Continuing Education and Workforce Training program, based at Cuyamaca College. "It was three years ago that the program really caught fire with the community. Last summer we were expecting about 200 kids, but we ended up with triple that number."

Committed to addressing the educational needs of the community, the district also views College for Kids as an early orientation for Grossmont and Cuyamaca's future students.

A Glee! class offered through College for Kids explores movement, songs, music theory, and gives kids the opportunity to play "American Idol" on Wii.

"This is a truly wonderful way to introduce tomorrow's students and their families to our colleges by offering fun and enriching classes they can enjoy," said Chancellor Cindy L. Miles. "These learning opportunities may be just the spark to fire up a young student's interest in a career of the future."

The College for Kids offerings run the gamut from the practical, with the Youth Boost Career Institute, to the creative, such as the Children's Theatre Workshop. Designed to help students discover their inner whimsy, the workshop is geared to improve speech, vocabulary, projection, confidence and social interaction through theater games, improvisation, singing, monologues, audition techniques and more.

Other classes include:

- Code Cracking for Kids, which teaches Morse code, code history and basic spy craft.
- Babysitter Training: Become a certified, reliable babysitter by learning infant care skills, home safety, CPR, and first aid.
- Global Beats Drumming, which introduces kids to the conga, bongos and djembe, a skin-covered hand drum originating from West Africa.

- Glee! Explore movement, songs, music theory, and play "American Idol" on Wii.
- Rock Band: Perform rock music in a small group while learning song forms, pentatonic scales, power chords and improvisation.
- CSI: Forensics for Kids, which teaches how to process a crime scene, autopsy protocols and more.
- Golf for Beginners, which has a PGA golf pro providing students an understanding of the game, from etiquette to swing techniques.
- Public Speaking for Fun and School: Through games and exercises, learn the techniques to become comfortable in front of groups from an award-winning Toastmaster.
- Expressive Storytelling, in which students create stories and scenes in the moment with no script through improvisations and games.

For additional information, including online registration, go to <http://www.cuyamaca.edu/cfk> or contact the Continuing Education office at (619) 660-4350 or via email Cuyamaca.ContinuingEd@gcccd.edu. Cuyamaca College is located at 900 Rancho San Diego Parkway in Rancho San Diego.

California drought causes early wildfire season

Lakeside Round Up of Events —

The Burn Institute wants to remind everyone to have a wildfire evacuation plan in place!

California is experiencing extreme drought conditions. The fires last week prove that we have a long wildfire season ahead. The Burn Institute would like to urge San Diego county residents to stop, think, prepare and practice a Wildfire evacuation plan.

- List important items
- Keep sturdy boxes handy and make a list of important items you will need to take during an evacuation: prescriptions, medications, eyeglasses, important financial documents, tax records, photos, jewelry, pets, pet food and leashes, child's favorite toy.

- Prepare an emergency supply kit
- When fire threatens you won't have time to search for supplies. Have an Emergency Supply Kit ready to go and store your supplies in easy-to-carry containers: three-day water supply (1 gallon per person per day), three-day food supply, change of clothing and shoes, blanket and sleeping bag, first aid kit, battery powered flashlight, radio and extra batteries.

- Escape tips
- Close all windows and doors in the house before you leave.
 - Leave exterior lights on to help firefighters find your - house through the smoke.

- Do not leave garden sprinklers on – it wastes critical water pressure.
 - Park your vehicle facing out so you have the best visibility when you have to leave and drive with your headlights on.
 - Designate one emergency meeting place outside the home and one outside the neighborhood where family members can meet.
 - If fire overtakes you, you are much safer inside the car then out.

The keys to surviving a Wildfire are: Defensible Space, Defensible Homes and Evacuation Planning. The Burn Institute offers a FREE 12-page "Living with Wildfire" Guide sponsored by SDG&E, which contains valuable and potentially life-saving information that every homeowner should know.

For homeowners affected by the recent fires, the Burn Institute offers "The Red Guide to Recovery" a complete resource for rebuilding after a fire – free of charge.

Why did God give us coffee?

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

This week I came face-to-face with a genuine dilemma. I had several meetings across town and for some reason I miscalculated and ended up with a 2-1/2 hour gap between meetings. I hate to waste time, but if I drove back to my office, I would simply have to return to my meeting later and with the cost of gas these days, one cannot be too cautious.

You know gas is getting high when it costs more to fill up the car than the car is really worth. The most valuable thing in my car is in my gas tank, at least when it is filled.

I remedied the situation by stopping in a small coffee shop for cup of Joe. As far as I am concerned, there is no bad time to have a cup of coffee, in spite of the price. I ordered my coffee and when the waitress brought it to me, I began to think about coffee. Why did God give us coffee?

Then my mind went back to my grandfather, whose greatest gift to me was a love of coffee. Nobody loved coffee more. I remember one of his favorite quotes, "You can always tell a man by the coffee he drinks."

Anathema to my grandfather was the idea of instant coffee. No man, in his judgment, would ever drink anything of the kind. "If a man would drink instant coffee," my grandfather perked, "there's no telling what else he would do. Never trust a man who drinks instant coffee."

Making coffee was an art form to my grandfather. There was a right way and a wrong way to make coffee, and he always insisted on the right way. Of course, the right way was the way he made coffee.

In grandfather's kitchen was an old wood-burning cook stove. On this old-fashioned stove, my grandfather brewed his famous mud broth. He never allowed my grandmother to make the brew; it was his job, which he took seriously.

Once for his birthday, we all chipped in and bought him an electric coffee pot. I had never seen my grandfather so mad. When he saw what it was, he would not even take it out of the box.

He had strong ideas about coffee and how it should be brewed and woe be to the person who contradicted his ideas.

Grandfather always kept a fire in the old wood cook stove and on the back of the stove he kept his coffee pot, a large 2-gallon pot — one of those old-fashioned percolators long since gone out of style. The coffee was always on, and no matter when you stopped in to see him, he always had "fresh" coffee brewing.

When I say, "fresh," I need to explain. Actually, the coffee was only fresh on Sunday. On Saturday night, he routinely emptied the coffee pot and prepared fresh coffee for Sunday morning.

He had an old coffee grinder and ground the coffee beans on Saturday night. He put some other things in the coffee, I have never figured out what. One thing I know he put in was a crushed eggshell. What it did to his coffee, I have no idea but grandfather was sure it was an important ingredient.

The freshly ground coffee beans were put in, the pot filled with fresh water and set on the back of the stove to slowly perk. This coffee would last the entire week. The coffee was so strong on Sunday that if it did not wake you in the morning, you were dead.

In fact, Cousin Ernie died on a Sunday afternoon, so my grandfather tells the story, and one sip of his black coffee roused him and he lived seven more years, which was unfortunate for grandfather, as he had to support him.

Before going to bed each evening my grandfather took care of his coffee. He would freshly grind a few coffee beans, sprinkle it on top of the old coffee grounds and then add a newly crushed eggshell. Then he would refill the coffee pot with water.

His coffee percolated 24/7 and by Saturday it was so strong you needed a half-cup of sugar just to drink one cup. It was thick enough to use as syrup on your pancakes, but so strong, it dissolved your pancakes before you could eat them.

My grandmother once tried washing the coffee pot. When my grandfather saw her, he became furious, "Never wash that coffee pot," he spouted, "you'll ruin its character and a coffee pot needs a lot of character to make good coffee."

When my grandfather died, I looked at his old black coffee pot and discovered two things. One, the original color was blue. And two, although it was originally a 2-gallon pot, it only could take three quarts of water. The "character," so important to my grandfather, had built up so much over the years its capacity was diminished.

In pondering my grandfather, I thought about my Heavenly Father and His gifts. The Bible puts it this way; "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning" (James 1:17 KJV.)

I really do not know why God gave us coffee, but I do know God's character is of such a nature that it never diminishes His ability to bless me each day.

Dear Dr. Luauna — True friends

Dear Readers,

Sometimes the hardest thing to do is pray? Let's take time and read how the disciples went to Jesus: Luke 11:1; And it came to pass, as He was praying in a certain place, when He ceased, that one of His disciples said to Him, "Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples."

What did they see in Jesus' personal prayer life, which compelled the disciples to ask Jesus to teach them how to pray? Could it possibly be the after effect of Jesus' prayer? Did they notice after Jesus prayed, He was always in the right place at the right time. "John 4:6-29." This woman was an outcast, later she became the first woman evangelist; "The woman then left her water pot, went her way into the city, and said to the men, 'Come, and see a Man who told me all things that I ever did.'"

Jesus was in a massive crowd suddenly He hears one voice desperately crying out, a blind man named Bartimaeus. Mark 10:52; "Then Jesus said to him, 'Go your way; your faith has made you well.' Immediately he received his sight and followed Jesus on the road."

Prayer prepares us to do great things for God today. Jesus set the greatest example for prayer. Seven demons were cast out of a broken, hurting woman; Mary Magdalene in Luke 8:1-2. Prayer, to have the ability to see and hear the desperate cry of a father, whose son is demon possessed, Matthew 17:14-15; And when they had come to the multitude, a man came to Him, kneeling down to Him and saying, "Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is an epileptic and suffers severely; for he often falls into the fire and often into the water." The Lord casts the demon out after his disciples could not.

What was it in the Disciples that they couldn't cast those demons out? Unbelief! This is why learning how to pray is so very important in our Christian walk today. Day to day we see so many people in need. Jesus has called you and I, and He sent the Holy Spirit so we can be our Father's hands, feet and voice on earth today.

After Jesus spent time in prayer, we see Him performing one miracle after another. In the middle of a meeting, He sees a people hungry, two fish a few loaves of bread somehow miraculously feed thousands, Matthew 14:17-20; And they said to Him, "We have here only five loaves and two fish. He said, 'Bring them here to Me.' Then He commanded the multitudes to sit down on the grass. And He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, He blessed and broke and gave the loaves to the disciples; and the disciples gave to the multitudes. So they all ate and were filled, and they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments that remained."

I'm excited about prayer! Do you want the Holy Spirit to use your life? Let's come together and learn how to pray. Join us every Friday night at A Touch From Above – Prayer Mountain at 7 p.m. 16145 Hwy 67, Ramona CA. 92065 Learn the wonderful power of PRAYER. Do you have children breaking your heart? Does your marriage need healing? Do you need a miracle in your life? We all need to learn how to pray. "Oh how the devil trembles when he sees the weakest Christian on his knees." You are so important, and I love you dear reader.

Avoid losing pets

Between the seven fires that took place in San Diego County, with more than 44,000 homes evacuated, it's important to also think about our furry family members and include them in emergency plans.

Tips to avoid losing pets

- Keep pets inside. A pet left outside in the elements can be injured or die, or can become easily lost.

- Keep current photographs of pets with important documents. If a pet is lost during a disaster, a sharp, recent photo can be used to make flyers.

- Keep an up-to-date identification tag securely fastened on pets. If a pet gets out or flees from a scary scene, this will greatly increase the chance they will be returned. Take this measure even for indoor cats. Use breakaway collars, and make sure cats can slip their head out if the collar gets caught on something. Having a cellular telephone number on a pets ID tag instead of a home number is recommended because if there is an evacuation, no one will be home to answer phone calls. Also consider getting microchip IDs for animals.

Keeping Pets Mentally and Emotionally at Ease

- When the family is stressed, most pets will feel it too. Bringing along their favorite blanket or toy can often help ease anxiety. There are also calming agents and products like the Thundershirt that can help.

- Ten minutes of thinking play can equal 45 minutes of active, outdoor play for pets. During stressful situations such as evacuations or storms, keep pets mentally stimulated and entertained with food puzzles. There are even puzzles for hamsters such as bedding that hamster's can sort by color and size.

Make Evacuation Plans

- Do not leave pets behind during evacuations. Take all pets including birds, reptiles, hamsters, rabbits, etc. In case of an emergency evacuation, it is always a good idea to keep an extra harness in vehicles, as well as an emergency kit as an extra precaution. Also, make sure to keep a carrier and seatbelt harness for each pet in the car

Building muscle — best protection against aging

If you want good health, a long life and to feel your best well into old age, the No. 1 most important thing you can do is strength-training, says Dr. Brett Osborn, author of "Get Serious, A Neurosurgeon's Guide to Optimal Health and Fitness," www.drbrettosborn.com

"Our ability to fight off disease resides in our muscles," Dr. Osborn says. "The greatest thing you can do for your body is to build muscle."

He cites a large, long-term study of nearly 9,000 men ages 20 to 80. After nearly 19 years, the men still living were those with the most muscular strength. (BMJ, formerly British Medical Journal, 2008).

Muscle is all protein — "nothing but good for you," Dr. Osborn says.

Fat, however, is an endocrine organ, meaning it releases hormones and other chemicals. When a person has excess fat, he or she also has a disrupted flow of excess biochemicals, which can increase insulin resistance and boost risk factors for stroke and high blood pressure, among other problems.

"Increased cytokines, an immune system chemical, for example, are associated with increased risk for cardiovascular disease," Dr. Osborn says. "You're only as old as your arteries!"

Strength-training has health benefits for everyone, he adds, no matter their size.

"Some fat is visceral fat — it's stored around the organs and it's even more dangerous than the fat you can see," he says. "People who look thin may actually be carrying around a lot of visceral fat."

So, what's the workout Dr. Osborn recommends?

"Back to basics," he says. "These five exercises are the pillars of a solid training regime."

- The squat is a full-body exercise; it's the basic movement around which all training should be centered. Heavy squats generate a robust hormonal response as numerous muscular structures are traumatized during the movement (even your biceps). Standing erect with a heavy load on your back and then repeatedly squatting down will stress your body inordinately — in a good way -- forcing it to grow more muscle.

- The overhead press primarily activates the shoulders, arm extenders and chest. Lower body musculature is also activated as it counters the downward force of the dumbbell supported by the trainee. From the planted feet into the hands, force is transmitted through the skeletal system, stabilized by numerous muscular structures, most importantly the lower back.

- The deadlift centers on the hamstrings, buttocks, lumbar extensors and quadriceps, essentially the large muscles of your backside and the front of your thighs. As power is transferred from the lower body into the bar through the upper body conduit, upper back muscles are also stressed, contrasting with the squat, which is supported by the hands. Deadlifts are considered by some to be the most complete training exercise.

- The bench press mostly targets the chest, shoulders and triceps; it's the most popular among weightlifters, and it's very simple — trainees push the barbell off the lower chest until the arms are straight. This motion stresses not only the entire upper body, but also the lower body, which serves a stabilizing function. This provides a big hormonal response and plenty of bang for your buck.

- The pull-up / chin-up stress upper body musculature into the body. A pull-up is done when hands gripping over the bar; a chin-up is where hands are gripping under the bar. Nine out of 10 people cannot do this exercise because most simply haven't put in the effort. It's also been called a "man's exercise, which is nonsense," he says. There are no gender-specific exercises. Women, too, should aspire to enjoy the health benefits entailed with this pillar.

"There are no secrets to a strong and healthier body; hard work is required for the body that will remain vital and strong at any age," Osborn says. "Always practice proper form and safety. Otherwise, the result will be the opposite of your goal, an injury."

Born a cow

A Jewish man moved into a Catholic neighborhood. Every Friday the Catholics are driven crazy because, while they're eating fish, the Jewish man is outside barbecuing steaks. So the Catholics work on the Jew to convert him to Catholicism. Finally, after many threats and much pleading, the Catholics succeed.

They take the Jewish man to a priest who sprinkles holy water on the him and says, "Born a Jew, Raised a Jew, Now a Catholic." The Catholics are ecstatic. No more delicious, but maddening smells every Friday evening.

The next Friday evening, the scent of barbecue wafts through the neighbourhood. The Catholics all rush to the Jewish man's house to remind him of his new diet. They see him standing over the cooking steak. He is sprinkling water on the meat and saying, "Born a cow, Raised a cow, Now a fish."

‘Chef’ — good cast, very entertaining

Review by James Colt Harrison

Chef is the kind of movie that makes one want to run out and eat until they collapse. Why? Because the scenes showing dinners being made, salads tossed and deserts consumed are so beautifully photographed by cinematographer Kramer Morgenthau (The Game of Thrones, Thor: The Dark World) that one’s glands will be salivating before they can stagger to the concession stand for sustenance.

Chef Gordon Ramsey has nothing on Chef Casper (Jon Favreau), a Miami-born Latino now living in Los Angeles. He’s the head chef at a restaurant owned by Riva, a very controlling and obstinate man. Played by Dustin Hoffman, Riva is ultimately funny and maddening when he refuses to follow Chef Casper’s suggestions to modernize the menu and make things for the current health-conscious patron.

Sultry manager Molly (Scarlett Johansson) offers support and a little bit of a love interest. Feeling his ideas are being ignored and his integrity stepped upon, Casper blows up, storms out of the kitchen and quits. This event can serve as opening a gateway to more adventures in the culinary world or it can lead to disaster.

Casper uses his firing as an opportunity to do what he has always wanted to do with his cooking skills – go out on his own and be his own boss. He returns to his hometown and Cuban community of Miami. There he connects with his ex-wife Inez, the voluptuous Sofia Vergara.

Casper and Inez team up with best friend Martin (John Leguizamo) to launch a food truck. Casper also wants to show his young son Percy (Emjay Anthony, No Ordinary Hero: The SuperDeafy Movie) the ropes of being a chef. Casper is totally happy because he can cook his beloved native food and also new concoctions he knows will be a success with the public. The film becomes a road trip for the boys, now joined by pal Tony (Bobby Cannavale) from the old restaurant.

The funny situations add laughs to a thoroughly enjoyable and warm film. There is heart and laughter in Favreau’s story. Some of the events seem familiar, but a road trip, that is also a bonding vehicle for the guys and the son, is a classic comic device in films. Favreau has a very comic manner about himself as well as an endearing, cuddly sort of way of acting. Women will want to pamper him. Not only is he appealing as a character, but we are reminded he is the talented man who also wrote the script.

Vergara is a beautiful woman who is now making a name for herself in American films and television. Born in Colombia, she conquered the Hollywood ladder not only by her charms, but because she is genuinely a very funny actress. She’s sort of a modern-day version of forties Brazilian bombshell Carmen Miranda. She’s proving herself in another comedy this year, Fading Gigolo.

Leguizamo is equally entertaining as usual, and Anthony does a great job as Casper’s son. Robert Downey Jr. has a very small and mostly insignificant role in the film.

Gordon Ramsey, Favreau must have been inspired by the Master Chef and his troubles

Review by Diana Saenger
Sports agents do not have an easy road. They must find the best players, get them on a team, put up with their demands, help keep them fit and hopefully employed. In Million Dollar Arm JB Bernstein (Jon Hamm) is looking for the next best player for baseball. He and his cronie, Ray (Alan Arkin) line up fast pitchers in town after town, with little luck in finding a superstar.

While watching TV one day JB lands on a channel where young boys in India are playing cricket. His eyes zoom in as the boys throw one fast ball after another. He travels to India and begins a competition called “The Million Dollar Arm” and turns it into a reality show.

Unfamiliar with the language and customs in India, JB comes upon Amit (Pitobash Tripathy), a funny, willing-to-learn-anything, go-to guy who becomes JB's right-hand man. JB also finds a business partner in India, Aash (Aasif Mandvi).

When 1000's of boys across India have thrown their best, two finalists are selected to go back to America. Dinesh (Madhur Mittal, Slumdog Millionaire) and Rinku (Suraj Sharma, Life of Pi) are fish out of water in the United States, and they know nothing about baseball.

JB had plans for them to stay somewhere else but when they get thrown out of the hotel, his nurturing neighbor and tenant Brenda (Lake Bell), also a medical student, tells JB he needs to let them stay in his house.

At first it's like putting a whale in a kiddie pool, but once the boys fall in love with pizza, everything else eventually works itself out. Now if only JB can get the results he wants out of the two boys' pitching arms. At one point he brings in Tom House with Bill Paxton playing the real life distinctive coach and former big league pitcher at USC, who teaches the boys how to properly throw the ball.

The cast here does a great job. Hamm easily rides the roller-coaster of JB's life – big agent, broke agent, friends with his tenant, interested in his tenant, bad advisor to the boys, humble advisor to the boys. What he teaches the two boys is amazing but what he learns from the ordeal is priceless.

Bell holds her own as Brenda, a look-out-the-window tenant until she sees wrongs she can help JB right. Arkin's role is small, but he always enchants with every character he portrays.

Pitobash Tripathy, Madhur Mittal, and Suraj Sharma are perfect as three chickens snagged out of the barn yard, settled into a town with buildings taller to them than the sky and dealing with a man on a mission, who is missing the big picture.

Director Craig Gillespie said Sharma and Mittal also served as unofficial Indian ambassadors and technical advisors. "The boys were so dedicated to their roles and were great about keeping us in check, as far as what was plausible and believable in terms of Indian culture. They were the gatekeepers. They were always so focused and honest and brought so much more to their characters."

Million Dollar Arm is based on a true story and Tom McCarthy has written a funny, engaging and heart-warming script. It's a great film for sports fans and families, and stay through the credits; lots of fun things here.

"We are huge fans of Tom's," said producer Gordon Gray. "We had always loved Win Win, The Station Agent; and The Visitor is one of my favorite movies. Going out to Tom was like reaching for the stars. So when we heard he was interested, it was great news."

For most people, there is typically one main motivator for wanting to get in shape for the warmer weather months — they want to fit into the smaller, more revealing clothing of the season.

Whether it's a new swimsuit they'd like to purchase in a smaller size or they just want last year's shorts to fit more comfortably, getting a beach-ready body can often seem unattainable. But summer boasts an abundance of outdoor activities that take away the "chore" of getting in shape. Focus on the fun of the season, and before you know it, you will be fitting into your favorite summer wardrobe staples.

"Now that the weather is warmer, people are outside training more," said KT Tape Founder Jim Jenson. "It is important to have the proper training gear and equipment to avoid injury."

Go take a hike

Nothing allows you to take in the peace and tranquility of nature more than a long hike. This summer, incorporate many long hikes into your weekly routine and build up your endurance with this beneficial cardio exercise. Check with your county and state parks for trails and expand on your hiking skills, advancing in difficulty levels and length as the season progresses.

What it works: Hiking engages the quadriceps, hamstrings, calves and gluts. This activity also strengthens your abdominal core, especially while carrying a heavy pack.

Break a sweat, courtside

All you need to increase your heart rate is a basketball and an empty court at the local park or school playground. Practice shooting, normal dribbling, dribbling while doing sit-ups and dribbling behind the back of your legs. Make it a weekly event to gather for a game with friends and you'll forget you are even working out.

What it works: Basketball can be a full-body workout, but it mainly targets your triceps, shoulders, biceps and pectoral muscles.

Go for a swim

While the summer days often bring about occasions to relax by the pool, there's no reason not to jump right in. Take refuge from the sun's heat and burn calories at the same time by swimming. This exercise is a top choice for those with physical limitations or who find simple cardio activities — such as walking, hiking or jogging — difficult or painful.

What it works: Swimming works all major muscles groups, especially the shoulders, abdominals, legs, hips and back.

When the weather warms up and spending hours at the gym sounds less appealing, give a few of these fun activities a try. For more fitness tips, visit www.elivingtoday.com.

Take care of your muscles

By engaging in a workout routine, you've already proven that you care for your body. But do you have a care plan for the muscles that take you to your next level of fitness? Here are some ways to keep those hard working muscles in top shape so you can give it your all at every workout.

Warm up and cool down

Regardless of the sport or activity you pursue, it's always best to ease into it slowly and build your endurance as you go. Warming up can include light jogging, walking or performing the activity at a very slow pace. At the end of your routine, be sure to lightly stretch out each major muscle group you worked.

Have a backup plan

In case of injury, always have a reliable pain relief and support product on hand, such as KT Tape, an elastic sports and fitness tape designed for muscle, ligament and tendon pain relief and support. It's lightweight, comfortable to wear and can be used on many common injuries, such as lower back pain, knee pain, shin splints and tennis elbow. For more information, visit www.kttape.com.

Listen to your body

If you should experience any sharp or sudden pains while exercising, don't ignore the warning signs. Working out through the pain may make a small injury much worse. As a general rule, if it feels wrong, stop the workout.

Engage in various activities

A body involved in different exercises will call on different muscle groups. This type of cross training prevents overloading one area of muscle.

Allow the body to rest

In order to achieve the maximum benefit of your workout, your muscles need proper nourishment. This means sleep is extremely important, but it also means resting for a few days in between workouts. A proper rest period will give muscles time to heal.

Today's trends in fitness

For those who long for a little variety in their fitness routine, here are some new trends taking shape — for indoors and outdoors — that may be just what you need to take your fitness to the next level.

Body weight training

This new trend in fitness works by using your own body weight as resistance, which can help you shape muscles, tone, increase flexibility and ultimately, burn fat.

High intensity interval training

This routine is great for those who are short on time, requiring extreme exertion in short intervals followed by a shorter recovery time.

Yoga by air

Yoga's newest offering is called aerial or antigravity yoga, which combines classic yoga moves with acrobatics; all while being suspended in the air from a hammock.

You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF JANE ROEBUCK COMBS, AKA JANE R. COMBS CASE NO. 37-2014-00012926-PR-PL-CTL ROA #: 1 (IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: JANE ROEBUCK COMBS, AKA JANE R. COMBS A Petition for Probate has been filed by JANA COMBS BOWLES in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO. The Petition for Probate requests that CLAUDIA POWELL be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 06/03/2014 at 11:00 am in Dept. PC-1 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: Timothy G. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF JUNE ANNETTE BERRING CASE NO. 37-2014-00008899 ROA #: 10 (IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: JUNE ANNETTE BERRING, JUNE A. BERRING, JUNE BERRING A Petition for Probate has been filed by KARLA C. MORRIS in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO.

The Petition for Probate requests that KARLA C. MORRIS be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 06/05/2014 at 1:30 PM in Dept. PC-2 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

to ensure safe transportation of pets. Put the pet’s name along with the pet parent’s name and phone number on the crate or habitat that the pet will be transported in. This will ensure someone can reach pet parents that are separated from their animal. If transporting small animals, birds, or reptiles and their habitats, this may require additional attention and care to help decrease chances of stress-induced illness and death. It is important to keep pets from different species as separate as possible and maintain the best possible hygiene in order to decrease disease transmission.

• When transporting animals, park or move the car close to the house and ensure the car is warmed up before putting an animal inside. When using a carrier to transport a pet, cover the carrier for transport to and from the car to help prevent exposure to the elements, but remove the cover once in the car for better ventilation. Plan travel routes in advance so animals are taken directly to intended destinations and take the animal inside the new location first prior to bringing in any other item.

• As a precaution, make advance arrangements by checking with a veterinarian, local animal hospital, kennel or shelter to see if dogs or other pets can be boarded during a disaster. Be prepared to submit current medical records. Pooch Hotel in Mission Valley is currently offering boarding for pets who have been evacuated from their homes, as well as boarding for pets of firefighters and first responders who are on call 24 hours a day and unable to care for pets at the moment.

• Make sure to have a pet “emergency kit” on hand. This waterproof bag should include pet food and dishes, bottled water, treats, a can opener, medications, potty pads, paper towels and cleaning supplies, copies of pets’ medical records (in a waterproof container), toys, leashes, harnesses, collars, current photos and contact numbers. It’s also important to have a pet’s regular medications. Keeping familiar beds and blankets in the emergency kit can help put pets at emotionally at ease if they are evacuated to an unfamiliar location. For cats, also pack disposable litter pans, litter and a scoop. For small animals, reptiles and fish, be sure to include extra bedding or substrate. Always have at least one week’s supply of water in storage for animals. If the drinking water gets contaminated in a disaster, it’s not safe for people or pets.

Our Best Friends

Pet of the Week

"Are you looking for a very friendly pooch that loves people? Well, you've found me! My name is BELLA, and I'm a five-year-old Shepherd mix sweetheart who's sure to find my way into your heart. My owners had to move to a new home that doesn't allow pets, so now I'm looking for a new loving person or family to call my own. I'm a big girl, but that doesn't stop me from rolling onto my back for a belly rub at a moment's notice. A happy girl like me would be a great family pet, plus I get along well with other dogs. I'm a very clever girl, and I know "sit" and "down." I've already been house trained, too. Everyone agrees that I'm a dog with a heart of gold who just wants to be loved. I enjoy going for walks, and I'd like to have a yard in my new home. Being with my family will be my priority, so I'd like to be able to stay indoors most of the time. I sure hope you'll come visit me at the El Cajon Animal Shelter so we can get to know each other better. They have a really nice play yard here where we can hang out for awhile and enjoy our time together. It would be so great if you decide that I'm the right dog for you, because I'm ready to start my new life. I hope you'll stop by soon! Love, Bella" Kennel #47
