A look into the rich, colorful history of the special Clydesdale breed begins in the early 19th century, along the River Clyde in Lanarkshire, Scotland. The region, located in a valley, or "dale," was known for its rich soil and abundant crops. The farmers were in great need of strong horses for hauling, plowing, and carting all the necessary farm equipment and workers.

One of the Dukes of Hamilton, a local, wealthy landowner, imported six Great Flemish Horses, a breed that already had been regularly shipped to Scotland to be used as war horses and for farm work. The Duke made his six prize horses available for breeding to local mares and the Clydesdale breed was born. People from outside Lanarkshire began to refer to the big, powerful horses as "the Clydesman's horse," a name that eventually became "Clydesdale."

The early Clydesdales quickly garnered attention as a breed more powerful than any breed available before. The horses were said to be capable of pulling loads heavier than a ton at a walking speed of five miles per hour. It was the breed's hauling power and confident style that attracted the interest of North Americans. In fact, in the early days of brewing, it was said that a brewer's success was directly related to how far his draft horses could pull a load in one day.

Today's Budweiser Clydesdales are even bigger than their Scottish ancestors. To qualify for the world-famous eight-horse hitch, a Budweiser Clydesdale must meet certain size, color, and disposition requirements. Standing at 18 hands high (about 6 feet) at the

Bear Closet brings new friends for children at the Transitional Living Center

Senator Anderson's Corner

Children at the East County Transitional Living Center (ECTLC) received fuzzy friends thanks to the efforts of the Cajon Valley Republican Business

Women Federated. Lorraine Place and Kelly Sharp took the lead to provide fuzzy friends to children at the ECTLC.

"Having been introduced to the ECTLC, and seeing the children coming into the center, we felt there was a need for a symbol of love, security and joy. This soon evolved into Bear Closet," said Place.

Lorraine Place observed that as parents complete applications and forms to move into the ECTLC, the process can cause uncertainty for children. That is why she came up with the idea of giving the children some form of entertainment while their parents are busy.

On the day of the Bear Closet delivery, a curious boy asked,

"May I have one?" As Place and his mother both agreed he could have one, you could see his face light up as he ran towards the basket of bears. He went through 10 bears until he found the one that was absolutely perfect.

State Senator Joel Anderson

surprised the volunteers from the Cajon Valley Republican Business Women Federated by recognizing them with Senate Certificates of Recognition for ensuring that the children in our community feel loved. Anderson said, "Lorraine's creativity has brought smiles and joy to many children at the East County Transitional Living Center. These stuffed animals are helping fill a real need in our community, and I am inspired by their selfless service."

Anyone wishing to be part of the project can mail their inquiries to the Cajon Valley Republican Business Women Federated at P.O. box 2830 El Cajon, CA 92021.

Study reveals least breakable tablets

People of all ages and lifestyles use tablets for just about everything. Unfortunately, the way we use these fragile devices often puts them at risk for breaking.

To help shoppers make smart decisions, SquareTrade, a protection plan provider for tablets, smartphones and other electronics, decided to find out how durable the most popular tablets are. Evaluating key elements such as front and back panel design, edge construction and materials, size, weight, "slide-ability," water resistance and "grip-ability," SquareTrade's Breakability Score tests devices in everyday danger situations brought on by our lifestyles and habits.

Overall, larger tablets proved to be far more breakable than smaller ones, as well as the least water resistant. The top three least breakable were: Samsung Galaxy Tab S 8.4, Sony Xperia 3 and Asus Memo Pad 7.

CVRBWF was recognized for its dedication to the community. (L-R): Eli Wells from Senator Anderson's Office, and CVRBWF members, Donna Kaufeld, Lorraine Place, Kelly Sharp.

World Famous Clydesdales...

shoulder when fully mature, Budweiser Clydesdales weigh approximately 2,000 pounds. They must be geldings, bay in color, have four white legs and a blaze of white on the face, as well as a black mane and tail. A gentle temperament is a very important characteristic, as hitch horses meet millions of people each year.

In two daily meals, a Budweiser Clydesdale hitch horse will consume 20 to 25 quarts of feed, 50 to 60 pounds of hay, and up to 30 gallons of water.

Once a Clydesdale is selected to be among the chosen few to travel with one of the company's traveling eight-horse hitches, he can expect to spend many of his days on the road, performing at hundreds of events each year.

The Clydesdales travel in a style befitting a king. In order to provide rest for each of the eight "first-string" horses, the Clydesdale hitch teams always travel with a total of 10 "gentle giants." The traveling caravan includes three 50-foot tractor-trailers custom-built for the horses with rubber flooring, air suspension, and vent fans to ease the rigors of hours on the road. Two tractor-trailers carry the Clydesdales and a third carries everything else including the iconic beer wagon and a full set of handcrafted, patent leather, and solid brass harness.

Performance days for a Budweiser Clydesdale are a combination of excitement and perfection. While the horses are groomed daily, special attention is given to their appearance on performance days. The expert groomers who travel with the horses spend approximately five hours washing and grooming the horses, polishing the harness, braiding red and white ribbons into the manes, and inserting red and white bows into the tails.

Harnessing all eight horses is a process that usually takes 45 minutes. The wheel team, the horses closest to the wagon (and generally the strongest), is harnessed first proceeded by the body, swing, and lead teams. After each Clydesdale is harnessed, they are individually hitched to the red, white and gold 1903 Studebaker-built beer wagon. Finally, after all eight horses are hitched to the wagon, the driver adjusts the lines. Driving the 12 tons of wagon and horses requires strength, experience and stamina. The 40 pounds of lines the driver holds, plus the tension, equals over 75 pounds. During long parades, the driver and the assistant often alternate driving in order to remain fresh and alert.

Duke, Captain, Mark, and Bud are just a few of the names given to the Budweiser Clydesdales. Names are kept short to make it easier for the driver to give commands to the horses during a performance.

Elana Levens-Craig

Santee School board member and child advocate, Elana Levens-Craig has just been named Santee's Person of the Year. Levens-Craig was selected by a committee comprised of Santee Chamber of Commerce Board Members and was selected from an outstanding group of four nominees..

Levens-Craig has a long history of direct community involvement. According to Awards Night Chairwomen, Sandy Pugliese, Levens-Craig is an energizer bunny on steroids. "There is nothing she won't do if there is purpose behind it. Her efforts are eclectic and cross over into other communities, broadening the impact of her work. All of these efforts are done on a volunteer basis and in most cases, without anyone asking," says Pugliese."

Levens-Craig's volunteer efforts are vast with the bulk of her time dedicated to education in a variety of roles, including being a special education teacher, a leader in PTA—from the school site level all the way up to the State PTA. ## A day without snow is a good day

All summer long, I was explaining why global warming was something we need to take care of, including the pros and the cons we are witnessing right now.

It heated up a little when the snow started falling up north where most of my wife's relatives live. The more they dig out of the snow the more the snow falls.

Now the controversy, oops, I mean, the conversation, was focused on the weather. I was trying to explain to her what this global warming was all about. I was doing a good job until the snow started falling and refused to quit falling.

"The earth is getting warmer," I said with an air of authority.

"After all," I said as I pushed my argument forward, "it's been discussed on television and everybody knows if it's on television it has to be true. There are laws."

"If," my wife said quite sarcastically, "the world is getting warmer, where is all of this snow coming from?"

Well, I must say, she had me there. Where IS all this snow coming from?

There was one very positive aspect of all this snow. It was snowing so much in Washington, DC that the government was shut down for two days. The politicians could not get to work. I know it is only two days, but as citizens we have to take what we can get. A politician not in his office means that money stays in our pocket. So, "Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow."

Then, rather unexpectedly, I saw on television one of the proponents of global warming, climate change now, was explaining all of this. According to him, all this snow is a result of global warming.

I know you have to have a PhD in stupidity to understand that. I have often wondered how many years somebody has to go in order to get a PhD in stupidity. It seems that the more they go to college these days, the more stupidity rules the day.

I must confess that my wife got me to thinking, which is a rarity with me. My father told me that the more you think the more trouble you get into. I am not sure if he was right or wrong, but I am not taking the chance. Thinking is off limits with me.

However, she did get me to thinking. I began thinking this way; most of the people who believe in global warming also believe in evolution. Now, if evolution is true and these people believe in it, what is their objection? Evolution is simply evolution, according to them, that is. The world is just evolving from one point to another and there is nothing we can really do about it.

I must confess, I do not understand evolution. I do not understand global warming. A lot of that stuff is just way beyond my pay grade, as they say. Furthermore, I am not going to spend too much of my time thinking about things that really have no answer to them. One time it's global warming, the next time, it's global freezing.

Here is my take on it; in the summer time, it is global warming and in the wintertime, it is global freezing. You do not have to have a PhD in anything to get this picture.

I am not sure who won this conversation, but it did get me to thinking about certain things. The major thing is that God is really the one that is in control.

I find it interesting that those who complain the most about global warming are the ones who are contributing the most to global warming, i.e. jet airplanes, mansions, computers and the list goes on. If they were really concerned about global warming, they would adopt an Amish lifestyle.

I think David hit the nail right on the head when he wrote, "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. For he hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods" (Psalm 24: 1-2).

Most of the people who believe in global warming do not believe in God. Those of us who do believe in God, however, rest in the truth that this world belongs to Him and He is going to take right good care of it.

Dear Dr. Luauna — Correction is the Way of Life

Dear Readers,
Sometimes it's difficult to swallow truth when it comes as a pill of correction or reproof.

I remember when my son was just a toddler, he loved to run. I had to keep my eye on him, if not, in a matter of seconds, off he would run as fast as his little legs could carry him. One day, he got away from me; thank God I was able to catch him before he hit the street. I scolded him; as a mother, I'm responsible to keep him safe and teach him so he wouldn't do it again.

Proverbs 6:23; "For the commandment is a lamp, and the law is light; reproofs of instruction are a way of life."

There are lessons to learn in school, the work place and in family relationships. Listening to correction and taking it to heart will make our life better daily. Refusing correction leaves one open to dangerous consequences. Some people are quick learners; other people have a stubborn streak and refuse instruction from anyone. These become students who defy teachers at school, employees who cannot keep a job, or the employers who break the law, thinking they will make more money by cheating. We must each learn, correction is a way of life for those who desire to live a productive and successful life on this earth.

In my line of work, I have observed those who are eager to learn and receive correction, become people who are teachable, and they learn from their mistakes. They succeed in life and recognize the importance of taking correction.

How important it is for those who serve and protect us to be prepared, and trained; law enforcement officers, fire fighters or the military? Every branch of life, no matter what we do, if we refuse to follow rules or take correction the end is only trouble. Imagine soldiers who train for battle, if they refuse instruction, correction; they put their lives in danger and the soldier next to them. Stubbornness leads to a failure mission.

Students, who disobey their teachers, forfeit their education and end up suspended, expelled and many even end up in detention centers. Refusing correction takes its toll on everyone, from the millionaire to the homeless person on the street. This is sad to me, it breaks my heart because I know if everyone one of us would only take a moment, look in the mirror, see the truth, and make the corrections, lives could be transformed. The Bible clearly warns of the danger and consequences of not receiving correction.

The jails, prisons, mental hospitals, homeless shelters, and many homes are filled with who those who refused correction. Yes, filled with people from every walk of life; mothers, fathers, rich, poor, those who refuse to hear the truth or heed correction.

Romans 1:28; "And even as they did not retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a debased mind, to do those things which are not fitting;"

A debased mind is, "to make lower in value, quality, character, dignity, etc. cheapens; deprave, suggests gross degeneration, especially with reference to morals; to corrupt, debauch, pervert."

If you read the verses in Romans 1:29-32, it's a list, a picture of the Roman Empire before its fall. It's also a vivid description of what is around us today in our culture of refusing to take correction. So what is the conclusion? May we each be eager to receive correction today and in doing so, we will make for a better way tomorrow.

GEORGE S. BARNARD

East County lost a true friend last week... George Barnard was out surveying a horse trail when his horse spooked at a cattle guard crossing, causing him to fall from his horse, resulting in a fatal injury.

George Barnard, an East County resident of more than 40 years, was an active member in the community. He had volunteered, founded and had affiliations with numerous non-profit groups including, but not limited to: the Lakeside Boys & Girls Club, Olaf Wieghorst Museum, Mother Goose Parade Association, the Lakeside and El Cajon Valley Lions Club, Optimist, D.A.R.E., the Lakeside Planning Group, Lakeside Rodeo Grounds, East County Equestrian Foundation and the El Cajon Animal Shelter.

George and his wife Marty were partners in their business East County Feed and Supply on Woodside Avenue in Santee for the past 15 years.

George Barnard had a smile and a hug for almost everyone. He was a valued member of the community and an inspiration to everyone. He will be truly missed.

A Celebration of Life for George will be Sunday, March 8, 2 p.m. at the Lakeside Rodeo grounds hall. There will be plenty of 'George's Cowboy Cookin'. Anyone that would like to attend to honor George is welcome. Everyone will have a good time remembering George.

In lieu of flowers, we are requesting donations in memory of George be made to the Fisher House Foundation for wounded vets. The link is; <https://www.fisherhouse.org> George S. Barnard III

For Health's Sake

How to slow down life and enjoy the ride — right now

Four considerations to help you embrace the moment

It's finally Friday night, the beginning of a weekend of freedom, which also happens to include your birthday. Your family, friends and spouse all have celebratory plans for you.

You have a rewarding career and a network of beautiful people who want to rejoice in your life. As you walk out to your car to officially kickoff the fun, a giddy thrill washes over you.

But as you click the seatbelt into place, rather than sitting in awe of how lucky you are, a list of concerns begin worming their way into your consciousness: "I need gas, but the conveniently located gas station charges more than others ... I hope it's not a surprise party ... Maybe I should get the beverages I like before going home ... I haven't been to the gym all week ... Did I pay the electric bill?"

And so it goes.

"I think we've all had this experience, which often has us psychically living 30 minutes into the future — no matter how great the present circumstances might be," says Steve Gilliland (www.stevegilliland.com), a member of the Speaker Hall of Fame and author of the widely acclaimed "Enjoy The Ride," for which he is set to publish a follow-up that will be released in May 2015.

"Are we doomed to this torrent of noise which distracts us from enjoying our life? We don't have to be."

- Don't live your life 30 minutes ahead of the present. If you won't live your life now, in the present, then who will?

"An older man came up to me, grabbed my hand, and said he wished he'd heard me speak decades ago," Gilliland says. "After I asked why, he said that when he was eating lunch on break or dinner with his family, he was always thinking about what he had to do after the meal, which represented his daily life. 'At the age of 97,' he said, 'I've officially lived my life 30 minutes ahead' — 30 minutes ahead of whatever he was doing at the moment."

- Laugh more! It's better than crying before you're hurt. Don't put your umbrella up until it rains. Worry restricts your ability to think and act effectively, and it forces you to mortgage fear and anxiety about something that may never occur. Laughter is the opposite. When you laugh, you're living almost completely in the moment, and it's one of the best feelings you can have.

- No one can ruin your day without your permission. As much as we cannot control in life — our genes, our past and what has led up to today — there is much control we may take upon ourselves. Today, for example, we can understand that life picks on everyone, so when the going gets tough, we don't have to take it personally. When we do take misfortune personally, we tend to obsess, giving a legacy to something that may make you a day poorer in life.

- Cure your destination disease. Live more for today, less for tomorrow, and never about yesterday. How? You might have to repeatedly remind yourself that yesterday is gone forever, yet we perpetually have to deal with now, so why not live it? And what if tomorrow never occurs? There is a difference between working toward the future, which is inherently enjoyable in light of hope, and living in an unrealistic future that remains perpetually elusive. If tomorrow never comes, would you be satisfied with the way today ended?

"It is not how you start in life and it is not how you finish," Gilliland says. "The true joy of life is in the trip, so enjoy the ride!"

Laughter is the Best Medicine

Faith

A climber fell off a cliff, and, as he tumbled down, he caught hold of a small branch.

"Help! Is there anybody up there?" he shouted.

A majestic voice boomed through the gorge:

"I will help you, my son, but first you must have faith in me."

"Yes, yes, I trust you!" cried the man.

"Let go of the branch," boomed the voice.

There was a long pause, and the man shouted up again, "Is there anybody else up there?"

The Council for Youth Empowerment (CYE) awarded 92 outstanding individuals, ages 6 years old to age 75 years young, with the PRESIDENT'S VOLUNTEER SERVICE AWARD, a national honor offered in recognition of volunteer service. The ceremony took place February 21, 2015, at the Alpine Community Center

Honorees, for service performed during 2014, have collectively amassed over 50,000 hours of volunteer service throughout San Diego County, Orange County and Los Angeles County. Many honorees are community Ambassadors, pageant titleholders, including ambassadors representing: Alpine, Mt. Empire, El Cajon, East SD County, College Grove, Lemon Grove, Chula Vista, Eastlake, Mission Valley, South Bay, Rancho San Diego, Spring Valley, San Diego County, Orange County, Los Angeles County and the City of San Diego

Established in 2003, the AWARD is available on an annual basis to individuals, groups and families who have met or exceeded requirements for volunteer service and have demonstrated exemplary citizenship through volunteering. Several outstanding volunteers were also presented with the Life Time Achievement Award for over 4,000 hours of Service. CYE confers the award to recognize the outstanding achievements of its volunteers.

CYE has a long history of volunteer service, and more than 200 volunteers, ages 6 years and up, perform community service each year on behalf of the organization.

"The Council for Youth Empowerment is proud to be aligned with this prestigious volunteer award, and we are especially proud of our volunteers who have made volunteer service a central part of their lives."

"These recipients of the PRESIDENT'S VOLUNTEER SERVICE AWARD are role models for their communities and for all Americans," CYE's Executive Director, Billie Sangster said. "Each volunteer hour contributed makes a difference in improving the quality of life for others, and I encourage everyone to contribute to our community by volunteering. Volunteers bring us closer together as families, as communities and as a Nation, through their commitment."

The AWARD is issued by the President's Council on Service and Civic Participation, a group created by President George W. Bush to recognize the valuable contributions volunteers are making to our Nation. Chaired by two-time Super Bowl Champion Darrell Green, with former U.S. Senators Bob Dole and John Glenn as honorary co-chairs, the Council comprises leaders in government, media, entertainment, business, education, nonprofits and volunteer service organizations, and community volunteering.

'The Drop Box'— one of the most heartwarming films ever made

Review by Diana Saenger

When University of Southern California student Brian Ivie read a Los Angeles Times article about Lee Jong-rak, a pastor in Seoul, South Korea, he was fascinated by the story. Pastor Lee was sympathetic to hundreds of abandoned babies that were being dropped off at night in the alleys and streets of Seoul. So concerned, he set up a "drop box" at the Ad hoc orphanage in part of his church to rescue babies, many with disabilities that would otherwise probably die.

Ivie became so moved by this story he co-founded the website Kindred Spirit to end child abandonment and create a culture of life in South Korea. Ivie went to Seoul to meet Lee along with co-producers Will Tober, Bryce Komae, and Sarah Choi, Kindred Image's Project Director. They decided to make a documentary film about this story.

The Drop Box is a heartwarming story and Ivie's team did a wonderful job of documenting how much love Lee and his wife, Chun-ja, have for these children along with their own. Their small three-bedroom home became a vibrant church and a group home for orphaned, abandoned and disabled children because of their own son, Eun-man.

As Pastor Lee and his wife cared for the tiny helpless newborn, they understood the preciousness of life made in God's image, and began to do everything they could to help him. His name Eun-Man means 'full of God's grace'— survive. Even though his 14 years in a hospital meant a significant financial burden, Lee worked long hours at a variety of jobs yet found time to spend not only with his son, but visiting the other special-needs children in the hospital and ministering to them and their families.

The rescued children will steal the hearts of movie-goers. Any disability aside is easily forgotten by loveable smiling and happy faces. On-ew, who has Down Syndrome and has recently learned to walk, arrived in a cardboard box outside Pastor Lee's front gate. Because she nearly froze to death before he discovered her, he knew he had to do something. He made and installed the baby box on the side of his home, with this sign: "This is a facility for the protection of life. If you can't take care of your disabled babies, don't throw them away or leave them on the street. Bring them here."

Hana, the child of a 14-year-old mother who had abused drugs and alcohol during pregnancy, would also come under the care of Lee and Chun-ja. Severely disabled, the doctors expected her to survive only a few months. Yet, under the care of loving people, Hana lived more than six years. Pastor Lee grieved deeply and vowed he would never turn away a challenged child.

Gi-ri was a premature baby who is visually and hearing impaired, and has had two open-heart surgeries, and will need two more as he ages. He was abandoned at the hospital when the challenges became too much for his family to bear. Pastor Lee and Chun-ja took him in and named him Gi-ri, which means "victory," because they want him to have victory over his physical limitations.

Ru-ri may be missing some fingers and toes, but that does not slow him down. He is talkative and energetic, and in the film he is 10-years-old. He was recently elected president of his third-grade class. His is the first voice heard in the film when the bell rings for the baby box, he says. "A war in heaven." Pastor Lee and Chun-ja adopted Ru-ri when he was very young. Over the past few years he has caught the vision for their life-saving mission. "I want to inherit my dad's work," he said. "Because if I don't, my dad's effort will disappear. I will help and add my own effort, and eventually pass it down to my own child."

The loving care shown in this film has not only enriched the lives of many tiny helpless babies, but also had a huge impact on the documentary team. Actually sleeping on the floor there, their time gave them a solid picture of what Lee and his wife were doing in part of the Jusarang Community Church. As this powerful true story came to life, the team found God, and a new mission.

Ivie, who attended the screening I was at, said he wanted to make movies from the time he was nine. "I thought I would fulfill my dreams, but instead I found the meaning of life in places of suffering and pain."

Invited by Pastor Lee to come live with them while he shot the documentary, Ivie saw real courage for the first time in his life.

"I realized that I was one of those kids too; that I have a crooked soul, all this brokenness inside, but God still wanted me."

Pastor Lee was flown in for the screening from Korea and said through an interpreter, "I am overwhelmed by His grace that I am here in the United States. This is not something I did, we did it together. My calling is something we all share, helping those under oppression and wiping away the tears in their eyes. This is something the Holy Spirit is guiding me to bear but also something he has given me and you to help those in need."

Kelly Rosati, VP of Community Outreach at Focus on the Family, said, "We all are not going to be a Pastor Lee. But we can help orphans in South Korea, around the world or the 100's of thousands of orphans we have here in the United States, and that's one of the things we hope to accomplish from this film."

The Drop Box comes to movie theaters for three nights only - March 3, 4 and 5, 2015. For more information, visit: <http://thedropboxfilm.com>

CITYOF EL CAJON

Following is a summary of an Ordinance introduced at the Joint Meeting of the City Council/Housing Authority/Successor Agency to the El Cajon Redevelopment Agency on February 24, 2015. Full text is available in the City Clerk's Office, 200 Civic Center Way, El Cajon, California.

ORDINANCE NO. ____

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EL CAJON AMENDING TITLE 2 BY ADDING CHAPTER 2.80 TO THE EL CAJON MUNICIPAL CODE TO ESTABLISH ALTERNATIVE PROCUREMENT PROCEDURES FOR PUBLIC PROJECTS

This proposed ordinance adds a new Chapter 2.80 to Title 2 of the El Cajon Municipal Code, which pertains to procurement procedures for construction of the City's public projects, in order to provide definitions and guidelines and establish procedures to allow the City to utilize procedures for the award of public construction projects that are alternatives to traditional design-bid-build procedure, including, but not limited to, design-build methods.

This proposed ordinance is intended to provide the City the flexibility to use several alternate procedures, including the design-build method, alone or in combination with other methods consistent with the proposed ordinance, in the solicitation, design, qualification, evaluation, selection, award, and construction of public construction contracts for projects that will benefit from the efficiencies of these alternate procedures.

Pet of the Week

Penny's Story...

"Howdie, folks! My name is PENNY, and I'm a fun-loving and playful pooch. I'm a pit bull mix who's about two years old, and I love people. I'm friendly, exuberant, and full of life. Since I'm still learning how to control my energy, I'd do best in a home without kids. I'm ready and willing to learn good manners, and I just need somebody who'll teach me. I've already started working on some things, and I know how to sit. I'm what you'd call a diamond in the "ruff." I already have an affectionate temperament and a joy for life, so I'm half way there. I'd do best in a home where I'm the only dog, and I'd need to have a good-sized yard so that I can romp around. As with most dogs, I'll also do best with a daily walk. The shelter staff isn't sure if I was house trained by my last owners, so I might need to work on that when I get to my new home. I'm a smart girl who wants to please, so I think I can learn the ropes in no time, if you'll just take the time to teach me. Why don't you come visit me so we can get to know each other better? The El Cajon Animal Shelter has a nice play yard where we can do just that. I hope to see you very soon! Love, Penny" Kennel #47

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF GEORGE R. WALLS CASE NO. 37-2015-00005361-PR-LA-CTL ROA #: 1 (IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: GEORGE R. WALLS

A Petition for Probate has been filed by DIANE J. PETERS in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO.

The Petition for Probate requests that DIANE J. PETERS be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 4/7/2015 at 11:00 a.m. in Dept. PC-1 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: Scott Cole, 8264 University Avenue, La Mesa, CA 91942, Telephone: (619) 460-2080
