Mother Goose Queen flies high

Cassandra Kunze being crowned as Miss California

by Norma Dalrymple
Six years ago, a young high-school girl had aspirations of taking the title of Mother Goose Queen. Never did she realize that would help lead the way to the Miss USA pageant.

Twenty-year-old El Cajon resident, Cassandra Kunze is a junior at San Diego State University studying Television, Film & New Media and International Security & Conflict Resolution. She grew up dancing ballet at California Ballet School and is a self taught pianist. She loves playing flag football as well as baseball, track & field, golf, ultimate frisbee and paddle boarding. Kunze has travelled to Costa Rica, the Caribbean and to Israel as a U.S. student ambassador. She is the middle child of three, having an older and younger brother.

In 2008 Kunze became Mother Goose Queen and later won the title for Miss Beverly Hills USA. This year she took the title of Miss California 2014 and became eligible to participate in the Miss USA pageant in Louisiana.

Cassandra Kunze made it to the top 10 and received the title of Miss USA Photogenic.

The Mother Goose Parade Association is very proud of Cassandra Kunze, "It's not everyday one of our own competes in the Miss USA pageant," said Debbie Norman, President of the Mother Goose Parade.

"I was judge when she won the Mother Goose title back in 2008," said Carmela Gallo, now the pageant director. "I'm so proud of her."

This year's Mother Goose Parade's theme is Mother Goose Celebrates International Nursery Rhymes.

"We're hoping Cassandra will participate in the parade this year as Honorary Grand Marshal," said Norman. "She's become our local celebrity."

American on Main Street is this Saturday

Join us for a fun, family-friendly, community festival called "America on Main Street." This special event is on Saturday, June 14, in Downtown El Cajon. It is planned to coincide with the nationally recognized Flag Day and celebrates the American spirit through appreciation and respect of the many diverse, ethnic, and historical groups in the community.

Highlights of this inaugural event include:

- A "Red, White & Blue" area saluting our military
- Two stages with live musical entertainment
- American and ethnic food booths along East Main Street
- On Rea Avenue a four-story ferris wheel and a rock wall
- Arts & crafts

- A variety of display booths
- A petting zoo
- Fiesta de Futbol Street Soccer (pros and semi pros playing)
- Balloon art and face painting
- A chance to win a Taylor Guitars

This event promises to be a day of fun and appreciation! It will be located on East Main Street and Rea Avenue, between Magnolia and Claydelle Avenues, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Consider being a volunteer or community sponsor for this inaugural event. To learn more, call (619) 441-1762.

Six-Time NASCAR Champion Jimmie Johnson returns to his hometown of El Cajon for a special tribute

Jimmie Johnson will be in El Cajon, weather permitting, on Tuesday, June 17! On that day, the El Cajon City Council will hold a special celebration to recognize the El Cajon native for his racing accomplishments and philanthropic contributions to the community. The City is encouraging everyone to attend and show their support for one of NASCAR's biggest stars.

El Cajon Mayor Bill Wells, the City Council, Senator Joel Anderson, and other local dignitaries will be honoring Johnson during a special ceremony beginning promptly at 11 a.m. at the Centennial Plaza, 200 Civic Center Way. Due to Jimmie's time constraints, this is not an autograph event. His #48 show car will be on display at this event and special #48 "Hero Cards" will be available, while supplies last. Additionally, portions of the event will be broadcast live on 101.5 KGB.

Johnson continues to make his hometown proud. In 2013, he won his sixth NASCAR Sprint Cup Series championship, adding to a NASCAR record five championships in a row (2006-2010). At just 38, he is the youngest driver to win six titles. His 68 wins since 2002 puts him eighth on the all-time wins list. Just recently, Johnson won back-to-back races, the Autism Speaks 400 and the Coca Cola 600.

Despite his extremely busy schedule, Johnson still visits San Diego each year, not only to see family, but to give back to the community through the Jimmie Johnson Foundation. To date, his Foundation has given more than $6.5 million dollars to schools here in El Cajon and across the nation. Come out, see Jimmie - and show your support of El Cajon's NASCAR superstar!

*Schedule subject to change.

The next Dinner & a Concert is this coming Thursday

Enjoy the music of the next "Dinner & a Concert" on Thursday, June 12, with the group "The Heroes!" The music and dancing would normally take place at the Prescott Promenade on Friday nights from 6 to 8 p.m. through Sept. 26. But, this is one of two exceptions, when concerts will be held on Thursday, in conjunction with the Farmers' Market. Arrive early to dine at one of the many great restaurants downtown, or bring your picnic and lawn chairs. These free concerts are located at 201 E. Main Street and are brought to you by the Downtown El Cajon Business Partners. See the full line-up of bands at www.downtownelcajon.com, or call (619) 334-3000.

The Cajon Classic Cruise

The theme of the next car show on June 18 is "Funny Cars & Friends" on East Main Street between Magnolia and Claydelle Avenues, from 5 to 8 p.m. The 2014 Season of "Cajon Classic Cruise Car Shows" has begun and will continue every Wednesday night through Oct. 29. These popular car shows are held in the area of the Prescott Promenade in the heart of Downtown El Cajon and are hosted by the Downtown El Cajon Business Partners. For more information, visit www.downtownelcajon.com or call (619) 334-3000.

Make history - take part in The World's Largest Swim Lesson

On Friday, June 20, 2014, tens of thousands of kids and adults at aquatic facilities around the world will unite to set a new Guinness World Record. The global record attempt for The World's Largest Swimming Lesson™ (WLSL), will take place at 8 a.m. PST. Team WLSL holds the current Guinness World Record for the largest simultaneous swimming lesson, which stands at 32,450 participants, representing 13 different countries across five continents!

Tragically, drowning remains the leading cause of unintended, injury related death for children ages 1 - 5, and the second leading cause of accidental death for children under 14. Research shows participation in formal swimming lessons can reduce the risk of drowning by 88 percent among children ages 1 to 4, yet many kids do not receive formal swimming or water safety training.

The Fletcher Hills Center & Pool, located at 2345 Center Place in El Cajon will be serving as an official host location facility for the WLSL 2014 event. Participants can sign up online at www.elcajon-rec.org or in person at the Fletcher Hills Center & Pool. Pre-registration is strongly recommended as space is limited. The fee is $1 per participant. For more information, contact Heather Birchard, Recreation Services Supervisor, by phone at (619) 441-1672 or by email at hbirchar@cityofelcajon.us.

Red Shoe Day is Thursday, June 26

The Ronald McDonald House Charities is holding their annual Red Shoe Day on Thursday, June 26, 6:30 to 9:30 a.m. Watch for volunteers standing on street corners throughout San Diego County, including El Cajon, holding a large RED shoe and collecting donations for Ronald McDonald House. Proceeds help in providing a home away from home for families with children being treated for serious, often life-threatening conditions. For more information, go to www.firstgiving.com/redshoeday.

Annual 4th of July Fireworks & Picnic

The City of El Cajon Recreation Department will once again have a variety of fun activities planned at the annual "4th of July" Picnic and Fireworks at Kennedy Park, located at 1675 East Madison Avenue in El Cajon.

The following is a brief list of activities throughout the day:

- 1 - 8 p.m. – Free games, prizes, a Kiddie Train, and an open skate park
- 3 - 9 p.m. – Live Band
- 9 p.m. – Fireworks with synchronized music

General parking is limited so plan to arrive early and carpool. Food will be available for purchase at the Kennedy Recreation Center starting at 12 noon.

The parking lot to Kennedy Park will also be closed at 8 a.m. Some parking will be available for the disabled. All other traffic in the area will be open prior to the fireworks display.

As the fireworks begin, the El Cajon Police Department Traffic Control Officers will begin setting up traffic control that is designed to help disperse the large amount of vehicles that will be leaving the area after the fireworks conclude.

The traffic plan will include some road closures that will be a temporary inconvenience for area residents, but these closures are not expected to last more than 45 minutes after the conclusion of the fireworks display. Priority will be given to vehicles leaving the area. Vehicles leaving the event will be directed away from the immediate area and not given choices on their direction of travel until they are outside of the immediate event area. This is designed to maximize efficiency and reduce the impact on local residents.

The El Cajon Police Department appreciates your patience in our efforts to provide a safe commute to and from this popular event.

Grossmont, Cuyamaca graduates receive record number of degrees, certificates

More than 2,000 graduates have received a record number of degrees and certificates from Cuyamaca and Grossmont colleges in the annual celebrations of academic accomplishment, evenings made memorable by inspirational speeches, congratulatory moments, proud families and joyous graduates.

With many earning multiple degrees and certificates, more than 600 graduates received 878 degrees and certificates

Wednesday at Cuyamaca College. Over 1,400 received 2,952 degrees and certificates Thursday at Grossmont College.

Chancellor Cindy Miles congratulated the graduates, telling them the time and money they've put into attending college is one of the best investments they could have ever made. She noted a U.S. Department of Commerce study which found that people with an associate degree earned nearly a half-million dollars more in their lifetime than someone with only a high school education.

Saying they were the beneficiaries of a world-class education, Miles urged the graduates to "pay it forward" and always remember where they had first started down the path of higher education.

Graduates at both colleges received their diplomas and certificates from the college district's Governing Board trustees.

Governing Board President Bill Garrett congratulated the graduates on their "extraordinary hard work and doing an absolutely fantastic job" to acquire a terrific education. He thanked the families of graduates, saying their support was invaluable and acknowledged the pride they have in their loved one's educational accomplishments. Garrett drew a chuckle as he told graduates that there was no better time than on commencement day to hit up family members for money.

Cuyamaca College's 36th annual commencement ceremony featured as its keynote speaker Mae Brown, assistant vice chancellor of Admissions and Enrollment Services at the University of California, San Diego. Brown, an Arkansas native, is a first-generation college student from a family of eight siblings with parents who worked the cotton fields as sharecroppers. Brown said the expectation was that all the siblings would follow suit to help support the family. What proved her salvation was her mother, who realized the importance of schooling after she began working in the homes of educators.

Brown said the chasm was deep between knowing the importance of an education and acquiring one.

"While I had a dream of going to college, I was not prepared academically," she said. "So, imagine I stand here before you as a potential high school dropout."

The switch on my behind saved time

by Dr. Rev. James L. Snyder

My father was not much different from any of the father's during that time and they all believed in the biblical admonition, "Spare the rod and spoil the child." These fathers were united in making sure none of their children would be spoiled.

One rule we had in the house I did not fully agree with was, if you got a spanking in school (and in those days we got spankings in school) you got a spanking at home. Talk about double dipping!

The assumption was that the teacher was right and that the one receiving the spanking was wrong. Back then, 99.9% of the time that was true. The spanker was in charge, the spankee took it like a man and you know where.

I spent 12 years in the public education system and during that time, my teacher was never wrong. I will not divulge how many times I was wrong, that is between me and the area I sit on.

I clearly remember that my teachers back then had what was called "the Hickory stick." And boy did those teachers know how to use that Hickory stick and where it would do the most good.

My father did not have a Hickory stick as such. Hanging on the wall in the kitchen was an old wooden paddle engraved with, "I need thee every hour." I am surprised that that one wooden paddle lasted during my entire childhood.

I made one mistake during those childhood days. I was going through a period where the paddle and my bottom were close friends. I was getting a little weary of such friendship and decided I would do something about it.

My father had gone to work early that day, as I remember it now, and I was going out the door to go to school when a thought danced in my head. I would take that paddle and dispose of it so that it could no longer be attached to my person.

I had forgotten about that and two days later, I got into some trouble. It was the kind of trouble that could be resolved only by that wooden paddle. My father went to get the paddle and to his chagrin, and my posterior harm, it was not there.

Very seldom did my father paddle me when he was really angry. There was one case when that happened, and this was it. I will not repeat the lecture that he gave at that time, but I will say that it had a lasting impression upon my posterior. At that time, I wished he had been a man of fewer words.

I know times have changed, but I am not sure they have changed for the better. There was a time when parents were in charge of children and responsible for the discipline. Sadly, that day is far gone.

The only thing I would say is, are we better off today than we were back then?

The Bible admonishes us, "And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4).

Discipline, not abuse, is drastically needed among our children today. My father would put it this way, lack of discipline is a form of abuse.

Dear Dr. Luauna — Don't pass up today

Dear Readers,

Sometimes life gets us going so fast, that we forget to stop and love those who love us. I think about death from time to time. Maybe because I'm a preacher, I see many who have lost loved ones unexpectedly. I mean, who has the date of your death planned out, or someone else's death? Death comes most of the time, when we least expect it. So what I want to say to you today is take a moment, in our fast paced life that seems so important, stop and take notice of those who are really important.

"If I knew it would be the last time that I'd see you fall asleep, I would have tucked you in more tightly and prayed your soul to keep," said the mother to whose child died in the middle of night. "If I would have known it would be the last time I would see you walk out that door, I would have given you a hug and kiss and call you back for one more," said the father whose son was killed at school. "If I would've known it would be the last time I'd hear your voice lifted up in praise, I would have videotaped each action and word, so I could play them back day after day," said the wife of the choir director who died in a car wreck on his way home from church. "If I would have known it would be the last time, I could spare an extra minute to say, 'I love you,' instead of assuming you already knew," said the husband whose wife died while he was out of town on a business trip.

Tomorrow for everyone, Dear Readers, is not promised, what we have is today, right now is what we have. Let's take time out and let those, whom you love, know they are important. For many, there will be a tomorrow to make up for an oversight, and we will get a second chance to make everything just right. There will always be another day to say, "I love you." But just in case I might be wrong and today is all we get, I personally want to say, I love you Dear Readers. I do appreciate you taking time out every week to read through my column. Some people smile while reading, some get a good belly laugh, some I'm sure lift an eyebrow with a "hmmm," and maybe even some get a little angry a time or two, but you are important to me.

Tomorrow is not promised to anyone, young or old alike, today maybe the last chance you get to hold your loved ones tight. So if you're waiting for tomorrow, why not today? For if tomorrow never comes, you may regret the day. Take and give that extra smile, a hug, and give that extra kiss to your wife/husband, or child. Whisper in their ear, how much you love them, and hold them so very dear.

Never let a day pass in anger, say, "I'm sorry," today. Learn to say, "Please forgive me, and 'It's OK.'" Today is always special! Jesus loves you, and so do I.

Psalms 117:1-2; "Praise the Lord, all you Gentiles! Laud Him, all you peoples! For His merciful kindness is great toward us, and the truth of the Lord endures forever. Praise the Lord!"

'Buddy's' story

A 15 year old Middle Eastern juvenile, his adult brother, and mother moved to El Cajon 15 months ago. The young man's father was kidnapped in Iraq and he has not seen or heard from him in years. For the short time he has been here, he has been making friends at a local high school and getting involved in the El Cajon Boys and Girls Club all while trying to learn English and excel in his other school work. His story is not unlike many other kids who have come to this area seeking to escape the violence in the Middle East and live a normal life. However, his life was turned upside down and will never be the same.

Details cannot be released due to the ongoing investigation, however the El Cajon Police Officer's Association (ECPOA) thought this brave young man's story should be told. For the purposes of concealing his identity, we will call him "Buddy." Buddy was home when he heard his mother scream. Buddy ran to his mother's aid and found her being attacked by his older brother. Buddy immediately shielded his mother and fought to protect her. Buddy received life threatening injuries trying to keep his mother safe. When paramedics arrived on scene, Buddy learned that mother was deceased.

Buddy was rushed to the hospital where he is still recuperating from his injuries. His nearest family member is his uncle who lives in Colorado. When Buddy is released from the hospital, he will have to move to Colorado and leave his teachers and friends he has come to know and love here in El Cajon.

When the ECPOA heard of Buddy's story, they wanted to find some way to help Buddy get through this incredibly hard time. They decided to give Buddy an iPad so he could stay entertained while he recovers in the hospital and use it to keep in touch with his friends when he has to move away.

Buddy was excited to see the tablet and began playing with it. We understand an iPad cannot change what happened to Buddy, but we hope that it will bring him some happiness during a very difficult time in his life.

Laughter is the Best Medicine

Sunday paper

"WHERE is my SUNDAY paper?!" The irate customer calling the newspaper office, loudly demanded to know where her Sunday edition was.

"Madam," said the newspaper employee, "today is Saturday. The Sunday paper is not delivered until tomorrow, on SUNDAY!" There was quite a long pause on the other end of the phone, followed by a ray of recognition as she was heard to mutter, ....

"Well, s#*t, that explains why no one was at church either."

PS: Until you retire, you cannot fully appreciate this!

Barons Market in Alpine Job Fair on June 13-14 Family-owned grocery store brings more than 30 locally sourced jobs to community

If you live in Alpine and have a passion for good food at good prices, Barons Market may want to hire you. The family-owned grocery store will host its highly anticipated job fair on Friday, June 13, and Saturday, June 14, from 10 a.m. – 4 p.m. at the new store location, 1347 Tavern Road in Alpine. Barons Market encourages interested applicants to apply in person during this two-day period.

With its fifth Southern California location, the family-owned grocery store will bring its all-natural and fresh food and beverages to the active community that has limited grocery options. Barons Market, which weaves itself into the fabric of the community, will hire more than 30 employees from the local workforce.

“The community eagerness to be a part of Barons Market is extremely humbling and also very moving,” says Barons Marketing Manager Rachel Shemirani. “When we hire team members at Barons, we are hiring them to grow with us and become part of our family and our community.”

To apply, download a job application at <http://www.barons-market.com/careers> or pick one up in person at the job fair. Applicants who attend will be given an interview time to sit down with Barons supervisors either June 13 or 14. Barons plans to announce and hire its official employees two to three weeks following the job fair, providing enough time to train before the store’s summer opening.

Viejas recognized as a Top Performing Casino Resort as reviewed by travelers on the world’s largest travel site

Viejas Casino & Resort today announced that it has received a TripAdvisor® Certificate of Excellence award. The accolade, which honors hospitality excellence, is given only to establishments that consistently achieve outstanding traveller reviews on TripAdvisor, and is extended to qualifying businesses worldwide. Establishments awarded the Certificate of Excellence represent the upper echelon of businesses listed on the website.

“Winning the TripAdvisor Certificate of Excellence is a true source of pride for the entire team at Viejas Casino & Resort and we’d like to thank all of our guests who took the time to complete a review on TripAdvisor,” said Viejas Casino & Resort General Manager Chris Kelley. “With the TripAdvisor Certificate of Excellence based on customer reviews, the accolade is a remarkable vote of confidence in our business and our continued commitment to excellence.”

When selecting Certificate of Excellence winners, TripAdvisor uses a proprietary algorithm to determine the honorees that takes into account reviews ratings. Businesses must maintain an overall TripAdvisor bubble rating of at least four out of five, volume and recency of reviews. Additional criteria include a business’ tenure and popularity ranking on the site.

“TripAdvisor is pleased to honor exceptional hospitality businesses for consistent excellence,” said Marc Charron, President of TripAdvisor for Business. “The Certificate of Excellence award gives top performing establishments around the world the recognition they deserve, based on feedback from those who matter most – their customers. ## Grossmont ...

Her freshman year of college was a series of academic disasters, and she nearly quit, but Brown said her mother's advice to persevere after coming so far kept her on course. A caring and supportive faculty member intervened during her second semester, providing the guidance she needed throughout her undergraduate years.

"It was that intervention that literally saved my college career, and really influenced my desire to pursue a profession that enabled me to work with students, and to serve as a role model for others," she said.

Giving the valedictory speech was student Nancy Yousif, an Iraqi refugee with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average. She will receive an associate degree in social work, and plans to transfer to San Diego State University in the fall.

"It wasn't easy for me to balance between school, family, and then a job," said Yousif, 33, who fled her ravaged country in 2008 with her children and husband, also a Cuyamaca College student. She began as an English As a Second Language student at the college in 2010. With three sons and a part-time job as a student worker, Yousif said there were times when was ready to give up, but her husband and family remained steadfast in their support and encouragement.

Yousif said her early struggles adjusting to life in America as a refugee have instilled in her a goal to become a social worker. "There were many times when I thought I would not reach the finish line," she said. "However, those struggles have only made this moment sweeter. While I am ready to continue my academic education at San Diego State University next fall, I am also filled with a deep sense of sadness for leaving this wonderful place. Cuyamaca College has been my second home since I started attending classes. I will miss every one of you."

College President Mark J. Zacovic expressed his pride for the class of 2014, saying they had accomplished much to get to commencement. To illustrate his point, he had graduates stand as he queried how many had job or family obligations to contend with on top of their academic demands.

"We all appreciate what you have been through," he said to the mostly standing graduates. "It's not easy."

People often wonder why news journalists decide to accompany military forces on the battle fields. While capturing that front page or award-winning photo; it's also a chance one may lose their life – and at least 22 have in the last few years. As of June 4, 2014 the U.S. military has suffered 2,322 deaths from fighting in Afghanistan; had 1819 KIA (killed in action), and 19,794 WIA (wounded in action).

Although films about war from decades ago were fiction that re-created war action, today filmmakers are bolder. With the blessings of the military, they actually take their cameras into action to follow our troops. The real-life images are hard to watch, but they tell us the stories behind those flag-draped coffins or wounded warriors returning home.

One such film is The Hornet's Nest, a documentary directed by Christian Tureaud and David Salzberg. The focus of the film centers on Mike Boettcher, a news correspondent who has covered numerous war zones for more than three decades.

As usual, Boettcher's dedication to his job resulted in sacrifices for him and his family. He wanted a way to explain to his son Carlos, now an adult, as to why he missed birthdays, graduation and important family holidays. That's when Boettcher decided to bring Carlos with him on a 2011 job in the Kumar Province, a mountainous region in eastern Afghanistan. This was a risky decision since they would both be filming and imbedded with the 101st Airborne.

Dad was used to seeing horror, moving with the speed of lightning, and being thankful to wake up the next morning. For Carlos the beginning was intense. For every step on every road there was always danger they could be blown up by IEDs or suicide bombers. There have been more than 7000 deaths contributed to IUDs and 2001 to suicide bombers.

As the soldiers and reporters climb up, down and around rocky terrain they receive gun fire and give it back. At times they are in so much danger they have to call in the fighter jets to cover them. Slowly, Carlos becomes braver and settles in listening to his father's filming ideas.

When a young Afghani boy is seriously injured during a roadside bombing; the 101st jumps into action, doing everything they can to get the boy on a helicopter and to a treatment center. One of the most daring missions is when the troops undertake Operation Strong Eagle III (their code name). They march over the Khost-Gardez Pass – also called The Death Pass – the primary route between Khost province, Gardez in Paktya, and the rest of Afghanistan. Their main target is to secure a Taliban stronghold in a remote Kunar valley.

Amazingly, both Boettchers are there catching all the coverage as the battle rages on for nine days. It's a furious fight with losses on both sides, especially for the Americans. The medical helicopters can't get in because of the dangerous fire-fights, or they are shot down trying. But this madness doesn't stop them. For example, Lieutenant Colonel Stephen Lutsky's men say that despite his rank, he is always there in the fight beside them.

At one point, the 130-degree temperature, constant movement and carrying 80 lbs. of equipment, takes its toll on Mike Boettcher, so he sends Carlos on with a detail. Then he faces his own camera, expressing his worry about Carlos making it back alive as well as his concern regarding whether or not he did the right thing in bringing him along. There are many times on this assignment – even though he's a war-reporter veteran – that Mike comes to tears in his reports.

Mike and Carlos Boettcher, father-and-son correspondents who were there providing Peabody and Emmy-winning coverage of the war for ABC News, did an incredible service for our troops and for our country. They allowed us to see the courage and selflessness of those we send into harm's way. Often standing in the middle of live action, these men performed as if they were soldiers themselves, only using cameras instead of guns.

The impressive level of the cinematography here outshines many major films today. It actually makes viewers feel they are there in the moment. Some footage included additional images from soldiers carrying GoPro cameras plus an incredible video of fierce battles shot by Taliban fighters on their cellphones.

Time and time again this documentary details what it says: "These men are not there for the horrors of terror but for their buddies." This is apparent when a medic is shot but continues to tell his comrades how to treat other injured buddies – and then apologizes right before he dies. One of his wounded comrades said, "I could see in his eyes he was not going to let me die."

The coverage of a ceremony there on foreign soil for those who made that ultimate sacrifice, and that had their comrades in tears, was especially illuminating in revealing, at heart, these are just good old boys from the farms and cities who will forever stand tall.

Although viewing this documentary may require tissues, it's one of the most engaging and heart-felt documentaries about war I have seen. It needs to be on the top of film lover's "to see" list.

Sweet characters in 'The Fault in Our Stars'

Review by James Colt Harrison

There is nothing more cathartic than a good cry in the movies, and The Fault in Our Stars supplies enough waterworks for the rest of the year. We haven't had as good a cry since Love Story — with Ali MacGraw and Ryan O'Neill — made us blubber back in 1970.

Adapted from the hit novel by Erich Segal, Love Story affected us emotionally because we cared about the principal characters. In The Fault in Our Stars we are confronted with two of the most appealing kids in films today. And we care about them. That's the key to a successful film or book. This film is also adapted from The Fault in Our Stars book which was a 2012 Young Adult novel hit by author John Green.

In order to squeeze genuine tears out of an audience, there has to be a tragedy to accompany the emotional connection. Our heroine Hazel Grace Lancaster (Shailene Woodley) has been diagnosed with thyroid cancer and is permanently attached to an oxygen tank. At a support group gathering she meets handsome 19 year-old Gus, who recently lost a leg to cancer. He is relentlessly upbeat, positive and funny. He's also a hunk, and what young girl wouldn't fall for him? That's a given.

Gus is the perfect companion for Hazel. He's sweet and attentive and only wants to please as though he is a fluffy kitten. Too good to be true? Perhaps, but some people are genuinely nice and he falls into that category, as schmaltzy as it may seem.

Hazel's mom (Laura Dern) and dad (Sam Trammell) are pleased to have Gus as someone who is making their daughter a little happier. In fact the entire family makes a quick trip to Amsterdam to meet Hazel's favorite author (played by a hilariously grumpy and mysterious Willem Dafoe).

Cinematographer Ben Richardson makes the most of Amsterdam's beautiful canals and quaint buildings in some spectacular location scenes.

The two young stars have fantastic chemistry together, having worked with each other in Divergent. Woodley said at a press conference, "I think if Ansel and I hadn't known each other from Divergent, our relationship in this movie would not be what it is, because we didn't have to go through the rehearsal phase of getting to know one another, becoming comfortable with one another."

Although the film is based upon a major tragedy in both the young people's lives, it's not a downbeat or negative movie in the least. It's frequently funny, uplifting, and positive. There are many laughs, some fun scenes between the teens getting to explore each other emotionally and physically, and the gorgeous scenery from the Pennsylvania locations to drool about.

I can't praise Woodley and Elgort enough. They are engaging new actors who are both destined to make it big in films. They can act, and they are both physically beautiful to see on the screen. It's a pleasure to see the future before us. The Fault in Our Stars is a wonderful film; go see it.

Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. #### NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

On Tuesday, June 24, 2014, at 3:00 p.m., the El Cajon City Council will hold a public hearing in the Council Chambers at 200 Civic Center Way to consider the following:

AN ORDINANCE TO EXTEND AN INTERIM ORDINANCE ADOPTED AS AN URGENCY MEASURE PURSUANT TO CALIFORNIA GOVERNMENT CODE SECTION 65858 TO ESTABLISH A MORATORIUM ON THE APPROVAL OF ANY NEW HOOKAH AND ELECTRONIC/VAPOR SUBSTANCE INHALATION SHOPS AND LOUNGES IN THE CITY OF EL CAJON

On May 13, 2014, the City Council adopted Ordinance No. 5008, which is an urgency ordinance pursuant to California Government Code section 65858 to temporarily suspend the approval of any new locations of businesses that sell Electronic/Vapor Inhalation Products, and those operating Lounges. Ordinance No. 5008 makes it temporarily unlawful to sell Electronic/Vapor Inhalation Products and to open and operate Lounges in the City. Unless extended, the temporary suspension of issuance of said licenses would expire on June 28, 2014, thereby making such uses lawful.

The purpose of this proposed extension of the urgency ordinance is to allow a reasonable time for the City to complete a detailed study and, following public hearings, consider an amendment of the City's Zoning Ordinance, and other applicable ordinances, and the adoption of restrictions or regulations as they may be recommended to the City Council by the Planning Commission.

The public is invited to attend and participate in this public hearing. Please call the City Clerk's Office (619) 441-1763 if you have any questions regarding this notice of hearing. If you challenge the matter in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice or in written correspondence delivered to the City Clerk at, or prior to, the public hearing.

The City of El Cajon encourages the participation of disabled individuals in the services, activities and programs provided by the City. Individuals with disabilities who require reasonable accommodation in order to participate in the City Council meetings should contact the City Clerk's Office at (619) 441-1763.

TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF
DESTINY ROSE MUSE
CASE NO. 37-2014-00015894-PR-LA-CTL
ROA #: 1
(IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: DESTINY ROSE MUSE A Petition for Probate has been filed by TINA M. MUSE in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO. The Petition for Probate requests that TINA M. MUSE be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on July 1, 2014 at 11:00 AM in Dept. PC-1 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building. If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: James W. Wiley, Attorney at Law, P.O. ## Pet of the Week

"Are you looking for a friendly and mild-mannered fellow to make your life complete? Well, then, we should definitely meet! My name is BENTLEY, and I'm a very handsome five-year-old Basset Hound. I'd fit nicely into family life, as I'm affectionate with everyone. I get along well with most other dogs, as long as they're my size or bigger. I'm a sociable and happy guy, plus I know some commands. I have a fit & trim physique, so I'd like to go on a daily walk to keep it that way. A good walk will also allow me to spend some quality time with you (while I check out all the neighborhood smells). I've already been house trained, so I'm ready to start my new life with you. Wouldn't you like to come visit me? I'm waiting for you at the El Cajon Animal Shelter, where they have a great play yard for us to spend some time getting to know each other. I hope you'll come see me soon! Love, Bentley" Kennel #23

Biking with your dog

When you think about the activities that you can do with your dog, your list might look like this: walk, run, play fetch. With such a short list, you probably cycle through these pretty quickly. Why not shake things up a bit and introduce your dog to something new? Spring and summer are wonderful times to ride your bike and the best part is that your dog can come with you. It's the perfect way to bond and reconnect with your pooch and enjoy that fresh spring air together.

Can any dog bike?

It makes sense that a healthy dog that's used to walking, running, or hiking is a great candidate for a bike mate. But what if your dog is small and doesn't need much exercise? Don't worry! There are a few different ways that will allow your dog to join you so you don't have to leave that wagging tail and adorable little face behind.

• Bike Leash - For an active, healthy dog, a bike leash is your answer. Bike leashes hook on the side of a bike and attach to your dog's padded harness so she's running right along side of you. It's designed to control your dog in case she pulls in a different direction and ensures the safety of both dog and rider. NEVER bring your dog on a regular leash that will leave you with just one hand on the handle bars and the other holding your dog's leash. This can be extremely dangerous. Bike leashes were designed to free your hands so you can drive the bike properly.

• Riders & Baskets - For your small dog that doesn't really need much exercise, you can still bond with them on a bicycling trip by using a pet rider or a basket. Baskets attached to the front handle bars and have a harness or strap that keeps your furry passenger hooked safely and secured. Riders also work the same way, although these can be attached to the front or back of a bike and also include a safety harness.

Start small

Once you've determined the best way to bring your dog along, it's time to get her acclimated to being with the bike. Show her how you are attaching the leash to your bicycle or set her in the rider to get her used to it. For the initial few outings, just walk your bike. When she starts to become comfortable, hop on the bike and go slowly at first. Plan on just going around the block the first time, followed by one or two more blocks as she adjusts to this new activity. This is also a good time to make sure that your dog is properly secured to the bike so there aren't any mishaps.

If the biking is going well and she's not afraid or stressed out, you can then begin lengthening your bike trips and moving along at a more appropriate pace.

Safety first

There are some things to keep in mind when you have your dog with you on the bike so that you both have a safe and enjoyable experience.

1. Whenever possible, use bike trails or roads that are less busy. If this isn't a nearby option, use a bike rack and drive the two of you to a nearby park or trail.

2. Avoid extraordinary heat. In the warm summer months, reserve biking outings for early mornings or early evenings before it is getting dark.

3. Bring a small pack of necessary items, including water, treats, a cell phone, and your vet's number just in case of an emergency. Make sure that your dog has all of his tags and other identification.

Just you and your dog on the open road with the wind at your backs and the sunshine on your faces is a healthy and fun way to bond with your dog. Dogs are always overjoyed to be going anywhere with their humans, so finding new ways to spend time together (like biking) is bound to bring the two of you even closer together. Show your best friend just how much you love her and hop on that bike!
