brey C. Sears, County Motor Parts, La Mesa Glass & Paint, Al Archard, Elk's Lodge, Jack Hannia Pontiac Company and Safeway Stores, just to name a few. Without these sponsors, there would have been no parade. These were the businesses and people who, through their generosity and vision, have made available the basic financing to make the parade possible and 69 years later, the Parade is still a very important part of the community.

The Mother Goose Parade Association is and has always been a fully volunteer board. This means that every nickel that is donated, goes into the parade.

In the 1950's and the 60's, it wasn't unusual for the parade to have 60 plus floats. Compare that to floats in recent years, and one can see that there's a lot of work to be done! That's why the Mother Goose Parade Association is shouting out to all the businesses in El Cajon and East County to get involved with Mother Goose Parade. Sponsorships are available in many forms: Floats, trophies, grand stands, stages, bands and the list goes on. How fun would it be to see a beautiful float go through the parade with your business name.

All floats must be themed for Mother Goose or the theme of the parade, which is 'Super Heroes' this year. However, the names of the sponsoring company are on the float for everyone, including many television stations to see!

Parkway Plaza, float sponsor for Santa.

Last year, the Mother Goose Parade Association changed the parade route, to begin on Main Street and end at Parkway Plaza. This year, the Parade Association has decided to change the parade to Saturday instead of on Sunday. This will allow many more people to participate in and volunteer for the parade. This decision was made over several years. The board was reluctant to switch, but the need for volunteers has grown tremendously and this ultimately made the board realize it was time to change.

If you are interested in sponsorships or volunteering for the parade, please call Debbie at (619) 445-4613 or email her at: debbie@mgpelcajon.com

Senator Anderson's Corner

Town Hall meeting

by Joel Brodfuehrer
State Senator
Joel Anderson's
Community Coffee

Senator Anderson

Townhall meeting last month in Santee brought great optimism for constituents who wanted to voice their opinion and engage in community building. Hosted by Santee's Mayor Voepel, the community coffee welcomed all ideas and questions about state government.

With all of the important feedback he received from his constituents, Anderson expressed his gratitude. "I want to thank all of you who took the time to attend this community coffee because you are helping me make government work for you. The purpose of my office is to improve the lives of my constituents. Whether it's providing assistance to solve a problem with a state agency, or listening to your ideas to improve state government, I am here to serve you," said Anderson.

Throughout the event, constituents commented on issues affecting San Diego today such as infrastructure concerns, the drought, workers compensation, as well as current bills pending in the Senate. The community coffee meeting offered an opportunity for the 120 in attendance to voice their opinions directly to their representative. One attendee, Heather, used the opportunity to thank Senator Anderson for standing up for parental rights. "You have not backed down, you've held feet to the fire, you've been the only one who stood up for us [parents] consistently, and you've been transparent... it means so much. So thank you," said Heather.

If anyone missed the last Community Coffee, but has a suggestion to improve the government or need assistance with a state agency, call Anderson's office at (619) 596-3136 or email him at Senator.Anderson@sen.ca.gov.

Inspiration

I'm totally tired with El Negativity

by Dr. James L. Snyder

I will admit throughout the years I have had my negative moments and some negative rants. I know nobody can be 100 percent positive.

That being said, I think to have a positive outlook on life makes life happier, and who doesn't want to have a happy life. The focus on the negative without any regard to the positive can be a very shocking life experience.

Everybody knows you have to have both a negative and positive for electricity to work. Do not ask me how that works; I have been shocked a few times and still I am in the dark.

I know there are two sides to every situation and story. I know that. After all, I am a husband. Even though there are two sides to every story, sometimes one side does not come to the surface.

Every relationship has ups and downs; times when you get along and then there are times that you do not get along. However, I have found that if you accent the positive in a relationship and put the negative in the back closet, things seem to go along much more smoothly. As a husband, I have learned to choose my battles carefully and then once I have chosen a certain battle, I need to forget it. I have learned, get on with life by getting along with your wife.

I try to keep up with the stories on the news. It seems that you cannot get away from the news these days with all of this 24/7 kind of exposure. Whoever came up with this ought to be electrocuted. I am tired of news, news, news. And most of it negative.

I think it might be great, although it will not last very long, to have a news program some time devoted just to "good news." The way things are today, I do not know if there is any good news out there. All we hear is the bad. The worse the news, the more publicity it gets on the media.

Then there are politics. I think there could be something positive to say about politics, but at this moment, nothing really comes to my mind. I will give this a lot of thought (actually not too much thought) and just see if there is anything positive I can say about politics.

I think some people are negative because they really do not know how to be positive. Nothing in their life seems to be positive and so the outcome is they are negative about everything.

If only we could all agree on what is positive, then agree on what is negative and then try to find a balance between the two, it might serve us rather well. But that is asking too much, at least with the row of politicians standing before us these days.

Religion is also full of negativity. I am tired of all the negative comments that come out of the mouth of people who are religious.

The problem with religion is the same problem with politics. The people running religion are the ones causing all the problems. If we just get rid of leaders in our country today who are all negative, we might have a chance of looking on a positive future.

Jesus had a positive message. "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest" (Matthew 11:28).

I know can we cannot be 100 percent positive, but I think we should focus a little more on the positive and really enjoy the rest God has for us.

Dear Dr. Luauna — Proclaiming Liberty to the Captives

Dear Readers,

We met a precious mother at our Thrift Store about a month ago; she came in looking for tennis shoes for her son, he was somewhere living on the streets walking around with no shoes. Her heart was broken. After work she would search for him, not knowing if he was dead or alive. Her heart ached for her boy; she wanted to make sure he had something to eat, warm clothes and shoes. Tears filled her eyes as she expressed her worry for her son, we prayed with her and she received Jesus, we prayed for her son's safety and asked her to bring him to our church service.

The mom returned the following week, she still couldn't find him, she gave us her phone number and we continued praying. The next week, she walked into the Thrift Store with him; he was a young man, in his early 20s, confused, angry, and scared. He didn't have to live on the streets, his mother was trying to take him home to shower and have some hot meals, but he refused. Carrying all his belongings, he walked in the door; he managed to say these words, clearly: "I need help; I need Jesus to help me!" We all prayed together and tears streamed down his face. His mother was so relieved, she managed to take him home and feed him. The next evening, he walked into our Friday night church service with his mother and sister. After the message, he came forward for prayer; the altar workers prayed with him and embraced him with the love of Jesus.

A few days passed, we didn't see him again, his mother was calling to see if we knew anything, then he walked into the Thrift Store with all of his belongings. A friend of ours, a precious Korean senior lady just so happened to visit at the same time; she prayed for his freedom with power and compassion for the young man. That night he returned for our Wednesday church service; during the worship music I looked over and he was lying down on his belongings trying to sleep, I walked over and gently asked him to sit in the chair. During the message, the power of the Lord was moving upon the young man, at the time of prayer, he went to the altar, the workers prayed with him and he said, "I don't want to leave this altar!" They continued praying and praying for him.

Within just one week, we have watched right before our eyes, the transformation of this young man, the power of God bringing freedom from fear, anger and confusion. The unconditional love of Christ and patience of the Holy Spirit has made the difference for him, restoring his mind.

Jesus said in Luke 4:18; The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He has anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed; to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

Can a young man be set free from drugs, confusion, insanity, depression and despair? Yes! Nothing is impossible with Jesus! Moms, don't give up, God hears your prayers for your children, and He sees the tears you cry and the brokenness of your heart for your loved ones. I will pray with you, please contact me with your prayer requests. I love you in Jesus!

For Health's Sake

Grossmont Healthcare District honors 2015 Healthcare Heroes

An eye surgeon, a retired physician, twin sisters, a parent of adult children with disabilities and the first male president of a hospital's auxiliary were among local volunteers recently recognized with 2015 Healthcare Hero awards from the Grossmont Healthcare District (GHD). Now in its ninth year, the Healthcare Heroes is GHD's annual awards program that honors volunteers who help advance the delivery of quality healthcare in the East County region.

"The purpose of these Healthcare Hero awards is to recognize volunteers whose unsung work in health care might not otherwise be recognized," said Grossmont Healthcare District 2015 board president Bob Ayres. "This year's group of honorees demonstrated extraordinary and inspirational care and selfless dedication that has played a critical role towards a healthier East County community." This year's honorees included:

Dr. Andrew Alongi of San Carlos, a retired physician and member of the La Mesa Lions Club, volunteers with International Catholic Families at Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church in El Cajon. Specializing in internal medicine and geriatrics, Alongi, 71, provided for the health care needs of East County residents for four decades until his retirement in 2014. From 2009 to 2013, he volunteered at the El Cajon clinic of Volunteers in Medicine, a nonprofit that brings together medical professionals and patients who do not have health insurance.

Anjelika Cannon and Veronica Cannon of El Cajon have volunteered about 1,500 hours together at Sharp Grossmont Hospital since June 2012 at the end of their ninth grade year at Steel Canyon High School. Now in 12th grade, the twins help train new junior volunteers and participate at the American Heart Association's Heart & Stroke Walk. They were adopted at age 4 in September 2011 by Amy and Dan Cannon from an orphanage in the small Russian city of Kudymkar, near southwestern Siberia.

Michael Dutcher of San Diego is a volunteer at Noah Homes, a residential community in Spring Valley for adults with developmental disabilities. He began volunteering at Noah Homes in 2010 after his daughter Jane had moved there (she now lives at another facility). Michael's son Tommy has lived at Noah Homes since 2009. His service includes escorting residents on field trips, assisting with on-site activities and picking up donated home goods. The 79-year-old was named Noah Homes' 2014 Volunteer of the Year.

Richard Hart of La Mesa has volunteered more than 4,500 hours at Grossmont Hospital during the past 11 years. The retired high school teacher (he taught English and Social Studies at El Cajon Valley High School for 38 years), served as president of the Grossmont Hospital Volunteer Auxiliary in 2011 and 2012. He will forever be known as the Auxiliary's first male president since the Auxiliary was founded in 1952, prior to the hospital's opening in 1955. Today, Hart, 72, serves on statewide committees with organizations that represent more than 100,000 hospital volunteers in California. His father, Benton Hart, also worked for the Grossmont Union High School District serving as Helix High School's first principal from the first day of school in 1952 to 1975.

Dr. David J. Najafi of San Diego is a practicing vitreoretinal surgeon with a private practice based in La Mesa called Alliance Retinal Consultants, Inc. Since 2010 as a volunteer physician for Project Access San Diego (PASD), he has helped restoring and preserving the gift of eyesight to uninsured or under-insured East County residents who cannot afford specialty surgeries. He donates one or more surgeries nearly every month at various surgical centers in San Diego and La Mesa. His patients suffer from diabetic retinopathy, ocular tumors and other diseases of the eye.

'Love and Mercy' reveals the highs and lows of the Beach Boys'

Review by Diana Saenger

From the moment the film Love & Mercy starts and the music of the iconic Beach Boys begins, I was sucked into this story, feet tapping most of the way through the film. Writers Oren Moverman and Michael Alan Lerner's screenplay tap into everything about the Beach Boys we loved in the 1960s and after as well as the mystery and surprises that surrounds this group.

While concentrating on the success, fun, and dedication of the band to tour and perform catchy songs such as "Surfer Girl," "Fun, Fun, Fun," "Good Vibrations," "God Only Knows" "I Get Around" and "Surfing Safari," Brian Wilson, the genius writer of most of their music, was beginning to show signs of mental problems.

Paul Dano plays the younger Brian Wilson with musical abilities that far exceed anything we realized while dancing to the beat of those tunes in the early years. The story begins with Brian (John Cusack) as a grown man trying to make sense of his life and where it went wrong. It alternates back and forth between the 20 years earlier when their real lives began to overtake the ones behind the songs.

As Brian begins to pull some really offbeat antics that frighten everyone, he also has a panic attack on an airplane. It's at that point he tells the band he no longer wants to fly but stay behind and create the songs. His genius was insane and actually sent him in that direction. He could write the music for a 20 piece orchestra as their background and fuss over changing a note on something as simple as a tambourine.

After hearing voices in his head – supposedly brought on by his father continuing to slap him on the side of his head, Brian turned to drugs. He gets married, divorced and ends up in one manic situation after another. Dano was born to play this character. He has the ability to create a unique weirdness in faulty characters. As Paul Sunday in Let There Be Blood, Dano stood tall against every actor even the terrific Daniel Day-Lewis. But I also enjoyed him behind the mic and belting out the high notes of Brian's part in the songs.

About that, Dano who performs a few portions of Wilson compositions on piano, said, "There are a few scenes where you hear me start a line of a song and by the end of the session, you're hearing Brian's vocals. I have to give credit to the sound people, the transitions are really smooth; you can't tell that one half of it is the real thing and one half is me faking it, so I thank those guys a lot."

The parallel narrative that covers two specific time periods of Wilson's life: the 1960s and the 1980s is also superbly played by Cusack. He meets Melinda Ledbetter (Elizabeth Banks) when he goes to buy a Cadillac. She's intrigued by the man with no clue who he is but curious by the 3-man entourage that accompany him and giving the orders to write up the contract.

Brian begins to pursue her – even though his official guardian, also his therapist; Eugene Landy (Paul Giamatti) doesn't want Brian to get involved with her. She attends a family barbecue where Landy practically assaults Brian because he's hungry and wants to eat a burger. Things get worse from there on and Melinda realizes Landy is conniving and bad for Brian's recovery.

Banks is great in the role. Early on at a dinner Brian asked Melinda why she didn't have a boyfriend. She replies, "He broke my heart." Brian says he shouldn't have done that. She replies, "I shouldn't have let him." It's part of that lesson along with genuinely caring for Brian that makes her take dangerous steps to right wrongs and save him.

I can't remember a movie that I did not like Giamatti in, but I sure did not like his character in this film. First look at him made me laugh as his hairdo looks like something a clown would wear. But Giamatti creates a genuine distrustful man that but for Melinda could have been the end of Brian's life.

Bill Camp gives us chills as the boy's father who is more a deterrent in their lives than a mentor. Kenny Wormald as Dennis, Jake Abel as cousin Mike Love, Brett Davern as Carl Wilson and Graham Rogers as friend Al Jardine fill in the band very well.

Anyone who enjoys the Beach Boys' songs and want answers to situations many have pondered for years will not want to miss this movie. Director Bill Pohlad has a mas-

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF
WALTER D. DOTSETH
CASE NO. 37-2015-00018625-PR-PW-CTL
ROA #: 1
(IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: WALTER D. DOTSETH

A Petition for Probate has been filed by MICHAEL A. DOTSETH in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO.

The Petition for Probate requests that MICHAEL A. DOTSETH be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The Petition requests the decedent’s will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 8-06-2015 at 1:30 pm in Dept. PC-2 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court.

If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

CITY OF EL CAJON
ORDINANCE NO. 5027

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EL CAJON ADDING A
NEW CHAPTER 15.86 TO THE EL CAJON
MUNICIPAL CODE, DESIGNATING VERY HIGH FIRE HAZARD SEVERITY ZONES AND WILDLAND URBAN INTERFACE
AREAS WITHIN ITS JURISDICTIONAL BOUNDARIES

WHEREAS the International Wildland Urban Interface Code, now Chapter 7A of the California Building Code, has been adopted by reference as the urban interface code of the City of El Cajon; and

WHEREAS the City desires to establish the minimum requirements for the protection of life, limb, health, property, safety and welfare of the general public, and the owners and occupants of structures in the City, and maintenance of all buildings and structures within the City, and incidental matters relating thereto; and

WHEREAS it is necessary that the City designate Very High Fire Hazard Severity Zones and Wildland Urban Interface Areas within its jurisdictional boundaries because of the threat of catastrophic wildfires based on the topography of valleys and drainages combined with steep grades and hillsides that have the consistency of extremely flammable vegetation that creates hazardous fire conditions based on the close proximity to structures; and the climatic conditions of hot temperatures, low humidity and winds that the City of El Cajon experiences.

NOW THEREFORE, THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EL CAJON DOES HEREBY ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. Chapter 15.86 is hereby added to the El Cajon Municipal Code to read as follows:

Responsibility Areas.

The City of El Cajon hereby designates Very High Fire Hazard Severity Zones and Wildland Urban Interface Areas within its jurisdictional boundaries pursuant to California Government Code Section 51179. The Very High Fire Hazard Severity Zones and Wildland Urban Interface Areas designated by this ordinance are designated on a map titled El Cajon Fire Hazard Severity Zones, dated January 27, 2009, and retained on file at the Fire Department Administrative Office and the Building and Fire Safety Division in El Cajon City Hall. This map is intended to supersede other maps previously adopted by the City of El Cajon designating high fire hazard areas.

SECTION 2. Pursuant to California Government Code Section 51179(g), the City of El Cajon shall post a notice at the offices of the county recorder, county assessor, and county planning agency identifying the Fire Department Administrative Office and the Building and Fire Safety Division in El Cajon City Hall as the location of the map entitled El Cajon Fire Hazard Severity Zones. Pet of the Week — Baxter

“Are you ready for some happiness in your life? Let me help you! My name is BAXTER, and I’m a friendly, playful, and downright cute pooch. I’m a terrier/Shih Tzu blend, and I’m just one year old. I love everybody, so I’d be a wonderful family pet. I love to play fetch with tennis balls out in the nice play yard that they have here at the El Cajon Animal Shelter, and I really enjoy going for walks. After I get my daily exercise, I’ll be ready to snuggle. I get along great with other dogs, too. I’m an all-around fun and fabulous fellow. The shelter staff is pretty sure that I’ve already been house trained, but I might need a quick refresher course when I get to my new home. I’m a youngster who’s smart and willing to please, so I’m ready to learn whatever you’d like to teach me. Won’t you please come visit me? Let’s spend some time out in the play yard getting better acquainted so you can see what a good boy I am. I hope to see you soon! Love, Baxter” Kennel #58

How to put the brakes on car sickness - Part 1

With summer travel right around the corner, many of us plan on hitting the road with our pooches for a little summer fun. However, for some four-legged family members, road trips can mean upset tummies.

Queasiness in the car is not just a human problem. Dogs and puppies do sometimes experience motion sickness on car rides. Unfortunately, car sickness can make any kind of pet travel a distressing ordeal for both dogs and their families.

Car sickness doesn’t have to be a serious or lasting problem for your pet. With the right treatment, it can be mitigated, or even stopped altogether.

There are several causes of car sickness in dogs and puppies. The most common include:

- Immature ears. In puppies, the ear structures that regulate balance aren’t fully developed, which can cause them to be extra sensitive to motion sickness. Many dogs will outgrow car sickness as they age.

- Stress. If traveling in the car has only led to unpleasant experiences for your dog - to vet exams, for example -- he may literally be worried sick about the journey.

- Self-conditioning. If your dog experienced nausea on his first car rides as a puppy, he may associate car rides with illness, and expect to get sick in the car.

Car sickness doesn’t look like you might expect it to in dogs, and you might not even realize that this is the challenge you’re dealing with. Here are some symptoms to look out for:

- Inactivity/lethargy
- Restlessness
- Excessive/repetitive yawning
- Whining/crying
- Hyper-salivation (drooling)
- Vomiting

If your dog is suffering from car sickness, symptoms will typically disappear within a few minutes after the car comes to a stop.

Fortunately, there are a number of different methods available to help prevent and/or treat canine car sickness.

1. Increase His Comfort Level • Turn your dog so that he faces forward. Motion sickness is related to the brain’s ability to process movement. The less blurring movement he sees out the window, the better he might feel.

- Keep your dog as close to the front seat as possible (but not in the front seat). The farther back in the car you go, the more you sense motion.

Stop car sickness

- Opening the windows a crack. This brings in fresh air, which is soothing, and helps reduce air pressure.

- Avoid feeding your dog for a few hours before a car trip.

- Transport him in a travel crate. A crate will limit his view to the outside, and will help to keep any sickness he may have confined to a small space.

- Keep the temperature low. Heat, humidity and stuffiness can exacerbate car sickness.

- Distract him. Toys, soothing music, or just hearing you speak may help calm and distract a high-strung dog.

- Take frequent breaks. Getting out for fresh air or to stretch your legs can help him feel better periodically.
