Weekend storm means irrigation systems must be turned off

A record-breaking tropical rainstorm over the weekend has triggered state and local requirements to turn off irrigation systems. By state law, it's illegal to irrigate landscapes during measurable rainfall and for 48 hours afterward. As a practical matter, irrigation systems can be left off for much longer after the significant rain that drenched San Diego County on Saturday and Sunday.

Widespread compliance with irrigation turn-off rules will give the region a big boost toward meeting state-mandated conservation targets of 12 to 36 percent for the Water Authority's member agencies. In June, urban potable water use in San Diego County declined by approximately 26 percent compared to June 2013, according to preliminary numbers released by the San Diego County Water Authority. That followed a decrease of 30 percent in May compared to May 2013—an accomplishment that was aided by unusually cool and wet weather that month.

"The region took advantage of the May rainstorms to really drive down water use, and this weekend's downpour will help our region maintain its early success in meeting the state's water-saving mandates if everyone takes full advantage it," said Jason Foster, director of conservation and public outreach for the Water Authority.

"We've still got some of the hottest and driest months of the year ahead, so we've got to continue to save in every possible way."

With last weekend's storm, rainfall at Lindbergh Field in San Diego is about average for the water year, which started Oct. 1. However, a couple of good storms has not ended California's drought, which is in its fourth consecutive year.

Outdoor watering accounts for more than half of a typical household's water use in California, and it has become a focal point for water conservation efforts as the drought extends into a fourth consecutive year. The regional drought response strategy centers on decreasing ornamental landscape irrigation first to minimize the economic disruption caused by cuts to water used by industrial, commercial and farming operations. Water conserved by residents and businesses will remain in storage in case dry conditions continue into 2016 and beyond.

For information about water-use rules by community, along with details about drought conditions and conservation-related resources, go to www.whenindrought.org.

Congressman Davis announces $5.2 million to expand Sweetwater Drinking Water Facility

U.S. Rep. Susan Davis (D-San Diego) announced a $5.2 million federal grant for the Sweetwater Authority to expand a desalination facility. The grant from the Department of the Interior will go toward increasing the desalination capabilities of the Richard A. Reynolds Desalination Facility from 3,600 acre-feet per year (AFY) of water to 8,000 AFY.

"Increasing sources of reliable drinking water and our region's water independence must be a priority," said Davis. "California is in the grips of a historic drought and improving our water infrastructure will be key to surviving this drought and any future water shortages."

The water produced by the facility provides drinking water to residents of Bonita, Chula Vista and National City. The City of San Diego is partnering with the Sweetwater Authority in the expansion and will receive half of the water produced.

In March, Davis led a letter also signed by Reps. Duncan Hunter, Scott Peters and Juan Vargas to the Department of the Interior urging the federal grant funding for Sweetwater.

Santee City Council approves Santee Station for development — Magnolia Avenue shopping center to open in spring 2016

The Santee City Council recently approved the Santee Station for the development of a 16,942-square-foot, four-building commercial center, located on 2.65 acres at 8866 North Magnolia Ave. in Santee.

"This is a significant step in the ownership's plans to develop this important site," said Kyle Clark, senior director at The Heritage Group. "We have been working with the key tenants for 18 months to finalize a workable site plan and design. Fortunately, we were able to put a package together that will allow the Omelette Factory to stay in Santee."

The buildings are anticipated to be completed in January and the tenants will be able to complete their improvements and open for business in late March or early April of 2016, Clark said. The now-completed 52 freeway terminates at the intersection of Highway 67, Magnolia Avenue and Prospect Avenue, creating a revitalized eastern gateway to the city of Santee.

The Omelette Factory signed a 15-year lease for a 4,030-square-foot build-to-suit space at the new retail center. Clark represented the owner and tenant in securing the lease. The Heritage Group is See SANTEE STATION page 5

The land, which is owned by Cameron Brothers, has been vacant for close to 30 years. The property had been home to Hanley's Steak House restaurant and Buy-Lo market, which was torn down in August 2001. Prior to that, the land was near the Santee Railroad Station.

The new development's name, Santee Station, pays tribute to the land's history.

The site may feature railroad-themed enhancements, possibly utilizing old rails as a component of the monument signage.

"The Cameron Family is excited about the ZAAP-designed development and the relocation of The Omelette Factory to Santee Station," said Jim Moxham, CEO at Cameron Brothers Company. Laughter is the Best Medicine

My dog can speak

A guy has a talking dog. He brings it to a talent scout. "This dog can speak English," he claims to the unimpressed agent.

The guys says to the dog, "What's on the top of a house?" "Roof!" the dog replies. "Oh, come on..." the talent agent responds. "All dogs go 'roof'." "No, wait," the guy says.

He asks the dog, "What does sandpaper feel like?" "Rough!" the dog answers. The talent agent gives a condescending stare. He is losing his patience. "No, hang on," the guy says. "This one will amaze you."

He turns and asks the dog: "Who, in your opinion, was the greatest baseball player of all time?" "Ruth!" barks the dog.

And the talent scout, having seen enough, boots them out of his office onto the street.

The dog then turns to the guy and says, "Maybe I shoulda said DiMaggio?"

Grace Schlesier, a local artist whose work engages the skills and technique established during the Impressionist Era, delivers contemporary landscapes, seascapes, and garden scenes. It seems that Schlesier's natural talent allows her to convey many moods and emotions to illustrate natural elements and scenic settings to create her masterpieces.

Schlesier submitted her beautiful paintings of East County landscapes to the state Senate's 2015-2016 Californian Contemporary Art Collection. Senator Joel Anderson had invited his constituents to submit artwork that best represents his district (East County and portions of North County of San Diego). Anderson recognized the artistic talent of her submissions with a Senate certificate of recognition and said, "Grace's beautiful artwork has gained notoriety across the United States and our community is fortunate to be home to such a talented artist whose love of East County is unmistakable in her art."

Schlesier believes the opportunity to lift one's spirit or brighten their day is what drives her heart and soul for the creation of her art. "I go out in the wind and weather and paint so people can sit back in their living room and enjoy the view" says Schlesier.

Schlesier often takes her paints outside the studio and utilizes the technique of plein air (on location) to capture the low desert sands, the raging loud water, or even to the rolling green foothills here in East County. "I am a plein air painter. It spikes my imagination all the time."

There are many places to admire Schlesier's artwork but one special event happening is "Art of the Park - 100 Years of Art in Balboa Park (1915-2015)" hosted by Save Our Heritage Organization at the Marston House Museum and Gardens. People can also enjoy Schlesier's art on www.graceschlesier.com

See Grace Schlesier's paintings on page 8.

Then the birthday card arrived

by Dr. James L. Snyder

When I was young, I always looked forward to my birthday. I could not wait until it came around and usually it was in the summer. I distinctly remember graduating from the age of nine to the double-digit number of 10, I thought I had arrived.

When I hit the age of 16 and got my driver's license and started driving around, of course my driving around was contingent upon my father allowing me to borrow his car. When I turned 18, however, I bought my own car.

At 20, I thought I arrived and had become a full-fledged adult. Becoming an adult was important until I realized how expensive it was to be an adult. Had I known that, I would have reverted to my sixth birthday.

Now that I am well beyond that magical age of 20, I am not so excited about birthdays. In fact, I would like to forget my birthday completely and how old I really am. This year I was making some good progress in this area.

My accomplice was the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage whose birthday is two days after mine. If we forget my birthday, she is counting on me forgetting her birthday. It all works out pretty well, except I'm not allowed to forget our anniversary.

Everything was going quite well and if anybody in any way suggested something about my birthday, I always directed them away from the subject.

For example, one friend approached me and said, "Don't you have a birthday this month?"

Without missing a beat, I said, "What do you think of Donald Trump running for president?"

It had the intended effect. For the next half hour, love him or hate him, my friend went on and on about Donald Trump running for president. I discovered that if you want to diverge attention away from one subject all you need to do is introduce something political. And it worked for me. I guess politics does have its place in our society.

By the time he finished talking politics, he forgot his initial question. I had not and was glad he had.

I have now come to appreciate politics more than ever. Normally, I have little time or patience for politics or politicians, unless they can get me out of a jam. Most of the time these politicians are getting me into a jam but here is one time I out of a jam by using politics.

The thing I have come to and I get no argument from my "Better Half," if you ignore or by chance forget your birthday in any year that birthday does not count.

Believe me; I am not looking for any birthday presents. I have just about everything I want and usually what people get me for my birthday is something I cannot use or do not even want. Therefore, the birthday presents are gone from my list of "Gotta Have."

My thought is, if I can ignore my birthday, then it does not exist. After all, I have had enough birthdays, thank you.

What I like to point out to people who argue with me on the subject is the fact that a birthday is just a number. Some people are all caught up with numbers; I only like numbers in my checkbook.

I do not want to know or care about how old I really am. After all, you are only as old as you feel and I must admit there have been times I felt 192. I guess everybody has been in that category.

Age does not make much difference, except when I can use it to my advantage. Like when I go to McDonald's and get a senior coffee. Then I bank on my age. If my age can save me a nickel, I will use it. Beside that, I have little time for how old I am.

I am hoping good old Uncle Sam has also forgotten my age. After all, when people reach a certain age, and I am trying to forget that age, he wants them to retire. Bless my heart; retirement is not in my plan. So, if I can keep my uncle from knowing how old I am he cannot talk me into some kind of early retirement. I plan to work myself to death.

I was doing quite well hiding my upcoming birthday when an incident happened. The mailman came and my wife went out to pick up the mail. When she came back, she handed me a package and said, "Here's a package from your publisher."

I was so excited, as you can imagine. That is, until I opened the package. It was a birthday card wishing me a happy birthday along with a birthday present. Thanks, I thought to myself, for reminding me I am getting old. Now that cat is out of the bag and I am not sure what to do next.

Maybe I will celebrate my birthday with an Apple fritter representing each year of my age. This year I might be 100.

I like what David said. "Now also when I am old and grey-headed, O God, forsake me not; until I have showed thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come" (Psalms 71:18).

No matter how old I get, God will always be faithful to His Word.

Dear Dr. Luauna — The Storm

Dear Readers,

With these storms which we have just had, I thought I would share about another storm. One day a group of amazing fishermen were out on their boat, like any other day on the sea it seemed no different. Then all of a sudden a storm hit, these were experienced fishermen, they had been in many storms before. But this storm took hold of their heart, and they were filled with fear. Have you felt like you have been in the storm of your life lately? Like the waves of life hit you and blindsided you? Seems like you have no answer for you circumstances?

Allow me to finish the story about these great fishermen, the waves beat so hard on the boat, and the wind blew so strong it was knocking and rocking their boat from one side to another, and was even filling up their boat with water. They thought for sure they were all going to die. In a panic, these fishermen ran from one side of the boat to the other trying to fix the problem but couldn't. Then they went down into the bottom of the boat to find, fast asleep a man named Jesus. He was sound asleep on a pillow like a baby sleeping so soundly. Waking him up, in a panic, "They yelled, 'Teacher, do you not care that we are perishing?'" Read Mark 4:35-41 to find out what happened!

What a powerful lesson for all of us who are going through a great storm in our lives. And yes, the storms will come! Yes, and at times you may feel like you just might die and there's no way out. But my dear friend, Jesus is not far away at all. He may seem like He's sleeping, but just a prayer or a cry out to Him gets His attention. Jesus is the storm calmer. Don't fear or faint. Jesus stood right in the middle of that great big storm and calmed the mighty sea.

Jesus is the same yesterday, today and He will be the same tomorrow. He loves you and is just waiting for you to call out to Him; and remember there is no storm too big for the Master.

Psalms 23: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.

He makes me to lie down in green pastures; He leads me beside the still waters. He restores my soul; He leads me in the paths of righteousness

For His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for You are with me; Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me. You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies;

You anoint my head with oil; My cup runs over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

'Southpaw' trumps boxing with family plot

Rachel McAdams and Jake Gyllenhaal star in Southpaw. Photo Credit: Scott Garfield / The Weinstein Company

Review by Diana Saenger

There's a saying that when one is at the top the only way next is down. That's Billy Hope's story in Southpaw. Labeled Billy "The Great" Hope, Billy (Jake Gyllenhaal) is the Light Heavyweight Boxing Champion of the World. He's also married to Maureen (Rachel McAdams), a sexy and caring woman, and they have a beautiful daughter, Leila (Oona Laurence).

The glamorous house, big career, loving wife and daughter lose their reign when a tragedy changes Billy's life. His career goes down the drain, his daughter is taken away and he ends up homeless, drinking and angry.

The only way from the bottom is up, and Billy struggles to attain that. When he sundered into Tick Willis's (Forest Whitaker) gym he's given a lashing by owner Tick about his last fight and why he's where he is at in his life. Forest brings some of his intense acting skills to his character, adding more drama to this plot.

This isn't the best film about boxing, but Gyllenhaal handles the role successfully including Billy's many battered faces, the angry brawls, not heeding Tick's advice, and agreeing to fight contender Miguel Escobar (Miguel Gomez), who wants Billy's title. Gyllenhaal did all of his own stunts and never had a stand-in in the ring. His charisma with McAdams is present in the beginning of the film, and his adoration for Leila is always uppermost on his mind.

Curtis "50 Cent" Jackson plays Billy's unreliable manager, who tries to step in again when Billy seeks redemption for the horrible things that have happened in his life.

McAdams' take on Maureen is solid. She stands by her husband's every decision but with a gentle hand in seeking his safety over career. Oona Laurence -- who's been acting for several years -- is terrific in the film as a daughter who loves her father deeply.

The fight scenes are brutal and a large part of the film, so anyone that would be bothered by them might think twice before seeing Southpaw.

Goofy scenes and laughs in 'Ant-Man'

Review by James Colt Harrison

Ant-Man, Ant-Man, where have you been? With the entire Marvel comic book characters having had their day on the big screens, Ant-Man seemed to have gotten lost in the rush to get the IMAX cameras focusing on all the other Avengers, Thors, and Ironmen pictures. Now, no more! Ant-Man is here with his own rollicking comedy action film that is sure to please even the most jaded of film-goers today.

Ant-Man, the dazzling new 3D film directed by Peyton Reed, is set in picturesque San Francisco. Cinematographer Russell Carpenter has pointed his 3D cameras in the direction of the Bay Area's most scenic views, and includes the lovely leading lady Evangeline Lilly as well.

Newly anointed leading man

Paul Rudd (as Scott Lang) is the chosen one for the magic Ant-Man suit that allows him to shrink down to the size of a gnat. And for what purpose? Mad scientist Dr. Hank Pym (Smoothly played by Oscar-winner Michael Douglas) needs to protect his sensational invention from the clutches of his former business partner Darren Cross (played by top character actor/villain Corey Stoll. He was so good in Netflix's House of Cards as the alcoholic Presidential candidate).

Dr. Pym selects former con-man Lang, now reformed, as the perfect candidate to help him pull off the most important heist that could save the world. Lang needs to acknowledge his inner strength and prove to his little girl (Abby Ryder Fortson) that he is, indeed, a hero. Lang's former wife (Judy Greer) and her new cop husband (Bobby Cannavale) at first are reluctant to trust him at all.

Along the path of saving the world from Cross's disastrous plans, Lang/Ant-Man meets various comical characters. The most outstanding is side-kick Luis, a dim-bulb security guy, played hilariously by Michael Pena. Without a doubt, Pena steals every scene he is in. Fortunately, the writers and director saw fit to allow him to run with the comedy at full throttle. Plus, the script—with more than seven writers credited—allows for plenty of witty dialogue and slapstick scenes to give the audience a few giggles between the stunning action scenes.

It's apparent the producers have concocted a top-notch production with the inclusion of Douglas as Dr. Pym. His acting is smooth, it's confident, and it's right on the mark as the slightly peculiar scientist. It's a pleasure to watch someone who has command of his talent.

Paul Rudd is just now coming into his own as a major leading man. Always good and showing his years of training for his big break, Rudd goes way back to Clueless, when he was a dimpled young man who was catnip to all the college girls. Still dimpled and cute, he now appeals to a more mature group of female fans. Ant-Man will boost his career with both the ladies and the teen set who love comic book-character films.

Ant-Man was more enjoyable to this reviewer than the other Marvel films because of the humor and goofy scenes that make audiences laugh. This is a happy addition to all the other famous Marvel film characters.

Particulars relative to work requirements will be discussed. City of El Cajon Personnel involved in this project will be present to answer pertinent inquiries. Interested contractors are invited, but not required to attend.

The plans and specifications show general information only. It shall be the bidder's responsibility to examine the project site(s) in order to determine the exact existing conditions, and the character and extent of the work to be performed. The bidder's omission, or failure to visit the project site(s) and acquaint itself with existing conditions shall in no way relieve the successful bidder from obligations with respect to the Contract. Submission of a bid shall be prima facie evidence of the bidder's compliance with this requirement.

Copies of the general prevailing wage rate of per diem wages, as determined by the California Director of Industrial Relations and by the US Department of Labor Statistics, are available from the websites of the respective agencies. Any successful bidder who intends to use a craft or classification not shown on the general prevailing wage determinations may be required to pay the wage rate of the craft or classification most closely related to it as shown in the general determinations effective at the time of the call for bids.

The Contractor and its subcontractors shall pay minimum labor wage rates as follows:

a) California General Prevailing Wage Rates In accordance with the provisions of Section 1773 of the California Labor Code, the City Council of the City of El Cajon has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages as determined by the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations applicable to the work to be done as listed in the California Department of Transportation publication entitled general Prevailing Wage Rates, dated March 1, 1994 which is on file in the office of the City Clerk.

Future effective wage rates which have been predetermined and are on file with the Department of Industrial Relations are referenced but not printed in said publication. Current determinations are available online at www.dir.ca.gov/OPRL/Pwd. Any contractor who is awarded the contract and intends to use a craft or classification not shown on the general prevailing wage determinations, may be required to pay the wage rate of that craft or classification most closely related to it as shown in the general determinations effective at the time of the call for bids.

b) Federal Minimum Wages Federal minimum wage rates for this project as predetermined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor are set forth in the Special Provisions. Current determinations are available online at <http://www.wdol.gov/>

If there is a difference between the Federal minimum wage rates predetermined by the U.S. Secretary of Labor and the prevailing wage rates determined by the City of El Cajon for a similar classification of labor, the Contractor and its subcontractors shall pay not less than the higher wage rate.

All bids submitted shall be accompanied by a check made payable to the City of El Cajon, and certified by a responsible bank, in an amount which shall not be less than 10% of the amount of the bid, or by a surety bond for said amount and so payable, executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of California, and satisfactory to said City.

A performance Bond and Labor and Material Bond, each in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, shall be executed by the successful bidder within ten days after the Notice of Award of Contract has been mailed. Securities or bank or savings and loan certificates of deposit may be substituted for any moneys withheld to ensure performance of the contract, pursuant to Section 22300 of the California Public Contract Code.

Bids shall be delivered to the Purchasing Agent at the 1st floor front counter of City Hall, 200 Civic Center Way, El Cajon, California 92020. At the time fixed for receiving bids, all bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared. The results of the bidding and the calculations of the bids will be reported to the City Council at a meeting subsequent to the date above set for the opening of bids.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids if it considers it necessary to do so for the public good, and it may reject the bid of any bidder who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the City.

In all contracts subject to this part where federal funds are involved, no bid submitted shall be invalidated by the failure of the bidder to be licensed in accordance with the laws of this state. However, at the time the contract is awarded, the contractor shall be properly licensed in accordance with the laws of this state. The first payment for work or material under any contract shall not be made unless and until the Registrar of Contractors verifies to the agency that the records of the Contractors State License Board indicate that the contractor was properly licensed at the time the contract was awarded. Any bidder or contractor not so licensed shall be subject to all legal penalties imposed by law, including, but not limited to, any appropriate disciplinary action by the Contractors State License Board. Failure of the bidder to obtain proper and adequate licensing for an award of a contract shall constitute a failure to execute the contract and shall result in the forfeiture of the security of the bidder.

A contractor or subcontractor shall not be qualified to bid on, be listed in a bid proposal, subject to the requirements of Section 4104 of the Public Contract Code, or engage in the performance of any contract for public work, as defined in this chapter, unless currently registered and qualified to perform public work pursuant to Section 1725.5 of the Labor Code. It is not a violation of this section for an unregistered contractor to submit a bid that is authorized by Section 7029.1 of the Business and Professions Code or by Section 10164 or 20103.5 of the Public Contract Code, provided the contractor is registered to perform the public work pursuant to Section 1725.5 of the Labor Code at the time the contract is awarded.

This project is subject to compliance monitoring and enforcement by the Department of Industrial Relations.

'Clear the Shelters' adoption event at shelters nationwide

NBC announced that it is teaming up with 15 local animal shelters in the San Diego area on a first-of-its-kind pet adoption initiative — Clear the Shelters — on Saturday, Aug. 15. The Clear the Shelters effort, is part of a national initiative spearheaded by the NBCUniversal Owned Television Stations division of NBCUniversal, pairs local television stations with animal shelters across the country to find new homes for homeless pets. On this national day of action, participating animal shelters in San Diego will offer no-cost or reduced fee adoptions or waive pet spaying and neutering fees.

"All of us at NBC 7 San Diego are excited and proud to be a part of this fabulous initiative; Clear the Shelters Day is a unique opportunity for our community to help make a difference and find great homes for so many deserving animals" said Richard Kelley, General Manager, NBC 7 San Diego.

The Clear the Shelters effort, which is sponsored nationally by Overstock.com, is a national pet adoption drive that will take place in 19 markets and 300 animal shelters across the United States and Puerto Rico, including San Diego County. The animal shelters across the country will match up thousands of homeless pets with new homes. This initiative marks the first time that the NBCUniversal Owned Television Stations have joined forces on an initiative like Clear the Shelters.

Locally, viewers will be able to watch special programming that raises awareness about the actual pet adoption day as well as issues, like the overpopulation of shelters in San Diego and the dangers of euthanasia on NBC 7 San Diego. Moreover, KNSD will engage viewers with news and information across various platforms, including on air during newscasts, online and via social media.

KNSD's special programming for Clear the Shelters will air on Saturday, Aug. 22 at 6:30 p.m. NBC 7's Dagmar Midcap will host the 30-minute post-adoption drive special that will recap the national day of action. Additionally, Natalie Morales, News Anchor and Co-Host of NBC News' TODAY Show, will host a 30-minute post-adoption drive special that will air on Saturday, Aug. 22 on the NBC Owned Stations plus more than 100 NBC affiliate stations that will recap the previous week's national day of action.

Clear the Shelters was initiated last year in the Dallas-Fort Worth market as a partnership between NBCUniversal-owned stations NBC 5 Dallas-Fort Worth / KXAS and Telemundo 39 Dallas-Fort Worth / KXTX and dozens of North Texas animal shelters. The day resulted in the adoption of more than 2,200 homeless animals, the most adopted in one day in North Texas.

For more information about the national pet adoption drive, visit www.ClearTheShelters.com. You can also follow the effort on Facebook by visiting NBC 7 San Diego's Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/NBCSanDiego> and on Twitter by using the hashtag #ClearTheShelters and #CTSSD.

Pet of the Week — Roxy

I am already spayed, housetrained, up to date with shots, and good with kids.

Roxy's Story...

Roxy's Story...

"I'm ROXY, and I'm a beautiful girl, inside and out. I'm friendly and well-trained, and you can see the love that's in me when you look into my eyes. I'm about nine years old. I enjoy going for walks, and I like to chase after toys in the yard. I'm just the right combination of happy and laid-back. I'm a smart, attentive dog, and I'll follow your commands. I've already been house trained, and I'd be a wonderful family pet. As a Super Senior, MY ADOPTION FEE IS ONLY $30. That's a pretty good deal for a wonderful dog like me. My adoption fee includes my microchip and my spay, plus I'm up-to-date on my basic shots. Won't you please consider bringing me into your life? I'm the dog that wants to be your best friend and companion. Please visit me here at the El Cajon Animal Shelter. We can spend some time getting better acquainted in the nice play yard that they have here, then you'll see what a truly special lady I am. Love, Roxy" Kennel #25
