Senator Anderson's Corner

Office of Senator Anderson

Have you ever looked at something and thought, "I wonder how that's made?" Manufacturing companies throughout the country helped answer that question when they opened their doors to the public for educational tours on "National Manufacturing Day" on October 3.

Senator Joel Anderson

Many people may not realize that East County is home to several important manufacturers -- including the world-renowned Taylor Guitars. Established in 1974 and headquartered in El Cajon, Taylor Guitars is committed to providing musicians with specialized, hand crafted acoustic and electric guitars to suit their individual musical styles and needs. On Manufacturing Day, Taylor Guitars offered a public tour where they took guests through the process of creating a guitar. They taught guests about the careful attention of detail required when crafting the guitars, from selecting the right type of wood to mold to lacing the final guitar strings.

Taylor Guitars has become an integral part of our community through their many charitable works, in addition to the quality employment opportunities they provide. In 2011, Taylor Guitars was named "Business of the Year" by State Senator Joel Anderson and in 2012, partnered with Anderson in a special ceremony to donate an autographed Jason Mraz signature model guitar signed to a local Marine, Brad Fite, who was nearly killed in an explosion in Afghanistan. Anderson said, "The highly skilled jobs that Taylor Guitars provides help improve our economy locally, and their commitment to community service has touched many people."

National Manufacturing Day was a celebration of the quality companies like Taylor Guitars that make our community a better place!

East County Hope Rally

More than 100 community members and professionals participated in the East County Hope Rally on Friday, Oct. 17 with the aim to raise awareness about domestic violence.

"You are not alone. There is help out there and we are here to support you," said Dilkhawaz Ahmed, Executive Director for License to Freedom of El Cajon.

Law enforcement and staff from a variety of social service agencies from east county joined together with community members to walk down Main Street in El Cajon. They congregated at the Prescott Promenade to hear the stories of domestic violence survivors and about those who did not survive, the many victims who have lost their lives to domestic violence.

El Cajon saw an increase of 34 percent in domestic violence incidents between 2012 and 2013. Jacqueline Manley of Southern Indian Health Council reflected, "We must stop domestic violence now. If you are being abused or you are the one being abusive, reach out to a domestic violence hotline for referrals to services and support for help in taking those difficult steps."

House rules for dogs and cats

Dear Dogs and Cats, the dishes with the paw print belong to you and contain your food. The rest of the dishes belong to me and contain my food.

Please note, if you put a paw print in the middle of my plate or food, that does not stake a claim for it. It is still mine. I also do not find it aesthetically pleasing in the slightest.

NASCAR did not design the stairway. It is not a racetrack. Trying to beat me to the bottom is not the object. Tripping me will not help you win because I will fall faster than you can run.

A king-sized bed is the largest that is made. I cannot get anything bigger. I am sorry about this. Do not expect me to continue to sleep on the couch to ensure your comfort.

Dogs and cats are capable of curling into a ball when they sleep. It is not necessary to sleep perpendicular next to each other and stretched out to the fullest extent possible.

Sticking your tail out straight and hanging your tongue out the other end to maximize space is nothing but sarcasm.

For the last time, there is no secret exit from the bathroom. If by some miracle I manage to beat you there and get the door shut, it is not necessary to whine, meow, claw, try to turn to doorknob, or squeeze your paw under the door to try to pull it open. I have to exit through the same door I entered.

Also, I have been using the bathroom for many years — feline or canine attendance is not required.

Dear Dr. Luauna — The Three Stooges & the Trolley

Dear Readers,

Our team decided to take the trolley to our new inner city church service in, "Logan Heights." We drove 15 minutes to the Trolley Station, Santee; parked our car, bought our tickets and waited for 10 minutes before the big, beautiful, red trolley came up the tracks. With our Mission America t-shirts on, and each of us with a hand full of gospel tracts we boarded the train. It wasn't long before the trolley started making its stops. Then all of a sudden, the trolley was packed! I loved IT, praying, "OK, Holy Spirit, this is your job," as I stood up and walked down the aisle smiling at each person, handing them a tract and saying, "Jesus is madly in love with you, and He's passionately pursuing you."

As I looked into every eye with God's love, I shared, "You are important to God." I was so amazed! What a GREAT response! I could see the scars of sin, and many broken hearts. I felt such compassion on that trolley, the single 18 year old little girl sitting in the far back seat with her 9 month baby, bound by the demon of crystal meth. Or the young man filled with tattoos all gang related, standing with his back to the door, knowing at any moment someone from another gang could enter that trolley. As I looked at all those hurting men and women, many so far away from God, I knew why I was on that trolley.

They were surprised as we shared Jesus all the way to our stop. Jumping on the next train, and then the 3rd train sharing Jesus in each train, until finally, our stop, "Barrio Logan," we were having so much fun. I stood up to wave and say goodbye, to all the people on the trolley, Beverly, and Jill, two of my assistant's stood at the door, trying to figure out how to open it.

It was a different door and we didn't see the button light up like the other trolley. We were like, "The Three Stooges," I'm, saying, "Push the button," Jill's trying to push the door open, Beverly looking around pushing everything, while I'm saying, "You better hurry up!"

When I looked around, everyone in the trolley was laughing as my eyes got big as saucers, as I said, "OH, NO the trains moving!" We missed our stop, and after everyone stopped laughing, including all three of us.

One young girl, leaned over to show us where the button was, and then another young man said, "Get off the next stop, cross the tracks, and get on the next train back." We just smiled! They said, "We'll see you at church on Sunday."

I loved it! OK! So we arrived 20 minutes late to church, But just in time to hear Joel, a young man who is in training, preach his first sermon in the new building. I was so proud of him! I loved his message! I surprised him and his wife, I didn't tell him I would be back from Anaheim. I wouldn't miss his first sermon for anything!

We rode the trolley back home, again it was packed! We didn't get home until 11 p.m. that night, but we had a great time reaching out and inviting as many as 300 people to the New Inner City Church - A Touch From Above Church in Logan Heights. I loved riding the trolley. I think that's going to be my favorite way to get to church on Wednesday and Friday night. "San Diego, CA, come Forth, all of you, amazing people into our new building in JESUS name!"

Give a pet a forever-home — Stop by the El Cajon Animal Shelter

Pet of the Week

Would you like to have a sweet and loving little dog who loves to snuggle? Maybe I'm the dog you've been searching for! My name is CRYSTAL, and I'm a six-year-old Dachshund/ Chihuahua mix sweetie-pie who wants to make you happy. I enjoy going for walks, and I love to be with people and other dogs. I

I came here with another dog, but he already got adopted to some nice people. I sure hope a kind and loving person (or maybe a family) will want to adopt me soon, too. If a family adopts me, I'd want the kids to be older and very considerate of me. I already know how to sit on command (I can "sit pretty," too), and I've already been house trained. Wouldn't you like to come visit me? We can get better acquainted in the lovely play yard that they have here at the El Cajon Animal Shelter. You'll find that I'm a good-natured and gentle dog (not to mention cute, too), and you'll see that I'm going to be your loyal friend for life. I hope to see you soon. Love, Crystal" Kennel #52

Glenn Ford is an iconic classic film star who starred in 110 films. Glenn Ford in the Fifties is a Warner Archive Collection available to order and features six newly remastered Glenn Ford films as well as three TV favorites.

Ford films in this collection include:

THE WHITE TOWER (1950) A drama that pits a group of desperate people against an icy summit in the Swiss Alps, each other and themselves. What drives the woman determined to conquer the slopes that killed her father, guide, father’s friend, a wannabe Übermensch (Lloyd Bridges), dipsomaniacal writer (Claude Rains) and a burnt-out World War II vet (Ford) to push themselves to the top?

YOUNG MAN WITH IDEAS (1952) A young associate (Ford) at a law firm is trapped in an all-work/no credit grind until his tipsy spouse (Ruth Roman) gets him canned, creating a plan to strike it rich in L.A. as a lawyer. A strange turn of events leads our young man to court where he has to plead for his life.

TRIAL (1955) David, a law professor (Ford) gets in over his head defending a Mexican American accused of the sexual assault and murder of a white teenage girl. A courtroom drama reveals a nation caught between red-baiting witch hunts and the rise of the civil rights movement.

RANSOM! (1956) Crime procedural based on an acclaimed teleplay (The United States Steel Hour’s “Fateful Decision”) and the basis for Ron Howard’s 1996 remake. About a kidnapping of a child, the lawyer (Ford) reverses course thanks to a reporter’s errant remark and stuns all with his dangerous decision.

IMITATION GENERAL (1958) In the midst of the European campaign, a company of GIs are surrounded by the Nazis. GHQ sends in one-star General Lane to help rally the trapped troopers but is killed, leaving his aides, MSgt. Murphy Savage (Glenn Ford) and Cpl. Chan Derby (Red Buttons), in dire straits.

TORPEDO RUN (1958)

South Pacific, 1942. Crack sub commander Barney Doyle (Ford) patrols the deep aboard The Greyfish hunting a different great white whale - the Shinaru, the aircraft carrier that lead the attack on Pearl Harbor. Complicating matters is the Barney’s missing wife and baby girl, lost in the Philippines when the Japanese invaded. As sub and carrier play cat and mouse, the enemy has a trick in store for Barney that may just break him.

TV - from beyond!
BRONCO: THE COMPLETE FIRST SEASON (1958-59) Ex-Confederate Officer Bronco Layne (Ty Hardin) rides back to the Texas Panhandle only to discover his home and his honor are now lost to him. He wanders the West, armed with a lightning draw and thunder in his fists, fighting for the justice he was denied. This 5-Disc, 20-Episode collection sees Bronco defend besieged settlers, uncover fatal locomotive sabotage, tackle the mystery of a man frozen inside a glacier, and sail the prairie with a landlocked Navy officer (Lorne Greene).

WIZARDS AND WARRIORS: THE COMPLETE SERIES (1983) TV’s first real foray into the realm of high fantasy. Jeff Conaway (Taxi, Babylon 5) stars as valiant Prince Erik Greystone who, along with his strongman sidekick pal Marko (Walter Olkewicz), battles evil Prince Dirk Blackpool and malevolent magic-user Vector for control of the continent of Aperans, his country of Camarand and for the hand of fair, spoiled Princess Ariel (Julia Duffy).

BEYOND WESTWORLD: THE COMPLETE SERIES (1980) “How Do You Kill a Man Who’s a Machine?” That’s the question confronting Delos Security Chief John Moore (Jim McMullan) as he confronts killer androids under the control of rogue scientist Simon Quaid (James Wainwright) in the world that lies beyond Westworld.

Strong performances excel in the drama 'Fury'

Review by Diana Saenger

The war drama Fury contains both strength and weakness. It takes place in 1945 when American tankers are fighting for their lives against the Germans in the WWII American Theatre. During the beginning of the film, Commander Army Sergeant Don "Wardaddy" Collier, part of the 2nd Armored Division, climbs out of his tank to the revelation that all tanks around them are grounded -- and the soldiers are dead.

Although the war is almost over, there's still business to take care of. Wardaddy (Brad Pitt) has been assigned a new assistant driver, Norman Ellison (Logan Lerman), who's like a peanut in a can of cashews. Trained as a typist, Norman knows nothing about fighting a war, shooting a gun and especially driving a tank. Wardaddy has seen it all, looked after his men, killed a bunch of Germans, lost one of his own, and is not about to babysit a newbie. "I had the best gunner in the 9th Army and now I got you," he tells Norman. He follows that by issuing the newbie all kinds of demands. The first is to clean up the bloody remains of the soldier they just lost, and then to kill a German.

The rest of the team members — gunner Boyd Swan (Shia LaBeouf), driver Trini Garcia (Michael Peña), mechanic Grady Travis (Jon Bernthal) -- have no desire to be in more danger by Norman's lack of knowledge. As their Sherman tank comes upon an occasional German tank, they yell at him when to fire his gun and where. While Norman thinks the commander dislikes him, inside Wardaddy feels the responsibly to keep every man alive, but especially this young boy who does not belong in this war.

Camaraderie among these crew members appears quite strong. They all know their lives depend on each other. Bible-verse- preaching Boyd offers words that give them some peaceful moments whether they believe or not. I think this is one of LaBeouf's strongest roles. He's like sunshine after a storm, even if they know that storm may never end.

Trini drinks too much, which is where some of his humor comes from, but he's serious as a red light when moving that tank. Grady can load big bullets into the firing holes as fast as bullets leaving a machine gun. Some of that obligation may be the cause of his dour personality.

Pitt is exceptional as Wardaddy, who has told his men they will all go home, but as time goes by, uncertainty plagues him. He must also try to mask his favoritism for Norman in changing him from a boy to a man. With each step Pitt takes in every scene, his dominance makes one believe he had actual experience as a wartime soldier.

"We got to meet several vets who were all in their 90s," said Pitt. "They had survived D-Day landings, and the Battle of the Bulge... it was a very humbling experience to sit in their presence and listen to their stories. They had very visceral descriptions of what it was like to be in the tank: the heat, the exhaust, it was oily; the smell of death was always in the air. Most of them were undertrained, they were underequipped, and they were dealing with incredible hardships and weather, lack of food, lack of sleep. And they had to push on under the most harrowing of conditions."

Only two moments in the film appear hopeful. One involves a large group of Allied bombers flying overhead, which make the men feel that's a good thing for them. The other occurs when the men take over a small town and Wardaddy notices a young girl in the window of a half destroyed building. He takes Norman with him, and even though the girl and another woman are afraid, Wardaddy brings them some eggs he found outside and communicates with them to make everyone breakfast. What happens next is very special for Norman, until the boys barge in and Grady spoils everything.

This excellent film can often be unpleasant to watch. Everything about the war could be real. Tanks rolling over dead bodies, many killed, and explosions everywhere consume most of the movie. When Wardaddy and his team face 300 German soldiers marching towards them, they know the odds are against them.

Chiefs jolt the Bolts 23-20

by Chuck Karazsia

There's a three-team battle in the AFC West. Snapping a five game win streak the (5-2) Chargers dropped to second place, while K.C. holds third place with a (3-3) record.

The Kansas City Chiefs came to Qualcomm Stadium Sunday, played extremely physical and beat San Diego at their own game (ball control).

Keeping the explosive Philip Rivers off the field. The Chiefs turned the tables on San Diego dominating the time-of-possession 39:00 to San Diego 21:00, and third down conversions K.C. (7 for 14), S.D. (3 for 10). In these two statistics the Bolts had been at the top of the league.

Effectively running the ball for 154-yards, with stop-and-go speedster Jamaal Charles gaining 95-yards on 22 carries, scoring one touchdown. Helix High alumnus quarterback Alex Smith led the charge for the Chiefs managing the K.C. offense to the tune of 365 total yards, completing 19-of-28 passes for 221-yards throwing one TD, no interceptions.

Chiefs rookie place-kicker Cairo Santos contributed to the win kicking three field goals of (28, 40, and 48-yards), the last a game winner with 21 seconds left in the contest.

When not watching from the sideline, Chargers quarterback Philip Rivers managed his own game well considering the time allotted, completing 17-of-31 for 205-yards, two-TD's, one INT. Rivers hooked up with his tight ends throwing the first score of the game to TE John Phillips (one-yard) and one to his favorite target Antonio Gates for a 27-yard touchdown late in the second quarter. Rivers now has thrown a TD pass in 28 consecutive games.

Chargers WR Keenan Allen led all Chargers receivers with six receptions followed by Gates and Floyd with three apiece, B. Oliver with two, and Royal, Ronnie Brown, and Phillips with one each. If Chargers wide-out Eddie Royal had caught just one more pass thrown his way, the outcome may have been different, not faulting the receiver on some tough high-and outside throws from Rivers.

'Little-big-man' rookie free agent Brandon Oliver carried the brunt of the workload for San Diego gaining 67-yards on fifteen carries averaging 4.0 yards a carry.

Setting a team record with 31-straight field goals after making two in the game, Nick Novack passed former Chargers kicker Nate Kaeding (in attendance) as the clubs most accurate kicker all-time.

Penalized four times for 49-yards, the Chargers wished they had some of those taken back. The one penalty that hurt them the most was one not committed by them. Against a scrambling Alex Smith, Bolts DT Corey Liuget was flagged for a facemask penalty giving the Chiefs a first down at their own 37-yard line, instead of third down and one at the 17-yard line. Replays clearly showed Liuget tackled the QB grabbing his shoulder pad. This continued a critical KC drive.

Injuries played a big part of the game. The Chargers have had their fair share of injuries this season, and unfortunately in the game.

Already without the services of first round pick Jason Verrett (hamstring) Chargers other starting cornerback veteran Brandon Flowers left the game with a head injury (concussion) and did not return.

Conclusion: The Bolts did not play their best football. Sloppy tackling came from a banged up defense. Chargers need to be better on third down situations. Everything was going the Chargers way going into this game. Rivers with five consecutive ratings above .120 set a record. Defense was ranked third. Brandon Oliver continued to spark the run game.

This was a game the Chargers needed to win against a divisional rival at home. It was a heart breaking loss in that the team as bad as it got, still had a chance to win at the end. It's a heart-breaking loss for Chargers fans, because they care and know how good this team is and can be. This game was a good wakeup for San Diego.

enough in critical situations on third down. Both sides of the ball had some critical penalties at bad times in the game. We've got to learn from it. Short week, get ready for the next one."

Head coach Mike McCoy said, "We didn't play good

That next game is against the first place Broncos in Denver. on Thursday.

Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF

SALLY ANN GAFF, AKA SALLY SHAKE GAFF, AKA SALLY GAFF
CASE NO. 37-2014-00034014-PR-LS-CTL
ROA #: 1 (IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: SALLY ANN GAFF, AKA SALLY SHAKE GAFF, AKA SALLY GAFF A Petition for Probate has been filed by JERRY GAFF in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO.

The Petition for Probate requests that JERRY GAFF be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 11/20/14 at 1:30 PM in Dept. PC-2 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: Brian M. Malloy, Esq., Gordon & Rees LLP, 101 W.
