The Sycuan Band of the Kumeyaay Nation, a group that has inhabited current San Diego and Imperial Counties longer than the pyramids have been in Egypt, celebrated a major milestone last Saturday. The tribe who opened the doors to Sycuan Casino in 1983, then known as Sycuan Bingo Palace, celebrated its 32nd year in business on November 21.

As a result of the casino business' success, the Sycuan Band of the Kumeyaay Nation has been able to provide substantial improvements in education, housing and healthcare for its members and the community at large. Additionally over the last 30 years, the tribe has become a philanthropic leader in San Diego by providing substantial monetary and in-kind donations to hundreds of local charities and community projects.

To mark the occasion, Sycuan Casino kicked off a month long, casino-wide event on November 1, which culminated in a huge all day celebration on Saturday, Nov. 21.

A total of $500,000 in cash and prizes was given away over the course of the month. Additionally, guests had a chance to win $3,200 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. every Wednesday throughout the month. Giveaways for the month of November included a Nissan Versa for poker players, $150,000 and a chance to win a brand new Mercedes, both for Bingo players. The casino's café, Wachena, also celebrated the milestone with a "Two for $32" special which included delicious shrimp cocktail for two, a garden fresh salad for two and two grilled-to-perfection NY steaks all for just $32.

Senator Anderson's Corner

Senator Joel Anderson
by Spencer Katz

Goodwill opens in La Mesa

The mantra, "more people everything" was on display as the people of La Mesa lined up under the bright summer sun to witness the opening of their new community hub at the grand opening last month. In 2014, Goodwill Industries of San Diego County (GISD) helped more than 3,800 people in the San Diego community with their employment needs. In fact, GISD helped 79 people per week or 16 people per day.

Senator Anderson provided a Certificate of Recognition to welcome the new store and remarked "We're excited to have Goodwill in La Mesa because they invest in and empower the communities they serve through job training and education."

The La Mesa Chamber of Commerce, which works to promote local businesses and connect them with important resources, organized the ribbon cutting ceremony complete with photographers, buzzing shoppers, and giant scissors. Once the store was dedicated and the doors opened, the crowd got to peruse the isles filled with everything from baby shoes to lawn décor.

The best deal of the day, however, belonged to the East County community because they gained not simply a thrift store, but also an organization dedicated to improving lives. When Goodwill first opened its doors in 1902 it pioneered the idea of offering "a hand up, not a handout."

Today, this founding philosophy remains at the center of what Goodwill hopes to accomplish in La Mesa. Forsberg excitedly shared, "All of our retail stores are integrated in the community by our employees, by our donors, and by our customers and every new store opening creates jobs." Susan Roberts-Egley from the East County Career Center also expressed her satisfaction, "I was excited to connect with the mall's new management to put on this event and look forward to doing it again next year."

Grand opening ribbon cutting and celebration for the Goodwill in La Mesa.

Anderson provided Senate certificates of recognition for all community partners at the East County Holiday Career Expo and said, "An important aspect of my job is to provide my constituents with valuable opportunities like career expos. I'm grateful for Stephanie and Susan for working with my office to make this event a success."

Pump Storage Project at San Vicente Reservoir

by Patt Blxby

The Dan Diego County Water Authority and the City of San Diego have been issued preliminary permits by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission to investigate the development of a pump storage project at the San Vicente Reservoir.

During the November public meeting at the Lakeside Community Center a project overview was presented by the joint permittees. The project would involve creating a small upper reservoir above the existing San Vicente Reservoir, along with a tunnel system and an underground powerhouse to connect the two bodies of water. The powerhouse would contain four reversible pump turbines.

The audience was told the pump storage facilities are an important tool for generating clean power by harnessing the energy in the water as it flows down the hill between the reservoirs. During off peak periods when power is inexpensive and renewable supplies exceed demand turbines would pump water to the upper reservoir where it would work as a battery of stored energy.

During peak energy demand the systems would create carbon free power as the water from the upper reservoir flows downhill through the turbines. Transferring water would not consume water held in storage.

During the pump storage study it will be determined whether water supply, water quality, fisheries or recreational use of the reservoir will be affected.

Power generated at the San Vicente pump storage facility would be delivered to the regional energy grid by new transmission line for the most part running parallel to the Sunrise Power link corridor. The new line would connect at the electrical substations five miles away.

The Water Authority and the City of San Diego are inviting public comments concerning the studies to be conducted during the early decision making process.

For information go to sdwca.org, San Vicente pump storage project study.

Too much turkey and not enough gravy

This time of the year, my thoughts drift back to memories of my maternal grandmother. The Thanksgiving season brought all her special talents to the forefront. To me, my grandmother reigned as queen of the kitchen and functioned as the World's Greatest Cook.

Thanksgiving brought all my relatives to my grandmother's house. My grandfather lived there too, but with all the food on the table, nobody noticed.

To be honest, my grandmother did not do everything. My grandfather made a major contribution to the Thanksgiving preparation. In fact, he had the most important part — he stayed out of grandmother's kitchen. I have always appreciated that quality of my grandfather.

As November made its debut, everyone in my family eagerly awaited Thanksgiving Day. We talked of nothing else for weeks in advance. Someone might think all this excitement about Grandmother's Thanksgiving spread a little extreme. That is simply because they never had any of her "vittles." One bite, or even one good whiff, could convince anyone that my grandmother's cooking ranked number one.

There were times when circumstances severely challenged Grandmother's patience, if not her sanity. But no matter what happened, she always came through with fried goodies. No matter what the crisis, somehow my grandmother had the perfect recipe.

One year, contrary to her usual good sense, my grandmother allowed my grandfather to watch the turkey while she went down the road for an important meeting at the church. As an active member of her church, Grandmother felt an obligation to do her part. "If everybody did their part," she explained to me once, "everything would get done."

Although not completely comfortable leaving the important turkey under Grandfather's watchful eye, Grandmother felt she had no other option.

"Jim," she said to my grandfather, "I want you to pay attention to every word I say."

My grandfather was a great old man. I always enjoyed the many romps I had with him. He seemed to know exactly what children liked to do. Despite Grandmother's warnings, he somehow managed to sneak in a little fun for his grandchildren. For example, there was the time he let all the grandchildren slide down grandmother's banister.

But trusting my grandfather with something as important as the Thanksgiving turkey was just asking too much.

"Jim," grandmother instructed, "all you have to do is make sure the turkey doesn't go dry. Just baste the turkey every 15 minutes with this turkey baster and make sure it doesn't go dry." To make sure my grandfather understood the importance of her instructions, Grandmother added one last note. "If this turkey goes dry, your goose is cooked."

We all knew Grandmother was not joking. She never joked about her cooking. Martha Stewart could learn a thing or two about culinary etiquette from my grandmother.

To be brutally honest about the whole incident, it was not my grandfather's fault that the meeting at the church lasted as long as it did. Everyone knows church committee meetings sometimes have a life of their own and can go on for days.

During the first hour of his vigil, my grandfather did everything my grandmother instructed him to do. However, it was cold outside and the old-fashioned wood stove in the room off the kitchen spread a warm blanket throughout the house, creating a drowsy ambience. Anyone in the same situation would have done the same thing my grandfather did — He fell asleep.

Grandmother's Thanksgiving turkey not only went dry, it shriveled to a dark black lump.

The excited voice of my grandmother shrieking aroused my grandfather from his slumber. "Oh, Jim, the turkey, the turkey!" Although groggy, Grandfather knew his goose was cooked — and nobody cooked goose like my grandmother.

How well I remember that Thanksgiving. Although a smaller turkey than usual, my grandmother had more than enough gravy to go around. One strange thing about that Thanksgiving that has lingered in my mind all these years was that my grandfather did not eat any turkey.

When the turkey plate came his way, he quickly glanced at my grandmother and said with a familiar laugh, "Oh, I couldn't eat another bite." Then he passed the plate.

With a chuckle in his voice, he said something I did not quite understand at the time.

"Some folks make too much fuss over the turkey and not enough on the gravy."

Turning to my grandmother, he continued. "Mary, this has to be the best gravy you've ever made." My grandmother smiled one of her maternal smiles and everyone went back to the business of the day.

I learned that day that there is a danger in making too much of the turkey and not enough of the gravy in life.

The Bible puts it this way; "For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called: But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty; And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to naught things that are: That no flesh should glory in his presence." (1 Corinthians 1:26-29 KJV.)

Like gravy, many things we overlook and consider insignificant God uses for His glory.

Dear Dr. Luauna — Keep your focus

Dear Readers,

Like many, I like to look at my Facebook page to see posts from friends or post something from my heart. I read a message from a dear friend of 30 years, Ferne. She seems to post somethings that gets me laughing out loud at my desk. Of course, I look around and hope no one is watching me bust a gut, least they think I'm a bit strange.

This post jumped right off the page at me, asking her permission if I could share it with my readers, she said, "Sure my friend."

Ferne's Post: I started out saying; I think salmon are cool fish. While looking for a picture for power point song display I googled "images for overcoming." A few shots caught my attention in particular; they were of salmon leaping over falls. They have an amazing homing instinct that refuses to stop anywhere else before they find their hatching place to spawn. I thought how many times I've been like a minnow, flitting away in my comfort zone in the creek, whilst salmon- people with focus- pass me by with determination to not stop till they reach their destination. Some salmon may come in from the ocean, hundreds of miles, only to be swatted down by a bear, but they just don't stop till they can get to their spawning grounds, only to die in the effort! I hope to stay focused and on course till my time comes too, and not be diverted by obstacles. End of Post

I love to fish and Alaska is one of my favorite places. A few years back, I needed a fishing break. I decided to take a trip to Alaska. Before leaving I packed all my fishing gear, my special fishing line, fishing vest, flies and whatever I could pack in all those little pockets. Not wanting to forget my rain jacket and of course my waders. Flying into Alaska, I had made pre-reservations for a mobile RV. It was less expensive than looking for a hotel everywhere I decided to fish, and I could stop anywhere along any river, just fish and just enjoy the beautiful scenery.

Not realizing the salmon were spawning, I made it to a place where no one was in site. Alaska being so big and filled with rivers everywhere it was truly a sight. Making the hike down, hoping not to run into a bear, I reached the river, I was speechless. I just stood there watching thousands of salmon, jumping over each other hundreds at a time. My heart almost jumped out of my chest, excited and wondering where is my camera? Mesmerized by what I saw, I just sat down on the edge of that river for hours, weeping before God. Thinking how those fish fought through thousands of miles and danger to reach this place. It's easy as a preacher to get comfortable behind four walls, rather than stepping out, and driving forward for the upward call of God in our life. Jesus came to reach the lost. Yet we pass thousands of people a day without saying one word about Jesus. Nor do we give a gospel tract or stop long enough to pray with someone.

That day on the riverbed in Alaska, I made a promise to God, if He would help me keep my eyes on eternity, I would be His voice on earth. Jesus loves you! Keep focused, time on this earth is really not our home. We are just passing through; let nothing keep you from your God given purpose while on earth.

Philippians 3:13-14 "Brethren, I do not count myself to have apprehended; but one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forward to those things which are ahead. I press toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus."

I love YOU! Listen to A Touch From Above with Dr. Luauna every Sunday morning at 8 a.m. 1210 AM – KPRZ, San Diego, CA. Write: Dr. Luauna Stines, P.O. Box 2800, Ramona, CA 92065. www.atouchfromabove.org ATFA; 760-315-1967

Swap out sugar for better health

You probably realize that eating too many sugary foods and gaining weight go hand in hand. What you may not know is that aside from loading up on calories that help pack on the pounds, consuming too much sugar can also harm your health in other ways.

Consuming more than nine teaspoons of sugar a day for men and six teaspoons for women can lead to health problems, such as tooth decay, obesity and depression. Reducing your sugar intake can help more than your waistline; it can improve your overall health.

First, it's important to recognize that there are two types of sugar – natural sugar and added sugar. Natural sugar is found in fruits, milk and some whole grains. Added sugar is sugar that is added to processed foods and drinks, such as cookies, cereals and soda.

Added sugar affects your body in many ways. It can be as addictive as drugs, tobacco or alcohol because it affects the same regions of the brain, triggering the pleasure sensors to release dopamine. Dopamine makes you want to eat more, even when you are not hungry.

When you consume too much added sugar, your liver has to work extra hard to process it. Excess sugar in the liver often turns into fat, which can lead to liver damage or other health concerns, such as high cholesterol, diabetes or heart disease.

It can also overload and damage your pancreas, which controls the blood sugar called insulin that powers your muscles and organs. Lack of insulin can cause muscle and nerve damage.

Limit added sugars in your diet with these healthy alternatives:

Skip sugary cereals at breakfast. Instead, opt for a protein-rich meal. Options, such as eggs, turkey sausage and whole-wheat toast with peanut butter are healthier ways to fuel your day.

Bring healthy snacks to work to ward off the temptation of sugary treats. Some smart choices include: frozen grapes, trail mix, yogurt, almonds, apple slices and peanut butter with celery sticks.

Instead of pie, donuts or cake, curb your sweet tooth craving by reaching for fresh fruit, low-fat frozen yogurt or a fruit and yogurt parfait.

If you can't substitute a fruit, make your treats small, such as a single fun-size piece of candy.

Sodas, energy drinks and sports drinks sneak in a lot of sugar calories. In fact, a single can of soda has nine teaspoons of sugar – the maximum an adult male should consume in an entire day. Skip the sugary beverages and try hot or iced tea, fizzy water or lemon water instead.

Choosing simple substitutions make it easy to replace sugary foods with smarter options for better health. Visit guardyourhealth.com for more food and nutrition tips and resources.

Thanksgiving divorce

A man in Phoenix calls his son in New York the day before Thanksgiving and says, "I hate to ruin your day, but I have to tell you that your mother and I are divorcing; forty-five years of misery is enough."

"Pop, what are you talking about?" the son screams. We can't stand the sight of each other any longer", the father says.

"We're sick of each other, and I'm sick of talking about this, so you call your sister in Chicago and tell her."

Frantic, the son calls his sister, who explodes on the phone, "like heck they're getting divorced", she shouts, "I'll take care of this".

She calls Phoenix immediately, and screams at her father, "You are NOT getting divorced. Don't do a single thing until I get there. I'm calling my brother back, and we'll both be there tomorrow. Until then, don't do a thing, DO YOU HEAR ME?" and hangs up.

The old man hangs up his phone and turns to his wife. "Okay", he says, "they're coming for Thanksgiving and paying their own way."

I'm making puzzles for everyone.

Kids: color stuff in!

The holidays are coming!

Holiday gifts for brothers, sisters and friends are easy and fun to make. Let your imagination soar!

Plan and make your gifts ahead so you won't get crushed in the holiday rush!

Wow! I went to the library and stood in front of the "do it and make it yourself" section of books. I had no idea how many books there are, each filled with ideas for making presents. You need some basic skills for some of the ideas, such as knitting, sewing or woodworking. Some gifts require a few small purchases. But, most of these books offer ideas for plenty of gifts that anyone can make with stuff around the house. So...not much money for gifts this holiday season? No excuses anymore – get to work on these gifts from the hands and heart!

Read the clues to fill in the crossword:

1. write a mystery and create a secret _____ to solve it
2. design and make a board _____
3. cut, fold, decorate a set of paper _____ to fly
4. put together a box or basket with small _____ in it: cars, dinosaurs, or farm animals
5. cut and draw to make a flip _____ of "moving images"
6. start a _____: baseball cards, miniatures, badges

10. turn milk cartons into paddle _____ that really float
11. make a _____ – be a sport and put a few coins in it
12. gather buttons, old jewelry, ribbons, colored string, etc., to put in a "_____ to make stuff"

Gifts For Family and Friends

'Trumbo' a courageous and funny take on dark history

Helen Mirren and Bryan Cranston star in Trumbo. Photo Credit: Hilary Bronwyn Gayle / Bleecker Street Media

Review by James Colt Harrison

Courageous and funny, screenwriter Dalton Trumbo sacrificed his lucrative Hollywood career during the dark days of the infamous Hollywood witch-hunt during the 1940s and 1950s. He stuck to his principles and wouldn't "name names." He insisted he was entitled to his own thoughts and ideas without the danger of censorship looming over him.

During World War II when Russia was a U.S. ally, it was not illegal to join the Communist Party. Many liberal-leaning artists in Hollywood and New York took advantage of that and innocently joined the Communist Party, thinking that it embodied all their righteous ideals. Wrong! There were many in Washington who thought that being a Communist was against all American ideals and therefore traitorous to the country.

In 1947 the House Un-American Activities Committee convened in Washington to question 10 Hollywood screenwriters about the influence Communism had on Hollywood films and whether there were Communist agents infiltrating the movie industry. Trumbo was one of the men called. All the men refused to give information and were held in contempt of Congress. They were blacklisted in Hollywood, and Trumbo served almost a year in prison in 1950. Moguls such as Louis B. Mayer of MGM (Richard Portnow) led the parade of not employing any of the screenwriters from that point.

Bryan Cranston (Breaking Bad) takes on the monumental task of playing Dalton Trumbo, and dominates the screen in almost every scene. It's a marvelous film and Cranston is even more spectacular in capturing Trumbo's natural humor, intelligence, and determination to stick to his principles. Whether you agree with Trumbo's politics or not, he has to be admired for upholding what he thought were free speech rights given all Americans.

Cranston portrays Trumbo as a hysterically funny, thoughtful, smart and courageous man who had a lot to lose in his career. He wrote some of the most significant films during the Golden Age including A Bill of Divorcement, Kitty Foyle (Oscar for Ginger Rogers), Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo and Roman Holiday which won Trumbo Oscar in 1953 for the screenplay).

Michael Stuhlbarg as Edward G. Robinson, gets caught up in the hysteria and even hosted some meetings of the writers at his home. But he was never a Communist and ultimately distanced himself from Trumbo to save his own career.

Austrian-American film director Otto Preminger worked with Trumbo in defeating the infamous Black List. Preminger, known for his films Laura and Anatomy of a Murder, was somewhat of a rebel. He was the first director to hire Trumbo and give him his first screen credit in 10 years for writing Exodus (1960), thus breaking the Black List. Actor/producer Kirk Douglas, portrayed by Dean O'Gorman, followed and hired Trumbo to write the smash gladiator picture Spartacus, also in 1960.

Audiences will be fascinated with the inner workings of Washington in the 1950s, but also enjoy the acting prowess of the cast.

Helen Mirren is tops as the vicious, commie-hater and Hollywood columnist Hedda Hopper who wants to destroy Trumbo. John Goodman gives a comical performance of schlock movie producer Frank King of the infamous King Brothers Productions. Christian Berkel plays the subdued but stylish director Otto Preminger. David James Elliot captures John "Duke" Wayne perfectly as an extreme right wing advocate. Elle Fanning shows she has great potential as an actress, and stand-up comic Louis C.K. steals the picture as a supporting actor playing blacklisted writer Arlen Hird.

The premise of the picture might be a very serious one, but it is relieved with many comical moments by Cranston and Goodman. It's well-worth seeing and is a topic for interested American citizens.

'The 33,' true life story riveting and inspiring

Review by Diana Saenger

There's nothing new about real disasters becoming movies. The Perfect Storm, The World Trade Center, and The Impossible (about the 2004 Tsunami) are but a few we've seen. Now there's The 33, retelling the 100-year-old gold and copper mine catastrophic disaster in Chile that had 33 miners trapped underground.

We saw a lot about the 2010 incident on the news about trying to get the miners out, distraught and angry families, and how those in charge had to up their game

No one can imagine the personal trauma and despair of someone being buried 2300 feet below ground and superiors who have no idea how to get them out. And that's what the story is about; how these 33 miners spent 69 days wondering if they will starve to death, die of dehydration, injuries sustained in the crash, or their mental stress thinking about the families that they might never see again and how they would survive without their relatives' income.

Antonio Banderas leads this cast as de facto leader of the miners, Mario Sepúlveda. It's his job to ration a few candy bars with tiny bits to each of the miners and share one small carton of milk. At first the miners are fine and go along with what he says. However, there's usually one or two in the bunch that thinks they are entitled and who try to confiscate some of the rations.

At that point Mario steps in to give them the lowdown of how things will be whether they like it or not. Banderas is so real throughout the film but particularly in this scene as if he had experienced this ordeal himself. He both chastises and exudes his concern for the men who seem to agree with him. He's the one that must be the bold savior in this regard and with his own fear.

Mario tells them, "They'll dig us out. If they don't our families will, with their bare hands if it's necessary. I believe we'll make it out of here because I choose to believe it. All 33 of us!"

Lou Diamond Phillips doesn't have quite the role as Banderas even though Phillips portrays Foreman Don Luhco. That's probably because the foreman feels it's his fault his men are trapped so he spends much time in the background trying to figure things out but blocked by his feelings.

The entire cast does an amazing job as they go from looking dirty and grimy to someone who might have been locked in a tomb for years. Just imagining from my theater seat that this was a real story of people who might face 69 days of starvation, or get ill with nothing to offer relief, made an impact on me of how humble the men must have been.

In between the story of the men in the hole is the story outside the home. Mothers, children, fathers, wives, cousins and neighbors are angry and scared the men aren't being rescued quickly. As one day turns into five, and then 10, and then 15 hope begins to fade especially when the engineers tell them they can figure out a way to drill they would not danger the men even more.

One technique after another is tried to open a space to let the men out, nothing works. They drill and drill, break drills, and stop drilling.

Juliette Binoche, stars as Maria Segovia, sister of one of the miners and the most vocal representative of the families. She refuses to take no from the engineers in charge of the mine or the government. Luckily, Chile President Pinera also realizes this could mean his job if he can't help create a miracle. Fortunately for him, Chilean engineer Andre Soutgarret (Gabriel Byrne) gets to work on how to figure out a way to rescue the men. He also becomes the liaison between the families who now stay day and night behind the picket fence watching the drilling or the silencing of the drilling and crying their hearts out.

Patricia Reagan does a great job directing this film with all its complicated elements. Producer Mike Medavoy said, "Patricia was the perfect choice to direct this film. She is one of a few women directors working today and, being from Latin America, she had such a heart for the material. She totally captured the layers of fear, hope, desperation, faith, anger and joy that ebb and flow throughout the film."

The film reveals the never before seen actual events that unfolded above and below ground.

I found The 33 riveting, inspiring and totally agree with what Banderas said about his role.

"The key for me was that the efforts to rescue the miners were successful because of the families pushing the government to do something," he said. "To fully understand this story, you have to see both the down and the up – what happened in the mine and what happened above. When you get the whole picture, it says so much about love and the value of individuals. It's a celebration of life."

The San Diego East County Chamber of Commerce, along with local business, political and civic leaders, gathered at Parkway Plaza for the launch of the inaugural "Shop East County" regional program.

"Holiday spending was flat nationwide last year," said East County Chamber of Commerce General Manager Eric Lund. "Experts are predicting increased spending this year, so we thought it was important to launch this program to support our local businesses and educate consumers that they can meet virtually every holiday shopping need locally – specifically at local businesses east of I-15. It's all right here."

The National Retail Federation predicts average holiday spending per person is expected to reach $805, on gifts, decorations and food. Nationwide, shoppers will spend an estimated $630 billion over a two month period starting with Black Friday, the day after Thanksgiving.

The new 'Shop East County' kiosk will be staffed throughout the holiday shopping season and will feature information on local businesses and a variety of discounts and promotions from area retailers, restaurants and service providers.

Chargers get ravaged by Chiefs

by Chuck Karaszia

On a beautiful warm, sunny afternoon, the San Diego Chargers entertained their fans honoring their greatest running back in team history.

The number #21 jersey worn by the familiar smiling face of LaDainian Tomlinson was retired Sunday at halftime during his induction into the Chargers Hall of Fame joining Lance Alworth, Dan Fouts, and Junior Seau. Their jersey banners are flying high in unison with his in the rafters at Qualcomm Stadium.

After a wonderful rendition of the singing of the national

"Thank-you to my teammates, thank-you to the Chargers organization from top to bottom for taking a chance on me, drafting me fifth overall in the first round. Last but not least thank you fans," said the former Chargers running back.

"When I go around town people say, L.T. you inspired me. The truth is, you inspired us, my teammates every single day you came to the stadium, and, your #21 chants (showing) your support. You inspired us to make this place SPECIAL. We won a lot of games here because of you. Thank-you San Diego. I love you."

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 280-2832 or visit this Internet Web site WWW.AUCTION.COM, using the file number assigned to this case 025634-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. FOR SALES INFORMATION: (800) 280-2832 Publish: 11/19/2015, 11/26/2015, 12/3/2015

AMENDED NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF ROBERT MICHAEL MANN CASE NO. 37-2015-00031948-PR-LA-CTL ROA #: 1 (IMAGED FILE)

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: Robert Michael Mann A Petition for Probate has been filed by Cassandra Mann in the Superior Court of California, County of SAN DIEGO. The Petition for Pro-bate requests that Cassandra Mann be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on January 5, 2016 at 11:00 AM in Dept. PC-1 located at 1409 4th Avenue, San Diego, CA 92101-3105 Central Division/Madge Bradley Building. If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: Barry L. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call, 916-939-0772 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site, www.nationwideposting.com, for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, T.S.# 9411-7771. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 949-860-9155 or visit this Internet Web site www.innovativefieldservices.com, using the file number assigned to this case NR-50153-CA. — BITS AND PIECES —

Chargers ...

Kansas City Chiefs Linebacker Josh Mauga (90) dives to sack San Diego Chargers Quarterback Philip Rivers (17) during the NFL football game between the Kansas City Chiefs and the San Diego Chargers at Qualcomm Stadium in San Diego, California to the tune of a 33-3 blowout score. This loss solidified the (2-8) Chargers hold on last place in the division sharing the worst record in the AFC with two others (Cleveland, Tennessee).

Totally embarrassed in their house, fresh off a bye week, the Chargers appeared to be anything but fresh. Kansas City definitely looked and played like the better team.

Dropped passes, missed open receivers, no run game and the lack of ability to stop the run not to mention poor special teams play and additional injuries added to a humbling loss by the Bolts Sunday.

Chargers quarterback Philip Rivers uncharacteristically had no touchdown passes. Rushed and harassed constantly Rivers completed 19-of 30 passes for 178-yards, a dismal 65.7 rating. Chiefs linebacker Justin Houston caught one of Rivers passes and rumbled 17-yards to the end zone for a pick six in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter the Bolts defense allowed two Spencer Ware 3-yard running scores to cap a 21-unanswered Kansas City scoring binge to secure the blowout win, giving up only one Chargers field goal.

The Achilles heel of absolutely no running game continues to haunt the Chargers as they could only muster 52-yards. It's difficult for the Bolts to score, having scored no rushing touchdowns in the last 36-quarters.

Another Achilles heel continues to be sloppy play of the special teams, constantly putting Rivers and the offense on a long field giving them the worst starting position yardage wise in the league.

Give credit to Kansas City head coach Andy Reid for developing a premier defense and for utilizing former Helix High alumnus quarterback Alex Smith. Performing his role exceptionally well as orchestrator of an offense without making mistakes. Kansas City is tied for second place in the NFL in turnover ratio as evidenced Sunday committing no turnovers while getting two with a recovered fumble and an interception.

The loss Sunday however could not tarnish a brilliant day dedicated to remembering L.T. for his on and off the field achievements. A 2006 MVP, five time Pro Bowler, who scored 31 touchdowns in 2006. L.T. left his legacy hanging in the rafters at Qualcomm Stadium next to his fellow honored retired teammates.

The Chargers travel to Jacksonville attempting to tame the Jaguars in their house. Kickoff is 10 a.m.

Sweet Potato Cookies

Prep time: 28-33 minutes

Cook time: 10-12 minutes

Makes: 36 cookies

- 3/4 cup vegetable shortening
- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 1 large egg
- 1 cup Bob Evans Mashed Sweet Potatoes
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon kosher salt
- 1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
- 1 cup unsalted butter
- 3 cups powdered sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon maple extract
- Chopped honey roasted pecans, optional
- Mini marshmallows, optional

Heat oven to 350 F.

In large bowl using hand mixer or paddle attachment, cream together shortening and brown sugar. Add egg and sweet potato and mix until combined.

In small bowl combine flour, baking soda, salt and pumpkin pie spice. With mixer on low speed, slowly add flour mixture until well mixed. Use a small cookie scoop and drop rounds onto greased baking sheets.

Bake 10-12 minutes or until golden brown. Cool completely before frosting.

In separate bowl, beat together butter, powdered sugar and maple extract until frosting is light and fluffy. Frost each cooled cookie with maple butter cream frosting. Sprinkle with pecans and mini marshmallows, if using. Carefully toast marshmallows with a culinary torch, avoiding melting frosting, if desired.

Bacon Wrapped White Cheddar Jalapeno Poppers

Prep time: 30 minutes

Cook time: 25-35 minutes

Makes: 40 poppers

- 2 packages Bob Evans Thick Sliced Bacon, slices cut in half
- 1 package Bob Evans White Cheddar Mashed Potatoes
- 1 package garlic herb cheese spread
- 20 jalapeno peppers, halved and seeded with membranes removed
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon cayenne pepper, ground

Heat oven to 400 F.

Bring bacon to room temperature so it is pliable and easy to work with.

In mixing bowl, combine mashed potatoes and garlic herb cheese with rubber spatula. Stir until incorporated.

Spread approximately 1 teaspoon mashed potato mixture in each jalapeno half; level off with butter knife or spatula. Be sure not to heap potato mixture or it will spill out of peppers. Wrap each jalapeno with bacon; use 3 half slices for large jalapenos or 2 halves for smaller sizes. Be sure bacon is wrapped to seal in mashed potato mixture tightly.

In small mixing bowl, combine brown sugar and cayenne pepper. Generously sprinkle bacon with brown sugar and pat gently to make it stick to bacon.

Line cookie sheet with parchment paper and place wrapped peppers on sheet. Bake until bacon reaches desired crispiness, about 25-35 minutes.

Let peppers cool slightly before serving, about 5 minutes.

Loaded Mashed Potato Dinner Rolls

Prep time: 15 minutes

Cook time: 25 minutes

Makes: 24 rolls

- 1 package Bob Evans Original Mashed Potatoes, divided
- 1 cup Bob Evans Thick Sliced Hardwood Smoked Bacon
- 2 cups cheddar cheese, shredded
- 2 green onions, small diced
- Salt and black pepper, to taste
- 1 package dinner roll dough (24 rolls)
- 4 tablespoons butter, unsalted and melted

Heat oven to 350 F.

To make filling, in mixing bowl combine mashed potatoes, bacon, cheese, onion, salt and pepper. Stir until combined.

Flatten dough into round using palm of hand, spoon 2 tablespoons of filling in middle. Place on baking tray.

Brush surface of rolls with melted butter and cut cross pattern with sharp scissor at middle until you can see filling.

Bake rolls until golden brown, about 20-25 minutes. Remove from pan and cool at room temperature for 5 minutes. While cooling, brush tops with melted butter.

Pet of the Week — Kanaya

Kanaya's Story...

"My name's KANAYA, and I'm a happy Beagle/ English Bulldog mix who wants to bring some sunshine into your life. I'm about two years old, and I'm a playful girl who loves to chase after toys and go for walks. I have a friendly disposition, and I love people! I'm not too fond of having other dogs around my home, however, so I'll need to be the only dog in the house. I'd be a great family pet in a home where the kids are older. I've already been house trained, and I know how to sit on command. I'm smart and I'm treat-motivated, so I can probably learn whatever else you want to teach me with relative ease. I sure hope you'll come visit me here at the El Cajon Animal Shelter so we can get to know each other better. We can go out to the nice play yard that they have here, then you can see what a good girl I am. I sure hope you'll stop by soon. I'd love to have a new home for the holidays so I'll have somebody to cuddle. Love, Kanaya" Kennel #7
